Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,
And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

PATENTS.
American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS.—The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

WINE FOR THE GENTEEL.

The Boston Daily Chronicle informs us that late numbers of the Home Journal, and of the New York Quarterly Review, contain articles in favor of wine making and wine drinking in this country, for the sake of health, morals and commerce.

The editor of the Quarterly puts in a precautionary note, in which he begs his readers not to be alarmed by what tee-totallers would call the audacity of this article. He says he has permitted it to be addressed to his thinking countrymen, having long wished that the temperance party would expend their force in ridding us of the dreadfully adulterated drinks by which the lower classes are poisoned, instead of wearying the more intelligent by their homilies and tirades about tectotalism.

The "temperance party" at this moment seem bent on stringent liquor laws, prohibiting as far as they can, the drinking of fiery liquors, by limiting and circumscribing the sale thereof.

The evils of intemperance are so great, and so pressed upon the common people every where in our country, that sober men among them have but little patience with a plea for intoxicating drinks of any name or nature.

The Home Journal adds:

"We cannot but look at this in connection with the physical deterioration of the American race, and ask whether, among other remedies for this formidable evil, the substitution of wine for alchohol may not be of primary value. The inhabitants of the wine-drinking countries are stronger and healthier than we. Our blood, at present, borrows most of its recuperative infusion from the influx of wine-strengthened constitutions from abroad."

Of this latter assertion we believe not one word. We know of no stronger men, or apparently healthier, than most Vermonters, and some men from the hills of New Hampshire, most of whom never drank wine enough to know one kind of it from another. There can be no doubt that many men have used wines, and spirits also, in such moderation as to go safely and soberly through a long life: but with the vast majority all testimony shows the case is otherwise—and therefore safety says—let them alone.

JEWS IN BOSTON.

In addition to Christians of all sects, Boston has a large and increasing Synagogue of Jews, which is regarded with much favor and kindness by many christians. Some account of the Jews resident in Boston, is given by the Boston correspondent of the New York Independent. His allusions to the good citizenship of the members of the Synagogue are sustained by the testimony of all persons familiar with them. He says:—

This sect has made a handsome gain since its organization in 1843, when it had ten families. Now they number 120 families, and have a neat house of worship on Warren street, that will seat five hundred persons, with rooms for a school and for business purposes. Their incorporated name is "Ohebel Shalom," which signifies friends of peace.—Their minister is honored with the ancient title of Rabbi, and on their Sabbath, which is our Saturday, he reads from the five books of Moses, written on parchment, in Hebrew; and indeed, all their public services are conducted in the Hebrew language, and they teach this to their children as well as the English.

They allow no mixing up of sexes in the congregation, but the women sit in the gallery, and the men occupy the body of the house. They have a burial ground at East Boston, and also a market of their own, where all their meat is prepared by being separated from the blood. They are a quiet, orderly set, and eschew the riots and mobs in which the children of the Pope make themselves notorious. No one deprecates their increase, which is quite rapid.

WEATHER AND CROPS.—The drought in this vicinity, especially in York County, is very sharp, and must operate to diminish all the crops this autumn, in a very considerable degree. A dry time is also experienced in several other States. Notwithstanding this, breadstuffs in abundance, are raised and now growing, over the face of our wide territory.

The Boston Courier says on the foreign supply:

The reports from Europe by the last steamer were all favorable, as regarded the harvest: not only from all parts of the United Kingdom, but likewise from every country in Europe and Asia are the accounts of a character to show that the supply of food this year will be far beyond the average.

John Van Buren has written to the London Advertiser contradicting the statement in that paper that he was to attend the Manchester anti-slavery Convention. He adds that while he entertains strong feelings on the subject of slavery, and expresses them freely at home, nothing is farther from his purpose than to take any part whatever in the discussions on the subject elsewhere.

The idea of John Van Buren's strong feelings on any subject, will bring smiles of incredulity on the phiz of many a Yankee.

"Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he reap." Then what a bountiful harvest of old coats and breeches the tailors will reap one of these days.

A man can get along without advertising; so can a wagon without greasing, but it goes hard, and no sensible driver would do it.

COM. DOWNES.

Commodore John Downes, of the United States Navy, died at his residence in Charlestown, Mass., on Friday morning, August 11. The Boston Journal says:

Commodore Downes was born in Boston, or the immediate vicinity, in the year 1787, and consequently was in the 67th year of his age. He embraced a nautical life at a very early age, and entered the navy in 1802, as a midshipman. He rapidly passed through the various grades of his profession with distinguished honor, and received his commission as Post Captain in 1825. He was in the Pacific Ocean in the frigate Essex, with Commodore Porter, during the war with Great Britain, as his First Lieutenant. He commanded the frigate Macedonian, and our ships in the Pacific during the civil wars of the republics in 1817 and '18, when Lord Cochrane commanded the Chilian fleet, and by his firmness and intrepidity, rendered signal service to our country in protecting our commerce.—His cruise around the world in the Potomac, in which he met with various startling incidents, has been recorded by an able writer, Reynolds, and forms one of the most interesting works of the present century.

CONGRESS.—The two Houses of Congress, or rather the presiding officers of the two Houses and a few members of each, met at an early hour on Monday, merely to make a formal close of the session, the bills and resolutions which had passed having all been enrolled, examined, and signed. The Chaplain invoked the Divine benediction upon the members of each body, and protection to them in their journeys homeward, and at eight o'clock the Presiding Officers adjourned their respective Houses to meet on the first Monday in December next. The few members present then separated from each other with kindly greetings and an apparent obliviousness of every thing that had occurred during the session which was not pleasant to be remembered.—Nat. Intelligencer.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier and Enquirer, speaking of the last night of the session, says—"The President and Cabinet were assembled in the sitting room of the President of the Senate, where a slight touch of political discussion, social colloquy, and iced champagne, tempered the severity of official labor. The President was good naturedly joked on the victory at San Juan, to which he replied with a gravity indicating that he thought it no joke, and preferred no more official conversation on the topic." It is said the Greytown affair was largely instrumental in the defeat of the ten million appropriation for the acquisition of Cuba.

THE RUSSIAN NORTH AMERICAN POSSESSIONS.—A Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune puts an extinguisher upon all the stories which have been published with regard to the negotiation about the Russian North American possessions:

The story that Russia was about to sell Sitka to the United States, or that the Czar made an offer to cede it on any condition, is a pure invention. No such proposal has been made to the State Department, and what is more, no instructions to make it has been received by the Russian Legation here, either by a recent messenger, or by any other conveyance.

DEMOCRATIC VIEW OF THE GREYTOWN AFFAIR.—The facts which are, however, known here, in regard to the causes which led to the destruction of Greytown, exhibit the affair in a light extremely disgraceful to the United States Government, and to the parties upon whose representations the government acted. These representations will not be sustained, when the investigation, which will certainly take place at the next session, shall be thoroughly accomplished. Knowing Mr. Borland's temper and character, the government should have acted more cautiously in regard to his representations. His appointment was injudicious; but as his enmity was dreaded, it was considered necessary to get him out of the Senate. He is likely, however, to get back to the Senate, and with the worst possible humor with the administration, who have not succeeded in appeasing him, even by burning Greytown, breaking off the negotiation with Marcoletta, and sending Beelen to another post, rather than offend Mr. Borland by permitting his Secretary of Legation to go back as Charge of Affairs to make a sensible and practical Treaty.—Washington Correspondence Journal of Commerce.

When we read of the bombardment of Greytown we think of an incident in the Pickwick Papers. Sam Weller has got into a fight, in which he exhibits great prowess, and astonishes Mr. Pickwick and his colleagues. One of the latter, Mr. Winkle, unable to restrain himself while witnessing Sam's pugnacity, turned round and knocked down the smallest boy he could find in the vicinity, which greatly relieved his warlike feelings.—Charlestown Adv.

DEPARTURE OF MISSIONARIES.—The Rev. Messrs. Richardson, Goodell and Parsons, with their wives, sailed from Boston Tuesday morning, in the bark Race Horse, Captain Scarles, for Smyrna, with the design of joining the mission of the American Board, among the Armenians. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson take a daughter of the age of five years, with them. In the same vessel went Dr. and Mrs. Nutting, who are expecting to be associated with Mr. and Mrs. Walker, at Diarbekir. The appropriate religious services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Laurie, of West Roxbury.

NAVAL STOREKEEPER, BOSTON.—Mr. Henry J. Wilde, an inspector at the Custom House, has been appointed United States Naval Storekeeper, in place of the late Hugh Jameson, Esq., deceased. Mr. Wilde is a son of ex-Judge Wilde. Caleb Cushing is his brother by marriage.—Boston Courier.

QUERY.—What are we coming to when potatoes are six cents a quart? Isn't that an 'illigant' price to pay for 'murphys.' Everything else is in proportion, and as the prices go up we shall have to obtain a telescope to keep them in sight.—Charlestown Adv.

LOCAL.

HOSIERY MANUFACTURE.

The old Portsmouth Iron Foundry has long since changed name and occupation, as our readers well know—having turned into the Portsmouth Hosiery Mill. The same steam engine below, properly repaired and improved, carries pickers, cards, spinning jacks, looms, cleansing machines, &c. in place of the fan of the old iron furnace. In the place of dusty and heated iron moulders, we find men and women watching stockings, drawers and shirts, make themselves. The process of the manufacture is very interesting. The goods, except coarse grades, are "all wool"—cotton being introduced for large and heavy goods only.

The wool, purchased in New York, is opened and sorted in the upper story, thoroughly "picked" in the next, and passed down by a tunnel to the card room. A given weight is fed into the first or coarsest carding-machine, by which it is wound for the next, and the finishing machine gives it out ready for the spinning jacks. These cards are wonderful machines, combining actions and motions of all sorts. The three we have named form a set—and it would require a regiment of grandames to keep pace with the two sets running in this mill—which are, however, able to supply the twenty power looms in the weave-room.

From the four spinning-jacks, the yarn is taken to the circular knitting looms,—which rattle off a web for a man's body, his legs, or his feet, according to the size of the loom.—And the women and children are not forgotten. We saw in the store-house, besides the common varieties of goods for men, women and children—new and beautiful styles of children's parti-colored hose, very fine and nice; some extra fine shirts for elderly men, containing a pound of wool each; and other fine goods.

This mill runs chiefly on orders for fulfilment from abroad. An air of neatness and skill pervades the premises throughout; and those whose business or inclination leads them that way, will find from Mr. Strauss, the Agent, or Mr. Gould, the Superintendent, a most gentlemanly reception.

LAUNCH.—On Tuesday next, at 4 P. M., Ship Gov. Langdon, of 1100 tons, will be launched from the yard of Messrs. Fernald & Petigrew. She is another of those vessels built by our citizens for their own benefit.—She is owned by Messrs. Horton D. Walker, George W. Pendexter, John Knowlton, Thomas D. Bailey, Jonathan Barker, Samuel Adams, John Harratt, Nathaniel K. Walker, Fernald & Petigrew, and Capt. Thomas Weeks, who is to command her.

Messrs. Fernald & Pettigrew, have another substantial ship of 1200 tons on the stocks, which will be ready to launch in October.—She is not yet disposed of.

Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield have a ship of about 800 tons on the stocks, to be launched next month. She is owned by Messrs. Jewett and others in South-Berwick, J. P. Bartlett, A. R. Hatch, Hill & Carr, Tobey & Littlefield, of Portsmouth, and Capt. M. Pickering of Greenland, who is to command her.—Journal.

LONGEVITY.—Andrew Drew, Esq., of Durham, is now living and enjoying as good health as usual, at the advanced age of one hundred years and five months; his head is as free of grey hairs as when but twenty years old. Mr. D. had a wife and two sisters: his wife died at the age of 95 years; one of the sisters is now living at the advanced age of one hundred and three years, the other died at the age of 95. Mr. Drew lived with his wife 76 years, and has always enjoyed good health; for 76 years he did not fail to be present at the annual town meeting, and during this time has always thrown a whig vote.—Several inquiries were made as to his manner of living, from which we learn that he has always been industrious and temperate, used a moderate share of spirit, rose early in the morning, managed his own farming affairs, and meddled with no man's business but his own. What seems most remarkable, is that two families, connected by marriage, should live to so advanced an age, unless special care had been taken to preserve health.

☞ Rev. A. G. Comings will preach at the Pleasant Street Church to-morrow,—and through the month of August.

We learn that a decree of divorce was granted one day this week by the Superior Court, now in session in Concord, to Hon. Charles F. Gove, of Nashua, dissolving the marriage relation between him and his wife, also of Nashua.—Concord Statesman.

SABBATH RIOTS.—The police report that a company of Irish Protestants, who were returning from Milton, were attacked by Irish Catholics, in South Boston, on Sunday night, and quite a breach of the peace ensued.

We would suggest that railroad corporations hereafter make it a point always to have one engine named Schuyler—to keep the fame of the great defaulter fresh—and the stockholders wide awake to their own interests and pecuniary safety.—Newburyport Herald.

In the list of births published in the Liverpool Courier of June 28th, is the following: Lately, the wife of Jarvis Wilkinson, laborer, Wallaston, Notts, of her twenty fifth child.

FISHING VESSEL CAPTURED.—The Newburyport Herald says that the schooner Ellen, Capt. Morrill, of Salisbury, Mass., was captured and carried into Bathurst, N. S., on the 24th of July. The Ellen was a good vessel, three years old, valued at $3500, and owned by Messrs. Kenniston and Morrill. At the last accounts, the American fishermen in the Bay of St. Lawrence reported Provincial cutters to be as plenty as ever, notwithstanding the large vessels have mostly been withdrawn.

HERTS BROTHERS'
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM, ZINC AND
PLATINA PENS,
Warranted not to Corrode.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

ARRIVAL OF THE EMPIRE CITY.

NEW YORK, August 11.—The Empire City arrived at about 9 o'clock. She left Aspinwall on the 1st inst., and brings about 200 passengers, with California mails of July 15th and $1,127,000 treasure.

James Thompson, aged 30, Gerritt Stage, aged 33, and Patrick Sweeny, aged 35, died on the passage from Aspinwall, of Chagres fever.

Among the passengers is Admiral Francisco Forellado, of the Peruvian Navy.

Considerable sickness prevailed on the Isthmus, and cholera had also made its appearance, but when the steamer left the disease was entirely eradicated.

Very severe thunder storms had been experienced, during one of which the City Hospital at Aspinwall was struck by lightning and sustained small damage.

RIOT IN ST. LOUIS.—St. Louis, Aug. 8th.—A dreadful riot occurred in this city, this evening, about 5 o'clock. At the Fifth Ward Polls, during an altercation, an Irishman stabbed an American. This was a signal for a general attack, in which pistols were fired, stones thrown, and other missiles freely used The mob destroyed a large number of drinking houses, and broke up the furniture. The crowd supplied themselves with axes, and smashed everything that would yield to blows. It is rumored that five persons have been killed and a large number wounded. The mob threatened to attack the college. Eight military companies are now marching towards the point threatened, and a number have formed a line to protect the Anzerger office. Two arrests have been made. About sixty houses, mostly Irish groceries of the lowest order, have been destroyed. On Morgan street there is not an Irish grocery left.

FIRE IN THE WOODS.—A correspondent of the Albany Register writes from Moores, Clinton Co., N. Y., as follows:

The fire is raging in this town to an unprecedented extent. There having been no rain here of any consequence for the last six weeks, the whole surface of the ground forms but a mass of combustion, the more readily ignited. A strong westerly breeze is not only driving the flames with great rapidity through the forests which surround us, but the fire sweeps over the standing grass and grain, in its destructive course. The number of rods of fence already destroyed cannot now be computed, but probably may be reckoned by thousands. About a thousand cords of wood lying upon the line of the railroads, in this town, and two barns with their contents are burned, and other buildings are very much exposed, and indeed it is only by constant vigilance and almost superhuman efforts that they have thus far been saved.

The worst of all is that life has been sacrificed. The freight train from Plattsburgh to Moore's Junction came in contact with the flames issuing from some hundreds of cords of dry pine wood beside the track. The engine was reversed as soon as possible, but not until the engineer and one of the brakemen were very badly burned. The firemen in his fright jumped from the train and was found shortly after, not far from there, with his clothes almost entirely burned from him. He was taken to the house of Mr. Isaac Parker, where he died in the evening.

NEW YORK, August 10.—The British schooner Orbit, from Grand Key, Turks Island, reports the appearance of a suspicious brig showing a black flag off that port, who would not allow a pilot to board her. The captain of a British sloop arrived at Turks Island, reports having been taken in tow for two days and robbed of two coils of rope, when he was allowed to depart.

A United States sloop-of-war at Turks Island reported that a French man-of-war had captured a pirate to the westward of the Bahamas, that had taken a number of vessels.

PHILADELPHIA, August 10.—Capt. Donald, of the ship Grey Eagle, who was examined before Commissioner Ingraham, has been finally committed upon the charge of slave piracy. Three of the crew corroborated the statement made by the boy on the previous examination. The witnesses have also been committed to prison.

Three heavy failures have occurred in this city, including a firm extensively engaged in locomotive engine building, a tallow chandler, and a shipping merchant.

RALEIGH, N. C.,—August 10, 7, P. M.—We have returns from 62 Counties, in which Bragg, (Democrat,) has a majority over Dockery, (Whig,) of 616. Appearances now indicate that Bragg has been elected Governor by 1,000 majority. The Legislature is still in doubt, but it is generally conceded the chances are in favor of the Democrats.

ST. LOUIS, August 9.—Kennett's majority over Benton for Congress is 1,800, so far as heard from. There are nine Whigs and nine Benton Representatives elected to the Legislature.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—Joseph Brelsford, a popular actor of Philadelphia, met with a fatal accident at Coney Island on Wednesday the 9th. It appears that he, with some others, were playing an out door game—leap frog, or something of the kind—when one of the party jumped upon Brelsford instead of upon the ground, and accidentally fractured his spine. Mr. Brelsford died soon afterwards.

BRIDGE BURNT.—On Saturday night, August 5th, the bridge across the Connecticut river, between Hanover, N. H., and Norwich, Vt., was burnt to the water's edge—a perfect wreck. The fire is supposed to be the work of incendiaries.—The bridge was owned by a corporation, which about a year ago raised the tolls, contrary to the judgment and wishes of the public. The depot of the Passumsic railroad, at Norwich, accommodates the people of Hanover. The loss of the bridge will be a great evil until rebuilt, as now passengers must ride four miles by stage to or from White River Junction.

The steamer Adelaide at New York has been purchased for $90,000, to run with the "Eastern City," on the coast of Maine and New Brunswick. She is about 800 tons.

HARPER'S
Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and condensed in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

Sagamore House, in Rye.
FROST'S POINT.

THIS is a entirely new House, situated about four miles from the Portsmouth Depots. There is easy access to it by land or water. It is located on a point of land nearly surrounded by water, and seward presents a finer view of the ocean, Isles of Shoals, &c, than can be obtained from any other house in Rye. An excellent view of Portsmouth and the Piscataqua River is also had from the top of the house The location of the Sagamore combines the advantages of quiet retirement in a beautiful country, with convenience of access and all the facilities enjoyed at other Beach Houses. The opportunities for Bathing and fishing are unsurpassed. Boats are always in readiness for the accommodation of visitors. A Pilot Boat touches regularly at the Point, on her daily trips to the Shoals.

The Sagamore House was newly furnished throughout, this Spring, in the best manner The Ladies' Parlor is fifty feet in length, and the Dining Room of the same proportions. The Sleeping Rooms are capacious and airy, and the building thoroughly ventilated.

An experienced man has charge of the house, and every facility provided, and no pains spared for the accommodation of all visitors who may favor us with a call.

The Tables will be provided with the best the market affords, for this respect the proprietor wishes it distinctly understood that he will not be excelled by any other House in Rye or on the seashore.

TERMS.—For permanent boarders $1.00 per day. Transient visitors as cheap as elsewhere.

Carriages will be at the Portsmouth Depots on the arrival of every train of cars to convey passengers to the Sagamore House.

We ask ladies and gentlemen to give us a call and we will satisfy them that we will do all we promise.

FECUNDITY.—The Dayton Gazette gives an account of a German woman living in that county, who has had six children at one birth. The children are now six months old, all alive, and were in Dayton with their mother on Tuesday. They were in a wagon with her, snugly propped up in a wine basket.—They are all boys, and small of their age.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer, edited by the Postmaster of that city, commences an article on the Greytown affair in the following style:—"Hip—hip—hurrah!!! Served em right. A lot of British Whigs and Fusionists—could not hit them amiss. But nobody was hit.—A lot of wood shanties were knocked down, and the balance burned up."

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to go out. There is no if's and ands, humors and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it, on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last mortified, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately discovered to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in Consumption. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

In Lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to cleanse the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all these diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels once or twice a day.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

FOR THE CURE OF

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swellings, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by

W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University.
Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y.
W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University.
N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University.
T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila.
Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana.
Jose Eourenco de Lima, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon.
G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine.
J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers, of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swain, copy right secured

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE,

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by worthless articles made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

SAMUEL COOPER,

Late Chief Examiner in the United States Patent Office,

Procures Patents in this and Foreign Countries.

References.—The undersigned Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, lately a Principal Examiner in this Office; and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the Office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 300,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is pleasant.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but consider this testimony is sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Italian, Egyptian, Pyrenees, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

ISLES OF SHOALS.

STEAM having died out in Portsmouth, the subscriber has the pleasure to announce to his old friends and the public, that he has chartered the beautiful YACHT SPY, of 40 tons burden, and has had the good fortune to secure the services of Capt. ABNER W. GOODWIN, the well known pilot, as master. His skill, carefulness and attention will secure to the travelling public a more safe, expeditious, comfortable and pleasant transit to and from the Islands, than has hitherto been attained.

She will leave PIER WHARF, foot of State Street, Portsmouth, every day (Sundays excepted) immediately after the arrival of the trains from Boston and Concord, and return in season for the evening trains.

Many alterations and improvements have been made in the establishment to make it more convenient and comfortable.

An abundant supply of Ice has been carefully laid in, and the facilities for fishing perfected.

To the invalid, the weary and the active pleasure seeker, this location presents attractions not equaled in New England.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

TO LET—The STORE on the corner of Vaughan and Deer streets. It was occupied as the first Union Store in this city, and is considered as a good stand for business. It is within a few rods of the Boston and Concord Railroad Depots. Possession can be had immediately.

FOR SALE—The HOUSE in the rear of the above, on Vaughan street—a convenient house for two families, and has been occupied for about six years, by the same tenants. It rents for $160. For information, terms, &c., call on JOSEPH L. LOCKE, on the premises, or JOSEPH M. EDMONDS, 9 Islington st. m29

DR. ORDWAY'S
HUMOR DISCOVERY,
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful; removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use and indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE.

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

CUBAN JUSTICE.

The Portland papers contain a statement made by Jenness, Chase & Co., of that city, to the effect that when their bark C. B. Hamilton arrived at Havana last February, after delivering the manifest to the boarding officer, the captain discovered some discrepancies between that and the freight list, which he asked of the Collector leave to correct, but which was refused, and delayed, so that when he received back his manifest and made his correction, the legal time for correcting the document had passed by, in the amount of twenty minutes; but recently the consignees of the vessel, (Messrs. Drake & Co.,) have transmitted drafts on Jenness, Chase & Co. for the sum of $6087 claims, and $1300 expenses, which they have been obliged to deposite in Havana, to await the further action of the Cuban courts and authorities in this case.

From the reputation of the parties making this statement, we are quite certain that it will at once command the attention of our government, and that measures of redress will be immediately applied.

In the case of the Black Warrior, there was a color of fault, to say the least, on the part of the shippers or officers of the boat, however many palliating circumstances there might be found for their justification. But in the case of the bark Hamilton, it is believed that every form of law has been observed, and that the case is one of absolute wrong on the part of the Cuban authorities.

We are glad to know (says the State of Maine) that measures are in progress to place this case before the authorities at Washington —and that the whole mercantile community are properly aroused to its importance.

If the Cuban authorities do not at once make suitable explanations and reparation, it may lead to consequences of more moment than any that have yet occurred in regard to Cuba.

"Fair Fugitive Slave."—Under this head, an abolition story has recently been in circulation, to the effect that a nearly white slave girl had escaped from her own father, in Easton, Md., who had sold her to a Virginian. The Easton Gazette having had its attention drawn to the matter, takes the life out of the tale in a manner which must be disagreeable to its circulators and believers. It says:—

Now the Vermont Tribune either manufactured the story out of whole cloth, or the "fair Charlotte" intelligently imposed upon the tender hearts of his neighbors for the purpose of raising the necessary material aid, for no such woman has left this place. We are even unable to learn that any woman has run away from here for three years past, and know there has been none answering the description given. Besides, women do not sell here for $1100, three hundred dollars short of that being considered a good price. Another account of the same woman says the name of the master was Gilchrist. There is no person of that name in Easton or its vicinity. There is no mistake as to the locality, as all the copies agree in saying that she left this town.

The Vermont Tribune did not manufacture the story out of whole cloth. Such a person did pass over a certain route northeasterly of this city. Her story may be a fabrication, wholly or in part. And there may be a mistake in the location, though the Easton Gazette thinks there cannot be. We should not be greatly surprised at a falsehood, fabricated by a fair fugitive slave; for we have known some fair fugitives who were not slaves, but who sailed under false colors, nevertheless.

The Vinegar-Faced Gentry.—That very able and ubiquitous sheet, 'An Exchange Paper,' gives the following plain sentiments, which we commend to the afflicted.

There is a class of men in every community who go about with vinegar faces, because somebody feels above them, or because they are not appreciated as they should be, and who have a constant quarrel with what they call their destiny. We hate such people.—They are a nuisance and a pest. They make all within their influence uncomfortable.—These men have usually made a grave mistake in the estimate of their abilities, or are unmitigated asses. Wherever this fault finding about one's condition or position occurs, there is always a want of self respect. If you are a right down clever fellow, wash the wormwood off your face, and shew your good will by your good deeds. Then if people feel above you, why, return the compliment, and feel above them. If they turn up their noses because you are a mechanic, or a farmer, or a shop boy, turn up your nose a notch higher. If they swell when they pass you in the street, swell yourself. Deliver us from the whining fools who go around like babies telling how people abuse them, and whining because society will not take them by the collar and drag them into decency.

Tucker, the murderer of his child, in Brooklyn, is a native of Wayne county, New York, and is 43 years old. He has been married three times, and his mother lives in Michigan. Some years since, he was a Baptist minister, at Vincent, Pennsylvania, once an anti-slavery editor at Syracuse, once Clerk of the Senate, once a temperance lecturer, and a reporter and correspondent for the press generally. His pranks when in liquor secured him the soubriquet of Mad Tucker, and when liquor failed, he resorted to opium. And yet this man has found three respectable women willing to marry him!

BORLAND AND GREYTOWN.

We have uniformly expressed the opinion that Commander Hollins and his officers, in bombarding and destroying Greytown, performed their exact duty as naval and military men, according to the instructions of our Executive.

We have no doubt our government meant to sustain the national dignity and honor, and that they have acted out their convictions, at great cost. But the general opinion of the press and people through the country seems to be, that they mistook the case, being misled by Mr. Borland, (who, though named Solon does not appear to be much of a Solemon,) and have consequently made a serious blunder, by punishing Americans resident at Greytown, instead of punishing Mr. Borland.

The New York Herald says,—

It is now fully believed that an act of manslaughter, if not deliberate murder, abetted, as it is alleged, by an American representative, was committed within the jurisdiction of San Juan. It appears that this representative interfered to prevent the arrest of a man charged with murder. He defied the authorities, and defeated the ends of justice, on the ground that the alleged criminal was an American citizen, and that the officers of San Juan were without authority to take cognizance of the crime or punish the offender. It now turns out that the criminal was not an American citizen, and that the United States had not only recognized the de facto government of San Juan, but, in conjunction with Great Britain, had ordered its officers to sustain the authority of that government. When Borland denied this authority, and interposed against it, he was guilty of an extra-official and criminal act, and laid himself open not only to censure, but punishment; and when he wrote to the Secretary of State that the government of San Juan was invested with no right to exercise a jurisdiction over any part of Central America, he stultified himself and disgraced the government which had committed the error of placing him in office; for Mr. Marcy himself, while denying the permanent right of sovereignty to the "anomalous settlement" at San Juan, nevertheless explicitly states that the de facto government of the place had been recognized to the extent of enabling it to "preserve the public peace and punish wrong doers." This is the language held by the head of our foreign office, in his official letter of June 9, 1853. The case of Smith the alleged murderer, therefore came clearly within the qualified recognition of the authorities of San Juan, by the United States government, as conceded by Mr. Marcy.

This statement, if true, puts the boot on the other leg. By the way, Capt. Smith is now said to have been almost as black as the Bungo captain whom he shot, and on whose account all this disturbance arose. Both of them had they come along this way, might have passed for fugitive slaves.

Governments, as well as individuals, would always do well to be sure they are right, before they go ahead. For want of this knowledge, Mr. Webster, as Secretary of State under Mr. Fillmore's administration, made an awkward mistake about the Lobos Islands, from which we backed square out.

On account, we think, of a similar want, our present administration have made a similar but more costly blunder, at Greytown.—Mr. Webster was misled by a Guano Captain, who knew but little. Mr. Marcy seems to have been misled in like manner by Mr. Solon Borland, who does not appear to know much.

A Wonderful Leap for a Cow.—The following somewhat extravagant story is copied from the Rochester Democrat:

"A gentleman of our acquaintance, in whose word entire reliance may be placed, informs us that while riding a few days since between Honeoye and Rush, on the Canadaigua and Niagara Falls Railroad, a cow was seen upon the track, going at full speed to keep ahead of the train. The animal persisted in keeping the track — notwithstanding the rapid rate at which the thundering train gained upon her. The train was travelling at lightning speed and very soon struck the cow. the long nose of the 'catcher' struck under the beast just as she was making one of her highest bounds, when she was in an instant thrown to the height of thirty feet in the air, and again struck upon the track just as the last car shot from under her! The train consisted of the locomotive and tender, a baggage and two passenger cars. Our friend assures us that the cars did not pass over the animal, and the conductor and engineer testify to the fact that the animal was tossed up as described, and he, being in the last car, saw the dead creature after its fall upon the track. It was her last somerset."

A wonderful leap indeed, if the story be true: but of this we are somewhat doubtful.

A Bonaparte Pope. — It is whispered abroad that there is some prospect that ere long a Bonaparte will be raised to the papal throne. The present pope is said to be in very bad health, and it is not probable that he will long survive. Parties are already looking anxiously forward to the time when his decease will occasion a new election. Of all these parties, perhaps Louis Napoleon is the most interested. His cousin, Prince Lucien, has taken holy orders, and is said to be in every way an eligible person for such an office. He would have the double advantage of being a Bonaparte and a naturalized Italian, and would probably be as acceptable to all parties as any other individual. The fortunes of the Bonaparte family, after a long period of vicissitude, seem to be on the ascendant.—Boston Journal.

We are led to infer from the New York Post that Mr. N. P. Willis is dying of consumption. His last letter from Idlewild he announces as the last of all. He speaks of himself as in a confirmed consumption, and speaks with resignation and with cheerfulness of the change that is approaching.

LOCAL.

Sunday School Picnic.—The Sunday School of the Methodist Episcopal Church in this city, will make an excursion on the P., S. & P. Railroad, on Wednesday next, Aug. 16, starting from the Depot in this city at a quarter before 10 o'clock, and stopping at the South Berwick Junction, near which, in a beautiful grove, they will spend the day in a Picnic entertainment, enlivened, as their custom is, by speaking, singing, &c. The train will leave on its return to this city at about a quarter past 4 o'clock.

Pains will be taken to make the day pleasant to all friends of the society and school.

Suicide.—At seven o'clock Tuesday morning, an old man, an Englishman by birth, named John Oliver, between 70 and 80 years of age, was found hanging in a room in Cross street, Boston. From appearances, the deceased, after tying the rope about his neck, had stepped from an arm chair, on which his body was partially resting. He was last seen on Saturday, and from the decomposed state of the body, it is probable that the act was committed on that night. He was a very stout man, weighing some 200 pounds, and when found, his face, arms and hands were perfectly black. In his earlier days he was a hod-carrier, but at the time of his death was in the possession of considerable property.—The cause of this act has not been ascertained.

Quite a number of Irish families occupied the house, and the effluvia proceeding from the room, led to the discovery of the body, which was reached through a window by a ladder, the door being locked.—Traveller.

A Silent Man.— Capt. Stone of the steamer Canada, now in this port, is probably the most silent man afloat. Sailors who have been with him many months, say they never heard him speak. He writes his orders to his officers, and if they fail in carrying them out, he reprimands them in writing. Yet he has the reputation of being one of the most skilful and prudent captains of the Cunard line, and remarkable for his powers of personal endurance. When at sea he rarely leaves the deck, night or day, more than an hour at a time, and nothing appears to escape his notice. Still he does not speak, either to his officers or passengers.—Boston Atlas.

A New Way of Clearing Houses.—Mr. Joseph Pond has had a couple of his houses up town, cleared in quite a summary manner, through the aid of a Catholic priest. Some difficulty having occurred between the Irish tenants of Mr. Pond's houses and the neighbors, and the priest probably fearing a row, proceeded to curse the houses, which were completely cleared of their tenants in the course of a week, no Irishman daring to occupy a house accursed.

Our informant also states that an Irishman in Salem recently went to confession; and, having no money to pay with, the priest kicked and cuffed him to his heart's content. A neighboring storekeeper remarked that he would not stand that—he would thrash the priest. "Would you?" said the Irishman; "if you did strike the priest, by ——, he would quickly turn you into a dog, a hog, or a shape."—Salem Freeman.

Fugitive Slaves in Canada.—A circular for distribution in the United States has been issued by a number of colored people in Canada. It states that the fugitive slaves in that province are in great want and destitution, and in need of food, medicines, clothing, and assistance in every shape. It appeals to the American abolitionists for early aid, reminding them that to furnish bedding, &c., to a destitute family just from slavery, is what slaveholders who work the colonization enterprise, do in Liberia.

Cuba to be Sold.—What a ridiculous story that is which reaches us by telegraph, that, in case the insurgents are successful in the revolution recently started in Spain, Cuba will be sold! If these telegraphic agents would confine themselves to facts in their communications, they would better fulfil their duty than by mixing up with their items of intelligence their opinions and views of the effects and consequences of such facts. Now, all who have the slightest knowledge of politics at Madrid, know, or ought to know, that this party of the revolution is the very party which is most hostile to the sale of Cuba, and that their success, of which there is little doubt, would render that event even more improbable than it is at present.—New Orleans Delta.

Arrest of Counterfeiters.—The Portland Advertiser states that High Constable Clark, of Sherbroke, with his posse, made a descent upon two gangs of counterfeiters in Canada, on the night of August 1st at eleven o'clock, and although they were situated five miles distant from each other, yet the arrangements were so perfect that within forty minutes every man, in or around the premises, ten in all, were chained hand and foot. Sentinels were then posted at every point to keep off intruders, and a search was commenced through fields and forests, which was continued night and day for forty-eight hours, by which time the officers had in their possession one printing press, twenty six plates for paper money, one machine for stamping gold and silver, (which weighed eight hundred pounds) twenty four moulds for running hard money, dies, ink, paper, engravers' tools, and thousands of dollars in counterfeit money. This is probably the greatest strike ever made on this continent. This band was probably one of the most important and well organized in Canada or the United States; they had their engravers who could make all their plates, and their printers and signers, all of whom are safely lodged in Montreal jail.

A Rara Avis.—Gerrit Smith of New York refused to take the amount of mileage to which he was entitled, viz.: $500. He took only the amount of his travelling expenses, and $8 per diem from the time he was on his way to and from Washington—that is, the same compensation which he receives for attendance as a member. The whole amounted to about $90.

Fatal Accident.—George Scales, brakeman on the Boston & Lowell Railroad, was instantly killed on Thursday. As the train was approaching Brook's bridge in South Woburn, his hat was blown off. He attempted to recover it, came in contact with the bridge, and was dashed to pieces. He was about twenty-five years old.

It may seem right for a man—to be constantly slandering his neighbors, but the end thereof is—nobody believes anything he says.

ROBBERY IN PORTLAND.

The Marine Hospital on Hancock street, was entered on Wednesday night, and robbed of six hundred and ninety three dollars in money, principally in small bills on the Atlantic and Casco Banks, and the remainder in gold.

Mr. Wilson, the keeper, was away from home. Mrs. Wilson was in her chamber over the parlor, and about one o'clock in the night was awoke by the entrance of people in the front door. Supposing them to be inmates of the Hospital, she felt no alarm, until she found them approaching her room. In a moment two fellows, with veiled faces, and from their manner and voices evidently young men, entered her apartment. They were approaching her bed, and the frightened lady twice called the name of her husband. Upon this one of the villains produced a pistol, and holding it to her head threatened to shoot her unless she remained quiet. The other villain brushed away the hand of the first one, and drawing a knife remarked that this would effect the object in a quieter manner—without arousing the house. The one with the pistol then went down stairs into the parlor, leaving the one with the knife on guard over Mrs. Wilson.

She attempted to go to a window, for the purpose of giving an alarm; at this the rascal who stood on guard at the door of her apartment, advanced menacingly towards her with the knife. Mrs. Wilson swooned, and remembers nothing more. When she recovered she found the robbers gone, and her door locked on the outside. She immediately communicated an alarm to the inmates of the Hospital.

The money, which was in three separate parcels, principally belonging to patients in the institution, was all taken. Five hundred dollars of the amount belonged to one man, which fact was well known by certain individuals in the city. Two closets in the same room, containing clothing and sundry other articles, were emptied, and the clothing tied up in a shawl with a very sailor-like knot.—This was evidently left through haste.

The whole transaction evidences premeditation and a thorough knowledge of the premises.

All the windows and doors were fastened, and the key of the front door, after being turned, left in the lock. Yet entrance seemed to have been effected at the door, but by what means it cannot be more reasonably surmised than that one of the robbers had secreted himself some time during the day, beneath a covered table in the entry, and thus admitted the other ruffians.

SHIP BURNT.—Ship Townsend, Wooderson, of and from Boston, for San Francisco, was burnt at sea, on the 25th of May, in lat. 35 S. The captain and crew, twenty-four in number, had to take to the boats in very heavy weather, and after a voyage of 600 miles, one out of the four boats, and twelve out of the twenty-four men, succeeded in reaching Juan Fernandez, whence they proceeded to Valparaiso. Capt. Wooderson was amongst the saved.

The vessel was completely consumed by fire. She was 710 tons burthen; was 82 days out, laden with 800 tons of coal, and the rest of her cargo assorted. The crew took to the boats on the 26th of May, the day on which the ship went down. The fire was discovered the evening previous, at 9 o'clock. They left at 4 A. M., just as the flames burst out. On the 26th the survivors landed at Massafeura Island, launched their boat again on the 29th, and reached Juan Fernandez on the 31st, whence they departed for Valparaiso in the Peruvian bark Andes.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—The U. S. Navy Yard foundry in this city was totally destroyed by fire this afternoon. At the moment the fire occurred the workmen were engaged in casting the cylinder of the U. S. steamer Fulton, and had about two-thirds of the metal in the mould. The eruption set the building on fire. In addition to the large number of workmen, about 100 spectators were present, but all fortunately escaped without serious injury. The adjoining buildings were saved from destruction by the strenuous exertions of the workmen in the yard.

BUFFALO, August 11.—Mr. C. C. Dennis, the superintendent of the Buffalo and State Line Railroad was found guilty of kidnapping by an Erie jury, yesterday; the charge arose from the late riot at Harbor Creek. During the Erie Railroad disturbances, when the mob endeavored to lynch Dennis, the cars were put in motion to protect him, and a Harbor Creek man, named Cooper, who was on the train, was carried into New York state.

RALEIGH, August 11.—All the election districts have been heard from except McDowell and Buncomb counties. Bragg (Democrat) makes a clear gain of 1800 in Cherokee, Haywood, Hyde, Henderson, Jackson, Macon, Rutherford, Richmond, and Davies counties.

The Senate will probably stand 30 Democrats and 20 Whigs, and the House 63 Democrats and 57 Whigs.

Intelligence has been received that on the 15th of July the Omethephe, the best steamer belonging to the Nicaragua Company, ran violently upon a rock, four miles above Fort Rapids, with about 250 passengers on board. The steamer was completely destroyed with a loss of a cargo part of the baggage, but the passengers were saved. The steamer sunk in twenty-four feet of water.

The Central America, the other steamer employed by the Company, took the passengers to the Pacific's side, most of whom had sailed from California for New York on the 5th July on the Promethus. The Omethephe was valued at 109,000.

One of our exchanges, which is edited by a disappointed old bachelor, says:—When a wife kisses her husband, and looks unutterable affection at him, she is in want of a twenty spot.

They are building a bridge for the Lexington and Danville Road, across the Kentucky river, pointing south—the most magnificent on earth—one span of wire, from cliff to cliff, twelve hundred feet long.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.

MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.

MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs last spring—spitting of blood, &c.—I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WRIGHT.

HARPER'S

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously compiled, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.
HERTS BROTHERS'
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM, ZINC AND
PLATINA PENS,
Warranted not to Corrode.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Sagamore House, in Rye.

FROST'S POINT.

THIS is an entirely new House, situated about four miles from the Portsmouth Depots. There is easy access to it by land or water. It is located on a point of land nearly surrounded by water, and seaward presents a finer view of the ocean, Isles of Shoals, &c, than can be obtained from any other house in Rye. An excellent view of Portsmouth and the Piscataqua River is also had from the top of the house. The location of the Sagamore combines the advantages of quiet retirement in a beautiful country, with convenience of access and all the facilities enjoyed at other Beach Houses. The opportunities for Bathing and fishing are unsurpassed. Boats are always in readiness for the accommodation of visitors. A Pilot Boat touches regularly at the Point, on her daily trips to the Shoals.

The Sagamore House was newly furnished throughout, this Spring, in the best manner. The Ladies' Parlor is fifty feet in length, and the Dining Room of the same proportions. The Sleeping Rooms are capacious and airy, and the building thoroughly ventilated.

An experienced man has charge of the house, and every facility provided, and no pains spared for the accommodation of all visitors who may favor us with a call.

The Table will be provided with the best the market affords, for in this respect the proprietor wishes it distinctly understood that he will not be excelled by any other House in Rye or on the seashore.

TERMS.—For permanent boarders $1.00 per day. Transient visitors as cheap as elsewhere.

Carriages will be at the Portsmouth Depots on the arrival of every train of cars to convey passengers to the Sagamore House.

We ask ladies and gentlemen to give us a call and we will satisfy them that we will do all we promise.

THE CELEBRITY OF
DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Sherry Wine Bitters

HAS induced several persons, who do not possess the least medical knowledge, to assume the title of Doctor, and put before the public an article in imitation of my Medicine, which they call Sherry Wine Bitters, and attempt to palm them off under the pretence that I have retired from business, and also that they manufacture an improved article of the same name.

I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the REAL article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.

Sold wholesale and retail at my office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston, and by all dealers in Medicine in every city, town and village throughout the New England States.

N. B.—OTIS MORTON, JR., is my sold Traveling Agent for the N. E. States. je23 3m2aw*

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every human disease in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hums and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case, for I have already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been constipated to it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of the medical world has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its virtues they think what cured them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at least hundred, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were perfectly cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the fit two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Two bottles cured him.

It never gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, taking it inwardly in the meantime, for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to cleanse the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonful. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

FOR THE CURE OF

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by

W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University.
Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y.
W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University.
N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University.
T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila.
Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana.
Jose Lourenco de Lua, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon.
G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine.
J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written with ink upon the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swain, copy right secured

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

SAMUEL COOPER,

Late Chief Examiner in the United States Patent Office,

Procures Patents in this and Foreign Countries.

References.—The undersigned Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, lately a Principal Examiner in this Office, and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the Office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Diseases of Horses, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city, each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards on the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 27. No. 9 Islington street.

TO LET—The STORE on the corner of Vaughan and Deer streets. It was occupied as the first Union Store in this city, and is considered as a good stand for business. It is within a few rods of the Boston and Concord Railroad Depots. Possession can be had immediately.

FOR SALE—The HOUSE in the rear of the above, on Vaughan street—a convenient house for two families, and has been so occupied for about six years past, on the same tenants. It rents for $160. For information, terms, &c., call on JOSEPH L. LOCKE, on the premises, or JOSEPH M. EDMONDS, 9 Islington st. m29

HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends to place what they have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—saving the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles. ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Blotches.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Full directions for the above medicines, on the Bottles. Orders should be accompanied with full directions how it should be sent.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or neatness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE.

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

BIDDEFORD CONVENTION.

The Eastern Argus makes merry, and exhibits some genuine wit, over the late fusion convention at Biddeford, in an editorial, over which we have had one hearty laugh. Among other good things, the Argus says,

Mr. Scammon broached another figure. He imagined themselves to have erected an OVEN to bake dough-faces in, and thought with their light WOOD, they might "do it up brown."—The figure is n't a bad one. The oven being ready, and the Wood prepared, all those who consider themselves half-baked had better jump in, and get "done over," brown. All others had better let the BIDDEFORD OVEN alone.

This, in the line of jokes, is excellent: though we think that baking dough-faces is quite a serious business, or will be, this fall.

Looking over the Portland Advertiser, for more jokes, we find a letter from Mr. Wood, the nominee himself, written in sober earnest accepting the nomination, approving the resolutions, and uttering his convictions about slavery in the following manner:

You will pardon me for adding, in general terms, that I look upon slavery as having been the great disturbing element in our Government from the time of the adoption of the constitution to the present day. It constituted, in fact, the great difficulty in the way of the adoption of a constitution, and has ever since been a constant source of disquiet, embarrassment and serious evil. From the very nature of the institution, it must, and always will be aggressive, so long as its aggressions are attended with success. Consequently, the history of its growth in this country is nothing but a series of aggressions on the part of slavery, and concessions on the part of freedom, each concession only preparing the way for another demand more daring and preposterous than any which had preceeded it.

Concession and compromise, on the part of North and freedom, have constituted our great mistake. The first radical mistake, in my judgment, was at the time of the formation of the constitution itself. Then, everybody supposed that slavery was to die out or be extinguished. Then it would have been easy with a comparatively small sacrifice on the part of the slave interest, to have provided for its gradual but sure if not immediate, extinction.—But the slave interest refused, and freedom conceded, and we have been conceding from that day to this, until this one interest has been permitted to be the ruling power in our government, and now aspires to obtain still more unlimited and undivided sway. The first great point to be gained is to put an end to these concessions—for so long as the North will concede, we may rely upon it that slavery will be ready to encroach. But when the North shall present an undivided front upon this question, and shall say to slavery, thus far have you gone but you shall go no farther, and this is known to be a fixed fact—then, and not till then, will these encroachments cease. And those who desire freedom from excitement and agitation upon this subject may rely upon it that they will never gain it by concession. The history of the last compromise measures, in connection with the recent abrogation of the Missouri compromise, in wanton violotion of a solemn compact and every principle of good faith, is amply sufficient to demonstrate this truth.

For the Chronicle

NATIONAL HONOR.

Messrs Editors:—Many fishermen have expressed their hope that our New Hampshire President will send a sloop of war right off, to bombard Bathurst, Nova Scotia. Our nation has been disgraced; our flag insulted; a fishing schooner has been captured by an English pirate, and carried into this port of Bathurst, where the people are no better than they should be. As the Cyane has opportunely returned from Greytown, let her go down east on this errand, or send another vessel with similar instructions, to demand the schooner, with damages, and an apology for the insult, from the town clerk and selectmen. If they don't comply forthwith, then burn the town. There's no fort there to do any hurt: it will be an easy victory. Your old friend

RED JACKET.

Messrs. Editors:—In the case of the bark C. B. Hamilton arriving at Havana, adverted to in your paper yesterday, it is doubted whether the master had a right to the return of the manifest, after its delivery to the boarding officer, for the purpose of its correction; but he had a right to make a post entry within the legal time, and thus correct any inadvertent errors. It may turn out that there are two sides to this, as it often happens that there are to other cases. There being now a predisposition to an excitement against Cuba, let the public have the facts well authenticated before coming to a final decision. A. B.

APPLES.—Farmers writing from all parts of western New York, represent the crop as good, but in the southern part, the opposite is the case. The same is true of the apple crop in most parts of New Jersey. In Delaware the prospect is better.

It is believed that apples in New England will be a fair crop on the whole; in some localities they are abundant—in others scanty.

Peaches will not be abundant this year.—The crop in New Jersey will only be a quarter one; in Delaware about a half. Fine fruit is sold in New York for $5 a basket. Arrivals there have been plenty.

A TREATY-MAKING ADMINISTRATION.—The Pierce administration will be distinguished in American annals as the treaty-making. It has not only made an important treaty with Great Britain, embracing very complicated matters, but it has achieved like results with powers remote from the circle of western civilization. A treaty with Japan, another with Borneo, one about being formed with Honduras, and, perhaps, as the crowning operation, one with Spain, for the cession and sale of Cuba, attest the ability, tact and intelligence with which this department of the government is administered. Since the days of Jackson we have had no administration which has excited a larger measure of foreign respect, not only by the promptitude with which a national insult has been punished, and the national honor vindicated, but individual wrongs or injuries abroad redressed.—Charleston, S. C. Mercury.

Honor to whom honor belongs, say we. Therefore let the Pierce administration take the honor of the Reciprocity Treaty. In regard to the Treaty with Japan, however, the honor belongs to the Fillmore administration, under which the expedition and the treaty were planned and put in motion. The honor of the Spanish Treaty that is to be made, will belong to the present administration if they make it, and so does also the honor of the promptitude which bombarded Greytown to resent national and individual affronts.

P. S.—The Boston Advertiser says:

The Treaty with Borneo was concluded on June 23d, 1850. Distance and various other causes prevented the Senate acting upon it promptly. The Treaty itself provided for an exchange of ratifications any time before July 4, 1854. It was however approved by the Senate under Mr. Fillmore's administration, and ratified by him. The ratification was taken out by Commodore Perry, and exchanged by one of the officers of his squadron on the 11th of July, 1853, probably before the news of Gen. Pierce's inauguration had reached the island of Borneo.

The same paper says of the Reciprocity Treaty:

The Treaty, as is well known, was drawn up in the time of Mr. Webster, and its leading provisions then agreed upon. The negotiation was resumed by Mr. Everett, who in February, 1853, in a report to the President, after giving a summary account of the views of the two governments on the subject, says, "It is believed, from the progress made, and the present state of the negotiations, that time only is wanted for a satisfactory agreement between the two governments on all the points alluded to." The special mission of Lord Elgin to Washington appears to have been the immediate agency by which the negotiation was brought to an issue.

The present administration, then, on the Reciprocity Treaty, simply carried out and completed the work which their predecessors began;—and in regard to Borneo, did nothing but publish the treaty. Honor to whom honor belongs, still say we; though it goes to a different place from what we expected.

OFFICERS OF THE CYANE.—Mr. Editor:—I am well acquainted with Lieut. C. W. Pickering, who was unfortunately the 1st Lieutenant on board the Cyane when the outrage was committed at San Juan. There is not a braver, or more kind hearted officer in the Navy than he is, and I have no doubt that it was with great reluctance that he engaged in the abominable work he was ordered to do.—It was his duty to obey the orders that were given him by his superior officer. That he did his duty in a manner unnecessarily wanton and inhuman, I have yet to learn. Why should the name of a brave and kind hearted man be held up to scorn and ridicule, who does no more than it was his duty, under the circumstances, to do? How far his commander was guilty, I cannot say. CAMBRIDGE.

The above communication is from the Boston Transcript. We fully endorse all that is here said in favor of Lieut. Pickering. We add that his commander was 'guilty' only of obeying orders to the very letter. The praise or blame of the order belongs to the Cabinet,—and the people of this country must foot the bill and take the consequences.

REPRIMANDED.—Gov. Washburn has publicly reprimanded the three Irish companies which were guilty of such unsoldierly behaviour at Long Island on the 19th of last month. It being the first time that charges had been preferred against them, alone saved them from being disbanded. They are known as the Bay State Artillery, the Columbian Artillery, and the Sarsfield Guards.—Charlestown Advertiser.

They ought to have been disbanded at once; and indeed ought never to have been formed. No foreign military company ought ever to have been allowed here. And these three companies, having showed themselves in such a drunken and disorderly plight, ought to have been disbanded in a summary manner, whether Irish or Yankee. We shall presently begin to think there was more truth than poetry in the description of the guard round about Boston Court House lately, viz. that they were drunkards keeping guard with muskets and fixed bayonets. Not a very promising species of peace preservers.

DEATHS BY LIGHTNING.—On Wednesday of last week, ten negroes were killed by lightning, while assorting tobacco at Mecklenburg, Va., and about the same time five horses were killed; the driver had sought shelter in a house close by the team, and escaped.

The President has appointed Henry E. Baldwin, of New Hampshire, formerly editor at Newport, N. H., and subsequently at Lowell, secretary for signing patents.

A French war steamer captured a Russian brig of 500 tons, from Havana, off Valparaiso, and towed her into that port.

LOCAL.

LAUNCH.—A fine ship of about 1200 tons, named the Chatsworth, was launched on Monday afternoon from the yard of Capt. Samuel Badger, at Kittery Fore Side. The ship was fully masted on the stocks. She was built for Enoch Train & Co.'s line of Liverpool packets, under the superintendance of Capt. Daniel Marcy, of this city.

☞ The ship Governor Langdon, now on the stocks at Fernald & Pettigrew's building yard, will be launched this afternoon about five o'clock. She is about 1100 tons burthen.

☞ A stranger who stopped at one of our hotels on Friday night, writes us that he was disturbed about midnight by the noise of four men and a woman in the street near by—While watching their motions, he saw two men he supposes to be watchmen, lay hands on some of the parties, for the purpose of locking them up—but release them again after a little parley and the payment of some money!

☞ Never before, probably, has there been so much riding and sailing, for pleasure, as during the past month. Every horse is in demand to convey the pleasure-seekers to some one of the popular resorts on the sea shore.—Every sail-boat that can be obtained, spreads its white wings to the favoring wind, under the direction of some solitary voyageur, or to bear the merry party to the delightful islands in the harbor; and the larger Spy and kindred craft, daily bear scores to the castle of mine host of the Appledore. Again, in the other direction, may be seen many a tiny boat with its precious freight, flying to the bays above for a picnic on the river bank, or to enjoy the cool retreat and warm welcome offered by our friend Hanson, at the Dover Point Hotel. There is no pleasanter or more innocent amusement than boat sailing, and all lovers of the beautiful, should make at least one trip to the headwaters of the Piscataqua.

YORK COUNTY FAIR.—An Agricultural Exhibition and Fair, will be held at Biddeford and Saco, on the 4th and 5th of October next.

CALIFORNIA PAPERS.—We are under repeated obligations to Mr. Charles E. Rand, now of San Francisco, for California daily, weekly, and illustrated papers, pamphlets, magazines, &c.; and to Daniel G. Waldron, Esq., bookseller and postmaster at Coloma, for like favors.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—The Directors of the Eastern Railroad Company have concluded to offer to the stockholders the bonds of the Company, at a reduced price, ($100 for $80 paid in,) each in proportion to the stock they may own, five shares being entitled to a $100 bond, and with a guarantee that they will, under no circumstances, make a sale of their bonds at a lower rate, without making to any person, who may take those now offered, an allowance on each, that will equal the difference. The bonds will be issued in sums of $100, $500, and $1000.—Salem Gaz

PHILLIPS EXETER ACADEMY. The friends of this oldest academy in America, will learn with pleasure that its field of usefulness is about to be very materially enlarged. The Trustees, at a late meeting, voted to erect a substantial and elegant brick building, at an expence of some ten thousand dollars, to be used as a club-house, or boarding house for students. The new building is to be located in the Academy Yard, and on a line with the Academy and the 2d Congregational Church.

The number of the students has heretofore been limited, but it has recently been determined to make the advantages of the school open to all applicants. A new system of classification has been adopted; and under this arrangement, the education obtained in this institution, will be quite as thorough and extensive as that of the usual collegiate course.—Exeter News Letter.

FIRE IN CAMBRIDGEPORT. — About ten o'clock on Saturday evening, a fire broke out in a stable rear of Main street, Cambridgeport, and before it could be subdued the whole of the square embraced by Main, Essex, Norfolk and Austin streets, was burnt over.—There was a great want of water and some of the buildings were burnt down without a stream being played upon them. Among the buildings burnt were the stores occupied by the Cambridge Omnibus Company; George Belcher, painter; Refreshment and Daguerreotype Rooms; T. J. Stevens, oyster saloon; —— Livermore, car trimmer; Messrs. Scanlan, father and son, one a tailor, the other a jeweller, and others. This property was mostly owned by the heirs of the late Mr. Allen, and by Chas. Kimball. On Main street, J. C. Smith, hatter, C. D. & W. Wilder, shoe store, H. M. Chamberlain, lawyer, J. D. Pearson, books and stationery, and Nathaniel Snow, boots and shoes, occupied stores which were consumed. The Odd Fellows' hall was destroyed, as was the house of Nathaniel Russell, on the corner of Main and Essex streets. The Unitarian church (Dr. Ware's) was on fire several times, and saved with much difficulty. Most of the property destroyed, it is said, was insured. The whole was supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

The fire was confined to the square above named, over which it made a clean sweep, laying in ashes all that covered it. The wildest estimates are made as to the probable loss, varying from $50,000 to $500,000. Probably the last figure will come nearest the actual amount. It is the severest fire that has visited Cambridge for years; if it has ever been surpassed.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon, fifteen or twenty minutes before seven o'clock, a shocking and fatal accident occurred in the Salem station of the Eastern Railroad. The trains from Portland and Boston were entering the station at the same moment, and a little girl of ten or twelve years old, who was off the platform and on or between the tracks, in moving to avoid one of the trains ran right against the other. The poor child was thrown right under the wheels and terribly mutilated. Strong men who beheld the frightful catastrophe, were made faint and sick at the sight. The screams of the poor sufferer were heart rending for a few moments, but she soon became insensible, and died in less than an hour. Dr. Peirson was early in attendance, but medical aid was unavailing. The name and parentage of the child were not discovered until an hour or two after her death, when it was ascertained that her name was Mary Adeline Adams, recently from Boston, and living in the family of Nehemiah Brown, Esq.—Salem Gazette, 11th.

Some of the incidents are affecting. After the child's first cries of pain, she distinctly articulated the word 'mother,' became insensible, and in a half hour ceased to breathe.—The child being unknown, as the report spread abroad, hundreds rushed to the spot, mothers and fathers enquiring whether it was theirs; and many, like the woman in New York, who was asked why she risked her life for an unknown child, did not fail to remember that it was some mother's child, if it was not theirs. Nehemiah Brown, Esq., who is a coroner, was in the crowd, and seeing that the child was dead, said he would go home to obtain a blank for the holding of an inquest. As he was attending to that, the impression came upon his mind that he might be more closely interested in the accident, and on reaching the house, inquired where an adopted child of that age, named Adams, might be. He was informed that she had been sent upon an errand in the neighborhood of the depot. He quickly returned, and at once recognized the child as his. She was a beautiful, bright girl, that he had adopted from one of the Boston institutions, whose last thought, like the thoughts of us all, went back to the mother that bore her.

A Miser named Bomimo recently died in St. Louis. In a box in the fire-place was found $1700 in gold, and property to the amount of $6300 was concealed in old shoes, bags, clothing, &c.

It may seem right to a man—to trouble himself very much about his neighbor's business, but the end thereof is—great negligence of his own.

ELECTION NEWS.—The Boston Post of Monday says, in regard to North Carolina;

All the whig bubbles blown up by the first telegraph reports have been pricked, and General Dockery and his party are mere broken crockery.

From Missouri we learn that James J. Lindley, whig, is reelected to congress in the third district, over Mr Flournoy, democrat. The Bentonians had no candidate, but voted for Lindley, who voted for the Nebraska bill, thus proving that they prefer a Nebraska whig to a Nebraska democrat. It is still believed that the whigs have carried the legislature.

In Vermont the new-fashioned "republican" state committee have agreed to support the whig candidate for governor, and the freesoil party has gone completely over to the whigs, for the election on the 5th of September.

THE RIOT IN ST. LOUIS.—The St. Louis Democrat of the 8th, in its account of the election riot in that city, says it is utterly impossible to estimate the number of persons wounded in the whole affair, or even to say how many have been killed. We saw at least twenty men lying bleeding and wounded so severely that they were perfectly insensible, their faces cut most horribly and skulls smashed, and some apparently perfectly dead. Three men, we have learned, are certainly killed, and five or six more are thought to be dead at this time, from wounds received. A man named Shannon, was stabbed in the back of the neck, from the effects of which he very probably died last night. A hand from the steamer Henry Choteau was killed instantly, and a man named Josh or Frank Freeman was shot through the head and fell dead without uttering a word. He was standing at the foot of Morgan street, on the levee, with his arms folded, watching the affray without at all participating. The immense excitement throughout the whole city prevented the procurement of any reliable account of the disturbance. At a rough estimate the damage to property cannot be less than $50,000. At the time of going to press quiet was apparently restored, although small squads of rioters were still moving about.

HOUSE ON THE PRAIRIE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING—ELEVEN PERSONS PROSTRATED—GIRL KILLED.—On Thursday evening, the 20th inst., during an awful thunder storm, the house of Mr. Ralph Anderson, who settled on the prairies six miles southeast from Freeport, last spring, was struck by lightning, and all the persons in the house, eleven in number, except one little boy, were struck down and injured more or less, and the oldest daughter, Augusta, a lovely girl in her seventeenth year, was instantly killed. The fluid struck her head, burnt her heir, melted her hair pins, and went round and round her down to her feet. Several of the children and Mrs. Anderson are burnt on various parts and one little girl named Louisa, about eleven years old, is so badly burned as to render her recovery doubtful.

Owing to the presence of mind of Mr. Cook, who is building for Mr. Anderson, they were all carried out into the rain, and water poured on them, which finally restored the suspended animation of all but poor Augusta. It was truly afflicting and appalling to see a whole family struck down instantly, and all apparently corpses. The lightning entered the ridge of the house, near the gable, tore off the shingles, shivered several rafters, passed through a chest of clothes which were scorched and singed, then seemed to scatter all through the room, as its marks are to be seen in all directions. Mr. Anderson moved from Chatauque county, N. Y., about a year ago. —Freeport (Ill.) Bulletin, July 27.

WASHINGTON, 11th.—Mr. Brent, third Auditor of the Treasury, has not yet accepted the Governorship of Nebraska; should he do so, Moses McDonald, of Me., is spoken of as his successor as Auditor.

PHILADELPHIA, August 11.—The newly elected School Directors in the lower section of the city have removed some fifteen of the teachers in the public schools within the last few days, on (it is understood) sectarian grounds; all the discharged teachers belong to the Roman Catholic Church. Much feeling is being manifested here among the friends of the teachers, and the matter seems likely to widen to a great extent the already existing breach between the Protestants and Catholics in this city.

HARTFORD, August 12.—The Hockamur Mill in Rockville, Alonzo Bailey, agent, was totally destroyed by fire this morning. Loss $100,000; insurance $50,000. The mill was a new one, and had not got in all its machinery.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—By the arrival of schooner Sarah Maria at this port from Madeira 32 days, we learn that there was another entire failure of the wine crop, the blight having again appeared on the vine and grape.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The St. Louis Republican of the 10th, says that quiet had been restored in that city. As nearly as could be ascertained ten persons were killed in the riots. A few of the wounded were not expected to recover. Discoveries of killed and wounded were yet being made. The mayor issued a proclamation, calling on the citizens to aid him in quelling the riot, and it was promptly responded to. He also issued a proclamation notifying all parents and guardians to keep all minors under their control, in the house, after 7 o'clock P. M., or they would be put in jail. Many of the outrages committed are said to have been by boys of 14 or 15 years of age.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—During the first twelve days of this month, the arrival of emigrants at this port reached the extraordinary number of 19,518.

His Danish Majesty's frigate Fordenskiold, Commodore Baron Dirckink Holmfield, 44 guns, from St. Thomas to Copenhagen, arrived here yesterday.

BALTIMORE, August 11.—The Washington Star of this evening says there is no truth in the report that the French Minister had made a demand for $600,000 from the United States government for damage to property of French subjects at Greytown.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.

MILTON, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.

MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs last spring—spitting of blood, &c.—I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WRIGHT.

BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.
HERTS BROTHERS'
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM, ZINC AND
PLATINA PENS,
Warranted not to Corrode.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The numerous imitations of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Sagamore House, in Rye.
FROST'S POINT.

THIS is an entirely new House, situated about four miles from the Portsmouth Depots. There is easy access to it by land or water. It is located on a point of land nearly surrounded by water, and seaward presents a finer view of the ocean, Isles of Shoals, &c, than can be obtained from any other house in Rye. An excellent view of Portsmouth and the Piscataqua River is also had from the top of the house. The location of the Sagamore combines the advantages of quiet retirement in a beautiful country, with convenience of access and all the facilities enjoyed at other Beach Houses. The opportunities for Bathing and fishing are unsurpassed. Boats are always in readiness for the accommodation of visitors. A Pilot Boat touches regularly at the Point, on her daily trips to the Shoals.

The Sagamore House was newly furnished throughout, this Spring, in the best manner. The Ladies' Parlor is fifty feet in length, and the Dining Room of the same proportions. The Sleeping Rooms are capacious and airy, and the building thoroughly ventilated.

An experienced man has charge of the house, and every facility provided, and no pains spared for the accommodation of all visitors who may favor us with a call.

The Tables will be provided with the best the market affords, for in this respect the proprietor wishes it distinctly understood that he will not be excelled by any other House in Rye or on the seashore.

TERMS.—For permanent boarders $1.00 per day. Transient visitors as cheap as elsewhere.

Carriages will be at the Portsmouth Depots on the arrival of every train of cars to convey passengers to the Sagamore House.

We ask ladies and gentlemen to give us a call and we will satisfy them that we will do all we promise.

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, buts and maybes about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to my child, a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will find yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call and doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cared them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches,) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns.

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first dose put a stop to it two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime.) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever, only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to clean the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb, simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, a dessert spoonful; from six to eight, tea spoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,
FOR THE CURE OF
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y. " W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. I. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Pearson, Med. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle, (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swain, copy right secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name of SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not perform what is claimed, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $50 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

HOUSES FOR SALE.

THE DWELLING HOUSE, No. 9 School street. This is a well built house, two (high) stories, in good repair, and is convenient for one family or two families, or for a large Boarding House. It contains nine or more rooms and two sculleries, and has an excellent cellar under the whole house. The situation is central, being about equi-distant from the markets, factories and railroads. Connected with this house is a building which has been and may be occupied both as a barn and a work-shop. If not sold soon, a part or the whole of the premises will be let.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 6 Green street. This house is fitted for two tenements; it is well built, was thoroughly painted and put in good order the last season, and is well calculated for two families, (having about 6 rooms each) and may be considered a good location for persons employed at the north end. It is centrally located between the different ship-yards in that section of the city. each tenement will be sold separately, if desired.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 7 Liberty street, corner of Charles street. This house was formerly owned and occupied by the late Peter M. Lowd and is in good order. Attached to it is a lot of land large enough for a Stable or for another dwelling house. It would make a good place for the residence of a person employed at the shipyards across the river, or at the Navy Yard.

The DWELLING HOUSE No. 47 Bow street.—This house has been built but a few years, is well finished off, and is very convenient. In the rear is quite a large garden spot. This would be a desirable place for a person employed at the shipyards, or at the Navy Yard nearly opposite.

Also, for sale, a BUILDING LOT, on Mount Vernon street, (opposite No. 2,) with a small building thereon, which can be finished off into a Dwelling house.

All of the above property will be sold on liberal terms, if applied for soon. For further particulars apply to JOSEPH M. EDMONDS,

Feb. 27, No. 9 Islington street.

Gerrish House,
KITTERY POINT, MAINE.

THIS Establishment having been put in perfect order, will open for visitors on the 15th of June. Every attention will be given to make this House one of the most pleasant Summer resorts. Kittery Point is celebrated for its conveniences for bathing, fishing and sailing. Arrangements have been made to afford every facility for guests to enjoy the above amusements. The Post Office is within three minutes' walk of the House. A coach runs regularly twice a day to and from the Point, via the U. S. Navy Yard, arriving at and leaving the City of Portsmouth, three miles distant, on the arrival and departure of the cars. For further particulars address the proprietor, at Kittery Point, Me.

Laws of New Hampshire.

PASSED JUNE SESSION, 1854.

STATE OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

SECRETARY OF STATE'S OFFICE, Concord, July 20, 1854.

Publishers of newspapers authorized to publish the laws of this State, are requested to publish the acts and resolutions passed at the last session of the Legislature, as the same may appear in the State Capital Reporter.

JOHN L. HADLEY, Secretary of State.

AN ACT to amend chapter 147 of the Revised Statutes relating to marriages.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court convened, That all persons residing in this State, proposing to be joined in marriage, shall, before their marriage, cause notice of their intention, with the names, residences, and ages of the parties, to be entered in the office of the town-clerk of the town in which they may respectively dwell, and if there be no such town-clerk in the place of their residence, the like entry shall be made with the clerk of any adjoining town; and the town-clerk shall record such notice in a book to be kept for that purpose.

SEC. 2. Such town-clerk shall deliver to the parties a certificate under his hand, specifying the time when notice of the intention of marriage was entered with him; which certificate shall be delivered to the minister or magistrate who is to marry said parties, before he shall proceed to solemnize the marriage; and the fee of the town-clerk for making the record of such notice, and issuing his certificate as aforesaid, shall be fifty cents, to be paid by the said parties.

SEC. 3. Whenever a party or parties living in this State shall go out of it for the purpose of being married in another State, and a marriage shall be so solemnized, and they shall return to this State to reside, they are hereby required to file a certificate or declaration of their marriage, including the facts required to be stated in the notice aforementioned, with the town-clerk of the town where either of them lived prior to their marriage, within seven days after their return, under a penalty of ten dollars, to be recovered for the use of any person who will sue for the same.

SEC. 4. Nothing contained in this act shall affect the right of the people called Friends or Quakers to solemnize marriages in the way usually practised among them; but all marriages so solemnized shall be valid.

SEC. 5. If any minister or justice of the peace shall join any persons in marriage without having first received a certificate of the town-clerk as hereinbefore provided, he shall forfeit for each offence, sixty dollars to the use of the parent, master, or guardian of either of the parties, who shall first sue therefor.

SEC. 6. Sections fourth and fifth of chapter 147 of the Revised Statutes, and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 7. This act shall take effect from its passage.

J. EVERETT SARGENT, President of the Senate.

Approved July 14, 1854.

N. B. BAKER, Governor.

AN ACT making cities and towns liable for damages caused by mobs or riots.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That whenever persons unlawfully, riotously, and tumultuously assembled, shall injure or destroy any property, real or personal, the city or town within the limits of which such property may be situated, shall be liable to indemnify the owner thereof for the property so injured or destroyed, to be recovered in an action on the case.

SEC. 2. No person or persons shall be entitled to the benefits of this act, if it shall appear that the destruction of his or their property was caused by his or their illegal or improper conduct, nor unless it be made to appear that he or they, upon the knowledge had of the intention or attempt to destroy his or their property, or to collect a mob for such purpose, and sufficient time intervening, gave notice thereof to the mayor of the city, selectmen of the town, or a justice of peace of the city or town in which such property may be situated.

SEC. 3. The mayor of any city, and the selectmen of any town, shall be authorized, at the expense of said city and town, to call out sufficient military force to suppress or prevent any mob or riot that may threaten or happen within the limits of said city or town.

SEC. 4. Any city or town which shall pay any sum of money under the provisions of the first section, may recover the same, in an action on the case, against any one, or against two or more jointly, who shall have so injured or destroyed such property.

SEC. 5. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved July 15, 1854.

AN ACT to prevent and punish the false or fraudulent issue of stock in bank, railroad, and other corporations.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That any president, cashier, treasurer, or secretary, or any other officer or stockholder of any bank, railroad, manufacturing, or other corporation in this State, who shall knowingly, falsely, and wilfully sign, issue, or cause to be issued, any shares, or what purports to be shares, in the capital stock of their respective corporations, other than those authorized in their charters, or by some amendment thereto, shall be deemed and adjudged guilty of felony, and when duly convicted thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, and imprisonment in the State Prison for not less than one or more than seven years, at the discretion of the court.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect from and after its passage. Approved July 15, 1854.

AN ACT to change the name of the town of Poplin.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That the town of Poplin shall hereafter be known and called by the name of Fremont. Approved July 8, 1854.

AN ACT to prohibit the taking of fish in nets, by persons not resident in this State.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c. No person not a citizen of this State and resident herein, shall take, by seine or net, any fish called herring or hardheads, in any waters within the jurisdiction of this State, for the purpose of transporting the same out of the State.

SEC. 2. Any person who shall violate the provisions of this act, shall forfeit for each offence a sum not less than twenty nor more than forty dollars, to the use of the person who shall sue for the same.

SEC. 3. Any net or seine set or used for the purpose of taking such fish, shall be forfeited to any person who may take or sue for the same.

SEC. 4. This act shall take effect from its passage.

Approved July 8, 1854.

AN ACT relating to the Insane Asylum of the State.

SECTION 1. Be it enated, &c. That the sum of twenty thousand dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated to the New-Hampshire Asylum for the Insane, for the purpose of erecting an addition or wing to the present buildings, for the further accommodation of the insane, and also for the accommodation of the more violent and noisy class of patients now kept in the building known as the cottage, with the necessary furniture and conveniences for the same; also, for the furnishing of suitable boilers, pipes and other fixtures necessary for warming all parts of the asylum buildings by steam.

SEC. 2. The Governor is hereby empowered to draw by his warrant said sum from the treasury of the State, as the same may be required for the purposes aforesaid; and the treasurer is authorized and empowered, under the direction of the Governor, to borrow such part of said sum, at such times and in such portions as may be necessary, at the lowest rate of interest at which the same can be procured, not exceeding six per centum per annum, payable at different periods within five years; and the treasurer, for the time being, is authorized to pay the sum or sums so borrowed, and the interest thereon, when the same shall become due, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage. Approved July 13, 1854.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That, in addition to the causes of divorce now prescribed by law, a divorce from the bonds of matrimony shall be decreed in favor of the innocent party for the following causes, to wit:—When the wife of any citizen of this State shall have willingly absented herself from her husband, without his consent, for the space of three years together; or when the wife of any citizen of this State shall have gone to reside beyond the limits of this State, and shall have remained absent and separate from her said husband for the space of ten years together, without his consent, and without returning to claim her marriage rights.

SEC. 2. If any cause exist which, if it continue for the space of time prescribed in the preceding section, will be a cause of divorce, and such cause shall continue to exist for such further space of time as together to constitute the time so prescribed; or if such cause has already existed for the space of time so prescribed, and shall continue for the further space of not less than one month after the passage of this act, it shall be a sufficient cause of divorce.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage. Approved July 14, 1854.

AN ACT in amendment of chapter 131 of the Revised Statutes.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c. The right of the mortgagor, and all persons claiming under him, to redeem any mortgaged premises, shall be forever barred and foreclosed by the mortgagee in the following modes:

First. By entry into the mortgaged premises under process of law, and continued actual possession thereof for one year;

Second. By peaceable entry into the mortgaged premises, and continued actual, peaceable possession thereof for the space of one year, and by publishing in some newspaper printed in the same county, if any there be, otherwise in some newspaper printed in some adjoining county, three weeks successively, a notice stating the time at which such possession for condition broken commenced, the object of such possession, the name of the mortgagor and mortgagee, the date of the mortgage, and a description of the premises, the first publication to be six months at least before such right to redeem would be foreclosed;

Third. By the mortgagee in possession of the mortgaged premises publishing in some newspaper printed in the same county, if any there be, otherwise in some newspaper printed in some adjoining county, three weeks successively, a notice stating that from and after a certain day, which shall be specified in said notice, and which shall not be more than four weeks from and after the last day of publication of said notice, such possession of said mortgaged premises will be holden for the purpose of foreclosing the right of the mortgagor, and all persons claiming under him, to redeem the same, for condition broken, stating the name of the mortgagor and of the mortgagee, the date of the mortgage, and a description of the premises, and by retaining actual, peaceable possession of said premises for one year from and after the day specified in said printed notice as aforesaid.

SEC. 2. Section fourteen of chapter 131 of the Revised Statutes is hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved July 15, 1854.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That any town in this State which shall have adopted, or which shall hereafter adopt, the provisions of said act be, and they hereby are, authorized and empowered by a major vote of the legal voters in the same, present at any meeting thereof duly notified and warned for that purpose, and voting upon the question, to rescind any vote by which said provisions shall have been so adopted.

SEC. 2. All right to hold office by virtue of said act or any of its provisions, or to perform the duties thereof, shall cease and be fully determined upon the recission of any vote for its adoption as aforesaid.—And no such town shall be deemed liable for any salary or other compensation for services rendered thereafterwards by any officer therein named, and performed under the provisions of said act.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved July 13, 1854.

AN ACT in amendment of chapter 164 of the Revised Statutes.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That whenever, in the settlement of any estate, it shall be necessary to sell real estate for the payment of debts, the judge of probate, on application of the administrator, with the assent of the widow, if any, if in his judgment the interests of all concerned will be promoted thereby, may grant license for the sale of the whole real estate of the deceased, including the widow's dower and the reversion thereof.

SEC. 2. The widow shall be entitled to a share of the proceeds of the sale under such license, equal to the present value of her dower in the real estate sold, to be estimated by the judge of probate according to her age, and the residue thereof, after paying the debts and expenses of administration, shall be distributed to the heirs of the deceased as the real estate would by law have descended if there had been no widow.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Approved July 13, 1854.

AN ACT in amendment of chapter 133 of the Revised Statutes

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That section eleven of chapter one hundred and thirty three of the Revised Statutes be and the same is hereby repealed.

AN ACT to divide the town of Lyman and constitute the town of Monroe.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That all that part of the town of Lyman lying westwardly of the following line, to wit: Beginning on the line between the towns of Lyman and Bath at a stake and stones, and being the south east corner of land owned by Franklin Hadlock, and the south-westerly corner of Reuben Smith's land, from thence north forty-three degrees east, two hundred and eighty-five rods to the northerly line of right numbered fourteen, thence south fifty-six degrees east, on the line of said right, thirty-nine and one-half rods to the north-east corner of said right, which is twenty-eight and twenty-nine, thence north forty-three degrees east, twelve hundred and eighty-six rods upon the line of rights to the corner of rights numbered nineteen, twenty, twenty-three and twenty-four, thence south fifty-six degrees east, on the line between rights numbered twenty-three and twenty-four, two hundred and sixty-four rods to the corner of rights numbered twenty-three, twenty-four, thirty-five and thirty-six, thence north forty-three degrees east, five hundred and twenty rods on the line of rights numbered twenty-three, twenty-two and thirty-six and thirty-seven to the line of Littleton at a stake and stones, be and the same is severed hereby from the town of Lyman, and made a body politic and corporate by the name of Monroe.

SEC. 2. All real and personal property, including all debts, claims and demands of every kind now owned by and due to the town of Lyman, all school and other funds owned by said town and the proportion of the literary fund which until a new apportionment of State taxes be payable to said towns shall be divided between said towns in proportion of one dollar and twelve cents and seven mills to Lyman and one dollar to Monroe, and if said towns cannot agree upon the division of any such property, David G. Goodall of Lisbon, Ezra Parker of Littleton, and William Lang of Bath, upon the request of either town may make division of the same or assign the same or any part thereof, to either of said towns, and may order the town to which such property may be assigned to pay over such sums of money to the other town as in their opinion is equitable accordingly to the foregoing proportion, and may fix the time of payment

SEC. 3. All taxes assessed since March last upon the polls and estates of those residing within limits of Monroe shall be collected by the collector to whom the same has been committed for that purpose, and after deducting therefrom the State and county taxes, shall be by him paid over to the town of Monroe in the same manner and proportion in which he is directed to pay over the same to the town of Lyman before this division, and the treasurers of Monroe when chosen and legally qualified shall have the same power to issue an extent against such collector for neglect to comply with the provisions of this act, that he would have if such collector had been chosen by said town of Monroe.

SEC. 4. All debts and liabilities heretofore incurred by said town of Lyman, and all municipal expenses of said town since the eighth day of March last, shall be paid by said towns in the same proportion in which the property was divided.

SEC. 5. All paupers now supported by the town of Lyman shall be supported by the towns of Lyman and Monroe, each of said towns contributing to their support in the same proportion that the property of said towns was divided until such time as either of said towns shall call for a division of said paupers, and if said towns do not agree upon a division, the said Goodall, Parker and Lang shall upon the request of either of said towns determine and assign to each of said towns their proportion of said paupers upon the same basis, as near as may be practicable, as that adopted for a division of the town property, and determine which of said paupers shall be supported by each of said towns, provided, however, that no person who is not at the time of the passage of this act in actual receipt of assistance from said Lyman, and supported by the same shall be considered a pauper within the meaning of this act.

SEC. 6. In all assessment of State and county taxes until the legislature shall otherwise order, the town of Lyman shall pay one dollar and seventy-one cents, and the town of Monroe shall pay one dollar and fifty-one cents, and the State and county treasurers shall issue their respective warrants accordingly.

SEC. 7. Jedediah Buffum, Horace Duncan and Orrin Ferguson or any two of them may call the first meeting of said town of Monroe by posting up a warrant for that purpose as the law directs, at which meeting either of said persons may preside until a moderator be chosen, and at such meeting all necessary town officers may be chosen.

SEC. 8. The town of Monroe shall form a part of councillor district number five, senatorial district number twelve, and congressional district number three, and the militia thereof shall belong to the thirty-second regiment.

SEC. 9. This act shall take effect from and after its passage. Approved July 13, 1854.

AN ACT providing for the assessment of a State tax.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the sum of seventy thousand dollars shall be raised for the use of the State, and shall be assessed, collected and paid into the treasury on or before the first day of December, in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, and the treasurer is hereby directed seasonably to issue his warrants to the selectmen of the several towns and places within this State, according to the apportionment of public taxes made out at the November session, A. D. 1852, and the selectmen and assessors of such towns and places are hereby required to assess the sums specified in said warrants, and cause the same to be paid in to the treasurer on or before the first day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, and the treasurer is hereby authorized to issue extents for all taxes which shall then remain unpaid.

Approved July 15, 1854.

AN ACT to authorize the union of school districts in certain towns.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, &c., That any two or more adjoining school districts in this State may, by a two-thirds vote of all the legal voters in each of said districts, at any legal meeting thereof duly notified and holden for that purpose, unite and form a single district. And such new district so constituted shall have all the powers and privileges and be subject to all the liabilities of other school districts in this State.

SEC. 2. Said districts, so united, shall be and remain separate and distinct corporations as well after as before such union, for the purpose of managing, selling and disposing of the property, paying and discharging the debts, and settling the affairs of the same.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage. Approved July 15, 1854.

AN ACT relating to the police court of the city of Portsmouth.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the justice of the police court of the city of Portsmouth may hold the office, exercise all the powers and perform all the duties of clerk of the said court.

SEC 2. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are repealed. Approved July 15, 1854.

AN ACT making appropriations for the militia of this State, for the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c., That the following sums be and hereby are appropriated for the purposes herein mentioned: for adjutants returns, eighty dollars; for repairs of gunhouses, one hundred dollars; for repairs of ordnance, ordnance carriages, &c., two hundred dollars; for stationery, fifty dollars; and for contingencies, one hundred and fifty dollars; and the said sums be paid out of the treasury; and the governor with advice of council, is hereby authorized to issue his warrants on the treasury, in favor of the adjutant general for the sums aforesaid, who is hereby required to apply the same for the purposes aforesaid, so far as may be necessary, and to render an account to the legislature. Approved July 15, 1854.

AN ACT to alter the names of certain persons.

SEC. 1 Be it enacted, &c., That Patrick Owens Leonard, of Whitefield, may take the name of George Owens Leonard; Alonzo Stone, of Keene, may take the name of Alonzo Francis Fay; Aurelia Phinette White, of Errol, may take the name of Aurelia Phinette Staples; Paschal Morgan, of Lancaster, may take the name of Paschal Morgan Hovey; Henry Hervey Hicks, of New Ipswich, may take the name of Henry Franklin Carr; Elmaran Hicks, of New Ipswich, may take the name of Abby Ann Carr; Clementine Harris, of Franklin, may take the name of Clementine Harris Thompson; James Madison Pillsbury, of Bradford, may take the name of James Madison Farrington; Chauncy Brown, of Northwood, may take the name of Chauncy Knowlton; Addebiola Smith, of Hollis, may take the name of Addebiola Fletcher; John Parker, of Randolph, may take the name of John Henry Parker; Samuel Chapman, of Tamworth, may take the name of Samuel Chase; James M. LAWS OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The first side of this day's paper is mostly occupied with the laws and resolutions passed by our legislature at their June session. They are the more convenient for future reference, on account of being in one paper. Probably very few readers will read them all: but they are a species of intelligence which belongs to all citizens, and which the State places in the reach of all, by having them published in all the papers in the State. One improvement should be made, in the plan of the publication, viz. to pay a more decent price for printing them, than the pittance now afforded. An united, unanimous suggestion of this kind, from all the papers in the State, would doubtless raise the price to a sum equal to that for the laws of the United States, or to those of the state of Maine.

CONSISTENCY.

The Eastern Argus, one of the most able papers of the democratic party, speaking of Compromises, says—

And why do they especially seek to revive that very one which they have always heretofore condemned? The Missouri line used to be 'hatefully disrelished,' by the Northern whigs. They clamored even for its repeal.—They said it was like any ordinary statute, liable to be annulled by a new Congress.—They said every body who voted for it was a slavery extensionist, because it implied the admission of slavery South of the line; and every Northern man who voted for it was denounced as a Northern dough face. Some of them were 'burned in effigy,' for having done so. * * * * * *

The 'fusion' people have been so much accustomed to abuse and reproach the Missouri Compromise, AS A CONCESSION TO SLAVERY, that they are enraged to find it withdrawn from their blows; and now, determined to have a fight one way or the other, they go mourning about the streets at the loss of their old target, and solemnly declare that there never was invented such a safeguard to liberty as that same Missouri Compromise!

We consider it not to be in our line at all, to reply to any charges of inconsistency like these. They belong not to us. No partisan, who sticks to his party for many years, can fail to be inconsistent as to principle.

We copy the above extracts, merely as a favorable specimen of the arguments (?) in favor of slavery extension—which in this case consist entirely of sarcasms on its opponents.

We have formerly said, that we had no tears to shed over the repeal of the Missouri Compromise. The act which repealed it, was nevertheless an outrageous breach of faith, showing that slavery prepagandists are not at all trustworthy.

We have ever regarded the bill admitting Missouri as a slave state, as a mean and cowardly concession to slavery, which ought not to have been made. Yet this same bill, inasmuch as it promised that slavery should not extend itself north of a certain line, was a sort of 'safeguard to liberty' until this promise was broken!

We thought the enactment of the Missouri Compromise to be wrong and foolish, because it gave slavery permission to extend itself to a certain line. And we consider the act for its repeal more wrong and more foolish, because it virtually permits slavery to go wherever it can, without limit.

The former concession to slavery was a treachery to freedom, unworthy of republicans. The latter concession is a treachery against honor and honesty, unworthy of any body. These views, to our mind, are by no means inconsistent.

Slavery, itself a wrong, can have no rights; and we would give it as few privileges as possible. Slaveholders, as men, have rights, which we are always ready to respect. But this act of treachery was unworthy of any respectable Southron, and must not be laid at any of their doors. Let its disgrace rest on its authors.

ARREST OF AN ESCAPED CONVICT.—Van Order, one of the sentenced convicts, who escaped from the cars while in motion a few weeks since, has been arrested in Saratoga county. The Saratoga Whig gives the following account of their singular and perilous escape: "Van Order, whose arrest on Saturday evening last was noticed on Monday, was on Wednesday examined before Police Justice Pike, and returned to State Prison in custody of a deputy sheriff of Erie county, who came on here to identify him. His escape from the cars was almost miraculous. He was chained to another man at the wrist, and they were shut up in the saloon. They managed to get a window open, and Van Order worked his way out, hanging by his arms until the other man got out also. The cars were going at full speed, and we believe it was at night.—When the second man got out partially they both dropped down the banks, through a board fence, injuring them some, but they managed to get away. Van Order has performed in a circus, and is very lithe and active.

DIVIDEND.—The Essex Steam Mill of Newburyport has declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent.

THIEVES DISCHARGED.

Andrew Uprichard and Thomas Carey, two soldiers of the British Army, deserted from Sidney, C. B., on the 13th July, and stole from the military chest about $640. They came to Boston in the sch Elizabeth, but telegraphic despatches came in advance of the vessel, and the men were claimed under the Ashburton Treaty, by the British Government as criminals, charged with the crime of robbery.

The claim was tried in Boston, before Charles Levi Woodbury, Esq., United States Commissioner, who very properly discharged them, as not coming within the provisions of the treaty.

The lawyers on both sides introduced a flood of irrelevant matter, having no possible bearing on the single point at issue.

The specifications were clearly proved, and the only question considered by the Commissioner was:

Do these facts bring them within the provisions of the Treaty?

The Counsel for the British government contended, with great ability, that the word "robbery," in the treaty, is to receive the broad construction usual in dictionaries, and not the narrow and technical one of the Courts of Common law.

In other words, the government of Great Britain pretended, in this case, that larceny was identical with robbery; tho' they know very well that if they claimed the men as mere thieves, the treaty could not hold them.

The counsel for the prisoner contended for the strictly technical and legal meaning of the term robbery. In this they were correctly sustained by the Commissioner, who said:

It is a rule of law in all cases where technical words of acts are used, to look for the meaning of those words to the act to which they pertain. The Supreme Court of the United States have held, where words known in the common law are used in a statute, they will look to the common law for their meaning—although they have decided there are no common law powers in the United States Courts. So with the words taken from the civil law. This is the just rule for instruction. It happens that the large majority of the states of this union have their criminal code based on the old common law of England—and that in fact the term "robbery" has the same meaning in the state courts of these states as at Westminster Hall or Old Bailey. The latter statutes of England—as well as those of the states of this union—have made no changes in the legal definition of the term robbery, and I must believe the contracting parties to the treaty meant the same thing when they used the word.

By the common law then, it is admitted by the counsel on both sides that to constitute a robbery, violence to the person, threats or intimidation, must be used. No such thing existed in this case; the prisoners committed their crime secretly, furtively, and with a remarkable caution and dexterity, guarded against alarming any one. It is a burglary they have committed, or a larceny, and not a robbery. I have no power to deliver them up to the authorities of Great Britain. Let them be discharged.

The Boston Courier says,—

The closing sentence was loudly applauded by the persons in the Court room. The prisoners were again taken into custody on a charge of larceny, and an attempt is to be made to prosecute them for that offence, and punish them under our State laws. The counsel for the defence are quite confident that this cannot be done, and that the prisoners must be discharged.

Certainly they must be discharged: and will be, by the first decent Judge that looks at the case. Massachusetts laws cannot punish a larceny committed in Cape Breton by a British subject.

The Courier adds:

The captain of the Elizabeth, the schooner in which Uprichard and Carey came passengers, has already paid a fine of $237 for neglecting to report their names to the Alien Commissioner; and he was yesterday committed to jail, in default of bonds in the sum of $2000, for trial for having neglected to report them at the Custom-house.

THE EDINBURGH REVIEW, for July, 1854, is No. 203 of this noble quarterly. The contents of the present number are:

Diplomatic History of the Eastern Question: Teetotalism, and Laws against the Liquor Trade; Hermann's Æschylus; Kafir Wars and Cape Policy; The Great Social Problem; The Orders in Council on Trade during War; Marshall on the Representation of Minorities; European Emigration to the United States; The Russian War of 1854.

Re-published by Leonard Scott & Co., New York.

MAINE.—Gov. Parris has not yet publicly accepted the nomination for Governor. A few days since he expressed himself in doubtful terms on this subject, as we are informed. His acceptance of the nomination, it is said, will not be made known till the election is over; and, in the event of his choice by the people, he will accept. If otherwise, and he is defeated, his defeat will be fairly ascribable to the fact, that he was not a candidate.—State of Maine.

A man named Claiborne Wilson, was arrested in Washington, who confessed that he set fire to a dozen houses in that city lately, and he also implicated several others.

A fire at Biddeford, Maine, last week, burnt over 1000 acres of woodland, destroying much wood, but burning no houses.

LOCAL.

OUR TERMS.—We publish on the inside of this paper, our terms for subscription and advertising, at considerable length. We present bills for advance payment for the Daily Chronicle, only when desired so to do. Our terms are four dollars per year, from which we deduct twenty-five per cent. when payment is made strictly in advance, or two per cent. for each month that payment is advanced before the close of the subscription year; being $3.25 at the end of three months, $3.50 at the end of six, and $3.75 at the end of nine months.

For the Weekly, we charge $1 per year, in advance—terms too low to admit of any discount, or any expense of collection.

LAUNCH.—The fine ship Governor Langdon was launched on Tuesday afternoon, in handsome style, from the yard of Fernald & Petigrew. We have now three noble ships at our wharves, all new and all of excellent workmanship: all worthy, we believe, to sustain the high and well earned reputation of Portsmouth ship.

☞ The Atlantic House, at Rye Beach, kept by Mr. Philbrick, is one of the oldest and most popular watering places in this vicinity, and is too well known to all lovers of a "good time," to require an extended notice from us. To those who have never visited this house, and who wish to spend a pleasant day on the seashore, we say, go to the Atlantic House.

SOLON BORLAND—THE RICHMOND ENQUIRER'S OPINION OF HIM.—To avoid the chance of misapprehension, it is better, perhaps, distinctly to protest that we do not wish to be understood as in any way approving of the conduct of Mr. Borland in this affair. His is one of the appointments of this administration which we have never been able to understand or commend. In his previous career, he had not evinced any special qualification for public business of any sort, but least of all for the delicate and difficult duties of diplomacy. When his promotion was first gazetted, we foreboded trouble from his vehement and ungovernable passions, and his restless ambition for effect and notoriety.

The want of judgment and dignity, and the disposition to have a hand 'in every man's pie,' as Shakspeare expresses it, which constitute striking features in Mr. Borland's character, were deplorably conspicuous in his conduct at San Juan. Why should the American minister interfere between Captain Smith and the negro boatmen, thereby officiously thrusting himself into a vulgar dispute, and exposing his Government to unnecessary insult and contempt? It was the business of Mr. Fabens, the consular agent, to afford Capt. Smith the protection which he might justly claim. Mr. Borland forgot his dignity and his responsibility, when he yielded to that impulse of pugilism which has so often involved him in street fights and affairs of honor.—Richmond Enquirer, Aug. 10.

There! that is "a first rate notice" of Mr. Borland, from a first rate source. Very likely Mr. Borland was hit by two or three bottles in the cabin of Captain Smith,—and perhaps the gallant captain himself might have been hit with a brick in his hat. We strongly suspect the whole party, Bungo captain and all, were pot-valiant about that time.

We shall have many a sober second thought as we pay up the bills made by Mr. Borland. One for $12,000, to pay the troops he raised without law, has already been provided for,—and dozens of greater bills are yet to come.

FROM MADEIRA.—By the schooner Sarah Maria at New York, thirty-two days from Madeira, we learn that there was another entire failure of the wine crop, owing to the blight having again appeared on the vine and grape. The following is an extract of a letter dated July 12th, 1854:

I am sorry to inform you that the grape crop has again failed. I was informed by many intelligent vine-growers that they do not think the present vine will ever produce; but where are they to get others? All countries are alike afflicted. What is the cause of this blight? Is it the prayers of the temperance people? Many growers are digging up the vine and planting grain and vegetables; the latter will grow in great quantities, and I have no doubt that if the New York and Marseilles Steam Company will make the Island a stopping place, it will become the market garden of the United States; the invalids with their companions will flock there in great numbers; it is the finest climate in the world for the afflicted with consumption. Many persons far gone in that disease have been relieved by resorting to this Island.

It is the principal resort for the Europeans so afflicted. The climate here in the winter is like the climate of May in the United States. I was here on the 4th of July, the national day of the Americans. The United States ship Marion was here, and I cannot tell which was the most pleased, the Americans or the Portuguese, at the exchange of courtesy. At sunrise the Marion hoisted her national standard at the mast-head, and fired twenty-one guns. The corvette and fort on Loo Rock joined in. The Brazilian steamer could not fire, she only mounting two guns.

Lieut. Gardner, an officer of standing in the navy, returned the salute and thanks for the honor.

RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 14:—Bragg's (dem.) vote for Governor of North Carolina, is 48,600; Dockery's (whig) 46,000. Bragg's majority, 2,600.

SOLITUDE can be well applied, and sit right upon but very few persons. They must have knowledge enough of the world to see the follies of it; and virtue enough to despise all vanity. (Cowley.)

FOUR DAYS IN BOSTON.—On Wednesday evening, the 9th, Mr. George Maxwell, of Brunswick, Me., arrived in Boston, having in his possession $75 in money, a watch worth $45, and breastpin worth $10. On his head was an elegant beaver, his coat was a 'fit,' and his boots were 'mirrors.' On Saturday evening he was found by an officer of the 3d station in the vicinity of Merrimac street, badly intoxicated, moneyless, hatless, watch and breastpin gone, and clad in a shabby suit. For want of sufficient accommodations at the station house, he was lodged at station No. 2 for the night, and discharged on the following morning. Monday forenoon officer Richardson of the 3d station found him near Cambridge bridge, in a drunken and almost helpless condition, and took him to the station house, where he was kept till sober, and then discharged. Toward evening the same officer was called to Fullum's stable, in Court street, where he again found the poor inebriate who had just had a fit in the yard. He again took him to the station house, where he remained during the night in a critical condition from the effect of his excesses. He is unable to give a coherent account of the manner in which he has lost his property or spent his time.—Commonwealth.

A NARROW ESCAPE.—The Niagara Falls Iris of August 11 says that a slave, escaping from servitude, arrived in that village on the 8th inst., and reached the ferry just in time to get into the little boat as it was preparing to leave for the Canada side. His master was on the same train, in pursuit, and reached the ferry only in time to see his chattel midway across the foaming waters of Niagara. We learn that the slave was last seen by the master at Cleveland; yet, although both were on the same train, the slave succeeded in eluding his vigilance, and placing himself beyond pursuit.

INDIANA BANKS.—A despatch dated Cincinnati, Aug. 14, says the notes of all but four of the Indiana free Banks were refused by the Banks in that city, which caused considerable excitement. The Banks were to hold a meeting the next day, when they would probably decide to receive the paper of the Indiana Banks for a limited time.

THE "GREYTOWN ARMY."—The National Intelligencer, speaking of the report that Mr. Faban's draft for $1000 to pay Mr. Borland's Greytown forces has been dishonored, says that if such is the case, it is on account of some informality, as ample provision was made in the general appropriation bill for the payment of this corps, for which purpose $12,000 were appropriated.

RIOT AT ST. LOUIS.

The following particulars in relation to the election riot at St Louis, Mo. on the 7th of August, were communicated to the Traveller by a gentleman of Boston, who happened to be in St. Louis on the day of the election, and wrote his letter next day. He says;

It was the city and county election for members of Congress and county officers. Thos. H. Benton was the Democratic candidate, and the Irish voted for him.—Kennett was the Whig candidate, whose name the Know-Nothings also had at the head of their ticket. There was a great quantity of whiskey used during the day, and there was much threatening by the Irish; but no fighting till about 5 o'clock, when an Irishman stabbed an American in the back, cutting a horrid gash, and also cut at several others. An infuriated crowd rushed around the corner, yelling kill him! kill him!! The Irishman ran for his life, but the mob soon overtook him and just cut him up. His head was cut and broken with stones, so that he lay as dead. (I could not ascertain whether he died or not, but should think he must have died soon if not on the spot.) Then a general work of destruction commenced.

The Irish in large numbers appeared on the Levee, armed with muskets, and crowds without arms, marching up Green and Morgan streets, where they were met by the other party, who drove them, after a hard fight.—Many shots were fired, some with terrible effect, killing, it is believed, several. (It is impossible to ascertain how many.) The wounded were being carried up from the Levee to Broadway and Fourth streets, continually, and presented a most frightful appearance.—The American party now became uncontrolable, and commenced breaking in every Irish whiskey shop and house on the Levee. The streets are full of loose lime stone rocks, from the size of a hen's egg to that of a brick bat. These were used with ruinous effect upon windows, doors, shutters, furniture, and every thing that was breakable.

Whole stocks of demijohns, decanters and jugs, with their contents, were destroyed.—For long distances in Battle Row, Morgan street, every house is perfectly riddled and stripped of furniture, and the defenceless families are left without homes. So the battle waged for full two hours before sundown.—Reports of fire-arms could be heard very often, and men wounded and bleeding were carried by my boarding place—the Virginia Hotel.—The evening was disturbed by the hideous yells of the mob. The fife and drum were also heard mingling with the noise of the rioters. The military are out after the mischief is mostly done. During the affray the Mayor came out with two or three dozens of policemen, but they could do nothing, and only excited the mob, who held undisputed sway for three hours.

Joseph Arnot, a Frenchman, working on the canal boat "Burlington," just arrived from Chicago, was shot and killed. He was not in the affray, but just came from his boat to see what was going on. Jackson Fowler, mate, was shot in the left side. James Russel pilot, shot. I think it fair to presume that many will die from wounds received in this fight.

All the stores were closed and barricaded on Broadway and Fourth streets, and generally in this section of the city. There was much excited talk in the streets in the evening of sacking the College, but I think there will be no further violence.

This is a beautiful city and it is shameful it cannot be protected by a good native police against such outbreaks and violence to person and property. It is a hard drinking place, especially amoung the low; hence these broils. The pistol and bowie knife are rather too frequently seen and used to strike a New Englander pleasantly.

The latest advices from St. Louis are to Wednesday, and from them we learn that the riot had not then been subdued; great excitement was prevailing there.

GREAT EXPLOSION.—Cincinnati, Aug. 14. The powder magazine at Marysville was fired by some miscreant at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The explosion was terrific, the magazine containing 800 kegs of gunpowder. Thirteen houses were buried, but singular to say not a life was lost by the actual explosion, and but few persons were injured. One woman has since died from the effects of the fright. The citizens were so much alarmed that some minutes elapsed before any would venture into the streets, the general impression being that the day of judgment had arrived. When they did go out they found the streets covered with the fragments of demolished houses, &c. The damage done to property is between $50,000 and $100,000. The Mayor has offered a reward of $1000 for information that will lead to the conviction of the rascal that set fire to the magazine.

CINCINNATI, August 12.—The Hamilton county democratic convention met at Carthage to-day, for the purpose of nominating candidates for congress and county officers.—The committee on resolutions reported the Baltimore platform. As soon as the afternoon proceedings commenced great excitement prevailed. The know nothing question was introduced, and its organization denounced. Charles Remelin, Esq., who was a delegate, said that it was unconstitutional to denounce them, while the democrats had a secret organization, referring to the Miami tribe, of which a United States Senator was the chief. The lie was given to this assertion, after which the convention adjourned without nominating any one or passing any resolutions.

NEW YORK, August 15.—Havana dates by the Isabel announce the landing of more slaves in Cuba, from American slavers. A cargo of 490 is stated to have been landed at San Carlos, from a vessel called the Julia Mister, or Mista. The vessel was immediately burned, and the seamen on board forwarded by the agents of the enterprise, to Havana, as distressed mariners.

Every man sees the troubles and vexations of his own position much better than he does those of his neighbors, and hence it is that so many are dissatisfied with their condition, and think that their vocation possesses many peculiar hardships not felt by others.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.
MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.

MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs last spring—spitting of blood, &c.—I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable piece of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WRIGHT.

BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.
HERTS BROTHERS'
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM, ZINC AND
PLATINA PENS,
Warranted not to Corrode.
HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and cleanness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1858," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

MANUFACTORY, BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.

May be had, Wholesale, at the Manufacturers' DEPOTS,

Sagamore House, in Rye.
FROST'S POINT.
THIS is an entirely new House, situated about four miles from the Portsmouth Depots. There is easy access to it by land or water. It is located on a point of land nearly surrounded by water, and seaward presents a fine view of the ocean, Isles of Shoals, &c, than can be obtained from any other house in Rye. An excellent view of Portsmouth and the Piscataqua River is also had from the top of the house The location of the Sagamore combines the advantages of quiet retirement in a beautiful country, with convenience of access and all the facilities enjoyed at other Beach Houses. The opportunities for Bathing and fishing are unsurpassed. Boats are always in readiness for the accommodation of visitors. A Pilot Boat touches regularly at the Point, on her daily trips to the Shoals.

The Sagamore House was newly furnished throughout, this Spring, in the best manner The Ladies' Parlor is fifty feet in length, and the Dining Room of the same proportions. The Sleeping Rooms are capacious and airy, and the building thoroughly ventilated.

An experienced man has charge of the house, and every facility provided, and no pains spared for the accommodation of all visitors who may favor us with a call.

The Tables will be provided with the best the market affords, for in this respect the proprietor wishes it distinctly understood that he will not be excelled by any other House in Rye or on the seashore.

TERMS.—For permanent boarders $1.00 per day. Transient visitors as cheap as elsewhere.

Carriages will be at the Portsmouth Depots on the arrival of every train of cars to convey passengers to the Sagamore House:

We ask ladies and gentlemen to give us a call and we will satisfy them that we will do all we promise.

Approved July 15, 1854.

AN ACT in amendment of chapter 701 of the laws of 1848, and of chapter 28 of the Revised Statutes, in relation to counting and declaring the votes for electors of President and Vice President.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, &c. That the Secretary of State shall, on the day following the last Wednesday but one of November, lay the returns of votes for electors of President and Vice President before the Governor and Council, to be by them examined and counted. The requisite number of persons to be chosen, who shall have the largest number of votes returned, shall be declared duly chosen electors.

SEC. 2. The governor shall cause the several persons who may be chosen electors to be notified forthwith of their election, and request their attendance at the State House in Concord on Tuesday next preceding the first Wednesday in December then next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

SEC. 3. The electors chosen shall meet at the State House in Concord on said Tuesday, and by twelve o'clock at mid day on said day, give notice to the Governor and Council of the number of electors present who accept the office.

SEC. 4. If the requisite number of electors are not present, or do not accept, or if the requisite number of electors shall not be chosen, by reason of two or more persons having an equal number of votes, then the electors present who do accept, in presence of the Governor and Council, shall forthwith choose by ballot the number wanting to complete the board.

SEC. 5. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act, are hereby repealed, and this act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Approved July 8, 1854.

AN ACT relating to Aqueduct and Gas Light Companies.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted, &c. That all Aqueduct and Gas Light Companies heretofore duly organized, or which may hereafter be duly organized, under the laws of this State, are hereby empowered to enter upon and break up ground and dig ditches in any street, highway or common, through which it may be necessary for the pipes of said Aqueduct or Gas Light Companies to pass, for the purpose of placing such pipes as may be necessary, or of repairing the same, provided no injury shall be done to such street, highway or common; and provided further that the consent of the selectmen of the town or city council of the city in which such pipes are to be laid, shall be first obtained therefor.

SEC. 2. Any person who shall wantonly and maliciously injure any such Aqueduct or the pipes, or other property of such Gas Light Company, and be convicted thereof on indictment therefor found against him, shall be punished by fine not exceeding three hundred dollars, and shall be liable to pay treble damages to such company, to be recovered in an action on the case before any court of competent jurisdiction.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved July 8, 1854.

AN ACT in addition to chapter 150 of the Revised Statutes

SECTION 1. Be it enacted, &c. That upon applications made by any executor or administrator appointed in any other state, whose testator or intestate may own lands in this State, to the Judge of Probate for the county in which such lands lie, the said Judge upon receiving satisfactory evidence of his appointment may grant license to sell and convey such lands in the same way and manner as is provided in the case of executors and administrators appointed in this State; and such executor or administrator shall give bond with sufficient sureties resident in this State, make oath as provided in such sale and conveyance, and in all respects be entitled to the same rights, and subject to the same liabilities as if appointed by the courts of this State.

SEC. 2 Any executor or administrator appointed in any other State whose testator or intestate may own personal estate in this State, upon filing a certified copy of his said appointment, together with a certificate of the Court of Probate which granted such administration, that such personal estate has been inventoried and returned as part of the estate of the deceased in the Probate office in the county where such personal estate is situated, or if the same be stock in any corporation in this State, upon filing such copy and certificate in the Probate office in the county where such corporation has its principal place of business, and publishing a notice of his said appointment in some newspaper printed in the county where such copy and certificate have been filed, and if there be no newspaper printed in such county, by publishing such notice in some newspaper printed in any adjoining county, three weeks successively, may at any time after three months from the first publication of such notice, if in the mean time no administration has been taken out in this State on the estate of said testator or intestate, proceed to manage, sell and dispose of such personal estate in the same way and manner as executors and administrators in this State may manage, sell and dispose of the personal estate of their testators or intestates.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect from and after its passage. Approved July 13, 1854.

STARVING IN A LAND OF PLENTY.—An incident occurred yesterday morning at the Mayor's office in this city, the recital of which was sufficient to engender a contempt for humanity, as especially against those who for paltry gain would take the bed from under a dying fellow being, and against those who, possessed of a superfluity of this world's goods will lavish it upon those who have plenty, while their own blood is left to penury and want. A lady appeared at the Mayor's office and stated that her object was to ask aid to bury the remains of a cousin's husband, who had just died after an affliction of ten years.—She said that both herself and cousin were neices of the late John McDonough, of New Orleans, that her cousin resided in Hollins alley, near the Hollins market, and had for a long time been dependant upon the labor of her own hands for the support of her family, consisting of an afflicted husband and seven children. During the present year, in consequence of the advanced prices of the necessaries of life, she found it impossible to provide a sufficiency, when a kind friend whose means were limited, gave her all that was to spare from her own family. For some time past the malady of the husband growing worse, her attention was demanded at his bedside, and she could no longer labor for food for her children. Last week the remaining and only bed left in the possession of this destitute family, and on which the husband and father reposed, was taken and sold to procure a small amount of food to sustain life. With all these absolute necessities crowding upon her, she became indebted to the owner of the property where she lived for house rent, to the amount of eleven dollars, and though her husband was in a dying condition, on Thursday the officer of the law proceeded with a warrent of distress, and sold all that remained, realizing therefor two dollars—not sufficient to pay the cost of prosecution. Entirely destitute of food, and every article of necessity, to say nothing of comfort; this helpless family was left alone in the house; and to add to the misery of the sorrow stricken mother, the husband died yesterday morning upon the bare floor, with not even a pillow upon which to lay his dying head. The recital of the sorrows and helplessness of this destitute family at once touched the kindlier nature of those present, and in a few minutes a sufficient amount of money was contributed to bury the dead. What a commentary is this upon the weakness and frailty of human nature. The niece of a millionaire left to struggle through the world in the most abject poverty, while his large estate is given a prey to already rich and independent corporations. But the worst feature of the whole is the heartless distress of the landlord, who, lending a deaf ear to the really destitute condition of the family, forced from them the last little of this world's goods they possessed. These are facts, and, as heretofore, subjected to menial labor for the maintenance of her children, this worthy but respectable lady will resume her place at the wash-tub and wear away her life, while strangers will enjoy the fruits of the estate of her late uncle. Upon the worthy poor, kindly words and a helping hand should always be extended, and certainly this will afford an opportunity for the humane to make glad the heart of the widowed mother, and bring joyousness to the faces so long marked with sadness and desolation.—Baltimore American.

The Rev. James Cooper, who engaged himself to several young ladies in South Groton, last winter, and after being dismissed from the church, had to leave the place suddenly, is now in jail in Denton, Caroline county, Md. He assumed the name of John Howard, and succeeded in getting into the pulpit again, and making several matrimonial engagements. One of the ladies having at last learned his true character, an explosion followed. He had a narrow escape from Lynch law, and was finally arrested and lodged in jail.—Boston Chron.

Served him right: and a great benefit it would be to trap all such clerical wolves in sheep's clothing.

ECONOMY IN BUSINESS.—We have been paying too high prices: the consequences are upon us. What shall we do? Cut down our expenses; that is the remedy. Do as we used to. Pork is down; flour soon will be; and then we can do a little business with much less money. Borrowing much money, and at high rates, will ruin any project; but with economy, even a poor railroad can be made to pay six per cent., yet. Let all employers be selected from a class that are not spendthrifts, and then they will not have to rob the corporations "to live." Let us buy but small stocks of goods, and we shall be able to pay better. PAY AS YOU GO.—Boston Post.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 17, 1854.

WHO ARE OUR OFFICE HOLDERS?—Below is a list of officers in the service of the United States, with place and birth. These figures and facts tell their own story, and answer the above question:—

Washington, D.C.	Amer.	For.
State Department,	12	16
Treasury Department	138	278
Department of the Interior	338	500
Officers and agents in service of House of Rep.	10	40
Post Office Department	11	80
	510	914
Ministers and Consuls	151	106
Coast Survey,	15	20
U. S. Mint	25	12
Light House Board, Inspectors and Keepers	31	392
U. S. Rev. Marine service	35	30
	767	2484

The list of Custom House Officers in the different States, shows 215 Americans, and 1837 Foreigners. Let Native Americans ponder these facts.

We find the above table in the Portland Advertiser, usually a correct paper in its statements. Yet these statements seem to us almost or quite incredible. They ought to be tested at once, by some person who has access to the proper data. If false they ought to be corrected: if true they ought to be rung throughout the land.

CUBAN JUSTICE.—We are informed by a merchant who is well posted up in Custom House affairs, that the Captain of the Bark C. B. Hamilton has been to Havana since the correction of the erroneous manifest, and that nothing was said to him about the matter when in the custom house there, but the claim for damages has been made since.

The movement is probably made by some newly fledged official, just come over from Old Spain to make his fortune; and we suppose it will be disavowed and corrected as soon as the proper demand is made from Washington.

A SLAVE REFUSING HER LIBERTY.—The Erie (Penn.) Observer reports that quite an excitement was created at Erie lately, by an abortive attempt to set a negro slave free. It seems that a gentleman from Mississippi, recently arrived at Erie on a visit to his relatives, bringing with him a colored nurse who is a slave. The facts being known, a writ of habeas corpus was procured and the colored woman was brought before Judge Sterrett.—The Judge informed her that she was free, and was at liberty to remain in Erie, if she chose, or to go back to Mississippi. To this, according to the Observer, the woman replied, "Well, Bos, I jist tell yer what it am. I jist warnt to go back to Mississippi, and dat's all I's got to say."

There are some, no doubt very many, nurses, cooks, and other domestic slaves, so attached to their masters, mistresses, families and homes, as to prefer remaining or returning. It is ignorance or folly to pretend any thing to the contrary. Yet this is no plea for slavery at all. It only shows that there is good will, goodness of heart and kindness among some slaves and some masters; all of which is no less true among freemen.—By the way, it is possible that in the case here mentioned, there might be a little deception and delusion.

MRS. HILL'S BIG BONNET.—At a time when it was the fashion for ladies to wear bonnets of an enormous size, Mrs. Hill had a fancy to get one. Mr. H. objected, but the lady persevered in her purpose, (as ladies will sometimes do,) and actually sold a chest of drawers in order to accomplish the object.—The next Sabbath, Mr. Hill was at church and in the pulpit, before his wife arrived at the church. On her entering, he called from the pulpit, 'Make way for Mrs. Hill, with a chest of drawers on her head.' If it was the lady's object to have her bonnet noticed, her object was doubtless attained.

This story has been round in the papers for many years, as an incident in the life of Rev. Rowland Hill and his wife. But there happens to be no truth in it. Mrs. Hill was no such person as is here described; and had she chosen to have a dozen bonnets, always had the means of getting them. The husband and wife were a harmonious and happy couple, in whose life no such incident occurred.

THE BALLOON ASCENSION IN WORCESTER.—S. M. Brooks, the æronaut who ascended in a balloon from Worcester, several days since, says, in a letter to the Worcester Spy, that the greatest altitude attained by him in his flight, was one and a half miles. The cars on the Worcester railroad beneath him, looked like baby wagons, and the whistle of the locomotive—Mr. Brooks is said to be a man of undoubted veracity—was really musical, dying away in "linked sweetness, long drawn out." Mr. Brooks, seeing a dark cloud above him, threw out ballast with the design of entering it, but as he approached within one hundred feet his balloon became so violently agitated by conflicting currents of air, that he was obliged to descend. In a short time he found himself in a more congenial temperature, although directly above a large pond. Across the pond he saw what he took to be a school house, with children at play, but which on a nearer approach, turned out to be a race course, filled with spectators. He finally landed safely in the centre of a large corn field, in the lands of Mr. Rufus Wesson, who said he was 'glad to see him.'

FRAUDS AT THE U. S. MINT.—An officer at the U. S. Mint was, not long ago, detected in plundering from the bullion deposited at the mint for coinage, and recently one of the workmen was detected in the same offence. The amount thus stolen has never been clearly stated and is probably not known. Something like $10,000, which was ascertained in the case of the first named individual to have been taken, has been repaid to the depositors by the Mint; but from the manner in which the frauds have been perpetrated, it is probable that much has been abstracted which will never be accounted for.

We have known one or two instances of this kind three or four years ago, and some complaints about that time appeared in the New York papers, but they were denied indignantly by the officers of the Mint, as unfounded and ignorant aspersions, such a thing as fraud or mistake at the Mint, being set down as impossible, though we are now told it ought not to be a matter of wonder where so many are employed.—Newburyport Herald.

The more indignant the officers were, the more likely that they were themselves the plunderers. The greatest liars and cheats often make the greatest fuss about being called by their proper descriptive names.

SUCCESS OF THE NEW STATE ALMSHOUSES.—The Boston Advertiser mentions that escapes from the new State Almshouses are quite frequent, and the Commonwealth is thus released from further expense in supporting the runaways. A few nights since three girls made their escape from the institution at Monson. They were obliged to climb a board fence twelve feet in height. The Advertiser remarks: "We do not see why such an obstacle should be put in the way of those willing to take care of themselves. If they wish to leave, there should be nothing to hinder them."

Under the old system, State paupers were kept by the towns, who drew from the State Treasury an allowance for their support.—When one was allowed to stay in his native town among his friends, and was forbidden to do any labor (for none who were able to do any work, however slight, were entitled to the allowance from the State Treasury)—it was tolerably pleasant to be a 'State Pauper.'—But since the new plan has been inaugurated, about six months since, by which the paupers are removed from their favorite haunts to one of the three Almshouses, and are provided with opportunities for a little healthful labor—and the boys and girls are obliged to go to school—the Paupers have began to find out that they are not quite so helpless as was supposed, and they indignantly refuse to receive the charity of the State. So much the better for themselves and for the public.

This is all sound doctrine, except taking away the board fence. By all means that should be kept up, or the inmates will not be half so apt to run away.

THE PRICE OF WHEAT.—The Richmond Dispatch of yesterday says:—The price of wheat has fallen in about two weeks from $1,80 to $1,60—20 cents per bushel. This is a result few of our farmers anticipated. It is however not surprising when the facts are considered, and it is pretty certain that the price will go down further yet. Nothing can prevent it but the failure of the British wheat crop, which is one of the most certain crops in the world. California has wheat for export, and in the South American States, when flour rises to the present high prices, the inhabitants bring into use a variety of farinaceous fruits and vegetables as a substitute in part for bread. Looking at home, the United States have the largest crop ever reaped.

From these facts we do not see any good reason to anticipate any extraordinary demand from any quarter. The war in Europe is conducted by regular forces, and the agriculturists of those countries from which we could alone expect demands for our breadstuffs, are left to their pursuits, and their productions will not suffer diminution by the war. It is possible that the allied armies may forcibly obtain a large portion of their supplies from Russia, who has in a commercial way heretofore supplied them with a considerable amount of wheat. In this way will the effect of the interruption of commerce be, in a great measure, if not entirely, offset.

For these reasons we conjecture that the field for speculation in breadstuffs is this year very considerably curtailed.—Portsmouth (Va.) Transcript.

USURY LAWS IN ENGLAND.—A debate took place in the House of Lords on the 24th ult., upon the subject of the usury laws.—The following brief sketch of the proceedings embraces the view of the principal law officers of the crown, and shows the unanimity with which they advocate a repeal:

"The Marquis of Lansdowne, in moving the second reading of this bill, referred to the relaxations in these laws which previous legislation had made, but which had not been found effectual in adjusting the relations between the money lender and the borrower. It was thought the time had come for altogether abolishing these laws, and to effect this object was the purpose of the present bill.

Lord Campbell rejoiced to have lived to see the day when the usury laws received their death-blow.

Lord Brougham, on moral as well as on mercantile grounds, also rejoiced at the destruction of these laws.

The Lord Chancellor said these laws were not only mischievous, but presented loop-holes for evasion.

Lord Redesdale wished the bill had been introduced at an earlier period.

The Marquis of Lansdowne said it was a very short bill, on a subject well understood.

Lord Redesdale said surely the proceeding was somewhat hasty, and put it out of the power of any noble lord effectually to oppose the bill.

The bill was read a second time."

SUDDEN DEATH.—The Providence Tribune states that Capt. Smith, the master of a steam propeller running from New London to New York, died in the wheel house of his boat on Saturday, while on his passage to or from New York. The boat was run on shore, which was the first intimation the crew had of the death of the captain.

NO TELEGRAPH IN PORTSMOUTH.

Messrs. Editors:—Having occasion recently to transmit a message by telegraph, I was much surprised, on arrival at the late telegraph office, to find that the sign, wires and apparatus had all been removed, and to be informed that there was now no such thing as telegraphing to or from Portsmouth. But I was still more surprised to hear that this removal arose from the refusal of some of our citizens to take a portion of the stock in the Telegraph Co. It is said that men who are worth their tons of thousands and are engaged in extensive commercial transactions, have refused to subscribe one or two hundred dollars to the stock, and that a subscription of only $2,000 in this city, would have secured a permanent telegraphic station.

Will you please call the attention of our citizens to this defect in our arrangements for business growth and progress. It is the opinion of many that if the above mentioned delinquency in our merchants has been the cause of the withdrawal of the station, that another trial will secure such portion of stock to be taken up, as may be necessary to renew the telegraphic station in our city. THE LATE COMMODORE DOWNES.—Hon. J. C. Dobbin, Secretary of the Navy, has directed that as a mark of respect to the memory of Commodore John Downes, a distinguished officer of the United States navy, the flags of the navy yards, stations, and vessels of the United States navy be hoisted at half mast, and thirteen minute guns fired at noon, on the day after the receipt of this order. Officers of the navy and marine corps will wear crape on the left arm for thirty days.

Minute guns were fired at our Navy Yard, on Wednesday noon, in accordance with the above order.

SAD ACCIDENT. William Briggs and Wm. Morris of Salem, started on a fishing excursion in a small sail boat last Friday, and a flaw struck the boat, capsizing and sinking it instantly, about half a mile from Eagle island. Morris could not swim, and Briggs took him on his back and swam some distance. It was found that both could not reach the shore, and Morris bade his companion "farewell," and sunk to rise no more. Briggs reached Eagle Island, and was there discovered by some persons on Lowell Island, two of whom, Mr. Alfred Gilman of Lowell, and Jewett Smith, baggage master at the Eastern Railroad depot, Salem, went to his assistance, and though a high sea was running, brought him safely ashore. The young man that was drowned was engaged to be married, and had given a ring, which had been presented to him by his betrothed, to his companion for safe keeping.—Manchester Mirror.

MISSOURI ELECTION.—The St. Louis Republican of Saturday says the complexion of the Missouri Legislature is still uncertain, but it is a settled matter that the Benton party will be the hindermost of the three parties, and under no circumstances can Benton be elected U. S. Senator. The official vote for Congress in St. Louis county was:—Kennett, (Whig) 6251; Benton 5304; Polk, 3078. It is understood that Benton will stump the state to aid his chance of U. S Senatorship.

FIRE FROM LIGHTNING IN KENNEBUNKPORT.—On Sunday afternoon the dwelling house and adjoining buildings of Deacon William Smith, in the easterly part of Kennebunkport, Me., were entirely consumed by fire, having been struck by lightning about 3 o'clock. No insurance. The loss falls very heavily on Deacon Smith, who is a most worthy man. In addition to his well finished house, the flames consumed his entire crop of about 30 tons of hay and grain, the last year's stock of corn, a large hog, carriages, farming tools and a quantity of wood. The lightning also struck at several points in the vicinity, doing slight damage to a barn, and killing an ox in the woods.

THE SINKING OF THE CAPE MAY.—The Mt. Vernon Advocate says that the accident to the steamer Cape May, near Mount Vernon, a few days since, by which upwards of ten lives were lost, was occasioned by sheer carelessness on the part of the pilot. The moon was shining bright at the time, and the snag which caused the disaster was visible by the passengers at a distance of two hundred yards. As soon as the boat struck the snag, she careened over so much as to throw the entire cabin partially off, and commenced sinking rapidly.

DEATH OF AN ARTIST.—MRS. M. B. Russell, well known as a miniature painter of considerable reputation, died of apoplexy at her residence in Boston, Saturday morning. She was returning from Bangor by steamer on Thursday night, and was seized with violent sea sickness, which ruptured a blood vessel and terminated as above.

The remains of the deceased were taken to Andover, Mass., where her relatives reside.—Her age was about 40. She leaves a son 12 years of age, and a husband, also an artist, who has been for several years in Italy.

George Washington Dixon was arrested in New Orleans during the late fire on the charge of larceny. It was not his first attempt in that line of business.

BURNED TO DEATH.—MRS. Dodge, wife of Mr. Peter Dodge, proprietor of the hotel at Bergen Point, was burned to death Sunday evening by the upsetting of a camphene lamp.

Norfolk, August 15.—Thirty-six cases of yellow fever occurred on board the French war steamer Chimere since she arrived off this port.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!!

THE CELEBRITY OF

Sherry Wine Bitters

HAS induced several persons, who do not possess the least medical knowledge, to assume the title of Doctor, and put before the public an article in imitation of my Medicine, which they call Sherry Wine Bitters, and attempt to palm them off under the pretence that I have retired from business, and also that they manufacture an improved article of the same name.

I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the REAL article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.

Sold wholesale and retail at my office, No. 5 Hanover street, Boston, and by all dealers in Medicine in every city, town and village throughout the New England States.

FOUR DAYS LATER.

ARRIVAL OF THE UNION.

SANDY HOOK, August 16.—

The steamship Union, from Havre and Southampton, has arrived, bringing London papers to the 2d inst.

SPAIN.—Espartero has entered Madrid in the midst of enthusiastic acclamations.

The Queen has fully agreed to his programme, and tranquility is preserved in consequence.

THE WAR.—The retreat of the Russian army from their position at Bucharest is announced. They are falling back on the Sereth for strategetic reasons.

An advance upon the Crimea has been agreed upon.

There is nothing from the Baltic except a rumor that the Aland Islands have been taken with great loss of life.

LATEST.—Queen Christina has not yet left Madrid.

The generals who commanded the troops in the late struggle have their choice either to retire to a fixed place of residence or leave the country.

A telegraphic despatch from Vienna states that the Russians were totally defeated at Slobodzie on the 23d of July by the Turks, and lost 2000 men, with 500 prisoners. The Austrian Correspondence however, contradicts this.

The division of Prince Napoleon will probably be the first to enter Wallachia.

The English squadron with French troops on board, passed Gothland on the 27th of July.

A letter from Constantinople reaffirms that the expedition to the Crimea was positively decided on, and would be commanded by Marshal St. Arnaud with 25,000 men.

Queen Christina is to be allowed to leave Spain without violence, but if she hesitates she is to be removed by force.

LIVERPOOL MARKET.—Flour has advanced 1s 6d a 2s per brl, and corn 2s 6d a 3s.—Speculation purchases were taking place.—Western Canal Flour is quoted at 30s 6d, Ohio 33s 6d, being an advance of 1s. White corn 34s 6d, yellow 34s, mxd 32s. Beef and Pork have somewhat advanced; Bacon unchanged.

HAVANA, August 8.—The cargo of negroes, of whose landing I wrote you on the 3d inst., were landed near Pinar del Rio, on the south side of this island, and mirabile dicta, it was found impossible to bribe a non-commissioned officer, and the negroes, I learn, have been arrested.

Another cargo landed near the same locality recently, I am told, have not been arrested. The commanding officer of the troops in that district being supposed to have connived at their landing, has been suspended from rank—he came to this city to explain his conduct, but the Marquis La Pezuella refused to see him.

The Captain General has handed over the distribution of the Emancipadoes to the Board of Protectors of Emancipadoes, the work being found, I suppose, too laborious for his shattered system.

The monies collected for the assistance of returning political offenders are to be distributed by the Governors and Lieut. Governors, assisted by the Ayuntamientos or municipal authorities. A central board for the whole island has been established in this city, with whom the other boards are to correspond, and to whom all surplus monies are to be remitted.

There arrived on the 4th inst., 230 men of the new Regiment of Isturia, in the mail steamer from Cadiz. The Spaniards congratulate themselves on this frequent arrival of troops from old Spain.

This city is extremely dull; in truth there is but little of interest to communicate.

You must not be surprised, should you suddenly hear that the successor of the Marquis De La Pezuela has arrived in this island.—Cor. Charleston Courier.

CINCINNATI, August 14.—The returns from Missouri show the election of six Whigs to Congress. In the 6th district Winston (Democrat) is elected over Phelps, the present anti-Benton member.

The citizens of Louisville to-day voted on the proposition to appropriate $700,000 to complete the School system, and carried it by 1800 majority.

Three men were arrested in Clay county, Mo., recently, for horse stealing, and on the arrest being made they killed a person named Rose, when they were seized and hung by the populace.

As the steamboat Edinburg was steering over Buckhorn Bar on the 5th inst., the capstan gave way and killed seven of the crew.

A woman by the name of Mrs. Woolsey was run over and killed on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad near St. Louis.

SARATOGA, August 15.—The hotels are crowded with delegates to the Anti-Nebraska Convention which is to be held here. The majority of them appear to be against the nomination, but neither party seemed to be satisfied of their ascendancy. All the delegates have not yet arrived.

10 o'clock P. M. The Convention will probably meet to-morrow at 10 o'clock A. M. Some of the delegates are for the fusion of parties, while others are for a Central Committee to interrogate candidates and calling a state convention, to assemble after the 20th proximo, favorable to their measures; others again are for bringing out known men without distinct party organization.

BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.

HERTS BROTHERS'

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM, ZINC AND

PLATINA PENS,

Warranted not to Corrode.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

MANUFACTORY, BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.

Farm for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale his FARM in A. Portsmouth, formerly known as the Wentworth place, and more recently as the Wm. Sheafe farm, containing about 52 acres, suitably divided into pasture, mowing and tillage land, with a dwelling house and other buildings. On the farm is a good orchard of grafted fruit.

Sagamore House, in Rye.

FROST'S POINT.

THIS is an entirely new House, situated about four miles from the Portsmouth Depots. There is easy access to it by land or water. It is located on a point of land nearly surrounded by water, and seaward presents a finer view of the ocean, Isles of Shoals, &c, than can be obtained from any other house in Rye. An excellent view of Portsmouth and the Piscataqua River is also had from the top of the house The location of the Sagamore combines the advantages of quiet retirement in a beautiful country, with convenience of access and all the facilities enjoyed at other Beach Houses. The opportunities for Bathing and fishing are unsurpassed. Boats are always in readiness for the accommodation of visitors. A Pilot Boat touches regularly at the Point, on her daily trips to the Shoals.

The Sagamore House was newly furnished throughout, this Spring, in the best manner The Ladies' Parlor is fifty feet in length, and the Dining Room of the same proportions. The Sleeping Rooms are capacious and airy, and the building thoroughly ventilated.

An experienced man has charge of the house, and every facility provided, and no pains spared for the accommodation of all visitors who may favor us with a call.

The Tables will be provided with the best the market affords, for in this respect the proprietor wishes it distinctly understood that he will not be excelled by any other House in Rye or on the seashore.

TERMS.—For permanent boarders $1.00 per day. Transient visitors as cheap as elsewhere.

Carriages will be at the Portsmouth Depots on the arrival of every train of cars to convey passengers to the Sagamore House.

We ask ladies and gentlemen to give us a call and we will satisfy them that we will do all we promise.

DEATH OF ONE OF THE OLDEST INHABITANTS.—Coroner Cornell was called on Friday, in Boston, to view the body of an old lady who died suddenly at No. 101 Warren street, but he did not deem it necessary to hold an inquest. Her name is Ann Wallis, and she is 102 years of age. She was born in Newburyport.

So says the Traveller. People who live to be 102 years old, may reasonably be supposed, prima facie, to die natural deaths.

A RELIC.—There has been brought up from the bottom of the lake at Plattsburgh, N. Y., lately, the wheel of an old cannon carriage, and it has been ascertained that the gun, a French one, still lies there. The relic must date back to the time of the French occupation of the country, and will be very interesting to antiquaries.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY, AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattlesnake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of this Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications for a cure. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will materially facilitate a cure.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or ticking at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchia affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been combined and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by

W. Gibson, Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University.
Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y.
W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University.
N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University.
T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila.
Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana.
Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon.
G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine.
J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name Jas. Swaim stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swain, copy right secured

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements that the business applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct models of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they may safely employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore throat, Toothache, Sciatica, Chilblains, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is spoken of.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers it unnecessary, as he asks any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Chronic Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc. which street, New York.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

HARPER'S

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriusly consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

CAMP LIFE.—A correspondent of the London Times thus describes the camps of the allied armies near Aladyn:

"There has been as great a change made in this town as in Gallipoli. Mr Grace, of Constantinople, has sent up some supplies of hams, tongues, brandy, wine, &c., and the little Army and Navy screw steamer is busy cruising about with stores from port to port, but our soldiers have still to deal in unknown languages with French, Italians and Greeks, and numberless are the 'rows' which spring up in consequence. No pen, no painting could give the faintest idea of the state of the streets towards evening, when the pickets begin their march to clear the men off to their camps. The fraternity established between the French and English troops becomes every day more affectionate, and individual friendships are springing up, all the closer, perhaps for a squabble now and then, which ends in the old redintegratio amoris. A huge Highlander last Monday walked through a crowd of drunken Chasseurs, knocking them down like ninepins, because one of them had slapped his cheek, and was only just stopped in time to prevent the affair becoming serious, by an officer who happened to be present. Later in the day, a gigantic Irishman, with his coatee off, his eyes staring out of his head, and an oak paling in his hand, went dancing through the principal market-place, and for some imaginary offence, commenced an attack on Turks, French and Greeks indiscriminately, whom he routed with signal discomfiture, first breaking a sword bayonet which a soldier drew to stop his vagaries; he then walked into a cafe, where he broke up the conversazione of the place very rudely, and finished by running a muck through a whole mob of assailants and getting off through the gate into the fields. In a squabble last week, a Frenchman ran a Turk through the body and killed him on the spot. He has not been discovered. While talking of these matters, I may mention that General Espinasse, to the great regret of us all, had a sad misfortune the other day. The general, who is a remarkably fine looking young man, of 36 or 37 years of age, had a favorite Arab charger, which was considered very tame and gentle. On approaching it a few mornings ago with a lump of sugar in his mouth, as he had often done before, the general was seized by the horse, and caught by the lip and chin, and shockingly mutilated. Owing to the great care and skill of the surgeons in attendance of him, he is, however, rapidly recovering, but he will bear the mark of the wound for life."

BOSTON BOMBARDED.—'Say, Bill, what are them 'ere guns firing for in the harbor?' 'Haven't you heard? It is the U. S. sloop Cyane bombarding Boston.'

'You don't say so! what is that for?'

'What for?—why, nothing, only one of the sailors came ashore Sunday night, got drunk, and was terribly insulted in Ann street, and as the authorities are responsible for it, and refuse to pay damages, Commander Hollins is determined to knock the damages out of the city.'

'Well, I declare! that's about equal to the Greytown affair, ain't it.—Bee.

The Greytown affair is a tempest in a teapot, and that is all that the long opposition leaders in the New York papers can make of it. The Central American question will be settled within sixty days, with or without the minister from Nicaragua, says the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun.

And all the bills paid too? You don't say so!

Reply to the Hon. Charles Thurber, who asks at the Waterville Commencement, 'What makes a poet?'

You think that poets are not made,
But born to exercise their trade
Of versifying and of rhyming,
And setting sentences a chiming;
While others speak of the affletus
As all "we poets" want to start us:
But I've a curious speculation
Your investigation,
And think with proof that I can show it,
That 'tis DYSPEPSIA makes the poet! O!

AN EXAMPLE.—America is not so powerful yet as high was three centuries ago.—Spain rose, moreover, as America has done, through the reign of free institutions. She fell by entering on a course of policy similar to that which is now proposed for America. So long as Spain honored labor, and made war only in a just cause, so long she prospered; but when she lent her sword to wanton conquest, and took to living on the spoils of captured nations, she began immediately to decline. It is a pregnant warning. A great law lies at the heart of Spain's decline. That law is, that if either nations or individuals neglect productive industry, and seek to shine by unlawful gains, they inevitably go to ruin. —Philad. Ledger.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 18, 1854.

A NEW VERSION.

We have read, in the Boston Herald, a communication in defence of the destruction of Greytown, probably written by some person attached to the Cyane. The article is characterized by the Boston Post, as "a sensible and candid communication in justification of Com. Hollins." We make some extracts.

As the press in the middle and eastern states have expressed their disgust in elaborate editorials, censuring the commander of the Cyane, and the government he represents, for doing nothing more than England and other countries have done heretofore, perhaps it would not be out of place to give a succinct history of Greytown.

No press in the middle and eastern states has spoken of the bombardment with so much contempt as the Charleston, S. C. Mercury.

Be it understood, once more, that we do not train in the company of those who censure the commander of the Cyane, or his officers and crew, for exceeding their orders. So far from this, we conceive they have done exactly what their instructions required—neither more nor less.

The enterprise, achievement and peculiar glory of the affair, belong to the present administration. The ship and the sailors are the mere executive instruments of justice and vengeance, if it should turn out to be just—or of injustice and outrageous folly, if haply that turns up.

The merits and demerits of the administration, and those of Capt. Hollins, are quite distinct affairs. And while we have seen very little fault found in the papers, with the latter, on the account of Greytown, we have seen the former blamed by almost every paper except those in some way patronized by the executive.

Great Britain, and other countries, we dare say, have often done such things; ay, and worse, also: ergo, (we infer,) we must do so too.

Well; we have taken the Fourth of July ground, and have kept on celebrating the glorious Victory of Greytown, ever since the battle was fought, cheering the Cyane, the American flag, and every body concerned in it, from the president down to the powder-monkey. And we go for paying up all the bills, on both sides of the lawsuit, exactly as we did when we conquered a piece of Mexico, and have been buying it over and over, ever since.

Having thus defined our position, we make some more extracts.

The inhabitants of Greytown are composed of the scum and vagabondism of the world, such as convicts from Botany Bay, cut-throats from the United States, St. Domingo and Jamaica negroes, possessing that savage and ferocious character, as in the days of the unfortunate French expedition for the reclamation of the Island of San Domingo.

It may be said, and without exaggeration, that there is not an inhabitant of Greytown who could rightfully claim protection from any government, were their crimes known. "Then why are they there?" It is because they are beyond the pale of all governments. They are indebted for their subsistence to murder and theft on the transit passengers.—The transit company perceiving that their passengers were murdered and robbed without any just cause, removed their station to the opposite side of the river, thus removing the passengers from any connection with the banditti of Greytown, and hence all the trouble between the town and the company.

A horrible picture; no doubt partly true.—We cannot exactly see what would be a just cause for robbery and murder. We wish the transit company were even more careful than they are, not to have their passengers robbed by any body.

The writer then continues:

The papers have croaked considerably about the destruction of the beautiful and incorporated town: with its wide and airy streets; its magnificent residences; its large and crowded warehouses; its opulent merchants; its generous and inoffensive inhabitants.

What "papers" this writer has seen, we cannot say. We have seen nothing of the kind in any paper that has come under our inspection.

Greytown is composed of some thirty bamboo thatched huts, being nothing more than a few sticks stuck in the ground, covered with straw, with no windows or floor, and void of furniture, such as would be characterized in this section as pig sties. Capt. Hollins was obliged to burn the place, the bombs having no effect on these straw pig pens. There are some six or more small wooden buildings, hardly in the shape of a habitation, being such buildings as our farmers use for cattle, containing nothing in the way of furniture, but containing bottles of poor rum or a few casks. Such, then, is the paper town of San Juan, better known to notoriety as Greytown.

If this be true, we wonder how any body could ever dream of getting a $24,000 indemnity out of such a concern,—of its having any authorities,—or of bombarding it. On the whole, we have seen no paragraph elsewhere, which so damages our victory.

No citizen, after a perfect knowledge of the notorious place, with its unprincipled inhabitants of both sexes, will ever regret its destruction. It would have been better for Capt. Hollins had he followed in the footsteps of the lamented Downes, when on the coast of Sumatra, and exterminated them to a man. Society would have lost none of its members; unbaised men all over the world would have looked upon the act of Capt. Hollins as the performance of a just and honorable duty to mankind.

This is decidedly in the blood and thunder vein: rather too much so for our taste: and its meaning, if it has any, is a censure of Capt. Hollins, because he did not do his duty. We think he did, and suppose him to be a brave man, who would not wish to shed the blood of non-combatants. But we cannot help suspecting the writer, who gives this bloody advice, to be some arrant coward, who speaks great words, but does little deeds.

We are rather afraid if he should write another column, he may take the glory out of the whole concern.

☞ The Whig Convention of Massachusetts, at Boston, on Wednesday, nominated Gov. Washburn for re-election: and passed a series of resolutions, for the preserving the whig organization intact, — taking ground against the repeal of the Missouri Compromise line, and in favor of repealing or modifying the fugitive slave act.

THE GRAPE-SHOT.— We think it will be found that this mysterious clipper has not gone to Cuba, nor to take the Russian flag: but that the muskets are sold to Santa Anna, and that the only delay in the delivery has been on account of the pay. We do not know, but we guess this.—Providence Journal.

The payment of the $10,000,000, and the sailing of the Grape-Shot, is certainly a noticable coincidence, and the Journal is probably correct in its conjecture.—(N. Y. Journal Com.

The "Grapeshot" arrived off Sandy Hook on Wednesday—interesting craft.

THE NEW YORK CRYSTAL PALACE.—We learn from the Journal of Commerce that the Directors of the Crystal Palace have authorized their President to sell the entire concern, with all the fixtures and property of the Association, deliverable on or after the 1st of November next, for one half its actual cost—its cost being estimated at $700,000. It is believed that the Palace can be taken down and erected in Philadelphia or Boston for less than $75,000.

A SELL.—On one of the principal railroads in this state, a week or two since, a 'woman of color,' made her appearance as a fugitive slave. She received the particular attention of the sympathizers who happened to be 'abroad,' with now and then a quarter, and was advised to put for Canada, on the shortest route.—Having collected all the quarters that offered, under these circumstances, the fugitive threw off the female attire, and appeared simply as William Cuffy Donaldson.—Manchester Mirror.

POSTMASTER ARRESTED.—Dr. James C. Patterson, Postmaster at McWhittlesville, six miles from Nashville, Tennessee, was detected about a week ago in stealing money from the mail. He was examined, the evidence against him was overwhelming, and he was committed to jail. He is a young man, and has been postmaster about eighteen months. He was formerly an actor, subsequently published an Universalist periodical in Nashville, and was a member of the Methodist Church.

AN EXCURSION, PLEASANT AND PROFITABLE.—Mr. and Mrs. Pease, Rev. Mr. Van Meter, and several of the older children from the "Five Points" reformatory establishment, visited a friend at Saratoga Springs last week by invitation. Besides enjoying highly the journey and their visit, they were "dead-headed" nearly all the way by railroad and steamboat, and at the Springs were solicited to give concerts at several of the hotels, which, with the donations of guests there, yielded nearly four hundred dollars.

GAMBLING AT NEWPORT.—The editor of the New York Mirror, who has had his headquarters at Newport during the summer season, in describing "life" at that place, observes that "the faro bank here, known as the 'Tiger,' is in full operation, and the young bloods and professional blacklegs are doing an active business. After dancing and flirting in the drawing rooms until the ladies and 'old folks' retire, 'Young America' sits down to a sumptuous supper at the 'Tiger,' and prepares himself for reckless betting on the chances of faro. The high players are generally from the South and West, who have never learned the value of money by earning it, and California adventurers, who have become 'gentlemen' too late in life to acquire any accomplishment but gambling."

POTATOES IN CALIFORNIA.—In the last number of the California Farmer, the editor, describing a recent trip to San Jose Valley, says:—"We venture to assert that the potatoes that will lay upon the ground and rot in the San Jose Valley the present year, will count in bushels by millions. We saw one pile that was the length of eighty rails of fence, (ninety six feet) about thirty feet wide, and some two feet above the fence, seemingly enough to supply the State. These, with vast quantities all over the county, and other counties also, will be lost, unless some plan is devised for using them."

Senator Hunter's Homestead Bill is a great trial to his strait-laced party supporters in Virginia. The Richmond Examiner says that "the erratic conduct of Mr. Hunter cannot fail to embarrass the Democratic party of Virginia, in the canvass at hand, unless it be at or ce and unanimously repudiated. The only defence urged for his ill starred bill, is its supposed amalgamating, cementing effects upon the party. On the contrary, nothing could be more unpropitious to the party harmony, and we protest against it as a fire-brand of dissension."

LOCAL.

☞ In the Board of Alderman, last even ing, no quorum was present. In the Common Council no business of importance was transacted. The petitioners asking that the barbers be allowed to keep open on the Sabbath had leave to withdraw. A petition was received and refered, relative to clearing out the South Mill Pond.

ICE.—What at first seem only luxuries, soon become necessities. Particularly is this the case with ice—which a few years ago was not thought of for general supply. A trial will satisfy any family that economy as well as comfort warrant its liberal use. It is only of late that ice has been made of much account in the world at large. In Portsmouth, a cart has conveyed family and store supplies where needed, for a few years; and this year we have two—the second being put on by the new Rockingham Ice Company. There is business enough for both here, and the people will be better served by two than they would if there was no competition. The supply should be regular and certain.

A large quantity of ice stored in the houses of the Rockingham Ice Co., at Raymond, could not withstand the intense heat of the past month, but "went like butter before the sun." The employees of the Company went for a supply, a few days since; "but when they got there, the storehouses were bare, and so the people had none" here for a few days. The Company have, we believe, procured a large quantity of Wenham Ice for their customers, who now receive their supplies daily, as heretofore.

JUVENILE SINGING SCHOOL.—It will be seen by his advertisement, that Mr. Pearson will open his room for a Juvenile Class in Music, on Saturday afternoon. He has had much experience and good success in this important department of his profession; and to those who would place their children in charge of a competent musician, and a faithful and forbearing teacher, we would recommend this opportunity.

SHIP GOV. LANGDON.—We understand that Mrs. Elwyn, Governor Langdon's only daughter, being in this city on a visit, has presented the owners of this new ship with a beautiful set of colors, in acknowledgment of the respectful compliment conveyed in the name of the vessel.

A duel, says the San Joaquin Republican, took place at Moquelumne Hill, between Mr. Lafore, County Clerk of Calaveras, and a Mr. Dudley. They chose the unique manner of squirting water at each other, to cool their wounded honor. One combatant supplied himself with the hose of the Union Water Company, the other with that of the Massachusetts Company. Marking the distance, which was about twenty feet, they commenced playing upon each other. The combatants withstood the application manfully for about ten minutes, when Mr. D., thinking discretion the better part of valor, caved in.

SUNBURY AND ERIE RAILROAD.—The subject of this road came before the Philadelphia City Councils on Tuesday, and it was stated that the City of Philadelphia has already subscribed $950,000, and yet the books of the company do not show that one cent has been paid on Mr. Crane's subscription.—They had not received the most satisfactory information in regard to the subject. After some conversation, the matter was postponed.

The Salem Gazette says:—"The sect of Millerites, worshipping in this city, who hold that Christ will come to judge the world before the year 1854 expires, have made quite a number of converts, and baptized them within the few last months. A gentleman who has held an important office in our community, within a year or two, was baptized on Sunday last."

An Englishman by the name of Thomas Bertram, died in the New York hospital a few days since, from the effects of a pistol shot fired by Cornelius Quackenbush. The shot was fired at a rat which was on a door sill, about forty feet from the deceased, but struck a paving stone and glancing, inflicted the fatal wound.

RECOVERED THEIR FREEDOM.—The three negro boys referred to by us some weeks ago, as instituting suit for their freedom in Madison county, through the interposition of some right minded guardians of public weal, gained their point by a decision on Saturday. It seems they were born in Fredericksburg, and taken to raise by some one who afterwards went to Madison. Their identity, and the fact of their being born free, was lost sight of, and the person dying who had them in charge, his creditors seized on his property, together with these boys, James, John and Joe. Mr. William Slaughter, and Mr. John Timberlake, procured funds to send witnesses from this place to testify to the facts in the case, and Wm. M. Early, Esq., appeared as volunteer counsel in their defence. After the decision that they were entitled to their freedom, they were bound out by the Court to be dining room servants until they are each 21 years of age.—Fredericksburg (Va.) Herald.

Lieut. Monroe, one of the officers on board the ship-of-war Vincennes, Com. Ringgold's flag ship at Hong Kong, has been suspended, because he refused to give orders compelling the men under his command to attend the chapel service. A full report of the affair has been forwarded to the Secretary of the Navy.

ARRIVAL OF THE AMERICA.

This steamer brings news from Liverpool to August 5.

The commercial accounts state that cotton remained unchanged, while a good demand had been experienced in the Liverpool market, with a disposition towards a lower price. The weather had been favorable towards the wheat crop as had been anticipated and a speculative rise had been experienced in the markets in the price of grain and flour.

Western Canal Flour is quoted at 30s 6d—Ohio 33s 6d., being an advance of 1s. White Corn 31s 6d, yellow 34s, mixed 32s.

SUMMARY OF WAR NEWS.—The news from the Danube is generally favorable to the allies, but no great battles have taken place.

On the morning of the 30th the Russians attacked the Turkish and French camp at Giurgevo, but were totally defeated, with a loss of 2000 killed and 500 prisoners. Two hundred wagons arrived at Bucharest, loaded with the wounded.

On the 27th the Russians retreated in forced marches, and the Turks occupied Frateschi.

Oltenitza was evacuated on the night of the 27th.

The evacuation of Wallachia was completed. A proclamation had been issued declaring that the allied soldiers who remained behind should be considered deserters.

The Russian troops were being concentrated on the Sereth.

Omer Pacha was expected at Bucharest on the 31st, and his reception would be most brilliant.

It is believed that the retreat is due to strategetic causes, as no communication of the circumstances was made by the Czar to the Court of Vienna. It is also believed that force must be employed to dislodge the Russians from Moldavia.

The Austrian army corps, under Prince Lockenstein, is ordered to advance from Pesth to Gallachia. The army in Gallachia are moving towards the frontiers.

The Arch Duke Albert has removed his headquarters to the south-east corner of Transylvania.

The total Austrian force on the frontier is 33,000 men. The frontiers have not been crossed, but the preparations for hostilities are collossal.

THE LOST STEAMER CITY OF GLASGOW.—Capt. Taylor, of the British barque Briton's Bride, which arrived at this port yesterday from Cadiz, reports that on the 12th of August, when in lat. 56 N, lon. 66 05 W, he saw in the water some distance from his vessel, a chest painted green, on which were the letters "G. B., City of Glasgow." There was likewise some gilding on the chest.

Also passed at the same time a vessel's head board with a name on it, but could not distinguish what it was. These articles were undoubtedly portions of the wreck of the lost steamer City of Glasgow, which is supposed to have been foundered at sea, on the voyage from Liverpool to Philadelphia.—Boston Jour.

FROM THE BAY.—The schooner Fleetwood, Capt. Brown, arrived on Monday from the Bay of St. Lawrence. The news in regard to the fishing is no better than reported last week. The Ellen, of Salisbury, was seized, in the Bay of Chaleur. Two others, the Montezuma of this port, and another, had also been seized, but were released again. The officers of the brig-of-war were very civil and gentlemanly, but those of the cutters are not so well spoken of. Capt. Brown had not heard of any attempt by the New Brunswickers, to carry into effect the law passed by them last winter.—Gloucester Telegraph.

A facetious boy asked one of his playmates—"Why a hardware dealer was like a bootmaker?" The latter, somewhat puzzled, gave it up. "Why," said the other, "because the one sold the nails, and the other nailed the soles."

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.
MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.

MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs last spring—spitting of blood, &c.—I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WRIGHT.

BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.
HERTS BROTHERS'
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM, ZINC AND PLATINA PENS,
Warranted not to Corrode.
HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Sagamore House, in Rye.
FROST'S POINT.
THIS is an entirely new House, situated about four miles from the Portsmouth Depots. There is easy access to it by land or water. It is located on a point of land nearly surrounded by water, and seaward presents a finer view of the ocean, Isles of Shoals, &c, than can be obtained from any other house in Rye. An excellent view of Portsmouth and the Piscataqua River is also had from the top of the house. The location of the Sagamore combines the advantages of quiet retirement in a beautiful country, with convenience of access and all the facilities enjoyed at other Beach Houses. The opportunities for Bathing and fishing are unsurpass'd. Boats are always in readiness for the accommodation of visitors. A Pilot Boat goes regularly at the Point, on her daily trips to the Shoals.

The Sagamore House was newly furnished throughout, this Spring, in the best manner. The Ladies' Parlor is fifty feet in length, and the Dining Room of the same proportions. The Sleeping Rooms are capacious and airy, and the building thoroughly ventilated.

An experienced man has charge of the house, and every facility is provided, and no pains spared for the accommodation of all visitors who may favor us with a call.

The Tables will be provided with the best the market affords, for in this respect the proprietor wishes it distinctly understood that he will not be excelled by any other House in Rye or on the seashore.

TERMS.—For permanent boarders $1.00 per day. Transient visitors as cheap as elsewhere.

Carriages will be at the Portsmouth Depots on the arrival of every train of cars to convey passengers to the Sagamore House.

We ask ladies and gentlemen to give us a call and we will satisfy them that we will do all we promise.

A PRESENT.—We have received from an anonymous friend in New Hampshire, a woodchuck of most ample proportions, and as fat as butter. But woodchucks are hard to be accommodated, and we find ourselves, in the possession of our prize, somewhat in the condition of one mentioned in Punch, who drew the elephant in the lottery, and didn't know what to do with it. It is undoubtedly sent by Ike, who is at present in the country. From appearances we should judge this to be the very woodchuck of which the poet sung—

There was a little woodchuck
Sitting under a tree,
He cared for nobody,
Nobody cared for he.

—Boston Post.

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, was discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure scrofula and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing on the pastures and along old stone walls, should cure every human ills system, yet it is known a fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hams and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. When the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853, I sold 6320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think when it cured them, it will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellow skin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches) as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of the most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put out the fever in two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie down for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle, she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to cleanse the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases, in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have no herb, alcohol, nor olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others by

W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University.
Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y.
W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University.
N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University.
T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila.
Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana.
Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon.
G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine.
J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA."

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned from exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swain, copy right secured

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Late Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who were more familiar with the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in recommending those who cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ——.

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with the Patent Office, equal to those of any other agent I am very respectfully, Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK, Commissioner of Patents."

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can now be supplied with a remedy for DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, &c., &c.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linament, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of 70 feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser a fine mist Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin like to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

HARPER'S Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

MANLY FEELINGS.—Is it not strange that men should so often feel ashamed of any outward manifestation of the noblest feelings of their nature, or feel compelled to smother them for fear of ridicule or rude treatment? The purest feelings and most delicate sentiments of the human heart are often either carefully concealed, or "trodden under foot by the brutal hoof of man." But occasionally the better feelings find utterance, as in the following extract from a letter written by a British seaman, now serving under Napier, to his wife, describing a skirmish. We doubt, however, whether he would have dared to have written thus to any one but his wife. He says:

"Every man on board volunteered, so the captain picked a crew, and I was sent ashore with the marines. There were regular troops on the bank who fired on us as we pulled to land, but the broadsides of the ——— what with the shell and what with the smoke, covered our landing. We dispersed at a few hundred yards' distance from the beach to keep the coast clear while the boat's crew made prizes of the guns. The enemy had the advantage of the wood, and also knowing the country, and a troop of them showed in advance. We were ordered to fire. I took steady aim and fired on my man at about 60 yards. He fell like a stone. At the same time a broadside from the ——— went in among the trees, and the enemy disappeared, we could scarce tell how. I felt as though I must go up to him, to see whether he was dead or alive. He lay quite still, and I was more afraid of him lying so than when he stood facing me a few minutes before. It's a strange feeling to come over you all at once that you have killed a man. He had unbuttoned his jacket, and was pressing his hand over the front of his chest where the wound was. He breathed hard, and the blood poured from the wound and also from his mouth every breath he took. His face was white as death, and his eyes looked so big and bright as he turned them and stared at me—I shall never forget it. He was a fine young fellow, not more than five and twenty. I went down on my knees beside him, and my breast was as full as though my own heart would burst. He had a real English face, and did not look like an enemy. What I felt I never can tell, but if my life would have saved his, I believe I should have given it. I laid his head on my knee, and he grasped hold of my hand and tried to speak, but his voice was gone. I could not tell a word he said, and every time he tried to speak the blood poured out so, I knew it would soon be over. I am not ashamed to say that I was worse than he; for he never shed a tear, and I could not help it. His eyes were closed when a gun was fired from the ——— to order us aboard, and that aroused him. He pointed to the beach, where the boat was just pushing off with the guns which we had taken, and where our marines were waiting to man our boat, and then he pointed to the wood where the enemy was concealed—poor fellow, he little thought how I had shot him down. I was wondering how I could leave him to die and no one near him, when he had something like a convulsion for a moment, and then his face rolled over, and without a sign he was gone. I trust the Almighty has received his soul. I laid his head gently down on the grass and left him. It seemed so strange when I looked at him for the last time. I somehow thought of every thing I had heard about the Turks and the Russians, and the rest of them; but all that seemed so far off and the dead man so near."

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.—The plan for building and equipping a railroad across the continent suggested in the following paragraph which we find credited to the Worcester Transcript, is as feasible as many that have been brought foward in Congress:

It is estimated that the whiskey drinkers of the United States could build the Pacific Railroad in a couple of years. The money they spend for whiskey might pay for the grading; smokers and chewers could buy the iron, and the money which the surplus two inches in the length of ladies' dresses cost, would supply the locomotives.—Daily Adv.

A SENSIBLE BOY.—A miserable old lady kept an inn. One day a famished soldier called on her for something to eat. Some bones, that had been pretty well picked, were placed before him. After finishing his dinner, a little son of the landlady noticing that the soldier found it very difficult to make out much of a dinner, put some money in his hand as he stepped out of the door. When his mother came in he asked her how much it was worth to pick those old bones.

A shilling, my dear, said the old lady, expecting to receive the money.

I thought so, replied the boy, and I gave the old soldier a shilling for doing it!

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 19, 1854.

FOREIGN OFFICE HOLDERS.

In the Daily Chronicle of Aug. 17, we published a statement, copied from another paper, that in certain departments of government there named, there were 767 native Americans, and 2484 persons of Foreign birth.

The statement "seemed to us almost or quite incredible," as we then stated. Nevertheless, as strange things have happened, and we did not know that it was not true. We therefore threw it out for public inspection if true, and for public correction if false.

We are very glad to find it is not true, but is founded on an inversion and perversion of facts and figures, as the reader will see by the following table which we find in the New Hampshire Patriot, copied as we presume correctly from the official list, called the "Blue Book."

If the man who made the erroneous table, committed the errors by accident, he is the prince of blunderers: if he made them on purpose, he ought to be crowned the prince of blockheads, for inventing a fraud so easily detected, and so certain to be exposed.

MONK'S NEW MAP.

We have examined a new and beautiful Map of North America, on a large scale, published by Mr. Jacob Monk, of Baltimore, for the circulation and sale of which, by subscription, an agent is now canvasing this city.

This map embraces a large sweep of territory; from 7 degrees of North longitude, to the 50th degree. It marks the boundaries of all the States and Territories, including California, Oregon, Washington, Nebraska and Kansas. It also gives the boundary line as established by the Gadsden treaty.

On the same sheet, and got up in the same handsome manner, is a new Map of the World on Mercator's Projection, yet on a new plan,—making it an American Map—showing the United States as they really are, in a central position, having the great European, African and Asiatic portions of the globe on either side, and exhibiting the sailing route to Canton in China on the west as well as on the east. This is done on a new plan, by duplicating fifteen degrees of longitude, or showing a portion of the globe twice. This map is a valuable appendage to the large one, and makes the publication all that can be desired as a work of study or reference, equally adapted, or essential to the parlor, the school room, the closet of the clergyman, or the counting room of the merchant, to the office of the lawyer, or the shop of the mechanic. The press, from Maine to Louisiana, have spoken of the work in terms of the highest praise, and all eminent statesmen and scientific functionaries who have examined it, recommend it to their fellow citizens.

The Nova Scotia potatoes are of the best quality. They are large and mealy, and keep well. The removal of the duty upon their importation will be likely to keep the price of potatoes somewhat lower. The opening of a new market for them will doubtless stimulate their production.—Providence Journal.

AMENDMENT OF CONSTITUTION.

The aged and venerable Josiah Quincy, senior, of Boston, in a late speech in that city, proposed an amendment of the Constitution of the United States, which should strike out the clause providing for sending back the fugitive from labor.

This clause he characterizes as near home, immediately present, insupportable; and says:

Of what that burden is, I shall speak plainly. The obligation incumbent upon the free states to deliver up fugitive slaves is that burden—and it must be obliterated from that Constitution at every hazard.

And such obliteration can be demonstrated to be as much the interest of the South as it is of the North.

The circumstances in which the people of Massachusetts are placed in consequence of that burden are undeniable, and they are also undeniably insupportable. What has been seen? what has been felt? by every man, woman, and child, in Massachusetts. We have seen our Court House in chains, two battalions of dragoons, eight regiments of artillery, twelve companies of infantry, the whole constabulary force of the city police, the entire disposable marine of the United States, with its artillery loaded for action, all marching in support of a Prætorian band, consisting of one hundred and twenty friends and associates of the United States Marshal, with loaded pistols and drawn swords, and in military costume and array,—for what purpose? To escort and conduct a poor trembling slave from a Boston Court House to the fetters and lash of his master!

This display of military force the Mayor of this city officially declared to be necessary on the occasion. Nay, more, at a public festival he openly took to himself the glory of this display, declaring that by it life and liberty had been saved, and the honor of Boston vindicated.

I make no comments. I state facts as the ground out of which spring the duties of the people of Massachusetts.

I state another fact still more conclusive and illustrative of those duties.

This scene (thus awful, thus detestable) every inhabitant of this metropolis, nay, more, every inhabitant of this Commonwealth, may be compelled again to witness at any and every day of the year, at the will or the whim of the meanest and basest slaveholder of the South. This also is undeniable.

Now, is there a man in Massachusetts, with a spirit so low, so debased, so corrupted by his fears or his fortune, that he is prepared to say, that this is a condition of things, to be endured, in perpetuity, by us, and that this is an inheritance to be transmitted by us to our children for all generations? For so long as the fugitive clause remains in the Constitution of the United States, unobliterated, it is an obligation perpetual upon them, as well as upon us.

And is this inheritance we are about to transmit to our children an inheritance of freedom? No, fellow citizens—it is an inheritance worse than that of slavery.

There is not a negro in the South that can be compelled, even by his master, to cut the throat, or blow out the brains of his brother negro. Yet, so long as the fugitive slave obligation remains in the Constitution, there is not a militia man in Massachusetts, who may not be compelled, to-morrow, to cut the throat or blow out the brains of a fellow citizen, at the will of the basest Southern slaveholder.—My fellow citizens, believe me—the time has come for the people of Massachusetts to look upon this slave clause no longer in the ever shifting, ever dubious, ever suspicious light of party spirit, but under the influence of an enlightened patriotism, watchful of the signs of the times and anxious concerning their duties to themselves and their posterity.

But I hear some timid brother exclaim—"Why, this is, in effect, a dissolution of the Union. Did not the Southern slaveholders tell us before the adoption of the Constitution, that without the fugitive slave clause they would not come into the Union, and have they not told us every day since its adoption that whenever that clause is obliterated they will go out of it? And do you believe them any the more for this reiterated threat and eternal outcry? Does not the nature of things speak a louder language than that of these threateners? Are the slaveholders fools or madmen? They go out of this Union for the purpose of maintaining the subjection of their slaves? Why, the arm of the Union is the very sinew of that subjection! It is the slaveholder's main strength. Its continuance is his forlorn hope.

But I go farther, fellow citizens. I believe that in the nature of things, by the law of God and the laws of man, that clause is at this moment abrogated so far as respects moral obligation. There is a principle of common law, which, if not strictly applicable, is sufficiently analagous to the obligations resulting from that clause. It is ces sante, rationie cessat et ipsa lex.

Now what was the understanding and what was the state of things under which that contract was made?

The free states agreed in 1789 to be field-drivers and pound-keepers for the black cattle of the slaveholding states, within the limits and according to the fences of the United States. Between that year and this, A. D. 1854, those slave-holders have broken down the old boundaries, and opened new fields of an unknown and indefinite extent. They have multiplied their black cattle by millions, and are every day increasing their numbers, and extending their cattle field into the wilderness. Under these circumstances, are we bound to be their field-drivers and pound-keepers any longer? Answer me, people of Massachusetts. Are you the sons of the men of 1776? or do you "lack gall to make oppression bitter?"

I have pointed out your burden. I have shown you that it is insupportable.

I shall be asked, how shall we get rid of it?

I answer it is not for a private individual to point the path which a state is to pursue to cast off an insupportable burden—it belongs to the constituted authorities of that state.—But this I will say, that if the people of Massachusetts adopt, in the spirit of their fathers, as one man, solemnly the resolve that they will no longer submit to this burden, and will call upon the free states to concur in, and carry into effect, this resolution, the burden will be cast off, the fugitive slave clause obliterated, not only without the dissolution, but with a newly acquired strength to the Union.

LOCAL.

MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENTS.—Mr. Robert Heller, the celebrated Pianist and Magician, assisted by Mr. A. Arthurson, the distinguished singer, now of Portland, gave a grand concert at the Ocean House, Rye Beach, on Friday evening of last week. The Grand Piano was conveyed from this city for the occasion, and was played in a manner difficult to be excelled. Mr. Arthurson was formerly the tenor of the popular Seguin Troupe, and is one of the most delightful of singers. Mr. Heller introduced a brief display of his wonderful "second-sight," which highly delighted, while it mystified the audience. The tickets were put at $1 each, three for $2.

We are informed that a similar entertainment is expected to be presented at the Atlantic House, Rye Beach, some evening next week. Also that there is a probability that the above distinguished artists, with Mrs. E. A. Wentworth, formerly of this city, will favor our citizens with a musical entertainment, at an early day. We hope they will—for it has been rather dry here of late, in the line of musical entertainments, as well as in the face of nature.

POTATOES.—Gen. J. G. Hadley, in digging the potatoes raised on his farm just out of this city, turned up the monster new lying before us, which weighs a pound lacking half an ounce, and girths thirteen inches. It is round, a little flat, and of a bluish pink skin, with yellow flesh. He says this is rather larger than they will average, but he dug four more from the same hill which weigh about twelve ounces each. He thinks twenty five hills will yield a bushel, even in these tough times for potatoes. He does not know the name of the seed, but in this case it has yielded a third more than chenangoes planted alongside.

☞ FREEMAN HUNT, Esq., the editor and proprietor of Hunt's Merchants' Magazine, is passing a few days in this city, and is engaged in collecting statistical and other information for his Magazine. It is his intention, we believe to add Portsmouth to the valuable series of papers on the "Commercial Cities and Towns of the United States," which are in the course of publication in the monthly numbers of the Merchant's Magazine.

Commercial Associations in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Cincinnati, St. Louis, and other cities at home, and the Paris Chamber of Commerce abroad, have made "Hunt's Merchants' Magazine" the subject of special consideration, and expressed their high sense of the value of that work. It should be more extensively patronized by our merchants.

The Pittsburg Board of Trade and Chamber of Commerce lately resolved, that

This Association takes great pleasure in recommending to the favorable attention of the business community "Hunt's Merchants' Magazine and Commercial Review," as a work eminently deserving of patronage and support. To all who take an interest in the affairs of trade, commerce, currency, agriculture, manufactures, &c., either foreign or domestic; or who are desirous of information on kindred subjects, presented in an attractive form, from a reliable source, "Hunt's Magazine" is a most invaluable book of reference, having sustained for the last fifteen years, both at home and abroad, a high reputation for commercial intelligence and mercantile literature.

☞ Hon. Moses Norris and Hon. George W. Morrison, visited the Navy Yard on Friday forenoon, and were saluted with thirteen guns.

FIRE AT CONCORD.—On Thursday evening at 9 o'clock, a fire burst out in a painter's shop, nearly opposite the depot, in Concord. Two dwelling houses on Main street, two shops in the rear, and a barn were consumed. A horse, valued at $200, in the barn, was burned, so rapidly the flames spread. At the time, several engines were at some distance from the village, extinguishing a fire in the woods. By great efforts the fire was finally subdued. The property generally, it is said, was insured.

A RUMMY WARRIOR.—A young man named Hatch Hall, belonging in Maine, but who has recently worked in the Charlestown Navy Yard, was arrested in Boston on Wednesday night, full of liquor and a disposition to fight. He had dangling about his person a Colt's revolver, every barrel loaded and the hammer cocked, the weapon being suspended by a string around the neck! With considerable difficulty the officers lodged him in the 2d police station for safety. In his pockets were found $125 in money, and he was evidently enjoying what he deemed a patriotic spree.

Hon. John Wentworth, in a letter to his paper from Washington, says, "There is no earthly doubt but the Homestead was beaten because it would induce free laborers to go to Kansas and compete with slave labor."

The widow of Joe Smith, the Mormon prophet, and his youngest son, Joseph, still reside at Nauvoo. The widow is re-married to a man who keeps a public house.

John Morrissey, the pugilist, was married on Thursday at Troy, N. Y., to Miss Susan Smith, daughter of Captain Levi Smith, of the steamboat Troy.

MISSOURI ELECTION.—Cincinnati, 17th.—We have received St. Louis papers of Monday last. They contain no further election returns. The Democrat says the vote received by Benton was one hundred greater that the average of the Benton ticket, so far as returns have been received. Scarcely a Whig has been elected, except by anti-Benton votes, and not an anti-Bentonite has been returned except by the aid of Whig votes, while every Benton man who triumphed, did so over the combined votes of the two opposing parties.

MISSOURI ELECTION.—Cincinnati, Aug. 18. The St. Louis papers of Tuesday, give returns from sixty-nine counties in Missouri.—Of the 33 Senators elected, the whigs have 13; remainder equally divided between Benton and Anti-Bentonites. To the house, 41 whigs, 29 Benton and the same number of Anti-Bentonites, have been elected.

In Iowa, Thorington and Clark, whig nominees are supposed to be elected to Congress. Grimes is elected Governor. The Legislature is Whig.

MISSOURI.—The St. Louis Democrat, in recording the results of the late election in its own city and county, has the following paragraph:

The Administration Fully Endorsed.—Mr. Trusten Polk, the administration candidate for Congress, has not received 300 votes in a vote of about 12,000 in this county. Mr. Pierce's administration is fully endorsed by the result on Monday last. The truth is there are no administration men in this county; even the few who profess to be friends of the administration are whigs, and voted the Know Nothing Whig ticket.

We must confess we do not quite understand Missouri politics. Nor can we see exactly how it is, that President Pierce, having lost ground as it is said he has, in New England, because he favored and urged the Nebraska bill, should also lose ground at such a rate in Missouri, as the St. Louis Democrat asserts. It would seem that both these losses could not come from one cause; yet the repeal of the compromise line is spoken of in relation to both.

MAINE.—The four political parties into which the voters of the Pine Tree State have divided themselves, at the present time, are quite active in their doings in making preparations for their elections for State officers and members of Congress, which occurs on the second Monday of September. The result cannot be prefigured, although we are told that, through the influence of Free Soilism; Maine Lawism, and Know Nothingism, with the detection of pretended Whigs, Anson P. Morrill is the most prominent candidate for Governor, and may be elected by the people. We do not understand, however, how Mr. Morrill can be more acceptable to the whigs than is Mr. Shepard Cary, one of his democratic opponents.—Boston Courier.

Nor can we understand why he should be so more whigs who go for the party name without any declared principle, if such whigs there be. But if any whigs in Maine think that temperance is preferable to excess, or that freedom is better than slavery, perhaps Mr. Morrill may be more acceptable to them than Mr. Carey, as the latter gentleman is the champion and candidate of the opponents and repealers of the liquor law.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.
MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.
MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs during the last spring—spitting of blood considerably, with soreness of chest, &c., I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WALDUT.

BY ROYAL LETTERS PATENT.
HERTS BROTHERS'
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM, ZINC AND
PLATINA PENS,
Warranted not to Corrode.
HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and cleanness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.
This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.
CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Sagamore House, in Rye.
FROST'S POINT.
THIS is an entirely new House, situated about four miles from the Portsmouth Depots. There is easy access to it by land or water. It is located on a point of land nearly surrounded by water, and seaward presents a finer view of the ocean, Isles of Shoals, &c. than can be obtained from any other house in Rye. An excellent view of Portsmouth and the Piscataqua River is also had from the top of the house. The location of the Sagamore combines the advantages of quiet retirement in a beautiful country, with convenience of access and all the facilities enjoyed at other Beach Houses. The opportunities for Bathing and fishing are unsurpassed. Boats are always in readiness for the accommodation of visitors. A Pilot Boat touches regularly at the Point, on her daily trips to the Shoals.
The Sagamore House was newly furnished throughout, this Spring, in the best manner. The Ladies' Parlor is fifty feet in length, and the Dining Room of the same proportions. The Sleeping Rooms are capacious and airy, and the building thoroughly ventilated.
An experienced man has charge of the house, and every facility provided, and no pains spared for the accommodation of all visitors who may favor us with a call.
The Tables will be provided with the best the market affords, for in this respect the proprietor wishes a distinctive pre-eminence, and he will not be excelled by any other House in Rye or on the seashore.
TERMS.—For permanent boarders $1.00 per day. Transient visitors as cheap as elsewhere.
Carriages will be at the Portsmouth Depots on the arrival of every train of cars to convey passengers to the Sagamore House.
We ask ladies and gentlemen to give us a call and we will satisfy them that we will do all we promise.

SUMMER SHIRT COLLARS.—Young America, at present, wears an article (miscalled the "Byron collar") tight to its neck, and turned down over what appears to be an iron band, from one to two inches high, covered with silk. Some people wear a new style of stand up collar, running round the neck no father back than the rim of the ear, and with a triangular piece cut out in front for the chin to rest in. Others wear flying jibs projecting an inch or so beyond the countenance; and this kind, when inverted, is a tolerably sensible arrangement. Others, again, sport concerns that look as much like the blinkers of a horse as anything else; while others, still make their old-fashioned stand-ups do duty as turndowns.—N. Y. Sunday Times.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, purifying the blood, making healthy living the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES.

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by use of two bottles of this Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indication favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Full directions for the above medicines, on the Bottles. Orders should be accompanied with full directions how it should be sent.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. or Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y. " W. F. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Scoranco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA."

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copy right secured

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"Sm:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Bruises, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers it unnecessary to furnish any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green St.

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Chogle, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a valuable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

HARPER'S

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor of the Gazetteer has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

Appledore House,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

STEAM having died out in Portsmouth, the subscriber has the pleasure to announce to his old friends and the public, that he has chartered the beautiful YACHT SPY, of 40 tons burden, and has had the good fortune to secure the services of Capt. JAMES W. GOODWIN, the well known pilot, as master. His skill, carefulness and attention will secure to the travelling public a more safe, expeditious, comfortable and pleasant transit to and from the Islands, than has hitherto been attained.

She will leave PIER WHARF, foot of State Street, Portsmouth, every day (Sundays excepted) immediately after the arrival of the trains from Boston and Concord, and return in season for the evening trains.

Many alterations and improvements have been made in the establishment to make it more convenient and comfortable.

An abundant supply of Ice has been carefully laid in, and the facilities for fishing perfected.

To the invalid, the weary and the active pleasure seeker, this location presents attractions not equaled in New England.

Gerritt Smith has addressed a letter to his constituents, in which he re-announces his intention to resign his seat in Congress, and enters into an exculpatory explanation of his course in the House. He refers to the dissatisfaction felt by some of his constituents, and on that point, the only one to which we think it necessary to refer, defends himself as follows:

I noticed strictures upon almost the very first sentence of my very first speech in Congress, which taught me that my official, no more than my private life, was to be exempt from the injustice to which I have here alluded. It so happened that I began that speech with expressions of civility toward those around me, and with kind and charitable interpretations of the difference between them and myself. No sooner was the speech in print than many Abolitionists complained of my courtesy to slaveholders, and insisted that I had been guilty of making light of the radical differences between Slavery and Abolition—between Slaveholders and Abolitionists.

Whatever objections may be made to Mr Smith, we should be glad, says the Baltimore American, to see him continued a life-member of Congress if he would only thereby be successful in inculcating upon members his theory to recognize and treat each other as gentlemen.

Every man who has opinions of his own, and who, while he dares to give them utterance, dares also to speak kindly to those who differ from him, must expect to be misunderstood or misrepresented, at least on one side of every controversy he touches, not unfrequently on both.

Mr. Smith can afford to be misrepresented, and to leave Congress. But Congress cannot so well afford to lose a man who wishes to work by day and sleep by night, and who is determined to treat every one so kindly that no one can quarrel with him.

"You possess much virtu, mem," said the doctor as he ushered Mrs. Partington in among his curiosities—the mummies from Peru, and the cracked jugs from Pompeii, and the skeleton of the turtle, and the many beautiful things sent to him by the Society of Paris. "I suppose," said she, slightly erecting her form, and looking down upon a hole worn in the carpet about the size of a three cent piece, "I suppose I may say that I do possess some, but self praise does n't go a great ways." The doctor blandly nodded and smiled. He appreciated the modesty of the remark, while she thought he was complimenting her life, the virtue of which sixty-five years had sanctioned. "Do you observe," continued the doctor, "the air of antiquity about this room?" "Yes," said she, "I noticed it when I came in, and I should think you would improve it by opening the windows." The doctor was slightly confused as he assured her he meant the general aspect of his room, with its antique chairs and the parchment rolls upon the shelves, and went on to exhibit and explain the various curious objects of his collection. "Here, madam," said he, "is my castle; I shut myself in here, the world forgetting, by the world forgot, and revel in the curiosities of the past that fortune has favored me with." "Enjoying, I suppose," interrupted she, affecting the classical, "your opium cum digitalis." There was a pause after this. The doctor held his breath. The classical remark was a stunner, and Mrs P. went out soon afterwards like an exhausted skyrocket.—Post.

M. Barth, printer of Breslau, celebrated a few weeks ago the 350th anniversary of the first book printed in his establishment. Mr. Barth's printing office is the oldest in Europe, and has been for three hundred and fifty years uninterruptedly in the hands of his ancestors and himself.

IN THE MEMORY OF HENRY CLAY.—The editor of the Manchester Mirror, in describing his travelling experiences on a trip to the White mountains, refers to the attempts which are being made for the erection of a monument to Henry Clay, and states that John Hayes Thompson, of Holderness, a shoe manufacturer, whom he had met in the cars, a man of good humor and a good head-piece, wears upon his face a monument to the defeat of Henry Clay, "more in sorrow than in anger." Some fifteen years ago he made a vow that he would never shave again until Henry Clay was elected President; he never has, and now his beard is a foot long, though some long chippings have been taken from it.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronees, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, AUGUST 21, 1854.

Father Quigley has paid a fine of $5 for assault upon Mrs. Walton at Schaghticoke, N. Y. He assaulted her with the malediction of the Catholic church.

So says the Boston Post, which we take to be good authority on such matters unless officially contradicted. We should like to know how the warrant was framed, whether it went on to say that the said Father Quigley did assault, bruise, beat and maim, the said Mrs. Walton with one priestly curse, valued at ninepence.

We never supposed before, that such affairs were actionable; and we suspect now, that the ghostly father must have used a shillaleh as well as a malediction.

By the way, we read a laughable story the other day from the Salem Journal, in which it was mentioned that a priest in Salem carsed a block of houses, which were forthwith racated by his superstitious adherents, and also that one of these, who had been beaten by the priest, was afraid to resist lest he should be turned into a dog, hog or a sheep, by the priest.

A devout catholic who was near when we read the story, replied, "I would not have the priest curse me, on any consideration—for he can turn me into any thing he pleases, or make himself invisible." We did not previously suppose that any christians were quite so absurdly superstitious in regard to such a matter; but here is evidence which we cannot resist.

THE MILITARY TROUBLE AT LONG ISLAND.—The Pilot notices the censure of Gov. Washburn recently bestowed upon the conduct of the Irish companies at Long Island last month, and thinks it unjust. The editor understands that it is the intention of one of the commanders of the companies alluded to, to demand a court martial, to clear himself of the imputation cast upon him by Gov. Washburn.—Boston Transcript.

We hope he will; and that his demand will be complied with. For then the particulars of their drunken row at Long Island will come before the public. If any one can clear himself, well: but if the case turns out badly, then let the whole tipsy corps be disbanded in a summary manner, and nothing like it ever be formed again. Our military volunteer force ought to be composed of sober American citizens—and should not be either Irish, or Roman, or drunken.

CROPS.—Throughout the greater portion of Kentucky, and parts of Indiana, the corn crops have suffered severely, and the outcry of a failure of the crops has become general. Corn is housed, hogs and stock turned out to grass or 'mast,' and farmers are freely offering their surplus stock for sale, and fat hogs and lard are expected to fall short next winter.—On the other hand the corn in the South never looked better, and throughout the greater portion of Ohio, the crops are doing well, and with a little rain the short crop will in a great measure be abated.

THE DROUGHT.—The drought is very severe at this time in nearly all sections of New England, and particularly in Rhode Island and eastern Massachusetts. The crops are suffering severely, and should the dry weather continue much longer, will be almost completely cut off. Horticulturists regard their diminutive specimens of fruit with mournful eyes, and all look anxiously for the coming of a heavy rain.

WRECK OF THE ERIE.—We paid a brief visit yesterday to the wreck of the Erie, which is now being hauled out of the creek. The part of the vessel alluded to is the middle portion, and is about one hundred and thirty feet in length. Of this about thirty feet had been hauled out of the water yesterday forenoon—hauling having been commenced on the previous evening. It is expected that by to-morrow or next day the remaining portion will be got upon dry land. It is a curious coincidence connected with the Erie, that she was burned on the 9th of August, 1851, and that her wreck was raised on the same day of the same month in 1854.

The expenses incurred thus far in raising have been about $12,000, and the value of coin, iron, &c., already taken from her is about 15,000 to $18,000—so that the venture thus far has not proved an unsuccessful one.—While we were on the wreck one of the men picked up the case of a silver watch, and a day or two since about $1200 in American gold, bright as if just from the mint, was found nearly midships. It is supposed that about $80,000 of coin are still in the part now being hauled out, and that this sum will be "fingered" by the parties engaged in getting her up.—Buffalo Courier, Wednesday.

MISSOURI.—There is no contradiction of the statement that six whigs and one anti Benton democrat have been chosen to Congress from Missouri. The telegraphic returns state farther with regard to the Legislature, that of 33 senators reported as elected, the whigs have 13, and the remainder are equally divided between Benton and anti Benton democrats. To the House 41 whigs, 29 Benton, and same number of anti Benton delegates are chosen.—Boston Courier.

GALENA, (Illinois,) August 18.—The returns received here from Iowa render it certain that Grimes (Whig) is elected Governor by 3000 majority. Thorington (Whig) is elected to Congress in the Dubuque district by 1500 majority, over Hempstead, the late Governor of the state, (Dem.) The Legislature is Whig and anti Nebraska, by a large majority, in both branches. Clark (Whig) is reported to be elected to Congress in the 1st district.

THE JEWS—JUDAH TOURO.

The laws of the Jews prohibit their marrying out of their own order, which sometimes limits a man in the choice of a wife to a very narrow circle and makes it expedient to intermarry with his relatives. This was the case with two young brothers by the name of Touro—Abraham and Judah, who when young boys, in 1785, went from Newport to live with an uncle, an eminent merchant of Boston, by the name of Hayes, who had two daughters of suitable age to become life partners, at a proper time, of their two young cousins. Living thus together in the same house and family, an attachment early commenced between Abraham and one of the daughters, and between Judah and the other, which increased with age, and was mutual between male and female, in both cases, but which was prevented, for want of consent of the father, from being consummated by marriage. So they all lived and died single—Abraham at the age of 48, leaving a considerable estate. Judah, of whom I have a more particular account, who became enamored with his cousin, Catherine Hayes, and asked her in marriage, on being refused the consent of her father, laid it to heart, and moved from Boston in 1802 to New Orleans, where he died last January, leaving by will an estate of more than $500,000, mostly to Jewish societies in various parts of this country, with a few thousand to New Orleans for various objects, and to the Hospital, &c., in Boston, and $5000 by way of remembrance to his beloved Catharine, who had been living for many years in Richmond, Va., and who, it is a remarkable fact, died three days before him, appropriating nearly the same sum, not exactly to him, but to a niece, on his account, conditionally for removing her remains to Newport, to be deposited in a spot by the side of where it was well known his would be laid; and eight small trees, planted and reared by her own hands in Richmond, were to be transplanted—four at the corners of her own grave, and four at the corners of his.

Great attention has been paid by the Jews to the burying of their dead from the days of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob to the present time. No expense of money or labor has been spared for making their cemetry at Newport, beautiful and in Jewish taste. The enclosure is small, containing about one-fourth of an acre, surrounded by a strong and expensive iron fence, constructed by Isaiah Rodgers, of Boston, much after the Boston style. Most of the graves are surmounted with handsome slabs of marble, on which are inscriptions in Hebrew, Latin and English—at least, the time of death, age, &c., are in English.—All the Jewish property—their synagogue, cemetery, Touro house, and even Touro street, are kept in shining repair by ample legacies from wealthy Jews, none of whom now permanently reside in Newport.

The continuance of the Jews as one people, with all their peculiar principles, rites and ceremonies, through so many centuries, while scattered over the earth into almost every civilized nation, is a wonderful fulfilment of the truth of scripture prophecy, and imparts additional interest to everything relating to them.—Boston Transcript.

I. O. O. F.—The R. W. Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., of the state of New Hampshire held their annual session in Concord on Tuesday, 15th instant.

Present.—The grand officers of the past year, and an unusually large attendance of Representatives and Past Grands. The session closed late in the evening of the same day.

Geo. C. Williams of Lancaster, M. W. Grand Master; M. M. Borbank of Franklin, R. W. D. G. Master; Joseph Kidder of Manchester, R. W. G. Warden; J. B. Smart of Concord, R. W. G. Secretary; Mitchell Gilmore of Concord, R. W. G. Treasurer; T. G. Senter of Portsmouth, R. W. G. Chaplain; C. A. Tufts of Dover, R. W. G. Representative; W. R. Tapley of Dover, W. G. Marshal; Jona Sargent of Concord, W. G. Conductor; S. S. Davis of Nashua, W. G. Guardian.

Grand Encampment I. O. of O. F. of N. H. met at Concord, Monday, 14th, and chose the following officers:

S. Buntin of Manchester, G. W. P.; Wm. R. Tapley of Dover, G. H. P.; Daniel W. Quimby of Rochester, G. S. W.; S. S. Davis of Nashua, G. I. W.; J. B. Smart of Concord, G. Scribe.; A. B. Currier of Concord, Treasurer; Henry Steele, Peterborough, G. Representative.—Statesman.

NEW BANK.—The Grantees of the Langdon Bank, to be located in Dover, held their first meeting at the New Hampshire Hotel, on Monday evening last, according to previous notice, and made choice of the following Board of Directors:

Andrew Peirce, Jr., George P. Folsom, Willis H. Estey, Jonas D. Townsend, Alfred Hoitt, Alpheus Rogers, Benjamin Wiggin.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Andrew Peirce, Jr., was chosen President, and Calvin Hale, Cashier.—Dover Gazette.

PATENT COW'S TAIL HOLDER.—John M. Weare, of Seabrook, N. H., has recently obtained a patent for holding cow's tails still, during the operation of milking. The machine is fastened to one of the animal's hamstrings, and the tail is compressed. Mr. Weare politely styles his discovery the Milker's Protector. His claim is as follows:—"I claim the Milker's Protector constructed as specified, viz.: a combination of ham string and tail nippers, applied together and made to operate as described."

BALTIMORE, August 18.—Curacoa Consul.—We learn that James H. Young, United States Consul, has laid information before the Treasury department, and has given proofs that subordinates at the New York Custom House have been bribed to pass false invoices of goods prepared at Curacoa; many of these invoices putting the goods at 20 per cent. below their value.

PENNSYLVANIA.—Governor Bigler of Pennsylvania has taken the stump in favor of the Nebraska bill and against Know Nothingism. He is a candidate for re-election.

For the Morning Chronicle.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

Messrs. Editors:—We have heard to-day, with the greatest pleasure, of the reappointment of Capt. McClintock to the post of Naval Officer. We are certain that nothing could be more agreeable to the citizens of our community, who have honored Capt. McClintock in their youth as an old man, and who have seen him in the late years of his well spent life a still active citizen and efficient servant of the country. He is among the last of the few survivors of that band of patriots who deemed it sweet to die for their country, and is himself a living history of the martyr period of our early annals.

We have heard that his father, Rev. Dr. McClintock of Greenland, deprived himself of even his scanty salary during the revolution, and his sons were worthy of their sire. Four died for the cause of liberty and their brother still lives a veteran in the service he has loved so long. Our young men should honor the hoary head whose birth-day was the birth-day of a free people, who has sat among the princes of the land, and whose last hours will be cheered by the rejoicings of a nation he may call his children.

Whatever party asperity may say of our president, this appointment shows that he has a heart which reverences the past, and that he wishes to be true to the spirit of ancestors.—With such a heart he must be right in the main. Honor to whom honor is due. J.

Saturday, Aug. 19.

FIRE.—A building on Bow street near the Spring Market, occupied by John Trundy, caught fire on the roof, on Saturday afternoon, probably from some neighboring chimney, but was discovered in season to prevent the destruction of the house. The wind was blowing quite fresh at the time, and had it not been for the neighbors, an extensive conflagration must have ensued. We were informed that the building had neither scuttle nor roof ladder, the want of which latter was a great hindrance, as the hook and ladder company did not make its appearance on the ground.

THE PEAK FAMILY.—This company of Vocalists and Bell Ringers, after an absence of twenty months, are again to favor us with their beautiful melodies and chimes, as will be seen in their advertisement. When last in this city they gave great satisfaction to the large audience which assembled to hear them, and by the notices in the papers, they appear not to have lost their powers of pleasing.

A SPLENDID BOOK.

At Mr. Wenzell's store, may be seen copies of a superb illustrated Magazine, which is published in the German language in Germany, and also in English at London and New York. It has been established in Germany for many years, and has appeared in nearly every language on the European continent.—It is issued in monthly numbers, at $3 per year; and the English-American edition has been published from the beginning of the year 1852.

The work is designed to supply the general desire felt, to know something of our own and foreign countries; and contains views of the most remarkable cities, public edifices, and natural scenes, in every zone and on every continent—accompanied by letter-press descriptions, conveying the most accurate and trustworthy information, in an inviting and interesting style. American scenery is by no means slighted—the first engraving being of Niagara Falls. Each monthly part contains four steel engravings, with explanations of each—forming in a year a most beautiful and valuable volume, containing forty-eight very fine illustrations, in great variety of character and style. In addition to this, there are five large sized steel engravings issued with the Universum, as premiums—equal to any three dollar steel engraving. They represent Jack in Office, surrounded by a group of other dogs; Naples; the Maid of Saragossa in battle; the approach of a storm at sea, with vessels making harbor; and a copy of West's celebrated painting of the Sea Battle of La Hogue. Either of these, with a volume of the Magazine for 1852 or '53, richly bound and ornamented in blue and gilt, Mr. Wenzell will furnish at $2.75. Taken in numbers, with the binding and plate purchased separately, the expense would be at least $5. The work is in album form, similar to common church music books.

The premium pictures accompanying it, may be seen in Mr. Wenzell's window, this morning—also the Magazine on his counter.

FIRST RIPE CORN.—On Tuesday last, August 15, Mr. David Berry, of Newington, presented to us a bag of meal ground on that day at the North mill, from corn which he raised the present year. The miller says that in the twenty years he has attended the mill, he never but once ground new corn earlier than the 28th of August. Once he ground some on the 25th. So Mr. Berry has gained ten days on all his predecessors. The meal made excellent bread.—Journal.

Messrs. Editors:—The undersigned being somewhat indignant at the insults offered them at the Sagamore House on Tuesday evening last, and for the purpose of administering a just and merited rebuke to the perpetrators of the scandalous outrage, have determined to submit a statement of the affair to the public, through the columns of your paper. On the occasion above alluded to, accompanied by our wives, we visited the house in question, with the intention of remaining for a few days. We made the landlord, Mr. Thomas Clark, acquainted with our wishes, and requested rooms during the period of our stay. He replied that it was all right—that if we would come down in the Fall, after his company had left, we could stay as long as we pleased, and he would "say nothing about it." We explained to him that we were married people, and were not in the habit of availing ourselves of such liberal offers as he seemed disposed to make—but all to no purpose. Not caring to be disappointed in our proposed visit we were endeavoring to make the landlord understand the true state of the case, when the presiding genius of the establishment,—the "better horse" of the concern (i. e. the landlord-ess) thrust her head into the apartment, and commanded "Mr. Clark to stop talking with those ladies and gentlemen of bad character, and turn them out of the house."

You have here, Messrs. Editors, a brief statement of the facts in the case. The matter has, as might be expected, elicited very general remark among the occasional patrons of the Sagamore House, and our citizens in general. The only comment which we feel disposed to make, is implied in the inquiry—"Will our married citizens continue to patronize a Hotel, at the door of which proofs of character and identity, as well as the marriage certificate, must be exhibited?"

It might not be amiss, to call the attention of the public to the statement of Mr. Clark, that single gentlemen and their wives can be accommodated at his commodious establishment—"in the Fall." (Signed)

G. R. ROWE, for the Party.

BREADSTUFFS.

The price of Flour (says the Newburyport Herald,) still keeps at a very high figure, about double that of last year, and even when accounts of failing prices in Europe come it has no effect on the markets of the United States. This is owing to the complete exhaustion of the stock in the interior. The receipts of Flour at the markets on the seaboard from the grain growing districts, have not for the whole season reached one half what they were last year, and at the present time the new crop though large, it is stated will be late into market in consequence of the scarcity of labor to secure the harvests.

The present drought which is stated to pervade all the great corn growing West, by causing a deficiency in the supply of Indian corn will have a tendency to increase the price of all other breadstuffs. If, however, the Potato comes in sound in France and England and the grain crops are fair there, we shall have low prices here, but if otherwise, we must expect the rates to rule high, as any deficiency in either grain or potatoes in England and France, must be made up by shipments from the United States.

Notwithstanding the recent improvement in Great Britain, prices now rule much lower there than here, which state of things cannot continue long after our new crop begins to come to market, as then the price must rise or fall here.

With freights at 10d per bbl for Flour is equivalent to 34s 4d sterling per barrel, free on board, with freight exclusive of commissions. With freight at 4d per 60 lbs $1,83 for wheat is equivelent to 64s 4d sterling per qr of 480 lbs and 9s 4 1-2d sterling per bushel of 70 lbs, free on board, with freight, exclusive of commissions. On corn with freight at 3 3-4d per 56 lbs, 73 cents is equivelent to 28s 11d sterling per 480 lbs.

The accounts of the wheat crop and harvest in England were generally good, but from Ireland and Scotland there were serious complaints of the severity of the potato rot.—Every description of this valuable esculent was effected, and the disease was of a very virulent character.

HIGH PRICES OF FUEL.—On this subject the Newburyport Herald says:

A great deal of ignorant complaint is made in the papers, about the high price of coal and wood, without regard to its being occasioned by natural causes. The price of freight and transportation has nearly doubled, and we cannot expect the miners are to work for the same wages now when Flour costs them $10 a barrel and Butter 25 cents a pound, that they did when Flour only cost them $4, and Butter 12 cents. So too, with wood, it has been more profitable to get out and carry lumber to market than wood, and hence men have abandoned the last named business and devoted themselves to the first.

The truth is that we have not a sufficiency of agricultural population in the country, at present. California gold, and manufactures, commerce and trade have drawn away so large a population of the active young men, that there is not the requisite amount of either physical force, intelligence or energy left on the farms to develop their resources.

PHILADELPHIA, August 18.—Return of a Murderer.—The bark Aaron Q. Harvey arrived here to-day from Port au Prince, brings John Miller, sent home by the U. S. Consul, at his own request, to stand trial for murder of a wood cutter, named Myers, in the woods in Washington township, Morris county, New Jersey, about ten months since. Miller was at work with another man, cutting wood, when he quarrelled with Myers, who was employed on an adjoining yard. A fight ensued, and Myers was killed by Miller. He escaped to Canada, went to New York, shipped to London, where he says he confessed his crime to the American Consul, but was not sent home as he wished; hearing at Port au Prince that the man working with him was accused of murder, and would probably be convicted, he went to the U. S. Consul there and was sent here. He tells the same story, and manifests no disposition to escape the consequences.

The First Presbyterian Church in Washington square was entered last night, the fire-proof safe blown up with gunpowder, and robbed of a valuable baptismal font and a small sum of money.

CINCINNATI, August 18.—The morning train from this place for Indianapolis was thrown off the track on Thursday, near Richmond, by running over a cow. The baggage car was thrown down an embankment forty feet high, and two persons named W. Locke and John Keenan, were badly injured.

FROM MEXICO.—New Orleans papers contain some additional Mexican news. The town of Copainale, in the state of Chiapas, was recently destroyed by fire. Seventy-seven houses were consumed.

Famine is threatening the people of Oajaca, and several deaths are recorded from hunger.

The locust continues its ravages in a portion of Mexico.

It is stated that a company has been formed by six gentlemen in California, with a capital of $50,000, for the purpose of pumping out and working the Taja mine in the state of Sinaloa, which has not been used since the war of independence.

On the 21st of July a battle was fought at Mount Simon, in the South, between the government forces under Col. Zuoga, and the insurgent troops under Col. Villaba, in which the latter was killed, with 400 of his men.—The government troops were victorious. The news of the affair reached the capital on the 22d, and caused great rejoicing. The Echo of Vera Cruz attaches great importance to this victory, and says it will do much towards the establishment of order in the department of Guerrero.

Another division of troops, under Col. Moreno, had attacked and routed a party of insurgents in the same department, and about the same time.

The Indians continue their ravages on the frontiers, killing the men, carrying off the women, and plundering the dwellings.

Advices from Yucatan are to July 5. The war with the Indians continued, and the government troops had met with several disasters.

HERTS BROTHERS
AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

Caution.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1852," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.

MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.

MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs during the last spring—spitting of blood considerably, with soreness of chest, &c., I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WAGNER.

A NOVEL WAY TO RAISE THE WIND.—One day last week a gentlemanly looking young fellow, about twenty two or twenty three years of age, called on the sexton of Cove Hill Cemetery and ordered a child's grave to be dug. Having seen the sexton break ground, he remarked that he would then pay for the work, and tendered a ten dollar note, receiving eight dollars in change. As no child's funeral made its appearance during that day, nor the next, nor the next, the sexton suspected that something was wrong, and upon examination found his ten dollars counterfeit. So he is out of pocket to the amount of $8, besides the labor of digging the grave.—Louisville Courier, 2d.

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds a remedy that cures Every Kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases, (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four or six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure the salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing in the pasture and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system, yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start. There is no if's and ands, hums and ha's about its suiting some cases, but not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know the effects of it in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief in catarrh and dizziness. Some have taken it who have been costive for years, and have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound it works quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular feelings; but you must not be alarmed; they will disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it; on the contrary, when that feeling is gone, you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that ever man listened to.

Nothing in the annals of Patent Medicines has ever been received by the public with so much favor as this simple preparation. It is now composed of nine different herbs. In May, 1852, when I commenced making a business of it, I sold about two bottles per day. In June, 1853, I sold 4320 bottles. In October, 1853, I sold 6120 bottles. I hope you will call that doing well; I do.

In my own practice, I confine it strictly to humors; but there are some who are so enthusiastic in its favor they think what cures them will cure any thing and any body; they accordingly recommend it for every variety of disease. In this way a great many virtues of it have been found that I never would suspect.

Cases of Dyspepsia, of many years standing, that withstood every known remedy, have been permanently cured.

I know one man to gain 17 lbs. by taking three bottles; another 11 lbs.; another 10 lbs.; and another 7 lbs.—the venerable master Robinson of Boston.

In diseases of the Liver it is a specific. I know several with yellowskin and yellow eyes, the body emaciated and the mind melancholy, get fat and cheerful by a few bottles.

I know several cases of Dropsy, and one particularly bad. A lady, aged 79, was unable to leave her house for the last twelve years, was so much relieved (she was reduced in circumference thirty-four inches), as to visit her friends in several neighboring towns

Another had the Dropsy in her left leg, and was unable to walk for ten years, sometimes swelling to an enormous size; at last bursted, making a bad wound which could not be healed; by taking three bottles and using two boxes of ointment, she is now quite well. Why it should make some fat and others lean, I cannot tell, but so it is.

I know of several cases of Kidney complaints cured by it. If the columns of a newspaper was a proper medium, I could tell of cases of this most distressing of all diseases that would make your heart bleed, that were permanently cured by it.

It has been lately found to be a sure cure for Panama fever. In one case the first spoonful put off the ague at two hours. One bottle cured him. Another came home to die, and was induced by his brother to try it. Three bottles cured him.

It likewise gives great relief in the Asthma. A lady in Lawrence was unable to lie in bed for a number of years; she can now lie without the least inconvenience.

A lady in Weymouth lost the use of her left side by the Erysipelas. On the second bottle she broke out in one mass of humor from head to foot. In a few days she was well.

It has lately been found to be equally good for humor outside as inside, (taking it inwardly in the meantime,) for Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, or any eruption of the skin whatever; only where the flesh is very sore you must dilute it with water.

When made weak enough it is the best eye-wash for weak and watery eyes that I ever saw.

Others use it to cleanse the dandruff out of the hair and strengthen its roots, which it certainly does, and to crown all, it made the hair grow on bald heads, which, if I had not seen with my own eyes, I would not believe from you or anybody else.

As regards dieting, I never came across the first person that ever got any benefit from it. On the contrary, numbers came to death's door by it, as it gives the humors the upper hand. My medicine requires the most nourishing food you can get. It will soon give you an appetite.

Do not for a moment suppose that I warrant a cure of all those diseases in every case. I merely tell you what it has done, hoping it will do the same for you. I do not warrant a cure in any disease but humors, where it never fails. For further particulars see the circular around each bottle.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it.

I have an herb simmered in olive oil, scatters Scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price fifty cents per box.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adults, one table spoonful per day; children of eight years, dessert spoonful; from five to eight, tea spoonfuls. As no direction can be applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the Effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y. " W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Zoureneo de Lus, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain.

J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have been for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA."

and having the name Jas. Swaim stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copy right secured

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLDTOWN, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and prosecuted by him, THEIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not do better here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, I knew Mr. Eddy, as of Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,

Commissioner of Patents."

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Spasms, Sprains, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all this has asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV, late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by this Liniment, but considers it warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which he warrants cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc. which street, New York.

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of the description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

A JUST REBUKE.

The Boston Post says, we copy the annexed just rebuke from the New Bedford Mercury, merely adding that Mr Pebody did not voluntarily come forward to advance Mr Riddle funds, but consented to loan Mr Riddle the necessary amount upon Mr Riddle's urgent solicitation, and upon Mr Riddle's procuring, for Mr Peabody's satisfaction, a letter from the Hon. Abbot Lawrence stating that in his opinion, Mr R. was able to respond to the obligation he would incur by the loan.—These were the circumstances under which the money was procured, and by the judicious application of which our country was saved from disgrace, and her genious triumphantly honored among competitors from the whole world, supported by kings, emperors, and all the advantages national treasuries could afford :—

"American Gratitude.—Once in a while a debate occurs in the house of representatives which makes one sick of the very name of congress. Such was that on the first of August, upon the senate amendment to pay Mr Riddle, United States commissioner at the World's Exibition in London, the sum of $26,000. The facts were these. When the American goods arrived in England they were landed seventy miles from London, and no one was authorized to incur the expense of their transportation to the Palace. There was great danger that our country would not be represented at all in the exhibition. At this moment, Mr George Peabody, the eminent American banker in London, came foward and loaned the amount above stated, to Mr. Riddle, who now asks that he may receive from government money enough to cancel the notes which he gave to Mr Peabody. The thing is plain as a pike-staff——there is no question of the propriety and strict justice of this claim for what, after all, is but a paltry sum. Government assumed the transportation of goods to London; contributors upon that understanding sent them, and now government repudiates the little bill, and leaves a private citizen to pay it as the rich reward of his patriotism."

This is, as the Post says, a just rebuke.—The Boston Chronicle says on the same matter :—

It may be remembered that the American articles for exhibition, when they arrived out, were landed some seventy miles from London, and had to be fowarded to the Palace by railroad, in order to be in season. No one was authorized to incur the expense of transportation; but Mr. Peabody the eminent American banker, came forward and loaned the amount. Mr Riddle asked that he might receive money enough from Congress to enable him to meet the notes which he gave Mr P., and an amendment was introduced to that effect. Its principle opponent was Mr Smith ("Extra Billy") of Virginia, who alluded to Mr Riddle as a "horse-dealer and auctioneer in Boston," who gave no account of his expenditures, &c! Mr Hughes of New York, in response, remarked that he knew Mr Riddle as a high-minded, honorable gentleman, and wished to know whether "it is worse to be a horse dealer in Massachusetts than to run a line of stage coaches in Virginia, or in any other State, whether it be a regular or extra line of coaches. Mr Riddle pursues his business in a laudable way. If he sells anything, he sells quadrupeds, not bipeds, and I am glad that his vocation is of that description—his auctioneering of that sort." The amendment had been proposed and adopted in the Senate, but, was lost in a thin house.

Such a vote, and such a speech from Extra Billy, were quite in character for the Congress which repealed the restraining clause of the Missouri compromise. Traitors to freedom usually have but little idea of honor or honesty.

SONTAG'S REQUIEM IN PARIS.—A musical mass to the memory of Madame Sontag was celebrated a few weeks since in the church of the Madeleine, where the cure did not forget that this celebrated artist had formerly given a concert, the proceeds of which had been distributed among the poor of that parish. On this solemn occasion the Abbe Deguerry was voluntarily assisted by Madame de Sparre, also a Countess, and Madame Cinti Damoreau, who was a companion of Sontag at the Theatre Italien.

Marble Chimney Pieces.
THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.
While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1854.

PROSCRIPTION.

Under the head of "outrageous proscription," the Boston Journal of Saturday evening says—

We learn from the Times that Hon. Moses Eaton, Jr., has been appointed postmaster at South Hampton, N. H., in place of J. T. Goodwin, removed.

So far, we think it likely the paragraph is correct. But the Journal adds,

Mr. Goodwin was a member of the late New Hampshire Legislature, and although an office holder under the present regime, was an honest, fearless and independent man, and refused to sanction by his vote the Nebraska fraud. Hence his removal by the President.

About this part of the story there must be some mistake. The Constitution expressly provides that no person holding any office under the general government of the United States shall be a Representative in General Court, and if any Representative shall accept such office, the act of acceptance shall vacate his seat.

P. S.—We have just consulted the Post Office Directory, and find T. J. Goodwin on the list, as Post Master at South Hampton.—We have also examined the list of Representatives as published in the N. H. Gazette of March 25, wherein the town of South Hampton is represented by T. J. Goodwin, who is there characterized as a democrat.

So it appears that Mr. G. did hold at the same time, two offices which our State Constitution declares to be incompatible.

How he voted, we know not: but if any person in the House had raised a question on his seat, he must have lost it.

FLOUR ADVANCING. — A despatch from St. Louis, Aug. 18, says, Breadstuffs have advanced. Flour $6 25 a 6 75; wheat $1 25 1 30; corn 58 a 60c. And another from Cincinnati of the 19th, says that flour there has advanced to $7 75.

But at New Orleans, Aug. 16, it is said, Flour is dull, and tending downwards; sales of Ohio at $7 25 a 7 50; Corn is firm, at prices ranging from 55 to 63c.

The report of the Liverpool Corn Market, Aug. 9, says of Breadstuffs,—The better qualities of wheat have advanced 2d; Flour in fair demand, holders firm, and sales moderate to the trade; Western Canal 32s; Ohio 34s. Corn advanced 1s, with a good demand; yellow 35 6d.

It will be seen that Flour in Liverpool bears only about the same price as in New Orleans, and is cheaper than at Cincinnati. This does not look much like our exporting breadstuffs this year.

DESERTERS AND CRIMINALS.—The St. John Morning News complains that the recent examination of the British deserters in Boston was "a great farce," inasmuch as a line was drawn between larceny and robbery, and states that when deserters have escaped from the American to the British shore they have been promptly given up.

We do not believe this statement, about giving up deserters.

The distinction between larceny and robbery, taken by Mr. Commisioner Woodbury, is perfectly sound, and will be sustained by every sound lawyer, except such as may be retained on the other side.

EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYED.—At the extensive jewelry establishment of Messrs. Jones, Ball & Co., two sets of silver ware may be seen, which are not only elegant and tasteful in design and finish, but afford pleasing evidence of kind feelings between an employer and his workmen, which is highly honorable to the parties. Our well known fellow citizen, Col. Benjamin Loring, has presented a valuable silver pitcher, goblet and salver, of two to three hundred dollars value, to the head workman in the blank book department of his firm, and also to the head workman in the ruling establishment. These two employees (Messrs. David C. Long and William Tufts) have each faithfully served in their several departments more than thirty years, and it certainly speaks well that in these times of change, so long a period has elapsed without ending the connection. It also shows consideration on the part of the employer, to give such valuable illustrations of his appreciation of faithful and long continued services. We are gratified to be able to publish facts like the above, to show that amidst our "work-day world" there are bright spots in the intercourse between labor and capital. We commend the example of Col. Loring to other employers, and trust we shall have the pleasure of giving publicity to many instances of a similar character.—Boston Transcript.

We like this gift of pitchers, better than almost any other which we have seen. Mr. Benjamin Loring is a very wealthy man, abundantly able to give the plate, and we are glad to see him bestow it on two men who are now what he was at their age, viz., practical mechanics of the first class.

MISSOURI ELECTION.—John S Phelps, Democrat, is re-elected to Congress from the sixth district by a handsome majority. It has been stated that he had been beaten by a Benton Democrat. The Whigs had no candidate. The Legislature upon joint ballot will stand as follows:—Whigs, 63; Democrats, (anti-Bentons) 60; Bentons, 40.

PRECEDENTS AND PRINCIPLES.

The following extracts are made from a sermon by Rev. T. Starr King, preached in Hollis street meeting-house, Boston, May 6, and published in the Universalist Quarterly, for July, 1854.

All such readers as do not like plain talk will do well to skip over this column: but those who do like it, will not only read this but be likely to read the whole article, if they can get hold of the Review.

I trust there is no one here who accords with the strange sentiment that religion has nothing to do with this question, that it does not come at all under the jurisdiction of the pulpit, and that it must be argued and settled simply by reference to constitutional law.—In regard to every question that relates to human rights, I ask you if there is not an eternal truth, as well as a conventional legality; I ask you if there is not a clear, intense and holy light in which it can be searched and judged, as well as a light elicited from temporary statutes and the collisions of acute legal intellects in congressional debates. If there is such a light, if there is an eternal equity concerning all disputes in which the rights of man are involved, ought we not to seek it? Is it an unwarrantable interference of the ministers of religion with politics, if, sometimes, they ask that the greatest questions shall be lifted out of the arena of politics and set in the light of permanent principle.—removed from the moonlight atmosphere of expediency and of human wisdom, especially removed from the murky gloom of the caucus, or the committee-room, that they may be read in the blaze of the sunshine? In this country we are all legislators. The great question I have just referred to as now in suspense, is to be settled by the tone of feeling which is struck out of the people, and which will vibrate back into the congressional hall; and is it an impertinent intrusion of the pulpit beyond its sphere, if it appeals to the people to exercise their minds upon it, and to use their responsibility as though it is a matter of everlasting consequence, as though not only civil relations, but eternal distinctions of right and wrong, are to be affected by it?

I do not say this by any means as palliation of my own choice of a topic this morning.—Heaven forbid, brethren, that I should stay a week with you after the necessity of making any semblance of apology for treating a good religious question in your presence, because, for the moment, it is involved in politics.—But I allude to it because there is not among us any thing like the conviction there should be, of the importance, the tremendous importance, of great political questions in their relations to religion, and of the transcendent moral interest attaching to statesmanship when a great initial step in civil polity is to be taken, and a fundamental law is to be altered, or ordained. If people generally had any adequate sense of this importance, the pulpit might safely refuse to touch any such question, for there would be no danger that they would not always be decided right.

* * * * *

Is my private conduct a matter of moral consequence? do eternal laws of right and wrong control my disposition or intention to lie to my neighbor, or cheat him out of a few dollars?—and is my act as a legislator, by which I may ordain a lie, by which I may perpetuate a fraud, not upon one man, but upon thousands of my fellows, a matter to be judged by less searching standards of right, a matter wholly under the dominion of temporary statutes and party exigencies? This question seems ridiculous to you, no doubt, as you listen calmly in a church,—seems too clear for debate. But how far is it from being clear in life? How many a man is there in this country, whose perception of moral responsibilities is clear in private relations, that would yet break through them by his intellect as soon as he should come in a senatorial position,—who would shrink from the idea of injuring his neighbor, or of kidnapping a brother man, by any personal act and malice, and yet would vote for a law which exposes thousands to the perils of kidnapping and enthrones a right to inflict the deepest injuries, without any compunctions of conscience or the loss of one night's sleep! Is there not a singular and organic defect of moral perception in such a general state of mind, almost an inversion of the grade of sanctities? Why, if the pulpit of this country should preach, through any prominent representatives of it, the lawfulness of personal malignity, the Christian legality of deeply injuring a brother man who never injured us, what moral indignation would be excited against such teaching! Yet the teaching would be mere breath; and the very men who might be foremost in their execration of such a doctrine, would have little compunction, it may be, in establishing that very doctrine in a statute-book, knowing that it would be executed in a thousand instances, and breathe blight and misery ever countless hearts.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE, for September, is received from Federhen & Co., Boston. It is a good Magazine, and cheap—$2 per year, with postage one cent per number in advance. A steel plate of "The Puzzled Calculator," a ad who can't do his sum; colored fashion-plate, costume figures, crotchet-work, &c., are the illustrations. The letter-press is well executed, and the contents varied and interesting.

THE CHOLERA IN MAINE.—Dr. Charles Millet, of Lewiston, Me., has fallen a victim to the cholera, which for three successive weeks he had been combating among his Irish patients. A letter from Damariscotta, bearing date of the 9th inst., says, "Asiatic cholera has made its appearance in our midst. Two cases occurred within the last twenty-four hours, both fatal—John and Nathaniel, sons of Nathaniel Austin, Esq., ship-builder of Portland, very promising young men."

INTOXICATING A DRUNKARD.—The first conviction in Philadelphia under that part of the state liquor law which forbids selling liquor to a known inebriate, resulting in sentencing the defendant to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs, to undergo an imprisonment of sixty days, and also to pay the prosecutor ten dollars for bringing him to justice.

LOCAL.

FIRES.—The alarm of fire on Monday evening resulted from a fire in the woods at Little Harbor.

Some scoundrel, on Monday afternoon, set fire to a pasture in Auburn street, which spread with great rapidity, and at one time endangered buildings in the vicinity; but it was finally subdued, after about an acre had been burnt over. It will be seen by an advertisement that a reward is offered for evidence to convict the offenders.

At New Castle, the island town at the eastward of Portsmouth, upon which Fort Constitution stands, the people are entirely destitute of water, and have to resort to the main land for their supplies.

The above paragraph has been going round in the papers for a day or two. It is entirely incorrect. The water at New Castle has not failed.

TENT MEETING AT EPPING.—Persons desirous of attending the Tent Meeting near the depot at Epping, N. H., which commences Wednesday morning, Aug. 23, and continues over the Sabbath, will be conveyed on either of the trains on the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, on paying fare one way. Return ticket free.

CHANGE.—Rev. S. P. Fay, pastor of the Congregational Church in Hampton, has accepted a call from a Cong. Church in Dayton, Ohio, with a salary of $1200, and accordingly asked a dismission from his present charge. The people in this section of Rockingham Co., have become much attached to Mr. Fay, and will learn his purpose of a change of residence, with sincere regret.—Exeter News Letter.

Wm. O. Eaton, formerly editor of the Boston Museum, was lodged in Salem jail on Friday evening, for an attempt to kill his wife. He has had difficulty with her for two years past, and yesterday came down from Boston, with two pistols in his pocket, and after having some words with her, fired one of them at her, the ball from which grazed the back part of her neck.

SEIZURE OF AMERICAN VESSELS.—Advices from Bathurst (River Gambia) to the 17th ult., state that the S. W. Nash, Capt. Worth, and the Mary Varney, Capt. Smith, both New York vessels, have been seized for an alleged contravention of the consolidated slave act, and have been libelled in the Vice Admiralty Court of that Colony. — Boston Journal.

Judge Marston, of the Newburyport Police Court, was brought before a simple Justice, last week, on complaint of the City Marshal, that his Honor allowed his dog to run at large—and "full butt" against the City Ordinance. The case was postponed to enable the Judge to prepare his defence.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—Several small fires occurred in this and adjoining cities yesterday. At one of them, in Williamsburg, a young married woman, named Ann Fagan, and two men named Patrick Pinkham and Edward McManus, perished in the flames.

ELOPEMENT PREVENTED.—There has been considerable excitement at Sullivan's Island, Charleston harbor, in consequence of an attempt made by a young Irishman to elope with a Southern heiress. Her father interfered and frustrated the design.

ANCIENT RELIGIOUS STATUTES.—In 1688 a great majority of the people of Virginia belonged to the Established Church, and the preaching of Dissenters was prohibited; Quakers were banished, and if they returned were punished by heavy fines.

PHILADELPHIA, August 20.

Miss Anna Deacon, aged nineteen, was killed yesterday at Chester Springs by being thrown from a vehicle, in consequence of the horse running away.

PHILADELPHIA, August 18th.—Stephen Simpson, an editor and author of much celebrity, died in this city yesterday. He was cashier of the Girard Bank during the life of Stephen Girard.

FATAL RESULT.—Mr. James Celbath, who met with a fall on Tuesday while at work on the Exchange Coffee House building, Boston, died of his injuries. He leaves a wife and five or six children.

SUICIDE.—Patrick Dorety, aged 52 years, hung himself to his garden fence, on Factory street, Roxbury, Wednesday night, as supposed while under the influence of delirium tremens.

THE COURT HOUSE RIOTERS, BOSTON.—The trial of the persons indicted for riot at the Court House during the slave case, will not take place till the next term of the Municipal Court.

Two women were examined before Justice Wood, charged with passing counterfeit bills on the Ashuelot Bank, of Keene, N. H.—They were held for further examination.

Young Bonaparte, of Baltimore, grandson of the Prince Jerome, has decided to accept letters of naturalization, and the grade of lieutenant in the French Army.

The Postmaster at Washington has removed Joseph W. Davis from office, because he was elected on a Know Nothing ticket to the City Council.

ST. LOUIS, August 18.—The Burlington Telegraph says that Grimes's majority for the governorship of Iowa is 4000. The House is Whig; Senate doubtful.

FOUR DAYS LATER.

ARRIVAL OF STEAMER BALTIC.

The steamship Baltic, from Liverpool, Aug. 9, arrived at New York on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Among her passengers, 195 in number, were Messrs. Hackett and William Niblo, and the great musical troupe engaged by the former.

The intelligence from Great Britain is not of any moment. The proceedings in Parliament were confined to local affairs, and the two houses were soon to be prorogued.

The cotton market had experienced no change, breadstuffs were again a turn higher, and there had been a farther slight advance in consols, which left off on the 7th dull at 93 to 93 1-8.

FROM THE BALTIC—the reports continue to be indefinite. The London papers of the 7th contain despatches which announce the occupation of the Aland Islands, thus:

The Berling (Copenhagen) Gazette contains a telegraphic despatch from Swenska, announcing that on the 2d of August 12 vessels of war proceeded to the Isles of Aland, and that on the 3d, after a cannonade of seven hours, the French occupied Aland.

It is also stated—we do not perceive the authority therefor,—that the above intelligence is confirmed in a despatch from Vienna.

A letter to the London Times, dated Ledsand, July 31, has the following:—

An extraordinary circumstance has occurred to-day. Three Russians have positively escaped from out of the large fort at Bomarsand, by means of a boat; they gave themselves up as prisoners of war. The Locust at once brought them to Sir Charles Napier, and reports state that they had been interrogated by the interpreter. Through this source we may probably arrive at a more correct estimate than hitherto obtained of the number of Russian forces in these islands.—I give you the numbers, as they represent, namely—

The large fort—1,000 troops of the line; 350 irregulars; 300 artillerymen; 100 armed convicts. First round fort—10 guns, 80 men; second do. 20 guns, 80 men; 3d, 30 guns, 100 men. Masked battery of 7 guns, 45 men.—Exclusive of the above there are 500 sharpshooters, 700 irregulars, 80 Cossacks, and 4 field-pieces stationed at various parts of the islands. One of these informers is a military convict, brought from Siberia, to finish his sentence at this island.

By the next mail you will hear of the capture of these places. What we are to do with the islands after gaining possession is a political question. It is pretty well understood here to-day that the King of Sweden will, at present, have nothing to do with them, unless a very large force of Anglo-French is maintained here.

THE PRINCIPALITIES.—A despatch from Constantinople of July 30th, states that the Turkish fleet had sailed for Varna with the pontoon and all the transports, and adds Silina is burnt.

The statements with regard to the evacuation of Bucharest, the capital of Wallachia, by the Russians, are continued. Despatches from Vienna of August 5th, covering others from Bucharest of the 2d, state that on the last the Russians retired from Bucharest, after having broken up the road between that city and Kalugereny. They were on their way to Moldavia.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—A gang of about a dozen counterfeiters, mostly stage drivers, were arrested in this city yesterday. A quantity of bogus coin was found upon them and in their residences. The counterfeit money has been largely distributed in making change for stage riders at night. Four of the accused were fully committed for trial; two were sent to the penitentiary for three months, while the others were discharged for want of evidence.

A letter from the Paris correspondent of the Tribune, of the Spanish revolution says, that soon after the revolution broke out in Spain, Mr. Soule, with his family, left Madrid for a journey of pleasure to Pyrenees. In regard to Mr. Soule's view on the pending questions, I may be permitted to say this much, that since Espartaro has come into power, he has no hopes of a favorable settlement of the Cuban question, unless aided by decisive measures on the part of the government at Washington. He does not believe that the Queen can hold her power long, and has strong faith in the ultimate success of the republican cause. No proposition of this kind has ever been made by the Spanish government to sell the island of Cuba, and it is not anticipated that under the present regime any will be made.

DROUGHT—CROPS, &c.—From the North, East and West the cry of drought and short crops is almost universal, as also from the Middle states, but we are glad to learn that it is not so in the South. Letters from Georgia and South Carolina state that the corn crops are very fine and very full. The Cincinnati Price Current observes with regard to the speculative action which has been suggested on corn and hogs:—

There is undoubtedly a larger number of hogs in the country now than ever before—There is a fair surplus of old corn; there is a very large crop of oats; there will be a large import of wheat from Canada, under the Reciprocity treaty—the indications are that there will be but little foreign demand for breadstuffs. These facts combined may offset entirely, and must offset to a great extent, the effects of a short corn crop.

The accounts of the crops in Europe continue to be favorable.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION IN MAINE.—The Democratic Convention in the First Congressional District of Maine was held at Saco on Thursday. Upon the third ballot Samuel Wells was nominated for Congress, by a vote of 54 out of 1000. Ira T. Drew, Esq., had 44 votes, and two others one each. This is Moses McDonalds's district.

MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT—
Every land has hailed with Joy this preparation whose Intrinsic merits has introduced its
Curative powers to the notice of the whole
American people. Rheumatism of long duration,
Neuralgia, with its tortures, have yielded to its
Magical influence; cancers, contorted joints,
Ulcerated and swollen limbs that have Suffered for years under the weight of disease,
Turn by its application to suppleness and health.
A remedy of such general usefulness that can Restore newness of Action to the diseased nerves,
Secreting glands of the human body,
Is worthy of high praise.
Let the rheumatic, halt, lame and palsied
Invalid examine its qualities, and they will Not be disappointed. Years of study and Investigation have enabled the proprietors of the Mexican Mustang Liniment to furnish a remedy,
Extraordinary in its power over diseases,

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.

MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.
MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs during the last spring—spitting of blood considerably with soreness of chest, &c., I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WAGGY.

REVIVAL PREACHERS.—At the late anniversary at Audover Theological Seminary, the Rev. M. P. Braman, of Danvers, one of the most talented Othodox ministers of New England, denominated them the "Mendicant friars of the Protestant Church." And he said he had a copy of a letter in his possession from one of this class, in which, by way of negotiating the pay for his services, the gentleman stated that he expected to be instrumental in converting at least two hundred souls, and that they would be worth certainly a dollar apiece. If, added Mr. Braman, conversions were raised to a dollar the head, they should be warranted the genuine article.—Boston Trans.

DR. ORDWAY'S

HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattlesnake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt-Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR SIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him. and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivaled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchia: affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most eminent physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by
W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University.
Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y.
W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University.
N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University.
T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila.
Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana.
Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon.
G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine.
J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. This Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine distinct figures, which has been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swain, copy right secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present a cheap system for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of the rejection of a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and information rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can secure avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had as much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE,
Washington, Dec 7, 1852."

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR,—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent I am very respectfully, Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can procure the genuine and celebrated THOMAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, &c.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV, late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it cost $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE.

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

MAN'S LIFE SAVED BY A DOG.—The St. Paul's (Minnesota) Times, gives an account of a murderous assault, near Shakopee, upon a German, named Ernest Kaiser, who having lost his way, inquired of three men he met, the road to S. Having led him out of the way and up the river's bank, one of them knocked him down with a gun, robbed him of his watch, and then threw him into the river. The water revived him, and when restored to consciousness, he found one of his dogs holding him by the bosom of his shirt, and endeavoring to drag him to the shore. By this assistance he gained the land, when he was again seized by the robbers and hurried into the river. His dog came again to his assistance, and helped to support him on the water. At this moment a steamer came along, and the attention of the crew being attracted by the barking of a small dog upon the shore, they found the man nearly exhausted, but still held above the water by his faithful dog; his body and limbs covered with bruises from the blows which the robbers had inflicted upon him. He was saved.

A Bristol paper has the following:—Twenty two years ago a marriage took place in this city, which from some cause or other was invalidated, and the parties separated. The lady went to India and married an officer, who subsequently rose to the rank of general in the army, and on his death bequeathed to his widow a large fortune. The gentleman also married, and about a year since his wife on discovering various old love letters, &c., in his possession, proposed to burn them; but fortunately, as will be seen, did not do so. In due course of time the first wife died, and left to him who had once been her husband, no less than £20,000, stating that he would be enabled to prove his identity by the documents in his possession. The fortunate heir, who lives in this city, was soon found, and his claim duly established; and he has, we believe, received the legacy of his 'first love,' to the comfort and delight, we presume, of his 'second.'

THE LAST IMPOSITION.—A lady of elegant address and manners has been visiting the gentlemen's offices in New York, stating that she had in press, to be issued on a specified day, a valuable book, the production of her two daughters, and that as their support was dependent on the profits of the sales, she had decided to use her personal efforts to introduce it. Her pleasant ways and winning smiles entrapped many an unwary subscription in advance. The day of publication passed, but the book did not arrive; and nothing has since been heard either of the lady, her daughters, or their "valuable work."—Boston Journal.

AN INCIDENT.—The Traveller learns, on good authority, that some weeks ago a vessel sailed from Turks Island, bound to Boston, with a cargo of salt. During the voyage, the master, a very stout man, died, and the mate, his son, desiring to bring his body to Boston for Christian burial, and deeming that salt was a preservative from corruption, dug a hole in the cargo several feet deep, placed the dead body of his father within, and covered it up. Upon the arrival of the vessel, the body was found to be in a state of decomposition, and was with difficulty buried. Upon the representation of the owners, the Custom House authorities took off the duty on the salt, it being the intention of the owners to sell it for manure.

COAL.—The item of wood on all railroads in the Eastern States is becoming a very onerous expense. The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser says that the price now paid by the New Haven Railroad is $8 per cord, (for Southern pine) which is the highest ever given. The company design, at as early a day as possible, to run all their freight trains with Cumberland coal, and have already one powerful engine upon the road, doing excellent service. If coal should eventually prove impracticable, coke will be substituted.

LONGEVITY.—Thomas and Jerusha Bacon, of Ware, who have recently deceased, the former at the age of 90 years, the latter at 84, enjoyed their matrimonial life for a period of 66 years. They had 12 children, and the latter had 59; while the great grand-children are numerous and widely scattered, one of them, though but 15 years of age, being married, and already having one child, thus extending the progeny of the first pair to the fifth generation. Thomas Bacon was a patriot of the revolution.—Springfield Republican.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23, 1854.

CAPE NEDDICK—PORTSMOUTH.

The following extracts are from a letter, descriptive of scenes in this vicinity, written by K. (T. S. King) in the Boston Transcript.

A friend of mine, a young Boston merchant, has endeavored often, during the last two or three years, to excite my enthusiasm for this point of the Maine shore, up to the visiting fever, but without success. Lately, however, being drawn towards Portsmouth by another call, I promised to drive out with my friend, and see his favorite summer retreat. I knew that at any rate a visit to Portsmouth would amply repay me. Dear old step-mother! None of her real children love her better than I do, adopted by her when I was three years old. I have not seen her but once before in the summer, for several years. That was on the Fourth of July of last year, when she put on her best cap and brightest ribbands, and with a heart brimming with joy, spread her bounties for her returning sons. She has poets among her boys that can celebrate in verse the rich points of her estate; but though there are very few of her children whose pens can dip in such sweet, pathetic juices as Mrs. Partington keeps to record her love for the dear old haunts, or can measure such graceful melodies as those into which Fields weaves his filial gratitude, there are hundreds in whose memories a light no less mystic falls upon the old Spring Market, and the Plains, and the Fountain-head, and the South Mill Bridge, and Sagamore Creek, and Half-moon Pond—making them the brightest spots in the landscape of the heart. We visit them now, and the charm does not lie upon them to the outward eyes; but the instant we go away from them, and see them lie in the haze of childhood, they are tinged with "the light that never was on sea or land."

It was six in the morning when we started from the hospitable homestead of my companion on our excursion. We had a barouche and a pair of horses. I insisted upon driving—partly because when I used to play horse with my friend, twenty five years ago, in Portsmouth, I always preferred to hold the string and let him wear the bit, and partly because the ladies in the back seat knew him to be a reckless driver, although a most safe and thrifty merchant. We had our joke about the necessity of being off so early to avoid the crowded thoroughfares. If one wants to know what silence is, where peace is perfected, let him go to Portsmouth. The pulse of life beats more slowly there than in any limb of our body politic. The winds blow more softly there; the light lies more loosely upon the landscape; the smoke floats more languidly; the grass grows in the street at its own sweet will; even the processes of decay loiter in their work, for the old familiar buildings yield very tardily to the laws of age, as though time did not put his teeth into them with such vigorous will as he shows elsewhere. The dear old town is sleeping by the sea, dreaming perhaps of early hopes and of more prosperous days before the fire. The noble Piscataqua rushes by her wharves, eager for more keels to cut its eddies; but its swift current and its proud tides appeal for work in vain. This quiet is the charm and glory of Portsmouth. The moment she shall briskly bestir herself, the individuality of her beauty will be lost; she will be a common commercial town. It requires latent genius, concealed strength of character, to keep so still amid the tumult and ferment of busy New England. There is more vitality generally in a modest Quaker, than in most of the noisy demagogues that roar themselves up to the dignity of public disgust. Blessed city of repose—beautiful oasis of Arabian quiet amid the agitations of our western life—sweet parenthesis of peace set in the flow of our tumultuous days, keep thy serene indifference to the mercenary prizes of our noisy age, and be ever, as now, to thy grateful sons, a city of refuge, a temple of affection where the chaffer of the money changers is scarcely heard!

But, bless me, I should have been, by this time, half way to Cape Neddick, in our excellent barouche. The reader should have had the lovely river view pointed out to him from the bridge to Kittery, with the various fine landscapes that skirt the road to York—and we should have stopped to rest the horses in the shade of "Love-grove." * * * * *

The Cape Neddick House is twelve miles from Portsmouth, in the town of York.—There are fine woods and grove walks near, and those that love semi-mountain climbing, and a grand mountain sweep of landscape and seascape, can ride to the foot of Agamenticus, three miles distant, and walk to its top, eight hundred feet in height. I did not try this. The looks of the hill so disappointed me that I would not patronize it. From our glorious headland in Pigeon Cove, I have often seen it rise out of the sea to the north, like a spectral knoll, on a clear day—a blue bowl-shaped bubble, as though it might belong to the parish of "Bubbleton," which the popular story, published recently by Mr. Tompkins, has made familiar to thousands.—It has a filmy majesty seen at such distance, arching delicately on the ocean horizon; but it looks mean and squatty when one comes near.

The great excursion from Mrs. Freeman's, is to Bald Headed Cliff, two miles distant. I must say that I have never yet seen so grand a combination, so bold and defiant a wrestle, of rock and sea. The ledge runs out some three hundred feet from the shore, and the sides of it are as smooth as if polished with pumice. In a geological point of view, the shore here is more interesting than almost any spot on our northern coast. The crossing trap-dykes and the evident hustling aside of upper strata by oblique upheaval of lower rocks, afford fine measures of the force with which the hide and ribs of the earth have quivered and hunched at the touch of the central fire. Just as we came upon the edge of the bluff, from the pasture, a magnificent eagle was rising from the water with a fish in his talons. He had just reached our level, and we could almost touch him. There was something grand as the ocean-growl in the strong beat of his wings. Could we have been there unobserved a few minutes sooner, we might have seen that splendid picture of Tennyson's realized:

> The wrinkled sea beneath him crawls;
> He watches from his mountain-walls,
> And like a thunder-bolt he falls.

I propose that, henceforth, so grand a promontory shall be called Eagle Ledges, instead of Bald Headed Cliff. It is not properly a cliff, but a huge ledge, chipped, gouged, and channelled most lawlessly where it fronts the ocean. There was a moderate swell while we were there, and we could watch the liquid chisel of the sea at its unwearied task upon the blue and slaty substance of the crags.—Atom by atom they yield to the muscular swing of the billows, worn and polished by their frothy edges—the toughest creations conquered by the softest—and the noise of this constant sculpture is the music of the world.

The rocks are torn into such varieties of form, that all the beauty of wave-motion and the whole gamut of ocean eloquence are offered there to the eye and ear. The soft swosh of the lighter waves upon the smooth side walks of the ledge; the bellow of the breakers that are driven into the rifts and caverns where the sunlight never strayed; the gurgle of the waters as they run back from out the cold chambers of darkness; the dash of an irregular roller upon the rough front of the battlement; the full majestic bass of a billow that charges the rocks in plumed order; the heavy thump of the waves upon the foundation of the bluff, waking a muffled moan as from the earth's weary heart;—and all the splendors which the ocean offers to the eye—the scattering of creamy foam over a flat carpeted rock, and the dying of its whiteness into the gloomy bronze of the weed; the sparkle of the frolicing froth in the sun; the curl of the solemn rollers, and the bewitching green of their crests as they bend, just before they tumble in music; all the loveliness and majesty of the ocean are displayed around this jagged and savage browed promontory. No place can be more glorious after a heavy storm. Just before we left, a little humming bird fluttered over the edge of the cliff towards a lady that went with us. Nature had shown us the top wave of her power in the eagle; thus she touched our hearts with the lightest feathery spray of her ornithological art.

But I must say good bye without driving you upon York beach, or offering you either a single plate of Mrs. Freeman's chicken pie, or a dish of her blackberries. K.

NEW YORK MILK.—The City Inspector has presented a long report on the subject of New York Milk, which is enough to turn the stomach of any man, who is disposed to consider with any degree of fastidiousness, the ingredients of his daily food. There is a very profitable trade driven by the New York distillers, who feed hundreds of cows on the distillery slops, and feed half the people of New York on the milk accruing from the unsavory animals. The cows will not eat still slops unless they are continually kept in the stable and have nothing else to eat. Hence they become diseased and die in two or three years. This cow-stable and distillery together, form an immense nuisance.

☞ The London Quarterly Review, for July, Scott & Co.'s fine American reprint, has just been received. The contents are—The House of Commons; Milman's Latin Christianity; The Drama; Classical Dictionaries; The Electric Telegraph; Christianity in Melanesia and New Zealand; Queen Elizabeth and her Favorites; Lord Lyndhurst and the Eastern Question. We have rarely seen a better number of any periodical than this. The articles are not only readable, but each is highly interesting.

KNOW-NOTHING AND AMERICAN CRUSADER—Never, since our remembrance, has there been such a furore created by the appearance of a weekly newspaper. This publication is issued in Boston, by EDWARD W. HINKS &c., and the city of Notions may justly be proud of it and the marked power and ability exhibited in its editorial management. Its motto is "GOD AND OUR COUNTRY!—DEEDS, NOT WORDS!" It is supposed to be the organ of the "Know-Nothings, and goes in for "The repeal of all naturalization laws"—None but Native Americans for office"—"A pure American school system"—"War to the hilt on Political Romanism"—"American Institutions and Sentiments"—"the sending back of all foreign paupers landed upon our shores"—"and finally, American Laws and American Legislation, and death to all foreign influences, whether in high places or low."

Terms, Two Dollars a year, Clubs of forty to one address, $50. Thirty, $42, Twenty, $30; Ten, $16,66; Six, $10,50.—Literary Budget, Chicago, Ill.

CONVICTED.—In the Municipal Court, Boston, on Saturday, William Huxford, the person who was arrested for assaulting R. H. Dana, Esq., on the evening of June 2d, and who subsequently fled to New Orleans and was brought back to this city on an executive warrant, was tried and convicted of the assault—the jury being absent but about eight minutes. Huxford will be sentenced on Tuesday morning.—Boston Journal.

LOCAL.

THE LAUNDRY.

A friend of this proposed improvemen wishes to get before the people of this city, these two ideas, viz.:—that we can have here a good Laundry, wherein the washing and ironing of 100 families can be done better and cheaper than it is now done at home; and that this Laundry will not make itself, but must be got up and carried on by the expenditure of some labor and a little money.

He says that 100 shares of 25 dollars each, will put the Laundry in operation; after which the earnings of the Laundry, and of the Baths to be connected therewith, are expected to be adequate to keep the wheels in motion.

Who wishes to get rid of Washing Day?—If any, let him take one share, or half a dozen, in the Laundry and Bath.

☞ The Angel Gabriel, or some other of the same family, wingless, and with something of a beard, was blowing round our streets and squares on Tuesday, tooting away on his trumpet for a few blasts, and then talking as fast as his tongue could run for a few moments, asserting his right to speak against slavery and popery.

A few hearers gathered round him at each place where he made a stand: but our working men were too busy to stop work; and our loafers were too lazy to turn out; besides, the wind blew the dust which a month's dry weather had pulverized, into people's eyes and down their throats, at such a rate that the very best of street preaching would hardly draw an audience.

Nobody molested the angel; and we presume no one would if he blew round here for a week, in the day time. In the evening, among half drunken rowdies, he might fare worse.

THE ELEPHANT.—On Monday, a well built gentleman from the country, who had probably always resided in the rural districts and never seen the elephant, came into the city, and in the course of his peregrinations was introduced, not exactly to the animal himself, but to a frail fair one who was fully acquainted with the customs and habits of the aforesaid quadruped.

She did her best as his chaperone, and was so successful that he was looking round next morning for his money, (about $40) which somebody had unaccountably taken out of his pocket the night before. Not succeeding in this endeavor, he applied to the City Marshal for assistance to find the whereabouts of his fair friend, who he very ungenerously suspected of abstracting the money. At the last accounts he had succeeded in obtaining a portion of his money, and left.

HIT BY A BOTTLE.—Two or three sailors from Nova Scotia had been drinking and swelling round the Spring Market, on Tuesday, in a pot-valiant way, one of them repeatedly saying he could whip any man in Portsmouth, &c. They were joined by some of our own people about as sober as themselves, and almost as valiant, and in the afternoon a dispute arose, when one of the Nova Scotians struck a man living in this city named Manson, who was standing in a shop door at the Spring, knocking him down, and cutting his head badly, so that he was taken home helpless. The assaulter was arrested.

☞ We learn that orders were received at the Navy Yard, on Tuesday, for adding 50 feet to the length of the great ship-house for the purpose of housing the Franklin, during her rebuilding. The work on the house is to be done forthwith.

THE PEAK FAMILY, we understand, gave their first Concert in Newburyport on Tuesday evening, to a large and fashionable audience. They sing there again to-night; and give their first Concert here to-morrow evening, when they will undoubtedly meet with the reception they so richly merit.

A NEW STREET.—We copy the following communication from the Gazette, at the suggestion of the writer—adding these facts,—that about one quarter part of the street is now open and fenced; that the whole street here mentioned is sure to be opened at some future time; that there are now no buildings in the way; and that a street is projected, to continue this proposed street as it crosses Auburn street, and come out near Wibird's Hill, in Middle Road.

It is for the people of this city to consider whether they approve the object, and whether they are willing to pay for it, or what is about the same thing, to pay interest on the cost; also, whether it is better economy to lay out a street now, when there are no obstacles in the way, or to wait till buildings are erected, and other obstacles placed on the proposed line of the street.

A petition is in circulation for a new street, to commence at the Universalist Church and terminate at about the middle of Auburn street. We consider this an enterprise which has long been needed to be consummated.—A street to pass through this section of our city will add greatly to the interests of Portsmouth as a suburban as well as a business city. It will open a communication with one of our pleasantest and most frequented high ways, and will pass along through the pleasantest and most delightful scenery which Portsmouth exhibits.

It is an enterprise the importance of which it is hoped will not be overlooked. It promises a present as well as a future improvement. It is the commencement, it may be, of a greater enterprise, which Portsmouth will reveal in her now flourishing career. A public Mall is yet to be an additional ornament to our now already high standing for neatness and beauty. Portsmouth now moves slowly in this enterprise, by an under-feeling which exists in its favor. A public walk is one of our undeveloped enterprises which must come in the future. It is no more than other cities have accomplished and no more than other cities have felt and found to be a public benefit. L.

A CARD.

To the Editors of the Chronicle:—

GENTLEMEN:—A false and libellous communication in your paper of this morning signed "G. ROWE, for the Party," is calculated to injure me and my business by those not acquainted with the party, if suffered to go unnoticed; but a plain statement of facts will, I think, counteract its intended effect. It is true, I have had but little experience as a landlord, and therefore cannot be expected to know all the people in the region round about my house who occasionally make excursions to the seaside for recreation and amusement. A person who keeps a public house cannot, it is well known, select his visitors, nor shut his doors against any company who behave themselves with propriety. Our only means of judging of the respectability of parties who call upon us is by their actions; and I confidently challenge any well-behaved people to convict me or my family of exhibiting toward them any other than the most respectful treatment. The general demeanor of "the party" who polish the card in your paper of this morning (consisting of three gentlemen and four ladies) appeared to my wife and myself as far different from that which generally characterizes virtuous people, and we did not wish to keep them over night: and their conduct while in our house we think fully justified our suspicions.

On the Tuesday evening alluded to in their communication, "the party" came to our house at a quarter past 9 o'clock, after we had all retired, broke a curtain hook and otherwise damaged the ladies' sitting room, which they occupied until 12 o'clock, and were guilty of other outrages upon decency, which respectable married people are never guilty of. On the following evening, notwithstanding the insult of the previous day, "the party" called upon me again, and after they left I found several of my chair cushions cut and spoiled, and a good sofa cut in two or three places.—The room that evening was occupied by no persons but "the party" who publish the card in your paper, and the damage was done while they occupied the room. The facts can be proved, and shall be when proof is demanded; and I cannot believe that the public will censure me very strongly for hesitating to furnish lodgings for such customers.

The evidence of the character of "the party" may be seen at the Sagamore House in the mutilated furniture of the room they occupied, and the public will judge of my willingness to accommodate dissolute company from the complaints of "the party," who probably concluded that their names would not add to the weight of their complaint.

The Sagamore House will, as heretofore, be ever open for the entertainment of ladies and gentlemen, and our best efforts shall be used for their entertainment; but while we endeavor to treat all customers respectfully, we ask decent treatment from them, and therefore wish not the prtronage of rowdies.

TWO WEEKS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW ORLEANS, 21st.

The steamer United States has arrived, with California dates to the 1st of August.

The Democratic State Convention, after great disturbance, nominated two tickets.

The trial of the City Marshal of San Francisco resulted in his conviction.

At Marysville, a large fire occurred, destroying five squares and involving a loss of $250,000.

Wm. B. Sheppard was hanged for the murder of Henry Day.

The wheat crop has been harvested; it was large, and was being exported in great quantities.

From Ireland the latest reports represent all the crops as maturing abundantly. A gentleman who has traveled through 'the kingdom,' as the Galway Packet calls Ireland, never saw the potato crop in a more flourishing condition. In consequence of the abundance, it was expected that the price would fall to 3d or at least 4d per stone.

Stringham has transferred his flag from the frigate Cumberland to the steam frigate Saranac, Capt. Long, and leaves in her for Constantinople. The Cumberland is to cruise off the coast of Spain with the St. Louis, Capt. Ingraham; and the Levant, Capt. Turner, is looking after the pirates roving near Smyrna. Capt. Ingraham, who had leave to return, prefers remaining to the expiration of his cruise, and Capt. Morris, who was to command the St. Louis, is Flag Captain. Officers and crews all well.

NEW YORK, August 19.—General Paez, whose arrival at Venezuela was anxiously looked for at the latest dates from that country is still residing in New York.

The Tribune says Bronson has reconsidered his declaration and agreed to run as the candidate of the Hard Shells for Governor.

Capt. Charles A. Marshall, of the packet ship Yorkshire, was yesterday held to bail in $6000 to answer to the charge of being accessory to the death of the seaman Nicholas Cook, from ill treatment on board his vessel.

MASKED LIQUOR SELLERS.—Pawtucket, R. I., 19th.—A hotel keeper near Trent Hall, in this town, and four assistants, employed to sell liquor in disguise, with masks on, to evade the law, have been convicted and committed to jail. The hotel was surrendered and closed its bar.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.
MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.

MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my lungs during the last spring—spitting of blood considerably, with soreness of chest, &c., I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WRIGHT.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattlesnake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb, for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth.
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer for years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications have set in, it is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ⚓

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Full directions for the above medicines, on the Bottles. Orders should be accompanied with full directions how it should be sent.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by

W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University.
Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y.
W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University.
N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University.
T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila.
Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana.
Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon.
G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain.
J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of the latter work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copy right secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on as much reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ——

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully, yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE.

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

HARPER'S

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

MELANCHOLY CASE OF INSANITY.—On Tuesday, 15th, Mrs. Mary Wedgewood arrived in this city from Tamworth, N. H., with three children from 2 1-2 to 9 years of age. She was taken in a carriage by her request to the house of Rev. Mr. Kirk, and finding the family absent, went to the private residence of Col. Paran Stevens, Beacon street, with whom she was acquainted, where she persisted in staying over night. Since that time she has been taken care of under the direction of Capt. Morrill, of the second police station, and has manifested decided evidences of insanity. It appears that her husband was formerly a grocer in this city, and upon going to California, sent her to a farm in Tamworth, which was mortgaged. The mortgage having become due, and the mortgagee wishing his money, together with other difficulties, affected the mind of the poor woman in such a way as to overthrow her reason. On Friday afternoon she was sent to the Insane Hospital, and her children for the present will go to Deer Island.—Boston Post.

FIRE AND ARRESTS AT CHESTER, ME., FACTORIES.—On Tuesday night of last week, the grist mill owned by Dwight Wilcox at Chester Factories was entirely destroyed by fire, together with its contents. The property was valued at $2000, and was insured for $1700 in the Farmers' and Mechanics' office at Worcester. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary, and is considered an additional exhibition of revenge upon the Carson league and its supporters, with whom Mr. Wilcox is known to be identified. E. Hubbard 3d, Otis Hamilton, B L. Kingsley, A. L. Richards and Lewis Gibbs were arrested on Friday, on three charges, one for blowing up the Methodist church in that village last spring, another for shearing the horse of Henry Dewey, and a third for burning the grist mill. They were brought to this city and arraigned before Justice Hooker, and put under bonds of $600 each.—Springfield Republican.

FIRE IN THE WOODS.—The fire which has been burning for the last fortnight upon the plains, east of this city, has extended to the highlands between Concord and Loudon, and is destroying immense quantities of wood and timber. On Sunday it was raging in the vicinity of the broken ground, and many men were out endeavoring to stop its progress.—We have heard the quantity of land burnt over estimated at 2500 acres. The ground is so dry, that this burning upon the plains, is not a mere skimming of the leaves on the surface, as such fires have been wont to be, but the whole soil in some instances is completely burnt off, leaving nothing but a bed of sand. Unless there shall be timely rains, of which there seems little prospect, there can be no telling the amount of damage which will be done.—Concord Reporter.

DREADFUL LIGHTNING DISASTER.—At Lysander, Michigan, August 14, the house of Mr. Merchant was struck by lightning, which killed him, his two daughters and two sons, leaving only his wife and son eight years old, both of whom were injured, and the former being nearly deranged from her misfortune.—The night had been very warm, and they took off their beds and placed them on the floor in a cool room where stood a stove, and the lightning, coming down the stove pipe, divided on the stove hearth and struck the whole family of seven, of whom only two survive. If they had remained in bed on their bedsteads no one in the house would have been injured.—Boston Courier.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A camphene lamp in a butcher's shop, on Western Row, near Liberty Square, Cincinnati, exploded on the 16th, while it was being filled.

Three children who were in the shop at the time, were so dreadfully burned that they have since died, and the man who was filling the lamp when it exploded, is not not expected to live.

VESSEL RELEASED.—The Traveller learns that the acting British Consul in Boston, Mr. Elliott, has received a communication from the government of New Brunswick, stating that the schooner Ellen, of Salisbury, Mass. seized for a breach of the fishing laws, has been liberated. This is owing to the exertion of Mr. Elliott, and is an instance of good feeling on the part of our neighbors, which the Reciprocity treaty, if it goes into effect, will tend to increase.

Dentistry.

FRANK FULLER, DENTIST,

CALLS the attention of Citizens and Strangers to his extensive and complete

DENTAL ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 60 Congress Street,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

The establishment has been recently thoroughly refitted and enlarged, and the facilities for the performance of every operation in

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 24, 1854.

RECOLLECTIONS OF THE REVOLUTION!—No: that's too old; it won't do. Recollections of the War of 1812 will do better. In this last named war it was that the famous battle of Blandensburg was fought, and the British burnt part of the city of Washington, including the President's House, the public offices, and the Houses of Congress—not the men, but the buildings, for the men were not there. We thought it was a mean trick in the British to burn our Capitol, though we felt rather cheap about it ourselves. The English papers gloried it then, but the best of them are ashamed of it now. The London Times in the course of a recent editorial review of the various naval invasions chronicled in the world's history, makes what the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser calls a "note-worthy confession" in admitting as it does that—

The success of the British force that dashed up the Potomac, landed, and after a quick march destroyed Washington, and then as speedily beat a retreat, can hardly be considered an affair of legitimate warfare, being little more than a piratical and fruitless surprise on an unarmed and unsuspecting population.

Besides this burning of Washington, the British vessels burnt the little town or village of Havre de Grace; and they also bombarded Stonington, Conn. almost a whole day, and if we remember rightly, they kept up their fireworks in the evening. During this cannonade, they killed a chicken and wounded a pig; but the other damage was not worth mentioning.

We could never see the least beauty or glory in these doings—but when our army burnt the parliament house at Little York, Canada, and some other buildings there, in retaliation, as we said for some British burnings on our coast, then we rejoiced with great joy. For we considered that sauce for the goose was not sauce for the gander. What was right for us was wrong for them. So when they burnt some thing it was outrageous and piratical; but when we burnt something it was glorious and honorable. When their ox was gored, we said it served him right—but when ours felt the horns, he made a terrible bellowing, and we helped him.

By the way the British officers said they burnt Washington, in revenge for our burning Little York. And our owa forces burnt a frigate on the stocks at Washington Navy Yard, and a sloop of-war which lay there, as well as every combustible thing at the Navy Yard, to keep them falling into the hands of the British.

PUTNAM'S MONTHLY, for September, 1854. is on hand with all commendable promptness. It begins with an able article on Our Parties and Politics, which is anything but commonplace, and is not very complimentary to any political party, past or present. It speaks of the "Whigs, as a party—being pretty much defunct" and of their "funeral oration being pronounced in a fine rich brogue by General Scott." "A remnant of the camp of former times, (it says,) a forlorn hope with Millard Fillmore as the drum-major, may strive to keep the old organism alive"—but to no purpose, for the old whig measures are obsolete, "and the party, as a party, are quite short of wind."

The writer's compliments for the democratic party are not much more savory. He divides them into two great classes—real or pure democrats, who are men of principle; and official or machine democrats,—and says that, "As the reins of power at certain times are apt to fall into the hands of little men—of a Tyler or Pierce for instance—the golden hour for narrow intellects and base hearts has arrived."

All political readers who are afraid of being hit, will please to skip over this article; but those who like to see hitting all round, will read it and gain flesh by the operation.

My Husband's Mother, is a tale well told, with a moral well pointed. The Proper Sphere of Man, is a fair offset for many a grave homily on the sphere and duty of woman.

The Editor at large—and the Note on Mrs. Stowe's Sunny Memories of Foreign Lands, are good fair touches of the critical pencil.

Israel Potter has a chapter or two of his adventures: and there are a dozen more articles besides, giving the number a great variety of matter.

We are glad to learn that this able monthly enjoys a generous and increasing support, of which it is richly worthy.

Miller, the self confessed murderer, who returned from St. Domingo to Philadelphia last week, cannot find anybody who knows anything about the crime which he says he committed. He is said to be sadly affected by Rheumatism, and besides that he may be crazy. A Philadelphia Despatch of Aug. 20, says he is dangerously ill, of fever, at the prison hospital. Whether guilty or not guilty, the poor man must be a great sufferer, to whom death would appear a relief.

FALL OF BUILDINGS.

On Tuesday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, (says the Boston Courier,) two of the six-story granite stores making the southerly end of Tilden's block in Broad street, Boston, occupied by Hunneman, Hazen & Co., druggists, and William K. Lewis & Co., pickle manufacturers, fell with a fearful crash—the whole corner back to the dwelling-house in the rear, and half of the second store, with their contents, exhibiting but a mass of ruins. The smoke and dust raised caused an alarm of fire, but no fire being discovered the engines returned to their houses. The large granite blocks making the front of the building, strewed over a street usually full of vehicles, men, women and children, caused a terrible fear that many persons passing by as well as in the building might be buried under the ruins. The story soon spread over the city, and it was with great difficulty that the excited crowd could be kept from the vicinity, yet a scene of danger.

A force was soon at work, under the direction of the police, and after a great amount of labor, the body of a young girl was extricated from the ruins, near the corner of the building, two masses of stone forming a partial arch over her. She was found to be injured seriously in the head and otherwise, but still living. Near her was found the body of a boy, completely crushed. They were taken to a store in the neighborhood, and from thence the girl was taken to the Hospital and the body of the boy to the dead-house. The girl was Margaret Riley, 10 years old, the boy, David Riley, a cousin of the girl, 8 years old. At the Hospital it was found necessary to perform a trepanning operation upon the skull of the girl, which was done by Dr. Townsend. When last heard from in the evening she was doing well, with a prospect of recovery.

It was feared after the boy and girl were taken from the ruins, that others, who were in the stores at the time, might have met with a similar fate. No one, however, was missing, except William Downing, 18 years old, in the employ of Hunneman, Hazen & Co. The workmen who were employed on the new building adjoining say they saw a man jump from the window, but the walls falling at the same moment, nothing was seen of the man or of his remains.

At 5 o'clock, a fire burst out of the ruins of the corner store, in the cellar of which was a steam engine. This fire continued to rage among the combustible material; the drugs emitting a suffocating smell, preventing the firemen from working to advantage, or the police force from removing the huge materials which might be supposed to cover the unfortunate young man. It was not until 9 o'clock that most of the department were dismissed.

The first alarm relative to the safety of the building was excited on Tuesday morning, when it was discovered that the partition wall between the stores of Lewis & Co., and Hunneman, was crumbling, or yielding under the pressure upon it. A mason, it is said, was called in, who gave it as his opinion that the building was unsafe. As many of the persons employed in the building as were not absolutely required to remain were directed to leave, yet it was not supposed there was immediate danger. Until 3 o'clock the danger was not very apparent, when one of the firm of Lewis & Co. went into the store of his neighbor, believing that to be in the most critical condition, and entreated the inmates to leave at once. He returned to his own store, and soon afterwards the walls fell. A customer of Messrs. Lewis, who went in to pay a bill, had a narrow escape, and Mr. Lewis, and four of his men and boys, who were with him in the back part of his store, which was not included in the fall, escaped by the rear of the building, into Hamilton place.—John H. Baker, a clerk in the store of Hunneman, Hazen & Co., states that he was at the door of the store when he heard the rumbling of the falling walls, and, with a bound, he barely reached the other side of the street before the whole building was in ruins. In his flight he left his hat behind him, and was partially covered by the mortar and dust. He knew of no one in the store except William Downing, who was in the second story at the time, and, as he supposed, beyond the possibility of escape.

The stores were owned individually by Abram French and John T. Wells, of the firm of French, Wells & Co. The cause of their fall is believed to be from the use of an old wall as the partition between the stores. This wall was a part of the old bake house, the foundation being of small stones, unlike the foundation of the other walls. It is stated that objection was made to the use of the wall, but Mr. Charles Tufts, the mason, was of opinion that the wall was sufficiently strong for any purpose.

Messrs. Hunneman, Hazen & Co. had a stock of goods the value of $40,000, and had been in the store but a few days. Messrs. Lewis & Co. had also a large stock of goods. William M. Stedman & Co., occupants of the third store, had not completed the removal of their goods into the store. Some of the granite blocks of this tenement hang with a fearful tenure over the heads of the passers by.

The Boston Journal of Wednesday evening mentions finding the dead body of Downing, the clerk who was buried in the ruins, and records the death of the little girl who was hurt. The Journal says:

We learn that the owner of the building was notified by the Messrs. Lewis several days ago of the weakness of the wall, and promised to attend to the matter. Yesterday noon a still more urgent letter was written to him, but it was "too late."

We are informed by Mr. French, one of the owners of the stores, that he had every reason to suppose, when the store was erected, that the defective wall was strong. It was a double-faced stone wall, resting upon the hard pan, and he was assured by the builders it that was as strong as any wall they could put up. Mr. French assures us that if he had had the slightest reason to suppose that the wall would have proved insufficient, he should have given directions to build a new foundation.—To this fatal lack of judgment on the part of the contractors, the accident must therefore be attributed.

The whole matter is to be legally investigated.

LOCAL.

STRUCK FOR HIGHER WAGES.—We are informed by an ex-employee on the North Church, that the ten carpenters who have been assisting to build that edifice, on Wednesday resolved to work no longer for $1,75 per day. They state that $2,00 per day is paid elsewhere, in and out of this city, and they want the same.

☞ The Peak Family give their first Concert at the Temple this evening. This is the only company in the country who unite the voice with the peal of the merry bell in sweet accord. All should hear them.

The Newburyport Herald learns that the factories at Salisbury and Amesbury Mills, have stopped running this week, on account of the low stage of the water. They were able to work only two or three hours a day last week.

AMERICAN MASS PIC NIC.—We are indebted to our old friend Charles F. Badger, the newsman of Newburyport, for an invitation to attend a Mass Pic Nic at Georgetown, Mass. on Wednesday next, Aug. 30. The managers "hope to meet a goodly number of American friends," and cordially invite the ladies. Able speakers are expected from abroad. The Newburyport Brass Band will be present; and Mr. H. S. Thompson's Trio Class will enliven the occasion with their rich note—as also his beautiful Juvenile Class of three or four hundred scholars. Tickets 50 cents, to be obtained of C. F. Badger, No. 6 Pleasant street, Newburyport. An extra train of cars will leave Newburyport for the Grove at 8 1-2 o'clock, A.M. Provided a sufficient number go from Portsmouth, the fare will be half price.

We learn that Mr. Saunders, manufacturing agent of the Pacific mill, at Lawrence, has resigned his situation. We anticipated this step, a month or two since, when at the time of the meeting of the Essex Company, we found that the directors of this mammoth mill were committed to a system of management which once and again has been tried and found a failure, and from which in Portsmouth there was no escape but in revolution. We knew that Mr. S., though not favored with an academical education, was too skilful a manufacturer and too shrewd a financier, and too tenacious of his reputation in both respects, to be long controlled in a course of action which his practical knowledge and experience foresaw would only result the longer it was continued in a proportionate waste and loss of capital.—Newburyport Herald.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH THE QUINCE BUSHES?—First the sycamores, and then the potatoes, have suffered, within a few years, from some mysterious agency, doubtless atmospheric; and now the quince bushes are stricken, in some cases, as with fire, but in all cases, in a singular manner.—During a recent journey through Rockingham County, we have carefully examined the quince bushes, our attention having been called to them previously, and we have not seen one that had not one or more dead branches. The fruit, upon all we have observed, is withered and shrunken, and the crop, in this region, must be a total failure, while the safety of the bush itself is yet a matter of doubt.—Exeter News Letter.

BARRETT'S GRAMMARS.

Somebody has laid on our desk a thick duodecimo volume of 400 pages, called Barrett's Grammars; English, Latin, Greek, German, Spanish and French.

On examination we find it to be a great book—great in its conceptions of the true nature and use of language; and skillful in tracing out the analogies and connections of one language with another.

It is a book to be studied by men of learning, and by intelligent and thinking men who mean to increase their knowledge.

We are glad, therefore, to see it recommended by some of the best presses, and by many of the most learned men throughout the country.

This book is issued from the University Press, Cambridge; and is sold at $1,50, only by subscription; not through the bookstores. An agent for the work is now in this city, canvassing for the work, and will deliver the books to subscribers in about ten days.

Every scholar who examines it, will readily perceive its great value and usefulness.

The travel on the Eastern Railroad, east of Newburyport is unusually large, this summer. The pleasure travel to Rye and Hampton beaches, is much greater than at any former season, and with the improvement of accommodations at these points will probably increase every year. Rye beach appears to be the most fashionable resort, and the houses have been well filled during the whole summer.—Herald.

RAIN AT THE SOUTH.—Richmond papers of Saturday last mention that copious rains have recently fallen in that vicinity, and that through the whole summer more rain has fallen than at any similar period within a century. The Richmond Bulletin, in view of the wet weather exclaims: "Oh, for a week of clear, bright, pleasant weather."

A FEMALE AERONAUT.—A Paris letter says: "We have a young and celebrated aeronaut, Mademoiselle Cecil, of the Hippodrome, who made her fortieth ascent last Thursday; she alighted, in a few hours, in a township in the adjoining department: the country people maltreated her as a witch."

The Marysville (Ky.) Eagle, has an account of the powder explosion in that city, which fills four columns in that paper. The Eagle says that those best able to judge estimate the damage at $45,000.

ARRIVAL OF THE U. S. STEAM FRIGATE SAN JACINTO.—The U. S. steam frigate San Jacinto, Captain C. K. Stribling, which sailed from Philadelphia 12th inst. for a cruise to the Baltic, met with an accident to her machinery on the 13th, and on Friday night anchored below Boston, her officers having thought it expedient to put in for repairs. She came up to the city this morning and was moored off the navy yard. We understand that the bedplate of the San Jacinto is broken—a most unfortunate accident, as it will be necessary to take out all her machinery in order to effect the necessary repairs. It is is also said that she sprung aleak. She will probably be detained two or three months, and of course her voyage to the Baltic will have to be given up, owing to the lateness of the season.—Boston Journal.

NOVEL FIRE AND PUT OUT.—The Manchester Mirror records that on Sunday evening last, the city farm belonging to that municipality was set on fire. We copy the Mirror's account of the conflagration:

It commenced on land belonging to the city, near Bridge street, and run down to near Lowell street, spreading over about four acres of grass land, doing but little damage. The fire companies turned out with unusual promptness (considering that it was Sunday night, when young men are apt to be courting,) and tugged their engines up that awful hill. There was no water within half a mile of the fire, but the firemen with bushes quickly whipped out the fire.

SEVERE BATTLE BETWEEN INDIANS.—Buffalo, August 19.—The St. Paul Pioneer of the 12th inst., contains an account of a severe battle between some Chippewa and Sioux Indians, near Yellow Medicine River. The Chippaws started on a war path hoping to surprise the Sioux and return with their scalps at their belts. They encamped on an open prairie, and the Sioux having notice of it, attacked them in the night, and 28 Chippawas were killed and a few Sioux wounded. The latter took one young squaw prisoner, and Major Murphy, with a company of soldiers, had started to effect her rescue.

A MAN SHOT BY A DOG.—A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says:—Mr. Peter Kilmore of Copoke, was out hunting with a two barrelled gun, and having discharged one barrel at a bird he brought the butt of his gun to the ground with the muzzle leaning against his left breast. His dog coming up, jumped with his fore paws against him, and when his paws came down they struck the trigger of the other barrel, and discharged the whole contents in his breast, and lodged in his shoulder. The accident took place on Sunday the 7th inst., and the man lived until the next Friday, when he died.

FROM LIBERIA.—A letter dated Monrovia, June 13, 1854, mentions the death of Mrs. Margaret Williams, mother of the Rev. Samuel Williams, aged 86; and Alfred Freeman, a young and promising member of the bar.—The remainder of the company are doing well and it is presumed that the saw mill will very soon be in operation. The President will leave by this steamer for Europe, as the enfeebled state of his system demands a relaxation from the arduous duties which he has to perform. Mr. Benson will perform his duties in his absence.

NAVAL.—NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—The razee Independence was placed in the dry dock at the Navy Yard, yesterday, at 11 o'clock. The vessel with all her armament on board was secured on the Keelblock. Her weight at present is about six thousand tons, the greatest ever placed in any United States dock.—She is to be taken out this morning and will be ready for sea on the 1st of September.

HEAVY FAILURE—DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Messrs. Alfred Edwards & Co. silk jobbers, suspended payment yesterday; liabilities not known, but believed to exceed $500,000.

The brewery and rectifying establishment of Stevenson, on the corner of 10th avenue and 39th st. were almost wholly destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The loss on buildings, machinery, stock, &c. is estimated at from 20 to $25,000. Insured for $12,800.

In Londonderry, N. H., on Saturday night, the house, barn, and all the out buildings of Daniel Watts, with 40 tons of hay, 14 head of cattle, carriages, furniture, &c., were entirely consumed by fire. The fire was first discovered in the barn, about half-past nine o'clock. There had been no lantern or lamp of any kind in the barn for several weeks, nor had any one been to the barn that night after dark. Loss from $40,000 to $50,000. Insurance about $1500.

On Friday evening a general row occurred in Salem, between the Irish and the Americans, in which mallets, stones, etc. were used, but we hear of no one being dangerously hurt. Several of the Irish ringleaders were arrested. —Boston Atlas.

Our friends, of the Atlas, have somehow been imposed upon with a most preposterous "roorback." It probably grew out of the fact, that several drunken Irishmen were so troublesome about the cars of the Eastern Railroad, on Friday evening, that the conductor was obliged to put them out, at or near the depot. They were quarrelsome, turbulent, insolent, and noisy, and some of the passengers assisted in their expulsion. They were taken to the Police Court, and duly punished for their misdemeanor.—Salem Gazette.

ENGLISH ITEMS.—The English papers state that business is remarkably good in that country, notwithstanding the war. Much of this is attributed to the prospect of a large harvest, which always has a great effect upon business in England.

The Liverpool grain circular of the 4th Aug says there have been no direct imports of Flour from America, this week, but there have arrived 5522 barrels sour flour from Australia, which being bought very cheap, and shipped at a nominal freight, will leave a good result. Flour was free sale both Monday and Wednesday at the decline noted in our last.

Sagamore House, Frost's Point.
A CARD.
MONDAY, Aug. 21, 1854.

To the Editors of the Chronicle—

GENTLEMEN:—A false and libellous communication in your paper of this morning signed "G. R. Rowe, for the Party," is calculated to injure me and my business by those not acquainted with the party, if suffered to go unnoticed; but a plain statement of facts will, I think, counteract its intended effect. It is true, I have had but little experience as a landlord, and therefore cannot be expected to know all the people in the region round about my house who occasionally make excursions to the seaside for recreation and amusement. A person who keeps a public house cannot, if is well known, select his visitors, nor shut his doors against any company who behave themselves with propriety. Our only means of judging of the respectability of parties who call upon us is by their actions; and I confidently challenge any well-behaved people to convict me or my family of exhibiting toward them any other than the most respectful treatment. The general demeanor of "the party" who publish the card in your paper of this morning (consisting of three gentlemen and four ladies) appeared to my wife and myself as far different from that which generally characterizes virtuous people, and we did not wish to keep them over night: and their conduct while in our house we think fully justified our suspicions.

On the Tuesday evening alluded to in their communication, "the party" came to our house at a quarter past 9 o'clock, after we had all retired, broke a curtain hook and otherwise damaged the ladies' sitting room, which they occupied until 11 o'clock, and were guilty of other outrages upon decency, which respectable married people are never guilty of. On the following evening, notwithstanding the insult of the previous day, "the party" called upon me again, and after they left I found several of my chair cushions cut and spoiled, and a good sofa cut in two on three places.—The room that evening was occupied by no persons but "the party" who publish the card in your paper, and the damage was done while they occupied the room. The facts can be proved, and shall be when proof is demanded; and I cannot believe that the public will censure me very strongly for hesitating to furnish lodgings for such customers.

The evidence of the character of "the party" may be seen at the Sagamore House in the mutilated furniture of the room they occupied, and the public will judge of my willingness to accommodate dissolute company from the complaints of "the party," who probably concluded that their names would not add to the weight of their complaint.

The Sagamore House will, as heretofore, be ever open for the entertainment of ladies and gentlemen, and our best efforts shall be used for their entertainment; but while we endeavor to treat all customers respectfully, we ask decent treatment from them, and therefore wish not the pritronage of rowdies.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.
HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.
MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.
MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs during the last spring—spitting of blood considerably with soreness of chest, &c., I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WRIGHT.

RECRUTING FOR THE ARMY.—For the first time in several years past, recruting for the United States Army is going on in all regions of the country, perfectly satisfactory to the War Department, we imagine; thanks to the enactment of the law increasing the pay of the non-commissioned officers and men of the service. At one of the half-dozen rendezvous in New York city, in the course of ten days, very recently, ninety-six presented themselves, but twenty-four of whom were accepted. At four other rendezvous in New York, in the same time fifty men were accepted, and seventy were found unfit to be enlisted.

DR. ORDWAY'S

HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, giving the green of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES.

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged, it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the HUMOR Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchia. affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Full directions for the above medicines, on the Bottles. Orders should be accompanied with full directions how it should be sent.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y. " W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. T. Parks, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Lux, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name of the proprietor stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copy right secured

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by other Agents, made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents; persons application to him acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ——.

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent I am very respectfully,

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. THOMAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, &c.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE.

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

HARPER'S

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

FRENCH ITEMS.—There is a mania for rare old books, paintings and engravings.—The library of the late Armand Bertin, formerly editor of the Journal des Debats, recently sold, cost him only $8000, but it was apprised at $16,000, and the proceeds of the sale actually amounted to $25,000.

A tailor gave apprehensions to his family by his mania of buying engravings; at his death his collection was sold, the catalogue contained 1314 numbers, and the total amount of the sale was $42,600 to the inexpressible astonishment of his family.

The French peasantry are among the most ignorant in Europe, far below the English.—Near the Strasburg railroad, peasants have been apprehended and committed to prison for firing at the passing trains. It was ascertained that their guns were loaded with powder only, and that their purpose was to frighten travellers, so as to diminish at least the number; they believed that the cholera was propagated by the railroads. In several of the provinces, the rural population are persuaded that the steam of the locomotives vitiates the air, and especially occasions the potato-rot.

In the afternoon of Saturday, 22d July, Paris was flooded beyond any instance this century; several principle streets in the interior became navigable; a gentleman resident in Rue de la Victorie saw gamins (vagabond boys) swiming below his window: the omnibuses were everywhere inundated;—all the cellars and shops in the squares and near the river. Tenants and landlords, builders and their employers, are at law on the point who are to bear the extensive damage to merchandise and structures of one kind or other.—Five persons were killed by strokes of lightning; two were drowned in a narrow street, having been swept from the pavement.

Barron de Humboldt rejoiced exceedingly when he learned that his name was given to one of the largest and most splendid specimens of American naval architecture; the wreck of the vessel afflicted him in a corresponding degree.

A WATCH TO TELL HOW THE CONSCIENCE GOES.—A young Vermonter went to the Chief of Police in New York a day or two since, with a huge watch weighing about a pound, and inquired if it was gold. He said it looked more like gold when he first got it, than then—he had given $2,75 for it. "What," said the Chief, "did you expect to get a gold watch for that price?" "Well, I did'nt kneow what it was worth, and they said it had been stolen." "What!" said the Chief, "would you buy stolen goods? However, you have got a pretty good sized watch, and the best thing you can do is, to put it in your pocket, and whenever you think of doing any thing wrong, put your hand on it, to revive the recollection of your past experience!"

A LOCOMOTIVE.—The Cleaveland Herald states that an engine, built at the Cuyahoga Locomotive Works, in Cleaveland, was recently run by George Westfall, engineer, from Columbus to Erie, and 40 miles back towards Columbus—in all two hundred and ninety-five miles! with one tender of wood!! and this with an ordinary train of cars, and subject to all the checks, stops, and interruptions of every day running. "This fact," says the Herald, "is unprecedented in the history of locomotives."

At Portland, for two or three weeks, a large tract of the highlands in the vicinity has been on fire, and the city filled with smoke. Three engines have been kept out, to prevent it from approaching the dwelling-houses adjacent.—All the spare sleepers on the line of the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad, have been burnt, and on the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad several thousands cords of cord wood have been destroyed.

A large number of members of Congress are at the White Sulphur Springs in Greenbrier county, Va. There is virtue in brimstone.—Boston Post.

We hope so.

Capt. Charles A. Marshall, implicated by a Coroner's jury at New York in the homicide of Nicholas Cook, late a seaman on board the packet ship Yorkshire, was on Friday brought before Coroner Wilhelm for examination. He stated he was born in New York and is 23 years of age. In relation to the charge against him he said:—"I am not guilty." At the close of the examination bail to the amount of $10,000 was offered, but the Coroner declined accepting it, and referred the counsel of the prisoner to the District Attorney. The mates of the ship have fled.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 25, 1854.

PROSPECTS.—The long continued drought is effecting the prices of breadstuffs, and producing such an advance as must be seriously felt by the consumer whose means are not very abundant.

Another effect is also beginning to be seen, and by and by it will be felt. We shall have corn of all sorts enough to feed our own people, but only enough to feed them; not enough to export elsewhere; certainly not at present prices, nor judging from present appearances.

Flour is considerably higher in this city to-day, than it is in Paris or London. As a matter of course, if we buy Foreign dry goods, or cutlery, or any thing else, we cannot pay for it in corn and flour, but specie must go out and pay the balance.

Let the English and Continental European crops come in as well as they now promise; and let ours come in as poorly as from present appearances they may: let the prices fall ten per cent. there and rise ten per cent. here; and our Atlantic ports may receive their grain from Liverpool cheaper than they can get it down the rivers. In this case, more money still must go abroad.

Such a sudden change in business as this must produce; such a pinching of means on millions of our people, must take the air out of a thousand bubbles on the surface of our inflated prosperity, which otherwise might have floated some time longer.

It is a source of unpleasant thought, to look at many prospective cases of disappointment, and not a few of suffering, which must arise: but a reverse or check of business has been looked for by many, for some time. Not from this cause, of course, for this could not be foreseen: but from other causes, whose operation this diminished crop will greatly hasten and promote.

OUTRAGEOUS PROSCRIPTION.

The New Hampshire Patriot shows very clearly, that the strange case of "Outrageous Proscription" of the Postmaster at South Hampton, Mr. Goodwin, was no proscription at all; and if it had been, it could not be for "refusing to sanction the Nebraska fraud;" for he did sanction it.

The Patriot says—

If Mr. Goodwin was the Postmaster, he doubtless resigned before taking his seat in the House; and it may be true that Mr. Eaton was appointed in his place. * * * *

But Mr. Goodwin was thus "outrageously proscribed" because he "refused to sanction by his vote the Nebraska fraud." Now how was Mr. G. called upon "to sanction by his vote the Nebraska fraud?" The Journal will answer, by voting for the regular Democratic candidates and against the anti-Nebraska resolutions. And Mr. Goodwin did so! We never heard it suggested before that he did not vote for the regular Democratic candidates, from first to last, from Speaker to Senator.—And the record shows that he voted against every one of the resolutions above referred to. So it seems he did "sanction by his vote the Nebraska fraud," as far as any one was asked to sanction it.

The Boston Journal was evidently "barking up the wrong tree;" there was no coon to come out of it;—but quite another animal.

A DIFFERENT CONSTRUCTION.—The Providence Journal says:—Hints are thrown out and developments half made to the effect that the destruction of some millions of American, French and English property at Greytown, was not the result of a savage impulse in revenge for the insult to Mr. Borland, nor yet in the way of indemnity to the Transit Company for a boat load of flour stolen by one of its own men and the removal of a shanty from the ground where it had stood on sufferance with the distinct contract that it should be taken down at the pleasure of the city authorities. It is hinted that a deeper scheme is at the bottom of this outrage, and that the navy of the United States has been employed to batter down this town and burn all this property at the instigation of a gang of speculators, who found Greytown in the way of their plans and wished to destroy it.

We have all along taken the ground which we now hold, on this matter, viz.: that President Pierce and his cabinet advisers have really desired to avenge the injuries suffered by the Transit Company, and to wipe off the insult which Mr. Borland received for us,—and that they have done so very thoroughly—by the brilliant bombardment and more brilliant burning of Greytown.

We must therefore be excused from believing any such 'federal' stuff as the above from the Providence Journal, or the still more 'federal' story told in the Boston Herald, about the bombardment of pigsties. Our glorious achievements are not to be frittered away in this manner. The prowess of our navy, the honor of our flag, and the glory of our government are not to be trifled with.

The dry goods business in New York is said to have a downward tendency, and trade is very dull. The Times states that the amount of goods selling by jobbers is but one half as great as last year at this time. The New Yorkers will learn, after a while, that nothing is made in the long run, by attempting to force twice as many foreign goods upon the market as the country is able to pay for.

The "No License" ticket was triumphant throughout Texas.

THE CASE OF CAPT. GIBSON.—The Paris correspondent of the New York Tribune says that Capt. Gibson, who it will be remembered has a claim against the Dutch government for the confiscation of his ship and his own imprisonment in a vile dungeon in Java for eighteen months, has arrived in that city from the Hague. Mr. Auguste Belmont, who was sent out by the administration to prosecute this claim, allowed the Dutch government to set its own terms, which are that it will pay the price of the ship but is unwilling to recompense the captain for his loss of time, or for the eighteen months' imprisonment in a vile dungeon, and the indignities heaped upon him. Capt. Gibson is advised by Mr. Belmont to take that for "fear of getting nothing more." The correspondent of the Tribune gives the following account of an amusing incident connected with Capt. Gibson's visit to the Hague.

"When he arrived a short time ago at the Hague, it was a question with the government whether he should not again be arrested, as a fugitive from justice! One of the first demands of the Captain was for a return of the ship's papers. The request was acceded to, and on the following day a bundle of papers was brought him by a Government servant, large enough to fill a bushel basket, regularly bound up and sealed with the Government seal, and marked 'Captain Gibson papers.'—The Captain was surprised, but said nothing. When the servant was gone he opened the bundle and found to his astonishment, that it embraced all the State documents concerning his case; the history of his three trials in Java, the secret correspondence between the Dutch Government and the provincial authorities of the island; and, in fine, the secret and official history of the whole affair. This was too valuable an acquisition on the part of the captain to allow it to pass out of his hands without an effort to retain it, so the package was immediately despatched to London.

The next day an agent of the Government called upon the captain in great trouble, and, stating that the bundle had been sent to him by mistake, asked for its restoration. But it was too late—the package had left. The Government was furious towards the captain, and Mr. Belmont, being about to leave for his residence in Paris, informed him that he had better absent himself also, for that, when he was gone, it would hardly be safe to remain! The captain, having had sufficient experience of Dutch imprisonment, and but little confidence in the protecting power of the American Government, as administered through Messrs. Marcy and Belmont, deemed it best to take the latter's advice, and accordingly he is now in Paris, awaiting events."

The abduction of the Corcoran girl in Charlestown some time since, cost that city $981 13.

It was money well spent. The Mayor, Frothingham, showed his firmness and discretion also, in the management of that matter. He suffered the crowd to assemble, as they had a right to do, and consider and discuss the case of abduction. But, lest they should do some mischief, he had an extra strong police force prepared, which cost money, of course.

In so doing, he taught valuable lessons to two classes of dull scholars. First, he showed the catholics that if their sectarian zeal caused them to be so oppressive or so deceitful as to abduct a young woman, the public would look to it. And then he showed all others, that the property of all sects should be alike safe from wanton destruction.

Nebraska will soon be a Territory in fact, as well as in name. Mr. Burt, the new Governor, is now in this city, and is hurrying his arrangements to get away, in order to organize the territorial government by the 1st of October. He had a long interview yesterday with the President relative to the policy pursued in the administration of the affairs of the new Territory. Nothing will be done calculated to arouse the peculiar prejudices of the North. Indeed, Mr. Burt takes but one slave with him, an old servant woman, and she will be liberated upon her arrival there, and her free papers deposited with the Secretary of the Territory. Mr. B. goes out with the intention of making Nebraska his permanent home, and I predict for him a brilliant career in the West. No appropriations having been made for the erection of public buildings in the Territory, the Governor will erect for himself a tent, under which to hold his Council. Perhaps his red brethren will be hospitable, and invite him to their council fires.

PRE-EMPTION RIGHTS IN KANSAS AND NEBRASKA.—The Washington Union of last Tuesday publishes the Attorney General's opinion on pre-emption rights in Kansas and Nebraska. He says the act of Congress gives pre-emption only in such of the lands ceded by the Indians, as are not required first to be offered at public sale; that the lands ceded under the condition of being first offered at public sale, are no more open to pre-emption by act of Congress, than was the military reservation at Fort Leavenworth; that those lands cannot be taken under claim of pre-emption, and such claims will be void in law, and will confer no right on which a demand for a patent can be made from the Commissioner of Public Lands. Moreover, it will be the duty of the President to maintain by force the plighted faith of the United States in this matter.

SPREEING IT.—Lewis B. Richardson, a jeweler of Lowell, went to Manchester, N. H., last week, where he fell in with George A. Bodwell, an old acquaintance, got drunk, and was relieved of $175 of his cash. His friend was arrested and held for trial.

LOCAL.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—In the Board of Aldermen last evening, a petition was received from the Watchmen, asking that their pay be raised to $1.50—leave to withdraw and amend their petition.

A petition to widen the north end of Vaughan street was referred.

The amendment to an ordinance, fixing the salary of the City Messenger at $200 was repealed.

The resolution from the Common Council relative to the South Mill Pond, was read and a special committee appointed on the part of the Aldermen.

[Several bills were presented for approval; among them the bills of the printers for advertising, &c. which were approved with the exception of those items originating from officers declared by the "Majority of the Board of Aldermen" to be illegally elected, and that illegality, if it is such, caused by their own culpable neglect of duty. This is a grand way to keep the expenses of the city within bounds, by repudiating the bills after having made the appropriations, and will have great weight at the next election, on the score of economical management. Friend Fuller, of the Gazette, who is a believer in the illegality, had the audacity to present an account of this kind, but his friends expunged it.]

LAUNCH.—The ship LADOGA of about 900 tons burthen, will be launched from the ship yard of the Mechanics Ship Building Co. on Nobles Island, to-morrow, Saturday, afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

The Ladoga is owned by Messrs. Wm. Ropes & Son, Boston, is intended for the Russia trade, and takes the name of one of the lakes of that country.

☞ The roof of the Eastern Railroad Engine house in this city was set on fire by a spark, last evening, and a general alarm was raised. The fire was put out before much damage was done.

THE PEAK FAMILY.—Last night the Peak Family were received with enthusiastic applause. They have made great improvement in appearance, as well as in a musical point of view since they were last here. Mrs. Peak, and Master Eddie the musical prodigy, form a new feature in their attractions, and did themselves much credit. To-night they give their second and positively the last concert; go early if you wish to secure a seat.

☞ At the present term of the Court of Common Pleas, now in session at Dover, Mr. George Wm. Burleigh, of Great Falls, was admitted as an attorney to practice in all the Courts of this State.

PEACHES—are scarce at the North, and not very plentiful at the South—nevertheless a few good ones have arrived at Capt. Clark's; and were going off rapidly when we saw them last.

ARREST ON A CHARGE OF SEDUCTION.—Martin M. Washburn was arrested in State street, Boston, yesterday afternoon, on a warrant from Justice Drew, of Stratham, N. H. charging him with seduction.—Trans.

NEW YORK, 24th.

The George Law arrived at 8 o'clock, with 188 passengers, and $1,200,000 on freight.

The steamship Sonora arrived up at San Francisco on the 15th of July; the Cortez on the 18th; "Uncle Sam" and "Golden Gate" on the 30th.

The "George Law" reports, Aug. 22d, at 8 A. M. lat. 33, lon. 77, fell in with barque John Potter, of Boston, from Havana 15th, for New York, in distress. The Captain, David Fuller, and first mate, George Fuller (father and son), were dead of yellow fever. Put an officer in charge, with orders to take the barque into New York.

Preparatory orders had been received in San Francisco for Com. Dulaney, requiring immediate despatch of two armed vessels for the Sandwich Islands, on public service.

A great fight between two large parties of Chinese took place on the 15th, near Weaversville; 31 were killed, and large numbers wounded.

UNDER WHICH KING," &c.—The editor-in-chief of the New York Tribune, who reported the strong anti-slavery extension resolves at the Saratoga meeting, in his paper of Wednesday last denies that he ever opposed the election of a candidate to the Presidency, because he was a slave-holder, and says he has "already voted for Henry Clay, John Tyler, Zachary Taylor, and William A. Graham, all slaveholders," and he repents of none, except his vote for Tyler. He also says he is "ready to vote in '56 for John Bell, Thomas H. Benton, or Samuel Houston," and hitherto has been willing to vote "for John J. Crittenden, Willie P. Mangum, or either of the Kentucky Moreheads, without asking or caring whether they were slaveholders or not."

A LADY once consulted Dr. Johnson on the degree of turpitude to be attached to her son's robbing an orchard. "Madame," said Johnson, "it all depends on the weight of the boy. I remember my school-fellow, David Garrick—who was always a little fellow—robbing a dozen orchards with impunity; but the very first time I climed up an apple tree—for I was always a heavy boy—the bough broke with me, and it was called a judgment. I suppose that is why justice is represented with a pair of scales."

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ASIA.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The steamship Asia, Capt. Lott, arrived this morning, from Liverpool Aug. 1.

Russia has consented to evacuate Moldavia, and the Austrian advance is countermanded.

Cotton declined 1-16 a 1-8, according to some circulars; others say unchanged.—Wheat advanced 4d; flour and corn unchanged.

The news is brief but very important.—Gortschakoff, the Russian Envoy at Vienna, announces formally that Moldavia as well as Wallachia will be immediately evacuated; consequently the advance of the Austrians is countermanded, but Austria has subsequently signed an engagement with France and England, to insist on guarantees of future peace from Russia, and not be satisfied with the status quo.

The Russians continue to retreat, and the Turks to advance, without fighting.

Nothing further from the Baltic, beyond the report of the bombardment and capture of Bomarsund.

Two convents and some buildings were bombarded in the White Sea.

The King of Saxony was thrown from his carriage, near Inspruck, on the 9th, and kicked by one of the horses, had his skull fractured, and died within half an hour.

Madrid was pretty quiet. The people forcibly prevented Queen Christina from leaving Spain, and demanded her trial by the Cortes, which the Ministry have agreed to.

3000 French troops landed on the Isthmus of Perekof, Crimea; and 3000 on the Island of Aland.

Eighty thousand Turks are now stated to be in Wallachia. The course of the Danube, from Orsova to Galatz, is now in possession of the Turks.

NEW YORK, August 23.—Richard Sacks, alias Adolph Hoffman, was arrested last night on a charge of having committed a forgery upon the Russian government, and obtained $12,000 thereby. Herman Menzel was also arrested on the charge of being implicated with Sacks. The forgery was committed about two months ago, and the accused arrived in the steamer Atlantic on the 5th inst. They were detained for examination. Most of the money has been recovered.

The lumber yard of Allen & Gifford, on Hamilton avenue, Brooklyn, was destroyed by fire this morning, together with two storehouses adjoining, containing a quantity of hemp, sugar, and molasses, owned by N. R. & G. Griswold. The total loss is estimated at from $20,000 to $25,000, mostly covered by insurance. The bark Brinkerhoff, lying at the dock in the rear of the yard, was also much injured in her spars and rigging.

A block of about one dozen buildings, consisting of factories, dwellings, &c., on Railroad avenue and East Green street, Newark, N. J., was destroyed by fire early this morning. Loss about $50,000. Among the sufferers are I. C. Young & Co., harness manufacturers; Green & Co., coach manufacturers, and others.

The wheat harvest in Canada has been well secured, and never was there a finer crop in the part of Canada, about Toronto, though some complaints of deficiency are made in other parts of the country.

Accounts from New Brunswick represent the crops to be very large. They have suffered very little from drought. The potato crop looks remarkably fine, and no indication as yet of the rot. It is believed from present appearances, that New Brunswick will be able to send more potatoes to market than ever before.

BANGOR, Aug. 23.—Fires are raging to a terrible extent in every part of this county.—The damage to the woodland and crops will be enormous. Buildings have been burned in Kenduskeag, Corinth and other towns, and in many places the entire population are engaged in fighting the fire. In Garland, it is said that a whole family, who live some distance from any other house, are entirely surrounded by the flames, having no means of escape. Whether they are dead or alive it is not known.

SPECIAL ELECTION.—In the 12th district of Virginia, Mr. Lewis, Democrat, has been elected Representative to Congress, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Snodgrass. His majority over his Whig opponent, Mr. Smith, is 758. Smith is one of those Southern Whigs who oppose the Nebraska bill, and of course, he could not expect to be elected. The Washington Star says the successful candidate, Mr. Lewis, does not belong to "the first families of Virginia," because he commenced the trade of a tailor, and gradually, by hard labor, worked himself into a college student, somewhere in Ohio, and graduated with honor; then studied law—with the goose in one hand and Blackstone in the other—was admitted, and finally returned to his native village, where he "hung out his shingle."

THUNDER THIEVES.—John Dennis, the contemporary of Pope, is stated to have attended a theatrical performance, in which the sound of thunder was produced by a contrivance of his own, formerly communicated by him to the manager, and treated slightingly. When he heard the noise, and recognized it as the effect of his own mechanism, he started up, in a transport of rage, and exclaimed: "'Sdeath! that is my thunder! the villains will play my thunder, but not my plays."

THE REPORT LIE.—Perhaps the best retort upon a lie is to outwit it, as Galba did, when a courtier told him that he had bought eels in Sicily five feet long. That, replied the Emperor, is no wonder, for there they are so long that the fishermen use them for ropes.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!!
THE CELEBRITY OF
DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Sherry Wine Bitters
HAS induced several persons, who do not possess the least medical knowledge, to assume the title of Doctor, and put before the public an article in imitation of my Medicine, which they call Sherry Wine Bitters, and attempt to palm them off under the pretence that I have retired from business, and also that they manufacture an improved article of the same name.
I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the REAL article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.
Sold wholesale and retail at my office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston, and by all dealers in Medicine in every city, town and village throughout the New England States.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.
HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.
This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.
CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

A Fruit grower says in every perfectly ripe apple, it is observed in a late English publication, that there will be found one and sometimes two round seeds, the other having one or more flated sides. The round ones, it is said, will produce the improved fruit from which they are taken, while those with flattened sides will produce the fruit of the crab apon which the graft was inserted.—Salem Jour.

SAMUEL COOPER,

Late Chief Examiner in the United States Patent Office,
Procures Patents in this and Foreign Countries.

References.—The undersigned Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, lately a Principal Examiner in this Office; and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the Office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

HENRY B. REDWICK, L. D. GALE, J. H. LANE, Principal Examiners.
T. R. PEALE, THOS. H. EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. CRAUTCH LANGDON, Assistant Examiners.

From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattler, eat, or rub animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth.
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach, and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its components and properties are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.
PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.
PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.
PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Full directions for the above medicines, on the Bottles. Orders should be accompanied with full directions how it should be sent.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from the Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y. " W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c. &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant.

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copy right secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by spurious articles made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted to the inventor, and advice rendered as to patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can there avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay time, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few of any pretension to rank that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most faithful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE, ——.

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully, Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can now purchase to Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Mosquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

IMPORTANT COPYRIGHT DECISION.—The "glorious uncertainty" has gained another illustration. Jeffreys vs. Boosey has come to an end:—and the House of Lords has reversed the judgment of the Court of Exchequer Chamber. Copyright, as regards foreign works in this country, is again in abeyance, and dire is the consternation in the publishing world in consequence thereof. Our newest decision—pronounced by a tribunal from which there is no appeal—would seem to cancel all agreements, destroy all assumed copyright of aliens in this country. We say would seem—as it would ill become one of the laity to assert anything otherwise than doubtfully on a point so often established and reversed by the great legal tribunals. This last reversal of judgment was made at one o'clock on Tuesday, in the House of Lords—a reversal which, among other things, in effect, upsets all American copyrights,—and before six o'clock that day the printers in London were engaged in reprinting cheap editions of American works. London Athenæum.

The highest court of lawyers in England, is over-ruled and contradicted by the House of Lords, a body of noblemen, not selected for wisdom or legal knowledge, but hereditary.—And yet we believe the House of Lords has decided correctly.

The right in dispute (said the Lord Chancellor) was not the right to publish, or to refrain from publishing a work which had not yet been given to the world, but was the right to have the exclusive power of publishing such given work.

Now, copyright in this way defined was, if not the creature of the statute law, at least a right regulated by that law. The legislature, prima facie, must be taken to legislate for its own subjects only, and the object declared by the preamble of the act must be taken to be a merely natural object. A foreigner, of course, who was not a resident abroad, but was a resident in this country, and therefore subject to its laws, was for the time in the condition of a native born subject, and, if he came to this country, and published his work here, he would be within the protection of the statute. But, if at the time of such publication he was residing out of the kingdom, the statute did not protect him.

Lord Brougham said that the right of an author prior to publication was unquestioned; that he had the exclusive right to his own manuscript; that he might communicate it or withhold it, or that might exercise his discretion as to whom he would communicate it.—Then came the question as to the right of publication. The statute of Anne had been passed for the purpose of encouraging learned men, and with that view that act had given them the exclusive right in their publications for twenty-one years. This, however, was clear, they had no copyright by common law, for if they had, there would have been no necessity for the passing of that statue. It could scarcely be said that the legislature had decided a century and a half since that an act was to be passed to create a monopoly in works solely for the benefit of foreigners. In the present case he was clearly of opinion that the copyright claimed did not exist, and therefore that foreign law should not prevail over British law, where there was such diversity between the two.

FIRE ANNIHILATOR.—A late number of the Rochester American contains a letter from Clyde, in that state, detailing a notable instance of the efficiency of the annihilator, in extinguishing a fire which occurred in a distillery through the carelessness of one of the workmen. A tub of high proof spirits was set on fire by a burning lamp, the flame rose immediately to the roof of the building, it was surrounded by inflammable matter, but the hands directed streams from two annihilators upon the scene of the flame, and the latter was almost immediately extinguished. The property in danger was valued at from $35,000 to $40,000.

TESTIMONY TO THE WORTH OF THE POOR:—I have read books enough, and observed and conversed with enough of eminent and splendidly cultivated minds, too, in my time; but I assure you I have heard higher sentiments from the lips of poor, uneducated men and women, when exerting the spirit of severe, yet gentle heroism, under difficulties and afflictions, or speaking their simple thoughts as to circumstances in the lot of friends and neighbors, than I ever met with out of the pages of the Bible.—Sir Walter Scott.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

DIRTY WATERS.

A writer in a political newspaper, himself evidently a politician, and a very able writer, advises a friend, whom he regards as a good man, not to "dive into the dirty waters of political life."

If the writer would only point out where the clean waters of political life flow, and show that they are clean, then his advice would have some force. But he evidently means to intimate that no holy man can take an active part in our American politics, without losing some of his holiness. What then must follow? Why just this, when any measure, good or bad in its moral character, becomes a party question, all good and holy men must not speak of it at all; they must leave it to be discussed and settled solely by scoundrels who are so dirty now that diving into dirty waters cannot make them look worse.

Such writers always seem to forget that they write themselves down into the category of bad and impure men. We deem it impossible for any man to keep clear of political life, in this country. Our constitution and our usages recognize the people as the governing power. By a single vote, a good honorable man can be put into an important office in town or state, or an unfit and troublesome man kept out. Shall a good man withhold that one vote? and can he say he don't meddle with politics, and be guiltless? If he could prevent the evil, but did not—he is as really guilty as a king would be, who, though he did not oppress a subject himself, would stand tamely by, and see a strong subject oppress a weaker.

Men of conscience and principle, can, if they please, abstain from political action, for fear of dirty water. Let them do so for one generation, and the turbid flood will sweep the next generation into a shoreless ocean of impurity.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT.—On Thursday, Aug. 24, in the Municipal Court, Boston, William Sullivan, the fellow who assaulted Richard H. Dana, Jr., Esq., on Court street, was sentenced to eighteen months in the House of Correction. The grand jury reported some additional indictments, and among them a bill against Andrew Uprichard and Thomas Carey, charging them with larceny from the Queen's treasury in Sydney, C. B. On the representation of the prosecuting attorney that more forged tickets of the New York Central Railroad had been discovered at Albany, the bail of Miner L. Ray, indicted on the charge of forging railroad tickets, was raised from $1500 to $2000. The case will not probably be tried at the present term of the Court, and Mr. Ray, not being able to obtain bail, has been committed to jail.

That's it: the forger of railway tickets lodges in jail; the manufacturer of railway shares goes at large.

Sullivan, the assaulter of Dana, seems to find no champion in the Boston press; yet he was, we believe, one of that noble band of patriots who saved the Union by sending back the fugitive Burns. Why did not somebody say a good word for him? Dana insulted Sullivan and his gang, at the trial, by calling them a set of villains; and the coat suited so well that Sullivan, brave man, wiped off the affront by assaulting Dana from behind, and came near breaking his head.—For this chivalrous act, poor Sullivan goes to jail. And yet his services, if we understand them, were exactly as pure and patriotic as some others which have been praised and pensioned.

Uprichard and Carey seem to us, to have committed no crime against Massachusetts, and we do not yet see how she can find the power to punish a crime committed at Cape Breton.

For the Morning Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—If the moon was made of green cheese, and the present drought should continue a sufficient time to create a famine all over this world, I would ask the writer of the first piece in Friday morning's Chronicle, to tell us how we can manage so that the poor and the rich may all be kept from starvation.

We need look to no other source, I should think, judging from the forecast and wisdom manifested in the above described piece on breadstuffs. CERES.

The above is from a writer well versed in the trade in breadstuffs, and refers to the article headed "prospects," in Friday's Chronicle. The author promises something farther, for a future paper.

BUSINESS IN FRANCE.—Below is an extract from the letter of an intelligent New York merchant, now in Paris, whose means of information are very ample:—

PARIS, August 7.—Business is very bad in this city. The war has affected manufactures, large stocks of which, from England, Germany and France, will be sent to the United States, and forced off for cash this fall. I think we may look for a large import, and consequently a close money market, throughout the winter.

LOCAL.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

In the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, Aug. 24, Ald. Nelson in the chair, it was

Resolved, That his Honor Judge Parker be requested to furnish to this Board, a list of the cases tried in the Police Court, since June 12, 1854, specifying the commitments, the cases of appeal, and the fines and costs paid, and also giving the names of the officers by whom the processes were served and returned.

This looks like a very harmless resolution: but is a part of the system of vexation and hindrance by which the majority (of one) of the Board of Aldermen for the present year, have chosen to exhibit themselves as patriots, gentlemen and men of business.

We understand that the above resolution looks towards a selection of the Police Cases, wherein any offender has been arrested by an Officer who is not recognized as such by this same majority of Aldermen. In the cases thus selected, we understand the proceedings are to be nullified or destroyed so far as they can be by the action of the aforesaid Aldermen, fines remitted, bonds cancelled, &c.

If this is indeed the case, there will be such a day of jubilee for rascals, as they have not seen for a long time. There may possibly, however, be some little obstacles in the way of executing the purpose, or we may be wrongly informed. We have been greatly puzzled to understand exactly what is the object desired or hoped for by those who make the movements of which the above resolution forms a part.

This resolution, as explained, does not afford much light—and what there is of it, is darkness: for it looks like an intention to rule or ruin. If I cannot have my way exactly, in an organized body of which I am a member, shall I therefore impede business at every step and under all possible pretexts? And when there is absolutely no pretext, shall I purposely absent myself from the place of meeting, the only place where I can fulfil the duties which I was chosen to perform, and which I have sworn to execute?

This last question is based on an apparent fact. One of the Aldermen of this city, is an officer in the Boston Custom House. As there are seven Aldermen in the Board, four are a majority. If this one, (or any one of the four,) be absent, there may be a tie; and if the Mayor be present, his casting vote can untie every knot. To prevent this, when all the four cannot be present, it sometimes turns out that no one of them will happen to be there, leaving their colleagues without a quorum for business. We should not think this was exactly democratic,—but we wait to be instructed.

EXCURSION TO WOLFBORO'.

It is announced in the papers that a grand Mass Convention of the People of New Hampshire opposed to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, will be held at Wolfborough, on Wednesday, Aug. 30, 1854, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

Arrangements for half price fares have been made over the steamboats on the Lake, the Cochecho Railroad, and nearly if not quite all the New Hampshire railroads.

The Montreal Railroad will run an extra train to meet the steamer Lady of the Lake, leaving Concord at 6 1-2 A. M., stopping at the way stations, and reaching Wolf'boro' at 10 A. M.

Returning, the Lady of the Lake will leave Wolf'borough at 7 P. M., reach the Wiers at a quarter past 8, and Concord at about half past 9 in the evening.

Fare from Concord to Wolf'borough and back,	$2.20
From Sanbornton Bridge and back,	$1.50
From Meredith Bridge and back,	.90

Spacious hotels at the Lake, together with the hospitality of the citizens of 'Wolf'boro', will afford ample accommodations to all who may desire to tarry a day or two in that beautiful locality.

A meeting of those assembled will be held on Tuesday evening, at which addresses will be made.

Excursion tickets will be sold at the several stations, which will pass the holder up and back by the special train of Wednesday, or either of the regular trains, from Tuesday afternoon to Thursday night.

A trial of a somewhat singular character took place in the Police Court, at Newburyport on Thursday. Two conductors of the Boston and Maine Railroad were arraigned for ejecting Mr Charles Poole from the cars, he having a check taken of the conductor of the train preceding the one from which he was ejected. The conductor refused to receive the check, and Pool refused to pay the fare required.

THE ROCKINGHAM CONVENTION of Universalists will hold their annual meeting at Raymond, in the Methodist Meeting House, on Wednesday and Thursday next.

THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS, for Strafford County, commenced its August session in Dover, on Tuesday morning last. Hon. Josiah Minot, Presiding Justice.

The first action called was for damages for alleged mal-practice in setting pl's ankle. It was tried here at January term, 1853, and a verdict of $1500 awarded to plf. Transferred to the Superior Court—by that Court the verdict was set aside and a new trial granted.—The case is of considerable importance to the profession, as its decision will settle how far they can be held responsible for not making a broken limb as 'good as new.'

Friday, P. M.—The Grand Jury came in and returned 35 indictments, mostly for violations of the liquor law.

In the afternoon, Jacob L. Dennett, of Dover, was arraigned on an indictment charging that the respondent, on the 28th day of February last, wrongfully obtained from one John T. Hanson four bushels of corn, by falsely and fraudulently pretending that he acted as agent for one Mrs. McDaniel, to procure said corn for her, with the intent thereby to cheat and defraud the said Hanson. To which indictment the respondent pleaded nolo contendere.

James H. Stedman, a transient person, was arraigned on an indictment charging him with having stolen one mare, the property of W. H. Smith, of Dover. To which indictment the respondent pleaded not guilty.—Dover Enquirer.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A young man by the name of Anthony Currier, of Andover, formerly of Newburyport (son of the late Anthony D. Currier,) about 17 years of age, while on a gunning excursion to Plum Island, Thursday morning, was fatally injured by the accidental discharge of his fowling piece. He was entering a boat, about leaving the beach, and had taken up his loaded gun, the muzzle pointing towards him, when the lock coming in contact with the side of the boat, caused the discharge of the gun, the contents passing through his shoulder into his head, laying bare his brain. He lived about an hour, but in an insensible state, after being taken to the house of a relative where he was on a visit.—Herald.

☞ Ship Ladoga is to be launched this afternoon at 3 o'clock—not 4, as before stated.

ESCAPE OF A DEBTOR FROM PRISON.—The Wilmington, Del., correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, states that Lewis Draper, a negro, lately made his escape from the county jail at Dover, in that State, by passing out of the flue of the sink attached to his cell. The writer says that by trade he was a preacher, and was imprisoned for debt. The writer adds:

"I hope he may not be caught this side of eternity, and that he may keep on preaching until this infernal law, for imprisonment for the paltry sum of a few dollars, together with the post and pillory, be forever wiped from the escutcheon of Delaware. Can it be possible that a State can prosper to any extent whose citizens are governed by laws which were in force in the dark ages?"

A PREACHER.—The Boston Courier makes some extracts from a pamphlet, from the pen of a distinguished divine of New England, who deprecates the interference of his clerical brethren, as a class, with the question of slavery. He calls his pamphlet a "Letter of Inquiry to the Ministers of the Gospel, of all denominations, on Slavery. By a Northern Presbyter."

He asks his clerical brethren a great many questions, among them the following:

And, in respect to the balance of power between the free and slaveholding states, as affected by the possible or probable extension of slavery, whether that is a subject which, at the worst, calls for the official action of ministers of Christ except by the preaching of righteousness, temperance, and judgement alike to all the excited parties of the country?

If the reverend gentleman will but preach these three items thoroughly, earnestly and plainly, he will find an excitement in his parish of which he now has but little idea.

A "PENSIONER."—Chapman's Indiana Chanticleer has an exposition of some of the operations of Major Morrison, Commissary of the Indiana Brigade during the Mexican war. Morrison was notorious as a gambler in Mexico and elsewhere, and not satisfied with the rich pickings he secured during the war, he, after his return, applied for and obtained a pension on account of the loss of sight that he sustained during the war. The plot was played off upon the Commissioner of Pensions in the boldest and most audacious manner, affidavits being filed certifying to the perfect character of the Major's eyes before the campaign, and their almost total loss since. The offence is perjury, yet Morrison draws a pension of $25 a month.

This information would be worth more, if we knew how the Major's eyes really are.

ABANDONING CHILDREN.—A heartless brute of a father, named Barney Harney, left five children destitute (their mother being dead) in a house on Silver street, South Boston, from Sunday last until Wednesday. Officer Dyer, of the 6th station, learning the fact, sent four of them to the Overseers of the Poor, and the fifth, an infant, was not in a condition to be removed, and died during the day. Harney should be hunted up and made to suffer. His example is quite frequently followed, but rarely under such inhuman circumstances.—Boston Transcript.

One of the results of the late revolution in railroad stocks, was the countermanding of orders for fifty four locomotives, which were to have been manufactured by Wilmarth, at South Boston. It would have required one year's time to complete these orders.

DEATH OF PROF. WOODS.—Rev. Leonard Woods, late of the Theological Seminary at Andover, died at his residence in that town on Thursday, at the advanced age of 84.

Last year there was consumed in this country about 705,000,000 pounds of cane sugar, and 27,000,000 pounds of maple sugar. This gives more than 24 pounds of cane sugar, and one pound of maple sugar to every man, woman and child. This does not include molasses or honey.

Official information has been received at Washington from Lord Elgin, that pending action of the Imperial and Provincial Legislatures on the Reciprocity Treaty, the free navigation of the St. Lawrence will be granted to American vessels.

A letter from Valparaiso, says the clipper ship Sea Witch, that put back to that port, leaky, was found to have been bored by the crew with small augers. The writer says—"sailors rule the roast in this port, and ship masters must bring good recommendations to get a crew to take them along, and then run the risk of having their vessels bored, unless said master behave properly to said mariners."

LYNN.—Lynn is a model city. The taxation there is only 64 cents on a hundred dollars.

The taxes are light, but how are the sidewalks?

New York, August 26.—The Washington correspondent of the Courier & Enquirer telegraphs as follows:

Washington, Thursday evening.—I ascertain that an important correspondence has occured between Mr. Buchanan and the British Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.—Lord Clarendon reasserts the British territorial claim on Central America, founded on the Mosquito protectorate.

Mr. Buchanan denies them in two elaborate notes, and demands an unconditional relinquishment of the protectorate. It is understood that our government has determined to adopt decisive measures to obtain the complete evacuation of Central America, as stipulated by the Clayton and Bulwer treaty.

New York, Aug. 26.—The North Star reached her dock about 9 o'clock, having left Aspinwall on the 17th inst. She brings 495 passengers, but no specie on freight.

Yesterday afternoon, Capt. George N. Hollins, of the U. S. sloop-of-war Cyane, was arrested in this city by Deputy Sheriff Vulta, at the suit of Calvin Durand, for destruction of property at Greytown. The order of arrest was granted by Judge Oakley, of the Superior Court. The damages are laid at $14,000.—The amount of bail given by Capt. Hollins was $20,000. His sureties were Hon. J. Redfield, Collector of the Port, and J. Romeyn Brodhead, Naval Officer. The arrest was made just as the captain was leaving for Boston. After bail had been rendered he prosecuted his journey thither.

Letters from San Juan report the rapid rebuilding of the place. All those who left on the day of the bombardment had returned, and T. J. Martin, the ringleader of all the outrages, had been appointed Commandant of the town by Lieut. A. D. Jolly, Commander of the British war schooner Bermude. The negro, M. Lane, who led the band of Jamacia negroes to the American Consulate, has been appointed Constable. Vengeance is threatened against the Transit Company.

Washington, August 23.—Defalcation.—The Star says that the officers of the Treasury Department have discovered a series of frauds committed by one of the Collectors of the Customs removed by the present administration, similar to those perpetrated by the Collector at Oswego.

An Escape.—As the steamboat Mayflower was nearing her dock, yesterday, afternoon, the barber, a negro man named Hoover, saw standing upon the dock, in company with several police officers, a person whom he recognized as his former master, from whose custody Hoover escaped many years since.—Suspecting that he was in danger if he remained there, Hoover ran foward, and as the bow of the Mayflower approached the stern of the Plymouth Rock, he jumped upon the deck off the latter vessel, then dropped down into a small boat lying alongside, worked her round under the dock, crawled along until he reached the ferry boat International, which runs to Fort Erie, and was just ready for leaving, ascended quietly to her deck, and in a few moments, was in Canadian waters and safe. Hoover is a man of some thirty years of age, has resided in Buffalo for many years, and has a family here. It is remarkable that he should recognize his master, from whom he ran away when only ten years old.—Buffalo Democrat.

Rev. James Cooper, who raised such a dust in South Groton last winter, by promising to marry half the marriageable ladies in his congregation, has turned up again at Denton, Caroline county, Md., where has been playing his old games of preaching and promising with his accustomed success. He went by the name of John Howard, got into good society by virtue of a letter of recommendation from Rev. Abel Stevens, and into the pulpit on the strength of a license from Rev. Thomas C. Hayes of Richmond Va.; got a temporary engagement to preach and two engagements to get married, when, unluckily for him, one of the ladies to whom he had engaged himself, wrote to Mr. Stevens to know something more about her future lord, and received a letter in reply, to the effect that Mr. Stevens had never heard of the gentleman before. This produced an explosion, and failing to prevail upon the young lady to run away with him, he ran away himself, but returning again, he was first threatened with lynch law, and finally arrested and committed to jail, where he now remains.

Proposed New Government Buildings.—The Washington Star of Tuesday states that the Secretary of the Interior has issued instructions to the United States Marshals and Postmasters of Boston, New York, and Philadelphia, to issue advertisements for proposals (to be received up to the last Saturday in September) for selling to the United States suitable sites in the three cities for United States Court and Post Office purposes, according to the law upon the subject passed at the last session of Congress.

Somerset and Kennebec Railroad.—The work on this road is fast progressing. The road is now graded, and nearly ready for the superstructure, and the workmen will commence laying the rails in a few days.—The eastern span of the bridge for this road across the Kennebec, at this place, is being raised a number of feet to admit of the free passage of the river steamers at high stages of the water.—Augusta, Me., Farmer.

Letters from Liberia mention the great attention given to the manufacture of palm oil. It is supposed that the present season will produce an abundance.—In the county of Montserrado, the natives have, within the past month, brought more oil into that city than they were ever known to bring in, in twice the time in any preceding year.

Conscience.—A young man who formerly dealt in charcoal, now residing in Providence, has recently made reparation to several individuals for cheating them in the measure at the time of selling them some of the article.

Fatal Casualty.—We learn from the Boston Chronicle that Rev. T. J. Andrews of Canaan was instantly killed on Monday last by the kick of a horse. Mr. Andrews was a young man of fine promise, and had but lately entered upon his sacred duties.

HERTS BROTHERS

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

Herts, Brothers, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

Caution.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "Herts, Brothers' Patent, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.

Milford, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.

Mr. S. Gilbert,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs during the last spring—spitting of blood considerably, with soreness of chest, &c., I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y,

THE CELEBRITY OF

Sherry Wine Bitters

Has induced several persons, who do not possess the least medical knowledge, to assume the title of Doctor, and put before the public an article in imitation of my Medicine, which they call Sherry Wine Bitters, and attempt to palm them off under the pretence that I have retired from business, and also that they manufacture an improved article of the same name.

I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the real article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.

Sold wholesale and retail at my office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston, and by all dealers in Medicine in every city, town and village throughout the New England States.

LOOK OUT FOR YOUR BOYS AND GIRLS.—The Washington Sentinel, speaking of the recent arrest, in Washington, of several lads charged with the crime of incendiarism, says: "The history of these boys show the danger of permitting youths to assemble, indiscriminately, at all hours of the night, far away from parental oversight and control. Whatever of mischief is lacking in the younger, the older will not fail to supply; for in every condition of life, morals are either improved or injured by individual association. How often do we meet bands of manikins on the streets, cursing and swearing behind a home-made cigar, and who, whenever an opportunity occurs, perpetrate outrages either on persons or property."

DR. ORDWAY'S

HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattle snake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Small Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all gone feeling in the stomach, and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him. and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proximate are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variet. of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the circulars and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons among others, by

W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University.
Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y. "
W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University.
N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University.
T. Parke, M.D., Prof. College of Physicians, Phila.
Dr. Del Valle, Prof. of Medicine, Havana.
Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon.
G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine.
J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different vignettes, which has been secured for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copy right secured

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottle, wrapper, or the stamp imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office) since the 1st of Jan. 1837 is determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and in fringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business as a solicitor of the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers it unnecessary, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other article, for Swellings, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden Fire Engines which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it does no competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

THE ELBE.—JENNY LIND.

James Brooks, Esq., of the New York Express, is now in Europe, from whence he contributes letters for his Journal at home. Mr. Brooks' "European Correspondence" has been very popular with his readers, both on the occasion of a former visit, and during this present tour. From his last published letter we select the following:

I am writing this on the banks of the Elbe, which rushes rapidly under my windows, and near by is the bridge, which the French blew up when forced to retreat from Dresden.—There come now, wafted over the waters, notes from bugles, horns, trumpets and other brass instruments, the music of wandering bands, that seem to be everywhere in this Saxon city. Music is omnipresent—universal—eternal—I was about to add. Where people have no politics to rave about, they rave about music, about artists—male and female—about pictures, statuary, the fine arts, &c. Hence Jenny Lind, who lives here, is a potentate here—a real power in the State.—Just now she is at some watering place in Bohemia. She gives concerts at times, here, in Berlin, and in Vienna, gets any price, and thus adds to her store of bank notes, with which, however, all here declare she is liberal. The critics say, that since the birth of her child, she has lost not a little in the bird-like delicacy of her voice, but that she has made up for it and more, in the richness of her art. She is very pious, it is added, and reads her bible as much as her music books. Her splendid success of course, makes everybody music-mad. Just as we discuss politics in our pot houses, they discuss music here in their gardens (they have no pot houses, and there is no Maine Law.) A Swede tells me, a companion of mine en route, who is a great iron man in Stockholm,—but tender enough in music matters—that they are raising another Jenny Lind in Stockholm, and that they will soon let the bird out of the cage, to astonish the world. My iron (Swede) man tells me too, that Miss Bremer has written herself out in Sweden, and that they are tired of her there. Here is an iron man by the by, speaking English well, French, some German, well, too, I presume, and, of course, his own tongue, who runs opera mad also every night, and who even criticises in literature with zeal!

A BURNING STEAMER.—A New York correspondent of several papers, says, I happened to be a witness to a splendid conflagration in the lower harbor, the burning of the May Queen, during this last week. You have probably seen a detailed account of the catastrophe before this time. I was on the Norwalk, returning from Coney Island, that curious pile of scouring sand, when a red flame shot up, far out on the water, which immediately attracted universal attention, and the captain of the Norwalk, with praiseworthy promptitude, immediately put out for the burning wreck. It was a splendid sight. The May Queen, a well known excursion boat, had gone out in the morning, accompanied by two barges, carrying out, in all, a party of between one and two thousand persons, from New York and Brooklyn, on a pleasure excursion. There she lay run up upon the Staten Island shore, and burning nearly to the water's edge. The whole beach was lined with spectators, and a long line of black heads bobbing up and down in the water between shore and the barges, told what was going on. It was a funny sight, unmitigated by any terrible circumstances, to see scores of terrified ladies, plunging frantically into the water, and waddling for the shore. It was not more than four feet deep near the barges.

A TEA PARTY.—A venerable matron of North Adams, 93 years of age, gave an Old Folks' Tea Party, a few days since, and among the guests who were present were four ladies of the respective ages of 86, 82, 80, 70, and three gentlemen of 85, 80, 73, making the united ages of the eight persons (including the hostess) 649 years, an average of 81. Six of these persons own farms on which they reside, all in one neighborhood of less than a mile square—and have been residents of the town over fifty years.

IT ISN'T ALL IN BRINGING UP.

It isn't all in "bringing up,"
Let folks say what they will;
To silver scour a pewter cup—
It will be pewter still.
E'en he of old, wise Solomon,
Who said "train up a child,"
If I mistake not had a son
Proved rattle-brained and wild.

A man of mark who fain would pass
For lord of sea and land,
May have the training of a son
And bring him up full grand;
May give him all the wealth of love,
Of college and of school,
Yet after all, may make no more
Than just a decent fool.

Another raised by penury
Upon her bitter bread,
Whose road to knowledge is like that
The good to heaven must tread,
Has got a spark of nature's light,
He'll fan it to a flame,
Till in its burning letters bright,
The world may read his name.

If it were all in "bringing up,"
In counsel and restraint,
Some rascals had been honest men—
I'd been myself a saint.
Oh 'tisn't all in "bringing up,"
Let folks say what they will;
Neglect may dim a silver cup—
It will be silver still.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, AUGUST 28, 1854.

TEMPERANCE TESTIMONY.—The organ of the temperance party in Boston says:

It is generally believed that never, in the history of Boston, has there been so much intemperance as exists at the present time.—Drunken boys, men and women meet you everywhere. Shops have multiplied like blackberries in summer. The rumsellers are bold as the lion. No one thinks of secrecy. The bottles and decanters are placed in sight, and the rumsellers deal out the deadly draught in the presence, even, of the police, without fear of punishment or arrest.

The Boston Transcript says of the above, that the author of it "never published a more truthful paragraph." We may take the statements then, to be proved and not questioned, when the Life Boat and the Transcript unite in making them.

The Nashua Gazette applies this in the following paragraph, so as to bear at once against the present city government of Boston, and also against the Maine Law:

The temperance city government does not enforce the Maine Law in Boston. Is fact, since the passage of that law, rum selling and rum drinking have prevailed in Massachusetts "with more impunity and greater boldness" than under the old law. The Maine Law has not introduced the reign of the Millenium yet.

Now so far as these facts, or any others, really bear against any statute or any man or set of men, we say, let them bear.

We believe it is true that the temperance administration of Boston, do not execute the Massachusetts liquor law in that city. And if any one asks why? we answer, because the liquor interest there, as a power, is stronger than the new statute, which is copied in part from the Maine law, but was amended by its opponents, and has been partly nullified by judicial decisions.

What there is left of this law, and also some remnants of old laws, are attempted to be enforced. But there are in Boston 40 or 50,000 foreigners, and we don't know how many thousand natives, who count unrestrained drinking as their birth-right. There are at least 200 rich men there who have grown rich by selling strong drinks, and 500 more who are now trying to make a fortune in the same way.

Against this mighty force are arrayed a poorly constracted law, and a city government not exactly unanimous in any thing, and dreadfully enfeebled by its spasmodic effort to uphold the slave power and keep the peace at the same time.

We should expect victory to perch exactly where it now resides, viz. on the banner of the liquor trade.

Its triumph is seen in the increase of drunkenness, spoken of in the extract at the head of this article.

Our conclusion is that all sober, solid men in Boston, have something to do, if they do not wish to have their fine city become a mere den of drunkards. Perhaps the present Mayor, Aldermen and Council are not the best that can be: very likely the liquor law is not perfect. But finding fault with either or both does not amount to much, without effort to get something better.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for September, 1854, is just received from Federhen & Co., of Boston, via J. P. Morse of this city.

A fine steel plate, "He's Coming," and the unrivalled colored fashions, stand as principal embellishments, with dozens of minor size and cost.

Dipping into the literary contents here and there, we have read Alice Ward, or He's Coming, a tale equal to the fine engraving which belongs to it; a capital Letter, left at the Pastry Cook's, over which we grew young again; the beginning of Lydia's Wages, which most provokingly breaks off in the middle; and the Gossip of Woodvale, a story with an excellent moral, adverse to "surmising and propagating rumors as idle as the brains which give them origin."

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE—LOSS $1,000,000.—Troy, August 25.—A fire broke out at 2 o'clock to-day, and spread with irresistible fury over a space equal to about eight blocks, consuming probably not less than two or three hundred houses, and destroying property which will amount to a million dollars. Owing to the dry state of everything, it was found almost impossible to check the fury of the flames. The burnt district is bounded on the west by the river, on the east by River street to Division street, and from thence by the alley between First and Second streets, on the south by Jefferson street. In this district is embraced as exclusive lumber business, and lumber amounting to not less than $250,000 was destroyed. The freight depot, machine shop and several car houses and cars, belonging to the Hudson River Railroad, and the very extensive establishment, known as Bridge's Chair Factory, were also destroyed.

The Bell Foundry of Jones & Hitchcock, and several other manufacturing establishments, were destroyed. The fire was arrested on the east side, in the rear of the costly range of buildings fronting on Washington Park.

Our city has never before been visited by such a conflagration. Fortunately no fatal accident occurred.

WORTH READING.

The following article from the New York Express, is headed, Business in the City; and is, of course, adapted especially to the largest places. But it has an application all over the country; and the sooner we apply it the better.

Suspension in business, delays to meet engagements, want of confidence in the city, and general mistrust in the country, are among the incidents of the season.

Specie, as is seen, is going to Europe, at the rate of a million or more each week, and more than the amount of gold which reaches us from the shores of the Pacific, we are sending across the Atlantic. And what for? To pay, as we ought, for purchases made there for consumption in the United States.

It is obvious that if we continue to receive from Europe more than we send to Europe, we must remain in a state of indebtedness.—It is obvious, too, that continued heavy importations must end in continued indebtedness, in a heavy fall of prices, and even in the home market, sales must be made below first prices, at places of manufacture and sale.

More than one hundred millions of dollars have been lost in this city alone in the depreciation of stocks. If the owners had been in the possession of confidence, credit, or capital, they would have submitted to no such ruinous personal sacrifices.

Railroads cannot be built out of air, nor gold and silver, lead and copper dug out of wind bags. A year ago, we had contracted for more railroad iron in the United States than the iron men in this country and Great Britain could have provided in five years.—We owned millions in copper stocks, and cities and towns plotted on paper. We built our castles of stone, and—in the air. We spent our 10,000, 20,000, $30,000 a year, and fared sumptuously. The bubble has been pricked and it has bursted; and in the general confusion, sane men are made to suffer with the insane, because every man feels as if he had been walking on hot coals or a precipice.

There must be an end both of this excess and timidity, if sober, discreet, honorable and good men would stop where they are. People must measure their business by their capital, their reliable credit and their business.—Gen. Jackson's harsh doctrine "that those who do business on borrowed capital ought to break" was even better than the mode of doing business upon a capital of bubbles and air, and this often without capacity or industry.—It is wonderful in a country like this to see how many very young men are its leading merchants, and so far as they are thrifty, prudent, economical and industrious we rejoice in their ambition and prosperity. But it is wise for all to look before they leap, and to know the ground on which they stand. We have a great respect for "Young America" when it is cool, determined, honest, and spiced with a little of Yankee calculation. But the old fogies, so called, are the men most consulted, and most in honor now, and it is for them to come to the rescue and aid, as they may, in the restoration of confidence.

THE BRITISH SIDE.

The British papers have begun to criticise the bombardment of Greytown. The London Times of August 9th says:—

Greytown is not a British possession; if it had been, measures would have been taken to repel so wanton and barbarous an attack; but we have at this time no further interest in the place than that which results from the commercial undertakings in which British subjects may be engaged there. It is impossible, however, to lose sight of the fact, which stands recorded in solemn treaty, that Great Britain waived and relinquished her rights to the protectorate of the Mosquito Coast and of Greytown, its principal trading station, to the express stipulation with the United States that they would in conjunction with ourselves guarantee the neutrality and security of the passage." The object of that treaty was to promote "the communication between the two oceans for the benefit of mankind, on equal terms to all, and for the protection of the same." It is certainly a most extraordinary violation of the spirit of that treaty that an American ship of war should have presumed, in defence of at best a very doubtful cause, to attack and destroy the principal commercial station situated on this very line of communication which the American government is expressly bound to maintain and protect.—The act of Captain Hollins speaks for itself. It is, indeed, without a parallel in any history with which we are acquainted, for the place was wholly incapable of firing a shot in its defence; not a man was killed or wounded in the attack, and the enterprise was one of mere destruction. The American papers from which we have extracted these details record them with the strongest expressions of shame and regret, and we cannot doubt that the public opinion of the enlightened classes in the United States will condemn these proceedings as strongly as the judgment of every other part of the world.

There is in this case no war and no provocation to account for or to palliate such a measure. Far from being at war with the states of Central America, the government of the United States has always affected to regard them with peculiar interest; and the first proof given of this interest is an act of violence which would have disgraced a buccanier. Indeed, considering the species of protection established by the treaty of 1850, and the engagements contracted by the United States toward this country and the whole world for the security of the passage, this outrage of Captain Hollins is a contempt of the authority of his own government, and a gross breach of faith to every nation which may have mercantile transactions carried on across the Isthmus of Nicaragua.

The Times mistakes the position of Capt. Hollins, altogether.—He did the bidding of his own government, beyond question.—The right or wrong of the orders which he obeyed, is quite another affair, which has got to be discussed and settled.

The number of foreign emigrants who have arrived at New-York within the last twelve days of this month is 19,618.

LOCAL.

☞ The fine ship Ladoga, 900 tons, was launched on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the new ship yard at Noble's Island. She was built by an Association of Mechanics, and is the first ship built by them. They have another ship in frame.

DISTINGUISHED ARRIVAL.—On Saturday evening, after an absence of six weeks, we were blessed with a fine shower of about two hours' duration. It will accomplish some good, though much more is needed.

FIRE IN THE WOODS.—The destruction of cut and standing wood, in every part of New England, has been very great, during the present dry season. On Saturday a fire occurred in the woods in Candia, which consumed about 600 cords of wood and a steam saw mill, belonging to Mr. John N. Handy, of this city. The fine shower in the evening probably put a stop to the further spread of flames. There was an insurance on the mill of $1000, and on the wood for a considerable amount, as we are informed.

ACCIDENT.—While Geo. W. Lawrence, of Epping, was charging a rock, on Saturday last, an explosion took place, blowing the powder into his face and hands, and set fire to his pants, burning him very badly. He is now doing well, and hopes are entertained that he may not lose his sight.

☞ The Advent Tent Meeting which commenced at Epping on Wednesday last, was to close on Sunday evening. A respectable number have been in attendance, with a goodly sprinkling of outsiders.

WOLFBORO' CONVENTION.—The Boston & Maine Railroad will run an extra and half-price train from New Market Junction on Wendesday next, at 6 o'clock, A. M., which will reach Dover in season for the first train on the Cochecho railroad to Wolfborough.

An extra train will leave the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad station in this city, at half-past 5 o'clock, A. M. in season to connect with the above train on the Boston & Maine railroad.

BRASS BANDS.—The young men of New-buryport have recently organized a fine Brass Band. They gave a Concert one night last week, assisted by Mr. Thompson and his class, Miss Page and Mr. Johnson,—which was very successful. Their performances are creditable. Mr. John Knight is leader.

The new Band in this city is making good progress. Mr. Bond is giving them weekly instruction. He is at home on any wind instrument, and it is amusing to see him prompt the different players by a hint on their own instruments. He says he can play anything but a tenor-drum.

ELOPEMENT.—It is currently reported, says the Dover Gazette, that an eminent Physician who has practiced in a neighboring town in Strafford County, for several years—a married man—has eloped with a young lady of some twenty summers. The lady has previously been highly esteemed by her acquaintances, and this false step has occasioned great sorrow to her friends. The doctor was for some time her medical adviser.

☞ Hon. Charles W. Woodman, of Dover, formerly Judge of Probate for Strafford Co., has been appointed a Circuit Justice of the Court of Common Pleas.

Some anxiety is manifested in our community, for the safety of the steamer Grace Darling, Capt. Bancroft, which left this port on the 13th inst. for Haverhill, since which time nothing has been heard of her.

We cut the above from the Newburyport Herald of the 25th—twelve days after the sailing of the steamer for Haverhill, which is fifteen miles or so up the Merrimac river.

QUICK PASSAGE.—The clipper ship Red Rover, Capt. Putnam, arrived at Callao on the 19th, 40 days from San Francisco. This is an excellent passage, the second best ever made, we believe—the Hornet, Capt. Knapp, making the run some months ago in 36 days. The Red Rover is a beautiful clipper of 1000 tons burthen, and will compare favorably with any vessel of her class.

She was built by Messrs. Fernald & Pettigrew, of this place.

DAMARISCOTTA, AUGUST 25.—About one o'clock a fire broke out in the rear of the hotel at Waldoboro', and swept away the whole of the village from Tibbett's large furniture store at the northward, and as far eastward as the Baptist Church, which was saved, including every store in the village and every building south and west to the river, extending to Capt. H. Rubin's on the south side.—George H. Kennedy's new ship and Capt. James Cook's barge, both on the stocks, were destroyed, as also the timber for a new ship in Mr. J. Clark's yard. The Custom House, both banks and the Post Office were destroyed. The loss cannot now be accurately ascertained, but it is thought it must exceed $250,000.

It is said that Senator Clayton, of Deleware, has written a letter, in which he fully endorses the doctrines and objects of the "Know-Nothings."

FLOUR.—Flour is now at least one dollar higher per barrel in this country than it is in Europe. This is owing in part to the small supply coming forward, the farmers holding back in hopes of higher prices. The New York Express says that "the wheat crop this year is believed to be the largest ever garnered, and, taking into consideration the Reciprocity Treaty, which will bring Canadian Flour into our market free of duty, we look to prices down to $5 (for common brands) before the close of Autumn." In this city, at retail, the best brands of flour command $12 per bbl.—Boston Journal.

REVOLUTIONARY CLERGY.

The following interesting reminiscenes from the Boston Transcript, show up our old fathers in the New England ministry, as active citizens and influential politicians:

At the period of the American Revolution, the resident clergy in this country possessed vast influence. Among the Pilgrims and Puritans, the duty of the ministers was not confined to instructions in things spiritual, but embraced matters of temporal concern, and on questions of public exigency their counsel and advice were eagerly sought and almost implicitly followed. This deference to their sacred office, and to their real or supposed wisdom, was active at the period of which we speak; and clergymen, both Whig and Tory, often made a recruiting house of the sanctuary. As a general thing, the people sympathized politically no less than theologically with the minister, but there were some memorable quarrels and divisions. Nearly all the clergymen who espoused the Tory cause and dissolved their connection with their parishes, were proscribed and banished. Some of these men returned to their old homes, but the larger proportion remained abroad and finished their days in banishment.

The town meetings were usually held in the meeting houses, and were always opened with prayer by the clergyman, who participated in public matters. There was no difficulty experienced in procuring chaplains for the "Old French War," to accompany the Colonial Armies during that struggle—and we incline to the belief that the conquest of Louisburg, and the brilliant success of the military campaigns in 1744-48, may be largely attributed to the enthusiasm evinced by the clergy. And again, the military spirit of the people of New England was aroused to the highest pitch when in 1755 peace was again broken with the French. These wars derived much interest, from the fact that they were not only regarded as conflicts with an old national foe—the French — but were considered as crusades against the papists. And some of the New England clergy were not content with their spiritual weapons, but took hatchets with them to cut down the images which they expected to find in the Catholic churches of the French colonists!

The lines were drawn between the Whig and Tory ministers of this country at the time of the Fasts ordered to be observed by the Continental Congress. The Tories refused to read the Proclamations and to observe the days. Soon, however, the time arrived when the Whigs were determined to have the Declaration of Independence read from the pulpit during the religious services of the Sabbath, and upon the result of that reading, the continuance of the clergymen in many cases depended.

The celebration of the Boston Massacre was observed in several of the large towns of New England, about the time of the Revolution. Most of the orations delivered on these occasions were pronounced by clergymen.—The bells were tolled on the the day, at the same hours and about as long as they are now rung on the 4th of July. One of the first volunteer companies organized for the purpose of joining the regular continental army, was formed in the broad aisle of a church on Sunday, at the close of an eloquent political sermon, in which the preacher, (the Rev. Jonathan Parsons) called on his hearers to form volunteer companies in defence of their civil rights.—This patriotic preacher invited those who would take up arms against the oppressive acts of the British ministry to walk into the broad aisle. The first man that left his pew was a gallant soldier who was chosen to command the company. The soldiers thus organized were in the battle at Bunker Hill, in Col. Little's regiment, and covered the retreat of the exhausted but "brave Essex troops" stationed at the rail fence so famous in that memorable conflict. We should not omit to mention that the soldier in command of this corps, was a printer, and at one time a partner of Isaiah Thomas. We have just seen the official roll-book of this Company, with the return of the men both before and after the 17th of June 1775. This interesting MSS. book is the property of a legal gentleman of this city—seven of whose name and kindred were in the army of the revolution, and no less than five of the number were commissioned officers.

Many of the leading spirits of the Revolution were closely allied to the clergy by the most sacred family ties. John Hancock was the son of a country minister. John Adams married the daughter of a clergyman in a rural district, and Samuel Adams selected as his wife, the daughter of the Pastor of the New South Church in Boston. In alluding to the influence of the American Clergy during the troubles with the mother country, John Adams, a most competent witness, used these memorable words, "American independence was owing more to the republican views of the clergy, and the weight which their opinions had with the people, than to any other cause."

FROM HAVANA AND KEY WEST.—Charlestown, August 25.—The steamer Governor Dudley arrived at this port to-day, bringing Havana and Key West dates of the 22d inst.

The Captain General of Cuba had paid to Don Manuel Christobal de Seayas, the sum of $1284, for apprehending, in the Mariel District, one hundred and seventy-four newly-landed negroes, being at the rate of ten dollars each for males, six dollars each for females, and three dollars for children. This payment will doubtless have a beneficial effect in assisting the suppression of the slave trade.

Ship Edwin Flye, from New Orleans for Liverpool, arrived at Key West 12th inst., in distress, yellow fever having broke out on board when two days out. Capt. Hitchcock and five of the crew had died. The rest were convalescent, and the ship would continue her voyage under command of the mate, as soon as the vacancies in the crew could be filled.

NEW YORK, August 25.—Owing to the increase of cholera, the Board of Health have resolved to discontinue the daily reports of the cholera hospitals.

Another brutal prize fight, which occurred in this city on Sunday, has just come to light. It is said that a policeman acted as bottle holder.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

HARPER'S
Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been carefully consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

☞ No. 1 can be seen, and subscriptions received, at the Bookstore of

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Sherry Wine Bitters

HAS induced several persons, who do not possess the least medical knowledge, to assume the title of Doctor, and put before the public an article in imitation of my Medicine, which they call Sherry Wine Bitters, and attempt to palm them off under the pretence that I have retired from business, and also that they manufacture an improved article of the same name.

I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the REAL article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.

Sold wholesale and retail at my office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston, and by all dealers in Medicine in every city, town and village throughout the New England States.

A CONTRAST FOR FARMERS.—Last year, the crops on the continent of Europe failed on every side. Famine stared France, Germany and Italy in the face. We were growing unheard of quantities of wheat and grain; and between the farmers and the merchants we must have made on the year's crops full 200 per cent. profit. Now the case is reversed. The show of fall wheat on the Continent is good, though the constant rains have injured some of the finer qualities; and the price of breadstuffs is falling rapidly at Paris. Here, on the contrary, the continued drought is destroying the harvest. Unless we have heavy falls of rain within a very short time, acres of produce by the million will be dried up. It would be singular if we should have no surplus, and France should again export large quantities of grain.—N. Y. Herald.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and indolency, which is the result of this disagreeable and fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA.

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES.

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Cases of Tumors, and humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.

☞ Price $1.00.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.

PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.

PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.

PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Full directions for the above medicines, on the Bottles. Orders should be accompanied with full directions how it should be sent.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swellings, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the description of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by

W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University.
Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y.
W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Midwifery, Pa. University.
N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University.
T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila.
Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana.
Jose Eurenco de Lux, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon.
G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain.
J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London.
Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army.
Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on a label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swain, copy right secured

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

HERTS BROTHERS

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA

PENS.

WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

MANUFACTORY, BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND.

May be had, Wholesale, at the Manufacturers' DEPOTS,

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS

With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were few who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"PATENT OFFICE,

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.

"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,

Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water to a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

WHY MODERN MEN ARE UGLY.

The Home Journal has received from a friend at Paris a translated passage from a new work by Alphense Karr, which it declares to be "something new and sausy." It is, at least, very amusing, all will agree, whatever they may think of Mr. Karr's estimate of what the preaching Friend called the "two sects":

If you, ladies, are much handsomer than we, it is but just you should acknowledge that we have helped you, by voluntarily making ourselves ugly. Your superiority in beauty is made up of two things; first, the care which you take to increase your charms; secondly, the zeal which we have shown to heighten them by the contrast of our finished ugliness—the shadow which we supply to your sunshine.

Your long, pliant, wavy tresses are all the more beautiful because we cut our hair short; your hands are all the whiter, smaller and more delicate, because we reserve to ourselves those toils and exercises which make the hands large and hard.

We have devoted entirely to your use, flowers, feathers, ribbons, jewelry, silks, gold and silver embroidery. Still more to increase the difference between the sexes, which is your greatest charm, we have divided with you the hues of nature. To you we have given the colors that are rich and splendid, or soft and harmonious; for ourselves we have kept those that are dark and dead. We have given you sun and light; we have kept night and darkness.

We have monopolised the hard stony roads that enlarge the feet; we have let you walk only on carpets. Think you your feet would have been so narrow and finely curved but for that?

Man received from nature as his companion a sort of female man, probably less handsome than himself, as is the case with the female of other animals; of this female he has made woman.

So much did he feel the desire and need of adoring you, that he dressed you in long clothes. Note that these long clothes are only allowed to men filling functions in whose holders it was necessary that no personal imperfections should be discernable. Kings, priests, and magistrates wear long garments like you.

But, by this very division, man entered into possession of his own particular and legitimate beauty, which consisted in strength, endurance and dignity. In making woman more womanly, he made himself more manly.—Everything which increases the difference of the sexes adds charms to love. Distance is necessary; loving-room is as requisite as fighting-room.

Nothing was more rational than this distribution of parts. The man had short hair and a long beard; his complexion was bronzed by sun and wind; his muscular arms terminated in short, knotty hands; his legs with their salient muscles, were supported on feet hardened by the toils of war and the chase. He was to please the woman by his strength, by his courage, by the protection which he gave her; there was a little fear in the woman's love for the man—a sentiment which civilization has not been able to destroy entirely. A real woman truly loves no man but one who is her master. [!] It is said that woman's pleasure is to command; I maintain that her happiness is to obey. Woman like commanding as great ladies like dining at a country tavern—once in their lives by accident. Never would a woman, before the progress of civilization, have accepted the love of a languishing, frail, elegant man. The man had to defend her against men and other wild animals. He had to bring to she hut the deer or the wild boar for her and her children, to lift her up and carry her when the road was too rough, to help her in swimming across rivers, etc., etc.

But things changed with the advance of civilization. Woman, protected by law and by custom, had no actual need of man's strength. Man took less exercise, renounced the fatigues and pleasures of the chase, and made war by proxy. The civilized man, the man of the world, lost his manly beauty, and from that time silly tried to get back from woman a portion of what he had conceded to her.

Then he began to let his hair grow, and curl it, and part it accurately on one side; then he wanted to have white and delicate hands, small feet and slim waist. He took back silks and velvets, under the name of waistcoats; he loaded his fingers with rings and put diamonds into his shirts; he wore gold and jewels; the cravat afforded him a pretext for reclaiming his share of ribbons.—He demanded a new distribution of colors, and not only regained red, blue and green, but usurped pink, azure and lilac. Having no longer the true beauty of a man, he took it into his head that he would share in that of the woman—and consequently he became very ugly.

Let a man lace himself as tight as he will, his waist will never be as small as that of a moderately sized woman. It is of no use for him to torture his feet into boots too small for them; a man's small foot is larger than a woman's large one. Equally useless is it for him to do nothing with his hands and to put them into gloves that are too tight; the smallest man's glove can hold both a woman's hands. No matter how he bedizens himself with flashy cravats and sparkling waistcoats, his dress must look mean and dingy beside a woman's, since he dares not lay aside his awful coat and trowsers, or his hideous hat; still less put flowers in his hair.

Nature made male and female man. Man made man and female woman.

When women see men seeking, with very middling success, to arrive at beauty by the same means as themselves, they compare men's faces with their faces, men's feet with their feet, men's clothes with their clothes, and naturally find men ugly and ill-dressed.

Besides the indisputable inferiority to which men subject themselves in their ridiculous pretension to dispute the palm of feminine beauty with women, they do themselves wrong in another way, which some of them do not yet perceive; but the importance of which will soon be too obvious to the majority of them. It is this:

They become old much sooner. If a man's beauty were supposed to consist—as it really should—in dignity, strength, endurance, courage and intelligence, as that of a woman consists in grace, elegance, lightness, freshness, and timid simplicity, his old age would begin to lose his strength, intelligence and courage—that is to say, when his muscles relaxed; when his step became heavy and dragging, when his eyes lost their fire. But if you require in a man beauties like those of a woman—a slim figure, a fresh complexion and the like—it is clear that by this rule a man of twenty-five is less handsome than a lad of eighteen; that at thirty he is no longer young, and at forty is old. Whereas if we looked for the man's beauty where it ought to be, and really is, he would regain fifteen years, which he loses by the present doubly erroneous estimate.—ALPHONSE KARR.—Nouvelles Guepes.

KNOW NOTHINGS—EXPOSES.

For several months past, we have seen published, in almost every paper in New England, long articles purporting to be full and accurate accounts of the mysterious order of Know Nothings, and giving the forms and ceremonies of initiation into and government of this much talked of organization. A few weeks ago, a Richmond paper published one of these exposes, which was stated to have been contributed by a high officer of the society and was undoubtedly the only correct history that had ever been published in the country. The secret was exposed, and the great humbug was crushed. The whole matter was let out to the greedy multitude, and the managing politicians had nothing to fear. As the only true account, the papers throughout the country caught it up and published, and endorsed it—and yet knew nothing about it.

About the time when this article had gone the rounds of the press, the paper in which it originated, came out with an article, acknowledging that it, and all its followers had been—sold. This contradiction followed after the "expose," in the same track, and politicians were at fault again.

In the Daily Mail of Saturday, we see a long article, with the following title,—

"Something for the people.—A True and Veritable Account of the Organization, Forms, Ceremonies, &c. of the Order of Know Nothings."

This article purports to have been contributed to the Cincinnati Times, by a National officer of the order, by virtue of a vote passed at a recent meeting of the National Organization of the society, for the purpose of enlightening the people as to the true objects of the order. The editor of the Mail appears to believe it, as in an editorial he says,

On our first page will be found an interesting account of the objects and principles, as well as the forms and ceremonies of this order. It is the only thing of the kind which has come in an authentic shape. The Cincinnati Times, from which it is taken, is devoted to the cause of Native Americanism, and would not, we are sure, put forth such a statement, purporting to be official, without all necessary proofs as to its authenticity.

We have read the whole article, and in our opinion it is as great a humbug as was ever attempted to be imposed upon a gullible public.

The principles of the order, as given in the article, are good enough for any party, but the manner of proposing members and the forms of initiation are so foolish, that a child would laugh them to scorn. According to this contributor the applicant is marched through the various rooms under guard, and swears to the obligations with fixed bayonets pointed at his breast, while all around him are armed and accoutred in all the trappings of glorious war, so that one would suppose he was in a general court martial, rather than in a political meeting. While reading the article the query arose in our mind, where could such large bodies of men as are supposed to belong to the order obtain their guns and equipments unknown to outsiders?

From what we can pick up, the order of Know Nothings is entirely political in its every arrangement,—with perhaps form enough to render solemn any promise the applicant may be called upon to make, and perhaps pass words and signs to guard themselves from interlopers and improper persons, and to be able to recognize brother members. Their object, we take it, is to endeavor to obtain a controlling influence—not to oppress foreigners—but to preserve our liberties from the dangers to which they might be liable if managed by men who are under the direction of the Romish church. That Catholics are under such spiritual guidance is well known; and if the priest says, or is instructed by his Bishop to order any thing to be done, the members of that church are obliged to do the bidding, however objectionable that command may be.—This society desire that all foreigners, it is said, should be residents of this country long enough, before being allowed to vote, to become acquainted with the working of our institutions, and therefore demand that the time required for them to reside in the country before being naturalized, should be extended.

The great safety of this country is in the common schools, and it is important that foreigners should be educated. The policy of the Catholic church has been to keep the masses in ignorance, except by oral teachings of the Priests. Should the offices be filled by foreigners, particularly if by Catholics, there is danger that our schools will be abandoned, or perverted from their original purpose; hence this movement to keep foreigners from holding office.

Every politician knows the efforts made by both parties, to secure the foreign vote in general elections. The praise of the "rich brogue" was intended to exert the same influence, as was the proposed destruction of the religious test in the Constitution of New Hampshire.

The result of this movement will probably be that the old party lines will be broken up, and new ones formed, when the Know Nothings will fall to pieces, and be merged in them, until another revolution is demanded. If corruption creeps in again another movement will be made for the purification of the stables—but what direction it may take, we "don't know,"—reader, do you?

All of these exposes, were probably written by some knowing "Know Nothing," for the purpose of misleading the ignorant, though perhaps all of them contain some grains of truth, as we notice that all of them have denied admission to foreigners to their halls—which is exceedingly probable.

That they are all spurious we have no doubt: and we do not believe that the real article will ever be divulged, so long as the existence of the organization is deemed necessary.

THE CROPS.

The cutting off of the Corn and Potato crops in this vicinity is a serious misfortune to our farmers, and of course to our entire community. A similar cutting off is reported in many localities, but is not universal. The Boston Courier says:

The wheat crop has been harvested in the United States and Canada, and it is not in the power of croakers, speculators nor monopolists, to shove by the fact that it is full, and probably unprecedented in quantity. We observe by a perusal of the prices current in some of the cities of the middle states, that most of the wheat which has been forwarded to market was of poor quality. Very likely. In such an enormous harvest there must of course be a fair proportion of wheat which is not entirely sound and perfect—not received as first class—and this is always hurried to the market, and with the present famine prices, there was greater inducement for the planter to send forward this portion of his wheat this year than in most former years, as he has as much sound grain at home as he can well take care of, and if there should be a fall in prices, this portion of his crop would feel the effects thereof more suddenly and effectually than any other part of his produce. There is no want of wheat on the other side of the Atlantic, where the price is lower than it is in America—there is no market for breadstuffs in California, and none in Australia.—Those, therefore, who look for a relief and discharge of their over-stocked granaries, by export, except at a large reduction in price, will most likely be disappointed.

The corn crop, however, presents the aspect of a serious misfortune to the whole United States. By the last United States census we observe that the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee, returned 316,853,393 bushels of corn. A loss of one-fourth of this is nearly eighty million bushels. Writers, however, incline to the opinion that the loss in the states named will be nearer 50 than 25 per cent. of the corn crop; that is, it will be equal to the destruction of one hundred and fifty million bushels of corn, to say nothing of potatoes and other important crops. The corn crop has not suffered so badly in New England. The Ploughman of Saturday states that Massachusetts still holds on, and some of the corn fields will be safe if the potatoes are short.

The New York Herald looks lighter upon the effects of the drought upon the corn crop than most other journals. Thus:

It is believed by many persons that the effects of the drought upon the Indian corn crop is greatly overrated, taking the whole country into view. Merchants from the cotton districts of Alabama, and other sections of the South, represent the corn crop as larger and more promising than for many years previous. The high price paid for the article last season induced the planters to raise their own corn this year, finding it would be cheaper to grow it than to purchase it from the grain growing states of the West at 80 cents per bushel. Hence, admitting that some sections of the West will fail in their corn crops, still the hitherto large market for it in the planting states will be wanting the coming year. The Indian corn crop in many sections of New England is spoken of very favorably. At the West, the drought has probably only prevailed in certain localities or belts of country, while others have suffered little, if any.—On river bottoms and moist soils the yield will likely be about an average one; and, on high lands, it is a plant which stands the drought remarkably well. These facts, taken in connection with the circumstance that large supplies of the old crop are still held at the West, make us feel pretty well convinced that the effects of the drought have been considerably exaggerated.

THE FUND FOR WILLIAMS COLLEGE.—The effort determined upon a year or two since to raise a fund of $50,000 to strengthen and improve Williams College, has succeeded so far that $28,000 is subscribed, of which $10,000 has been paid over to the college.—Morris Ketchum of New York, gave $5000, which, aside from Amos Lawrence's generous benefactions, is the largest contribution to the college from any single person. Had Amos Lawrence lived a week longer, probably the whole of the desired fund would have been made up long ere this.—Springfield Repub.

THE DYING WIFE TO HER HUSBAND.

Death may attempt to make us twain,
Divide us he can never;
Our hearts are bound by such a chain,
No power like his can sever;
And when our work on earth is o'er,
We meet where death can part no more.

He may by his all powerful hand,
Relax the bond that tied us;
But we shall meet in that blest land,
Where nothing can divide us;
The hearts which here were bound by love,
Shall meet but never part above.

To live together or to part
I would not be the chooser,
United as we are in heart,
Neither can be the loser,
For if we live we live in love,
And if we die we meet above.

New Castle, Aug. 17, 1854. T.

LOCAL.

OUR LAUNDRY.

A correspondent requests us to republish the following item from the Messenger, with his commentary:

A project has been started here to get up a corporation laundry, where washing and ironing can be done cheaper than it is now done by the many poor women among us who wear away their lives at the wash-tub for the support of their families, who otherwise must go to the almshouse. We dislike to say a word in discouragement of enterprise and true progress among us, but really we cannot commend the formation of such a soulless corporation as would enter into competion with and break down the poor washwomen. We had rather pay another sixpence a week for our washing, and save it in our smoking.—Messenger.

We commend the benevolence of the writer of the above. Every thing which has a tendency to oppress the poor should be frowned upon, and there is too much truth in the sad picture he has drawn. There are indeed "many poor women among us, who wear away their lives at the wash tub for the support of their families." But we marvel that at this day, after so many experiments, any one should suppose that a laundry would increase the evil.

Once upon a time many a poor woman used to wear out her life carding, spinning and weaving, and the old fogies thought the cotton mills were going to drive these poor women to the alms house, and our "gals" would have to work at 50 cents a week!

When railroads were being started, the farmers were going to knock their horses in the head. They would not be worth raising! I ask the writer of the abyve article to point out a single labor saving machine (that has proved to be such,) that has not benefited the poor. "Very true but this is a different case." So is every new labor-saving machine. About a year ago our needle-women made a hue and cry against the sewing machines, but they are multiplying by hundreds. Our modest needle-women ask a dollar a day and their board at this present time, for their labor. Less than a year ago some hard-hearted men in this city were going to starve out the poor wood sawyers with their machines; and they have been driving their machines ever since, regardless of the piteous cry of the sawyer. Is any one troubled with sawyers begging at their door for a little wood to saw, and offering to do it for a dollar a cord to save them from starvation?

The great difficulty that laundries have to contend with, is that of procuring sufficient help. But we think that by paying good wages we shall succeed here, particularly as those poor women will not have to wear out their lives at the wash tub, or expose their lives still more in hanging out their clothes to dry.—Washing in a laundry is comparatively pleasant, easy work.

☞ The shower of Saturday evening laid the dust in our city, and refreshed the leaves of plants and trees; but its effects are scarcely perceptible on the soil, so speedily was it absorbed and evaporated.

Refreshing showers on Saturday, reached from Portland to Baltimore. In Philadelphia the wind was violent.

Capt. Geo. B. Wendell, of this city, late of the ship Piscataqua, sold at Calcutta, came passenger in the ship Lotus, arr. at Boston.

☞ We learn that Mr. Charles Joy, of Berwick, was instantly killed on the P. S. & P. Railroad, near the Junction at South Berwick, Monday morning, 28th inst. Mr. Joy left home that morning for Portsmouth, to work in the ship-yard of the Mechanics' Shipbuilding Co., where he had been employed during the summer. It appears he was walking on the middle of the track, and only a few minutes before the accident was conversing with some of the persons employed on the Road, enquiring when the train would come, and was told it was then coming. No blame can be attached to any one, as the usual signals were given. Mr. Joy was an industrious man, about 60 years of age, possessed some property, and has left a large family at Berwick, to mourn his loss. He left this city on Saturday evening to see a sick daughter at home.

☞ We are requested to state that in consequence of the death and funeral obsequies of Mr. Nathaniel Fernald, a worthy and respected member of the Pleasant street Christian church and Society, (see notice under the head of "Deaths") the Pic Nic contemplated by the Sabbath School connected with that Society, on Wednesday next, will be postponed till next week. Notice of time will be given hereafter.

A BOY STABBED BY HIS FATHER.—John Sullivan was arrested Friday afternoon, on a charge of stabbing his son, James Sullivan, a small boy, with some sharp instrument, twice in the belly. The father took offence at something which the son said, and flew at him in a violent passion. The wounds inflicted are not of a serious nature, and the boy is quite unwilling to appear against his father, who is at present in jail.—Boston Courier.

DIED.

In this city, Aug 27, of dysentery, Nathaniel, aged 21 years and six months, third son of Mr William D. Fernald. A young man of great promise, who leaves a large circle of afflicted relatives, and numerous friends, (particularly of the young) to mourn his early departure. Thus are the strong and healthy cut down in the prime of life;—surely Death is no respector of persons.

His funeral obsequies will take place on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the Pleasant-st. church, which his numerous friends are respectfully invited to attend.

In this city, Aug 25, Mrs Eunice Ayers, aged 65 years, wife of Mr George Ayers.

THE UNION RAILROAD.—This railroad, intended to connect the Boston and Worcester and other railroads with the Grand Junction road at East Boston is in process of building. It commences upon the Worcester Railroad near Shipyard Bridge, (the piles for that purpose are all driven down,) and thence through Cambridge, connecting with that part already built from East Boston. When it is completed it will do away with a considerable amount of the heavy teaming through the streets, of the goods intended for Canada and other places, which will then be taken from vessels and carried in cars to the roads for which they are intended. It will be a convenience for passengers also, saving them much time and trouble in the shape of hacks and change of baggage. A late report of the directors of the Boston and Worcester Railroad gave statistics to show the great and increasing value of Canadian trade, and the large amount of goods annually transported there from Boston. By means of this connection the Boston and Worcester Railroad Company expect to obtain a portion of this traffic.—Traveller.

ARREST FOR LIBEL—MORTALITY IN BROOKLYN—FIVE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH.—NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Messrs. Abbe & Yates, the agents of the notorious Life in Boston for this city, have been arrested to answer the charge of certain libellous articles published in that paper.

The mortality of the city of Brooklyn last week was 185—a decrease of twelve from the preceding week. From cholera the deaths were thirty—a decrease of fifteen.

The residence of Mr. Abraham Simpson, at Beekman, Duchess county, was destroyed by fire on Friday, and five children perished in the flames. Mrs. Simpson was also badly burned.

IOWA.—Official.—For Governor, Grimes, Republican 10,738; Bates, Democrat 9,954; majority 784. The result is an anti-Nebraska Legislature. Congressmen, Rufus L. B. Clarke and James Thorington, (both anti-Nebraska;) Secretary of State, George W. McCleary (anti-Nebraska Democrat.) The Whigs had no candidate. Treasurer, Martin L. Morris (Democrat who did not commit himself to the Nebraska question.) The Whigs had no candidate. Auditor of State, A. Jackson Stephens (Whig) stands the best chance it is reported. Attorney-General, David C. Cloud (anti-Nebraska Democrat,) probably.

It is said that the owner of Anthony Burns now refuses to sell him short of $1500, and threatens to send him to the south unless that sum is speedily raised. The chances are that if the $1500 were raised, the "chivalrous" Virginian would back out, and demand more. —Boston Mail.

John Miller, the person who confessed to the murder of a man at Burlington, N. J., has died of typhoid fever in the county prison.—The probability is that the murder was entirely imaginary with him, being caused by the peculiar mental derangement which often precedes typhoid fever.

On the Concord Railroad, men with a hand car follow after each train to see if any thing has caught fire from sparks emitted, the president thinking it much cheaper than to have cars, fence, and lumber burned the whole length of the road.

The election in Maine is to take place on Monday, Sept. 11.

SHOCKING.—During the fire in Troy on Friday afternoon, a wagon containing a quantity of furniture, upon which was seated an Irish woman, who had with her a child about fifteen months old, was passing up Second street, when the poor infant fell from the arms of the drunken mother, and the vehicle passed over it, instantly killing it! The mother was with difficulty kept on the wagon, and was perfectly unconscious of the death of her infant.

WATCH YOUR POCKETS IN A CROWD.—Mr. George Pook of Charlestown, while waiting for the train at the depot in Salem, on Friday evening, was admonished by a "gentleman" of the danger of his watch—the chain of which was quite conspicuously displayed—in so great a crowd. Mr. Pook took the hint, watched his pocket; but with all his precaution, his watch was stolen—perhaps, by the "gentleman."

FOUND.—Mr. Jacob Mansfield of Vermont suddenly disappeared from the residence of his relative, George A. Mansfield, at Malden, on the morning of the 8th of July. Search was made for him and a reward offered for his recovery. On Friday his body was found suspended from a tree in Malden woods. He undoubtedly committed suicide. The valuable papers and money, of which his friends supposed he had been robbed, and murdered, were found in his pockets.

NEW YORK, August 27.—The official mortality table of the past week shows the following result:—Total deaths, 832; under ten years of age, 511; Cholera, 131; cholera infantum, 126; diarrhœa and dysentery, 99.

A fire was raging yesterday on the Catskill mountains, and teams were sent up to remove the furniture, &c, from the Mountain House. Late in the day, it was reported that the hotel had been entirely destroyed, but the report wants confirmation.

LIGHTNING.—During the showers in New York on Friday night, two men and a horse were struck by lightning. Mr. Stevenson, a distiller, was very badly injured, and a man named John Martin, a soda manufacturer, was struck in the throat, and instantly killed. He appeared like a man who had been burned with powder.

As steamboat Alida was on her trip to Kingston last evening she sprung a leak, and made water so fast that it was found necessary to run her ashore. The passengers were all safely landed.

Richard Sachs, a Prussian fugitive from justice, who was arrested in this city several days ago and taken to Philadelphia, had a hearing on Friday before the United States Commissioner of that city, and has been committed to await a requisition from the Prussian government, agreeable to the treaty of 1853 between the United States and Prussia.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyronese, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

HARPER'S
Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously compiled, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.

MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854

MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs during the last spring—spitting of blood considerably, with soreness of chest, &c., I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium, and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength, and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours respy's, JAMES C. WILSON.

The Extract of Polypodium is manufactured and sold at wholesale and retail by

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!!

DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Sherry Wine Bitters

HAS induced several persons, who do not possess the least medical knowledge, to assume the title of Doctor, and put before the public an article in imitation of my Medicine, which they call Sherry Wine Bitters, and attempt to palm them off under the pretence that I have retired from business, and also that they manufacture an improved article of the same name.

I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the real article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.

Sold wholesale and retail at my office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston, and by all dealers in Medicine in every city, town and village throughout the New England States.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using the Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattle snake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 2 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth.
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

FOR LIVER COMPLAINTS AND JAUNDICE.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.
☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.
PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchial affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.
PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possess properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.
PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Full directions for the use of these medicines, on the Bottles. Orders should be accompanied with full directions how it should be sent.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y. U. W. E. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. T. Parke, M.D., Pres't College of Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Scarenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spain. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown in the glass:—

and having the name Jas. Swaim stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copy right secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Choleramorbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metallic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the re-nut of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the finest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1853" and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

PATENTS.

American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 76 state Street, opp. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on application, prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection of claims. Caveats, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

Gerrish House,

KITTERY POINT, MAINE.

THIS Establishment having been put in perfect order, will open for visitors on the 15th of June. Every attention will be given to make this House one of the most pleasant Summer resorts. Kittery Point is celebrated for its conveniences for bathing, fishing and sailing. Arrangements have been made to afford every facility for guests to enjoy the above amusements. The Post Office is within three minutes' walk of the House. A coach runs regularly twice a day to and from the Point, via the U. S. Navy Yard, arriving at and leaving the City of Portsmouth, three miles distant, on the arrival and departure of the cars. For further particulars address the proprietor, at Kittery Point, Me.

ISLES OF SHOALS.

STEAM having died out in Portsmouth, the subscriber has the pleasure to announce to his old friends and the public, that he has chartered the beautiful YACHT SEY, of 40 tons burden, and has had the good fortune to secure the services of Capt. JAMES W. GOODWIN, the well known pilot, as master. His skill, carefulness and attention will secure to the travelling public a more safe, expeditious, comfortable and pleasant transit to and from the Islands, than has hitherto been attained.

She will LEAVE BERRY WHARF, foot of State Street, Portsmouth, every day (Sundays excepted) immediately after the arrival of the trains from Boston and Concord, and return in season for the evening trains.

Many alterations and improvements have been made in the establishment to make it more convenient and comfortable.

An abundant supply of Ice has been carefully laid in, and the facilities for fishing perfected.

To the invalid, the lover of quiet and the active pleasure seeker, this location presents attractions not equaled in New England.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE.

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

DEATH OF MADAME SONTAG AND M. POZZOLONI.—The rumor that these distinguished vocalists came to their deaths by poison is now refuted by a letter from Louis Garome, who was with them at the time of their deathe. The letter is dated Mexico, August 4, and received by the editor of the New Orleans Bulletin. M. Garome states that their complaint was Asiatic cholera, contracted at a grand fete at the village of St. Augustine, four leagues from Mexico. The cholera, favored by the disorders which accompany this sort of fetes, and by so large a crowd, broke out with frightful violence, so much so that all these present were attacked.

Madame Sontag, spite of herself, was drawn to see this fete, and there she caught the germ of the malady, as did also M. Pozzolina, the Spanish Consul, the Secretary of the British Legation, the French Minister, and several other distinguished persons in Mexico. On the 11th of June, the celebrated artist fell ill, and Dr. Vanderlinden being called in haste to visit her, pronounced it an attack of cholera. The next day, Dr. Hildebrand, her physician-in-ordinary, pronounced it the same malady. Remedies which are so much used to cure it in Europe and America were employed, and no one can be accused of having poisoned Madame Sontag and caused her death. On the 12th, having visited her in company with her physician and Dr. Martinez del Rio, I was persuaded that it was a case of cholera, which, notwithstanding all the remedies employed, and the devoted attentions of Dr. Hildebrand, would terminate unhappily by death. * * * *

Unless they can say that three thousand persons have been poisoned at Mexico during the last few months, they cannot say so of Madame Sontag and M. Pozzoloni.

LIBERATED SLAVES FOR LIBERIA. The heirs of Augustine and Geo. Low, in Loudon Co., Va., have, in compliance with the wishes of those gentlemen, expressed previous to their death, written to the Colonization Society offering to liberate fifty negro slaves, provided that Society will convey them to Liberia and make the usual provision for them there. The slaves are valued at $30,000, and most of them are young and thrifty servants. Sixteen are professors of religion; several can read and write; and others have been brought up to trades. The Colonization Society have of course accepted the proposition, and the party will leave for Liberia on the 28th of October. Connected with the above liberated slaves, by ties of intermarriage, are several others, for whose redemption active efforts are being made in New York, in order that they may accompany their families to Liberia.—One of them is a man named Henry Tyler, a servant of Dr. Thomas Triplett, of Fauquier Co., Va., whose wife and nine children are among the liberated slaves. Mr. Triplett offers to sell Tyler for $750, or about one half of his original value, and has permitted him to go to New York and solicit funds to that amount from the charitably disposed of that city, for the purpose of himself. The Journal of Commerce says that any donations sent to the office of that paper, or to Governor Pinney, Colonization Rooms, Bible House, will be applied to that purpose.

LIVING IN KANSAS.—An emigrant in Kansas, in a letter of August 2d, writes that it cost him and his wife $70 to reach there—that he is thirty-five miles from the post office, in what he deems a first rate country—timber, perhaps, a little scarce. He says of the emigrants already there:—"Some will get sick and go home, yet hundreds of first rate families are staying. Log cabins are going up in every direction. If your wife and daughter could consent to live for a time in a cabin sixteen feet square, and do without a thousand luxuries and many necessities which you enjoy in New York, you could live very well.—Furniture of all kinds here is very high. Did I live even in New York, I would ship all necessary articles of household goods, but no unnecessary ones. Provisions I do not think are high. Corn meal 40 cents; oats 30 cents; wheat $1 per bushel; flour $3.50 per 100 lbs; bacon about 6 1-4 to 8 1-2 cents. Goods are some higher." His postscript, like a lady's, will be deemed by most people the most important part of the letter, viz.:

"P. S. Kansas will be free! Thirty Massachusetts men arrived yesterday."

KISSING NO ROBBERY.

"Oh! quit—get out, now don't you;
I really wish you wouldn't!
Oh! quit—will you? Oh! get out—
You know you ought to shouldn't.

There now, you've got it—oh, be still!
You shan't have any more!
You've got—oh, take your face away—
What no man has got before.

Once more—there, that will do—oh, don't!
You've rumpled up my hair;
If you'll but quit, I'll give you one—
Now—take it—there—there—there!"

Not long since an Eastern man, while on his way to Boston, was stopped on the highway by a robber, and requested to hand over his money, or have his brains blown out.

O, said the traveler, quietly, blow away, blow away! it's better to go to Boston without brains than without money.

A great many go without either, but manage to get along better than those who have both—by having plenty of brass.

The inability of a wife to make bread has been declared sufficient ground for divorce, by the Jones County Agricultural Society of Iowa.

HOPS of 1853 growth—for sale by jy27 LA FAYETTE LAIGHTON.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Linimeut, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 30, 1854.

A DISH OF POLITICS.

A savory dish might be made about these days, with but little trouble. Parties are greatly mixed up and confused, to the utter dismay of such patriots as understand nothing more of politics than party names and catch-words.

The Boston Courier, in speaking of some Southern whigs and their doctrines, says:

It should be understood that the Baltimore Patriot, though a sound whig paper, favored the passage of the Nebraska bill. We do not perceive that the whigs of the South have any chance of standing up with success, as a national party, while Nebraska is the principal topic of discussion at the North, and we fear that the candid and devout wish of Senator Sumner, that 'anti-sectionalism' should prevail over the country, will not be carried out in our day.

It is quite evident that the 'sound whig' of Baltimore, is quite a different person from the sound whig of Vermont or Maine, to whom the Nebraska bill was a bill of abominations.

The Nashua Gazette, an able democratic paper of our own State, discourses of Massachusetts politics on this wise.

The politics of Massachusetts were never in a more confused state than at the present moment. The whig party is in a collapsed state, and the most intelligent of its adherents have no hopes of its success at the coming election. The free soil party is in but little better condition, though its numbers may be increased considerably by accessions from the 'Know Nothings' and that portion of the whigs who prefer abolitionism in its Simon Pure state, rather than to take it covered up with a sugar coat of whiggery. Their accessions, however, will not be enough to give the abolitionists a majority. If the democrats can harmonize, and give the nominees of their party a united and cordial support their chance of success will be better than at any previous period for ten years.

If any intelligent democrat of Massachusetts should happen to read the last sentence of the above quotation, we think he must smile at the prospect of success of the democratic party in the Bay State, knowing as he does, that its only success, present or probable, consists in holding the numerous good offices under the general government within that State, as the gift of the present administration. Such success as to elect a Governor, or to get a majority of Senators or Representatives, must be attained by a coalition, like that which the same party made with the free soilers a few years ago.

In California, there are two distinct democratic parties, made by splitting the old one into two pretty equal parts, each of which has nominated a set of candidates; while the whigs, who are a minority, expect to carry the State, under the plurality system. It is said, besides, that an anti-Nebraska ticket is to be brought out, and placed on the course, which will make the contest still more complex.—There were fifteen newspapers of the late democratic party in California; now eight are on one side, and seven on the other. We do not see any principle, or question, on which the division is made. It appears to be a rivalry between two sets of men, each of which want office.

SAN JUAN.—A list of buildings destroyed at San Juan on the 13th July, has been published, by which it appears that the number of houses and huts demolished by bombarding and fire amounts to 150, not counting many small ranches destroyed by fire. Property destroyed, as far as can be estimated, about $1,500,00—there may be more, as valuable goods remained in store waiting conveyances to Grenada, &c., the civil war on the lake interfering with the transit of goods.—Eight or ten small houses were saved merely by chance.

The owners of the property destroyed are parties residing at San Juan, Americans, English, Germans, and several Italians, residing in Grenada and Italy; Nicaraguans, citizens of Grenada and other interior towns; also several Frenchmen who had valuable property in their charge. Many of these owners were acting as agents for merchants in the interior and Europe, for the receiving and forwarding of goods.—Boston Transcript.

This does not agree with the statement which we published ten or twelve days ago, from the Boston Herald, in which Greytown is represented as consisting of "some thirty" bamboo huts about as good as pigsties, and of half a dozen shanties, like cattle sheds, containing a few bottles of bad rum. But it does agree with the affidavit of Calvin Durand, a merchant of New York city, who makes oath that Capt. Hollins destroyed his goods there to the value of fourteen thousand dollars, and his warehouse of the value of six thousand. We shall get at the facts in the case by and by.

TROUBLE WITH THE MARYS.—Mary Wright, of Seabrook, was brought before Mr. Justice Gordon, of Exeter, on Friday last, on complaint of Mary J. Eaton, of the same place, for assault and battery. It appears that the latter Mary, went to a well to draw water, when the former Mary, in a very unchristian spirit, did seize the well-pole, and therewith beat, bruise, maim, and mutderously assault the latter, much to the hurt of the peace and dignity of the State. Mary Wright was found guilty, and fined four dollars and costs. —News Letter.

GRUMBLERS—AND ERRORS.

The New York Herald says,—

Now for the brighter side of the picture: In the first place, our farmers and planters are proverbially hard to please. When their crops are superabundant, they complain of the prices; and when the prices are high, they complain of short crops. They are never exactly satisfied; but on the other hand, as a general rule the "sturdy yeoman," instead of being the happiest, is, of all independent men, the most miserable of mortals. In the most abundant seasons we have never failed to hear of drought, and rust, and weevil and frost; or of crops being drowned out by the rain, or washed away by floods, or eaten up, root and branch, by the army-worm and other vermin. Yet we have always had enough, some to spare for exportation, and a good deal to hold over. So now, notwithstanding the general drought, and the wide spread desolation among the corn, potato and pasture fields, we have an abiding hope that our corn, potatoes and other substantials will "turn out a great deal better than was expected;" and that before a month is over, all fear of a famine will be at an end.

Universal as the drought has been, there are many localities in all the infected districts which will yield a good return. The general shortness of the crop will lead to more care in gathering what is produced. That which has been reserved from last year will be brought into market. Less will be consumed in the manufacture of bald-faced whiskey, swill fed beef, swill fed pork, and swill milk, than of late years; and, to use a Western expression, "more will be wasted in bread."

We hope so: but the Herald ought not to use the word always, which we have italicised. Surely the year 1837 was an exception, wherein we imported old grain from Europe, in large quantities, and had to eat the most execrable flour, made from the same.

SUDDEN OUTBREAK OF CHOLERA AT FALL RIVER.—The Traveller learns from Fall River that the cholera made its appearance at that place on Friday night last. An Irishman, who died at Newport of the disorder, was taken to Fall River for interment. His countrymen held a "wake" over his body, and soon after the disease showed itself and a large number were attacked; up to this morning nineteen deaths had occurred, all Irishmen.—One man, who was arrested for stealing pig iron, and who was to have his trial Monday morning, died in the lock-up, after a few hours sickness. The deaths of others were equally sudden, they surviving the attack but a few hours.

In Taunton, last week, some six or seven persons, all Irish, died of cholera, but no new cases have since occurred.

In the panic about the Cholera at Fall River, Mass. it is stated that the Irish refuse to take the medicines prescribed by the physicians, entertaining the idea that the Americans are anxious to poison them! They are certainly entitled to our pity and compasion.

WISE FORECAST.—The National Intelligencer says—"Twenty-six of the prominent citizens of Winchester, Va, have made a call upon the people of Frederick County, to join them in making provision for the scarcity and serverity of the coming winter, to save the poorer classes from want. The reason of this early and most commendable movement is thus stated: 'In a large section, if not several sections, of our good old County, the wheat and oat crops of the present year were sad failures. To a far greater, if not to an universal extent, it is now a fixed fact that the same must be the case with the buckwheat, corn, potato, and, in fine, every vegetable crop.'"

The Boston correspondent of the Portland State of Maine, writes that the opinion of legal gentlemen, so far as they have informally expressed one, is that the owners of the prostrate buildings in broad street are alone liable for losses occasioned by their fall. He adds: "It would seem that Mr. Abraham French, the owner of the building, occupied by the Messrs. Louis, is of the opinion that he is in a tight place; a fact which he has signified, by offering to make his tenants whole. The entire bill, including building, must figure up to about $200,000. Few, but men of means, can transact business on this scale. The offer of Mr. French is as generous as it is just. He may be put down as an honest man—a character which Shakspeare tells us, is 'one in a thousand.'"

FALSE REPORT.—The Pawtucket Chronicle ignores the story of masked liquor sellers and Trent Hall, and the commitment of a hotel keeper and four assistants, as reported by telegraph.

The Buffalo Republic says the Erie Railroad is now doing an immense freighting business. The charges on cattle alone from Dunkirk last week, were over $15,000. Immense quantities of lumber are also carried over the road from different points between Elmira and Olean.

The telegraph reports a great panic at Savannah in consequence of the yellow fever—the citizens rapidly leaving. The Charleston people are also working themselves into a panic for the same reason.

Senator Douglas arrived home (at Chicago) on Thursday last, and took rooms at the Tremont. The Press says—"The event created no sensation. Mr. Postmaster Cook and Mr. Collector Snowhook and a few others called upon him." The individuals who gave out, about the time of the recess of Congress, that the Senator dare not visit Chicago, do not appear to have been on hand.

IN A QUANDARY.—The Syracuse Journal says that "several of our politicians, who seem to be very anxious to serve the people in some capacity or other, after the fall election, are at a stand. They appear to be at a loss to know which is the most profitable bid to make, for the Know Nothings or Freesoilers, believing that they can't get both. It is somewhat amusing to see them angling around endeavoring to find out which is the strongest side. We hope they will find out immediately after the election."

LOCAL.

FIRES AT CANDIA.—The fire of which we spoke in Monday's Chronicle, as having occurred on Saturday, at Candia, destroyed about 600 cords of hard wood and a steam saw mill. There was about $4000 insured on the wood and mill. The same evening another fire occurred in that neighborhood, which burned over about 25 acres, and consumed about 400 cords of wood. The rain did not extend in that direction, and the trees, grass and bushes were exceedingly dry. Both fires were undoubtedly the work of an incendiary.

The street Commissioner is making good progress in re-paving Vaughan street, in accordance with a recent vote of the Board of Aldermon. While paving, the officer is also re-setting the curb stones, and when the job is finished, the street will be in as good repair as any in the city. Vaughan street has needed this repair for a year or two.

NARROW ESCAPE.—Mr. Jeremiah Drew of this town, and a young man by the name of Odiorne, while returning from Portsmouth last week in a small boat, in which was about a dozen bushels of corn, ran against one of the piers of the Portsmouth Bridge. The boat immediately sunk and Mr. Drew with it, while his companion clung to one of the timbers of the bridge. The boat and Mr. D. rose, and sank a second time, when he was finally rescued, nearly drowned.—Dover Enquirer.

THE LATE DR. WOODS,—Leonard Woods, D. D., Professor of Christian Theology in the Andover Theological Seminary, was probably more widely known throughout the Union than any other American clergyman. The students who have been prepared for the Christian ministry during the 44 years that Dr. Woods has been connected with the Andover Seminary are now scattered in all quarters of thr habitable globe. The young, the middle-aged, and even the "fathers" now in the ministry have received instruction from his lips, and will ever cherish his memory.—Dr. Woods was born in Princeton, Mass., June 19, 1774. He was graduated at Harvard College in 1796, in the class with the late John Pickering, Peter O. Thacher, Charles P. Sumner, Dr. John Dixwell, and other eminent men. He was ordained Pastor of the Congregational Church in Newbury, December 5th, 1798, and dismissed May 26th, 1808. In 1810 he was installed Professor of Theology at the institution at Andover, at which place he has since resided. In his last days, and through a painful illness, he was surrounded by troops of friends and beloved children. A correspondent from Ardover writes that:—"He has been a great sufferer during his sickness, but his pains were borne with Christian resignation. The same gospel which he has preached and taught during a long life, was his solace and support in the time of his extremity." The funeral services will be held on Monday, (to-day) when there will doubtless be a large collection of clergymen and others desirous of paying a tribute to the memory of thers old teacher, guide and friend.—Transcript.

THE LITERARY AND AROMATIC LADY.—Some of the papers having mentioned that a well known lady had been 'the rounds' to obtain subscriptions for books, and after getting the money make herself oblivious: and the editor of the Charlestown Advertiser having been honored with a call, the good man discourses as follows:

"She called to see us, and promised to send us a copy. She spread a soft, plump, white hand upon our table, before our feasting eyes, and the perfume from an embroidered handkerchief which she held pleasingly, filled our nostrils. She touched us softly with vanity, spoke of the services she had received from the dear editors, invited us to call and see her daughters at the Winthrop House, and anointed us over and over with the most delicious 'blarney.' Owing to a vacuum in our treasury, we did not pay in advance, but ever since have been waiting patiently for the advent of the book; but we learn that some of the youthful and venerable gentlemen in this vicinity did secure her present smiles and a future copy by prepayment. When she left, the room continued fragrant with the aroma of her presence. The maternal author of so much merit has never appeared since then."

FIRE.—A fire occurred at Bucksport, Me., Monday morning, burning four stores, and one house containing three families. The loss is estimated at $15,000.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The Hon. Ebenezer Mosely of Newburyport, died suddenly at his residence in that city, on Monday morning. He was out Sunday, though in feeble health. Mr. M. was formerly an active member of the Federal party. He was in the State Senate some thirty years ago, and has filled various public trusts with great acceptance. He was one of the oldest members of the Essex Bar, but has not practiced his profession for the last few years of his life. His age was about 72 years.

PROSPECTS OF THE HARVEST IN ENGLAND.—The Gardeners' Chronicle publishes tabulated reports from its own correspondents in every county in England, as well as various parts of Ireland, Scotland and Wales, of the prospects of the harvest in their respective districts. The following are the results of an analysis of reports from 134 correspondents, spread over the forty English counties:

Wheat: Favorable 112; unfavorable 12; neuter 10.

Barley: Favorable 103; unfavorable 12; neuter 12.

Oats: Favorable 104; unfavorable 12; neuter 11.

Partial inquiries made in the Irish, Scotch and Welsh counties give similar favorable results.—London Paper.

FIRE IN THE WOODS.—The pine woods, near London, Canada West, are on fire, and the inhabitants of the district escaping for their lives. The smoke is so dense along the track of the Great Western Railroad at this point, and also at Chippewa Creek, that the trains will have to be temporarily discontinued.

Independent Clairvoyant.

MADAME YOUNG, the Mysterious Lady, and Mesmeric Physician, has arrived in this city and taken rooms at the PISCATAQUA HOUSE, where she will remain for a short time. This Lady, whose fame has spread throughout the New England States where she has been travelling for a number of years, and has met with unrivalled success, would now say to those Ladies and Gentlemen who may be curious to learn the future events that may distinguish their lives, as relates to Business, Marriage, Sickness, Absent Friends, whether dead or alive, that she will answer any questions relative to the Past, Present or Future; Also, Reveal Mysteries and Foretell coming Events with astonishing accuracy; will give correct information as regards diseases of whatever name or nature, will tell if they can be cured or not, and if curable what will cure them. The afflicted may be greatly benefitted by consulting her.

Visitors received from 8 o'clock A. M. to 9 P. M. Terms 50 cts. Charts extr a. a28

DESTRUCTIVE TORNADO.

A terrible tornado passed over the city of Louisville, Kentucky, last Sunday forenoon, near twelve o'clock, while the congregations were assembled for public worship in the churches.

The Third Presbyterian Church, situated on the corner of Eleventh and Walnut streets, was completely wrecked. The entire building fell in, causing the instant death of twenty of the congregation, and seriously injuring ten or more others. The scene was heart rending. Soon after a large crowd assembled and began their search for the victims. A mother and her three little children were first discovered, grouped together in death. Presently, a father, mother, and baby, the father dead, the mother mortally wounded, while the little child, placed beneath them for protection, and which escaped unhurt through the protection of its parent's bodies, were found. In other instances some of the victims were found terribly bruised and maimed. The catastrophe has created dreadful sensation in this city, and its people are appalled beyond belief. The following is a list of the killed: Mrs. Vildabee and three children, Mr. Taylor and child, Mr. Godfrey, Mrs. Salisbury, Miss Headly, John McGowan, Mr. Sweeny, Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Martin (wife of John N. Martin, saddler,) Mrs. Wicks, (niece of Mrs. Martin,) Mr. Harbour, Mr. McClelland, Mr. R. Davis, and Mr. McBird and child. It is thought that one or two others have been killed, whose names are not yet ascertained.

Fully 100 buildings in Louisville were unroofed and otherwise injured. The storm passed over the part of the city lying between Fifth and Twenty-first streets. A splendid block of four story houses, recently erected on the north side of Main, between Eighth and Ninth streets, was completely destroyed, and two or three men are supposed to be buried in the ruins. The buildings were built at an expense of $18,000. The upper story of the rope and bagging factory of W. A. Richardson & Co., Magazine street, was blown down, and the city school house on the corner of Ninth and Magazine streets was unroofed. The loss is estimated at $100,000. The storm was also very severe at Jeffersonville, where four houses were blown down.

FUNERAL CEREMONIES.—Louisville, Aug. 28th.—Agreeably to the proclamation of the Mayor, all business houses were closed, the bells were toled, and the funeral services of the unfortunate victims were performed at Dr. Breckenbridge's church, when an immense concourse of citizens gathered together to hear the Rev. Dr. Morrison, the pastor of the demolished church. He said that the door was blown open, and the house filled with dust, and in an instant the destruction was complete. Mr. Morrison was in the pulpit at the time of the castastrophe, and escaped uninjured.

TREMENDOUS CONFLAGRATION IN MILWAUKEE.—By an extra slip from the office of the Milwaukee News of the 25th, we learn that one of the most destructive fires that ever occurred in that city broke out on that day, destroying property to the amount of from half a million to a million of dollars. The fire caught about 12 o'clock in Davis's stables, and spread through the whole row of buildings, from Davis's to the Tremont House, and the wind then shifting, in an incredibly short space of time the United States Hotel, and the whole block, extending from Huron to Michigan streets, including the whole square bounded by Main, Huron, East Water and Michigan streets, was in flames. The flames then extended across East Water street to the west side, destroying all the buildings, from the corner of Huron street to Nazro's hardware store. The fire was still raging at half past five o'clock P. M. though there was no doubt that it would be confined within the limits named.

The progress of the flames was so rapid that the efforts of the firemen were almost paralyzed, and the greatest confusion and excitement prevailed. The streets were filled with smoke. One building was filled with fireworks, which produced a succession of loud reports, and walls were constantly falling with a loud crash.

There were numerous stories afloat of persons burned, and dying from suffocation and fatigue. The only thing definite that could be learned was that two Germans died from over exertion, and a fireman was drowned.—It is said that several others were severely injured. Large quantities of goods were thrown into the streets, and afterwards destroyed by fire and water. From twenty-five to thirty buildings were destroyed, many of them the most substantial brick buildings in the heart of the city.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Edward, alias Peter Crawford, has had a hearing before Mayor Conrad, on the charge of killing Francis Tumbleson, seventeen years since, in an oyster cellar in South-street. The parties were both colored. The accused has confessed to the killing, but says the deceased attacked him with a billet of wood.

THE FIRES STILL RAGING.—Bangor, Aug. 28.—The fires remain unchecked, although the slight rain on Saturday damped them somewhat in this vicinity. Buildings have been burned in Kenduskeag, Lagrange, Levant, Charleston, Corinth and many other towns. In Corinth alone, a small town, the damage to woodlands, &c., is over $10,000. Valuable tracts of timber land are entirely destroyed. In Hancock county the damage is also great. In some places the heat is so strong and the smoke so dense, that their roads are impassable. Nothing is done in many places but fight the fires; but copious rains must come before they can be subdued. There is scarcely a town within fifty miles of here but has more or less suffered. The drought continues, and the crops are all drying up. At present no prospect of rain, but the flames are being fanned by heavy winds.

CAUSE FOR REJOICING.—The Manchester, N. H., Mirror, rejoices because that city has at last got a laundry. Clean linen will no doubt be a "permanent institution" in that city.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyroncee, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.
While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.

MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1856.
MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my lungs during the last spring—spitting of blood considerably, with soreness of chest, &c., I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WRIGHT.

HARPER'S
Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.
Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

SAMUEL COOPER,
Late Chief Examiner in the United States Patent Office,

Procures Patents in this and Foreign Countries.

References.—The undersigned Principal and Assistant Examiners in the United States Patent Office, have for several years been well acquainted with Mr. Samuel Cooper, lately a Principal Examiner in this Office; and take pleasure in stating that he is a gentleman of the highest moral character, of unquestioned knowledge in the business and practice of the Office, and that his scientific attainments are such as eminently fit him for the business in which he is about to engage.

HENRY B. RYDWICK, L. D. GALE, J. H. LAKE, Principal Examiners.
T. R. PEALE, THOS. H. EVERETT, F. SOUTHGATE SMITH, WM. CHAUNCY LANGDON, Assistant Examiners.

From long acquaintance and intimate official relations with Mr. Cooper, I fully and heartily concur in the foregoing recommendation made by my late colleagues.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has now been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 7 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS,

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES,

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cared of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr. Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable sensations at first, but continue its use as indications favorable. It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

FULL DIRECTIONS ON THE BOTTLE.
☞ Price $1.00. ☜

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will generally facilitate a cure.
PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pains in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchia affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by any age and class, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.
PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown. No family should be without it for a single day.
PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Full directions for the above medicines, on the Bottles. Orders should be accompanied with full directions how it should be sent.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,

FOR THE CURE OF
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,
Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, Dr. W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine MOTT, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y.; W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. T. Parke, M.D., Prof. College of Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine. J. Chipman, Member Royal Coll. Surgeons, London. Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:—

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork; and a splendid engraving of the Medallion of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copy right secured

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the Digestive Organs such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD STAND, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a nomenclat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and cleanness of the quill, with the times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced several disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1858," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent office, under the Act of 1857) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

STILL having fitted out in Portsmouth, the subscriber has the pleasure to announce to his old friends and the public, that he has chartered the beautiful YACHT SPY, of 40 tons burden, and had the great good fortune to secure the services of Capt. JAMES W. GOODWIN, the well known pilot, as master. His skill, carefulness and attention will secure to the travelling public a more safe, expeditious, comfortable and pleasant mode of travel to and from the Islands, than has hitherto been attained.

She will leave PIER WHARF, foot of State Street, Portsmouth, every day (Sundays excepted) immediately after the arrival of the trains from Boston and Concord, and return in season for the evening trains.

Many alterations and improvements have been made in the establishment to make it more convenient and comfortable.

An abundant supply of Ice has been carefully laid in, and the facilities for fishing perfected.

To the invalid, the weary and the active pleasure seeker, this location presents attractions not equaled in New England.

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a

PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is a perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING promptly executed.

V. B. Palmer, American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York and Philadelphia; and is duly empowered to take advertisements and subscriptions at the same rates as required by us. His receipts will be regarded as payments.

THE BEGINNING OF MORMONISM.—Twenty-eight years ago, Joe Smith, the founder of this sect, and Harris, his first convert, applied to the senior editor of the Journal, then residing in Rochester, to print his "Book of Mormon," then just transcribed from the "Golden Bible," which Joe had found in the cleft of a rock, to which he had been guided by a vision. We attempted to read the first chapter, but it seemed such unintelligible jargon that it was thrown aside. Joe was a tavern idler in the village of Palmyra. Harris, who offered to pay for the printing, was a substantial farmer. Disgusted with what we considered a weak invention of an imposter, and not caring to strip Harris of his hard earnings, the proposition was declined. The manuscript was then taken to another printing office across the street, from whence, in due time, the original "Mormon Bible" made its advent.

"Tall trees from little acorns grow,"

But who would have anticipated from such a bald, shallow, senseless imposition, such worldwide consequences? To remember and contrast Joe Smith, with his loafer look, pretending to read from a miraculous slate-stone placed in his hat, with the Mormonism of the present day, awakens thoughts alike painful and mortifying. There is no limit, even in the most enlightened of all the ages of knowledge, to the influence of imposture and credulity. If knaves, or even fools, invent creeds, nothing is too monstrous for belief. Nor does the fact—a fact not denied or disguised—that all the Mormon leaders are rascals as well as imposters, either open the eyes of their dupes or arrest the progress of delusion.

"An exchange speaks rapturously of young ladies who can put on 'their things' in five minutes. If the truth could be known in such cases, we would wager a trifle that these same young ladies have holes in their stockings, and soiled handkerchiefs in their pockets."

We don't believe any such logic. Five minutes is long enough for any young lady to dress in—except on wedding occasions, when ten might be allowed. But your shilly-shallying miss who wastes an hour in arranging her shawl and hat, is not the least likely to lack time to repair hose or cleanse pocket linen. We go in for the five minutes rule.

MAN VS. HORSE.—The following is from the Mark Lane Express, an English paper:

Two weeks ago, a trial of strength came off under the following circumstances: It appears that a wager of a quarter cask of ale had been made between a well known wheelwright of the neighborhood and a brewer in Ormskirk, that ten men could not draw a load of stone up Burscough bridge, which a pair of horses had previously done. The wheelwright backed the men and the brewer the horses. On the day appointed, the horses brought from the quarry, for the use of the Wigan and Southport Railway, a load of stone of about 50 cwts., weighing, with the cart, upwards of three and a half tons. This load they took to the top of the bridge and down again. The worthy wheelwright now marshalled his force, consisting of nine stalwart young men belonging to the neighborhood. A cross piece of wood was firmly fixed to the shafts, supported by as many men as could attach themselves to it, the rest either dragging or pushing, and in this manner, cheered on by the acclamations of an immense crowd, they dragged the ponderous load up the bridge with the greatest ease, the knight of the wheel thus winning the wager with one man less than his stipulated number.

☞ The editor of the Springfield Republican tells the ladies of that city to practise at home the art of raising the dress for a muddy day in the streets. He recently saw an instance where the display of a hand's breadth of flannel transformed a divinity into a dowdy.—Immaculate hose and snowy dimity are—well, no more.

N. P. WILLIS.—In the Home Journal of this week, Mr. Willis intimates his regret that his closing letter from Idlewild should have been "understood as a dying editor's farewell to the world." He adds—"As I am in some danger of recovery, I believe, (here and there a doctor thinking it not impossible) the Home Journal, which I should then need for my subsistence, and which has thriven by the industry of two editors, may as well preserve the 'good will' depending on the continued industry of both.—Will the public excuse us for advertising, therefore, that, till further announcement, MORRIS AND WILLIS are to be continued.'"

NEBRASKA AND KANSAS.—Frequent inquiries are made by persons disposed to turn their faces towards the setting sun, as to the extent of these new territories. A report from the Land Office shows that Nebraska covers an area of 342,438 square miles, equal to 80,821,120 acres of land. To large portions of this land the Indian title has not been extinguished, but enough is open for settlement to satisfy the most eager enterprise for years to come. In so large an extent there must be every variety of soil; and if the newspaper reports of the day are not greatly exaggerated, there are crowds of hardy pioneers already within the boundaries of the new territories.—Nat. Intelligencer.

Extract of a letter received in Boston, dated San Francisco, Aug. 1:

"Ship S. S. Bishop, which cleared yesterday for New York, takes some 300 tons barley and wheat; and another vessel loading takes about the same quantity to England. This promises to be an immense trade ere long.—All kinds of grain are extremely low with us now, and not one kind pays the farmer for raising."

Dentistry.

FRANK FULLER, DENTIST,
CALLS the attention of Citizens and Strangers to his extensive and complete

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 31, 1854.

MR. MORRISON'S OPINION.

Mr. Morrison, a Representative in Congress, from New Hampshire, in the debate on the Nebraska and Kansas bill, it is well known, opposed the repeal of the Compromise line.—He said:

Sir, the friends of the bill assure us that slavery will not go into this Territory. This is certainly a remarkable position. The Missouri river is the boundary line between Missouri and Kansas for the distance of nearly two hundred miles, and some of the strongest slave districts in Missouri lie on this river and the Kansas line; yet gentlemen tell us slavery will not cross into this territory. The valley of the Kansas and its tributaries lie in same latitude as Missouri, Kentucky, Maryland and Deleware, with a climate and soil better adapted to slave labor than these States; and if the restriction is removed, slavery is certain to occupy these valleys. Of this, sir, I have no doubt. It is, in my judgment, for this, that the bill is now before us, and is so strenuously urged.

We will also quote from the Mississippian, a newspaper published in Mississippi, a part of a communication from Dr. Williams, a slaveholder of that State who has lately visited Kansas.

"All the best locations in the Territory have already been staked out, and the foundation for a log cabin laid, by hundreds and thousands of slave owners from the border slave counties in Missouri, who have entered into solemn pledges to protect each other in his claim, and to keep all abolitionists from the Territory. There remains no longer a doubt but that Kansas has already made a beginning which insures it a slave State.—Greely and the abolitionists may flounder and flutter until they are satisfied; Kansas is now a slave Territory, and will be a slave State.—There are already enough slave owners interested in Kansas to whip out all the abolitionists who may dare to pollute the soil with their incendiary feet. The slave owners of Virginia, Kentucky, and Tennessee, by hundreds and thousands, will soon seek that delightful country, and, would you believe it, Mr. Editor, Mississippians have already been in the territory, and staked out claims in the names of men whom they have taken along to erect a log cabin on each preemption. * * It is reasonable to suppose that Kansas will soon present to Congress her Constitution, with a slavery clause. The southern men will be required to breast the gathering storm, as men who have a country to love; and they will take pleasure in despising such traitors and doughfaces as Benton, Houston, Bell, and their tree soil allies."

The editor of the Missippian endorses his correspondent as well known, "whose reputation as a shrewd, intelligent, reliable, and eminently practical man, extends over the State. He is one of our largest slaveholders, and is thus prompted both by principle and by considerations of self-interest to feel a lively concern in whatever relates to the future of the South."

Already have brief accounts reached us, of a meeting of settlers in Kansas for the choice of temporary officers. In this meeting we find it stated that a majority of those present were not actual settlers, but Missourians, who had come over the line to stake out claims, but who had little or no idea of living there.

We commend the article from the Mississippian, to the careful perusal of every man who reads this paper. Let him mark the language. It deems the advocacy of freedom to be pollution. Of course then slavery must be endre purity. We wish northern men to understand that this is no question of slavery's existence by sufferance—but slavery is claimed as the right, and freedom branded as the wrong or crime. Is this Republican? Is this Democratic? Is it American? Did Washington or Jefferson, or Adams, ever say any thing like this? No, indeed. It would do better to be heard in Russia or Guinea, in Cuba or Brazil.

GABRIEL'S WING CLIPPED.—John S. Orr, the notorious 'trumpet preacher,' was examined before Justice Warren, of Charlestown, on Tuesday. He defended himself in a blustering speech, and was replied to in short terms by J. Q. A. Griffin, Esq., who managed the prosecution. The charges against Orr were—1st, Disturbing the Methodist Society which assembles in the Monument Church, by drawing together a crowd near their house of worship; 2d, Transacting business on Sunday, by peddling sheets of verses; 3d, Causing a general turmoil and disturbance of the peace, on Sundays, by his rowdy collecting harangues.

The proof of these offences was very conclusive, and Justice Warren sentenced Orr to pay fines of $5 each for the 1st and 2d offences, and $10 for the 3d offence, with costs, making the whole amount to about $54; also to give $300 bonds for his good behavior during six months. The 'Angel' wore a look of almost demoniac wrath, though he kept a civil tongue, as he paid down the money, and doubtless he regards Charlestown as a poor place for speculation.—Transcript.

A DESERVED MONUMENT.—The deaf mutes of the United States, by their individual subscriptions, have collected a handsome sum to erect a monument to Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, the pioneer of deaf mute education in America. This monument will be set up with appropriate ceremonies, on the grounds of the American Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb, at Hartford, Connecticut, on Wednesday, Sept. 6. An address will be delivered by a graduate of the Pennsylvania Institution. The occasion will be one of great interest to those who have been instructed by the lamented dead.

MORE CHIVALRY.—By the arrival of the Asia we are informed that

"On the 17th July the British steamers Vesuvius and Spitfire started up the Danube to where Captain Parker was lately killed. On arriving at the small town of Sulina, they landed and set it on fire. By 3 o'clock in the afternoon the whole town was in ruins. Nothing was spared but the church and light house."

Where is all that fiery denunciation which resounded so loudly at the news of the destruction of Greytown? Does it make a difference because Great Britain is in the case now, and employed 'two steamers' instead of one little sloop of war? Why is the press silent—has it a loving tenderness towards the 'mother country?' Here is a splendid chance for deep-toned thunder. The town was small and defenceless—two war steamers were employed in its destruction; it was set on fire (not from the vessels) by landing the troops—and easily destroyed in a few hours.—N. Y. Nat. Democrat.

Here we are puzzled. When the news of the Victory of San Juan came, we knew exactly what to do; and in the loftiest strain of patriotic zeal we cheered the star spangled banner as it waved triumphant over the ashes of bombarded pigsties and shanties. But now, when the British marauders have burnt the little defenceless town of Sulina, we have no cheers for St. George's cross, no approbation for British officers or British government. American ships have a right to burn towns to avenge a gross insult received from a flying bottle; but British ships have no right to burn a town to avenge the death of an officer, which was caused perchance by flying shots.

We have tried very hard to keep this patriotic distinction before the people—but in spite of our "deep-toned thunder" they seem determined to disregard our teachings.

BUFFALO, August 29.—The steamer Alabama, which left this port at four o'clock this morning, bound up, sprung aleak, and, when about two miles out immediately sunk. Fortunately she grounded on a bar, where the water was not more than twenty feet deep, and sunk only to her upper deck. The crew were taken off by a steam tug. She is not insured.

The weather continues dry, and the sun powerful. We have had no rain since Friday, when the heavy shower which fell reached as far West as Cleveland. The drought continues in Cleveland, Detroit, Chicago, &c.

ENGLISH ITEMS.—There has been a debate in the House of Lords, on a complaint by Lord Campbell, that the Dean and Chapter of Westminster, having already received £82 for permission to inter the remains of Thomas Campbell, the poet, in the Abbey, would not allow his statue to be erected therein, unless two hundred guineas more were forked out! Lord Aberdeen defended the clerical exaction! There's a nice, liberal premier.

The editor of a country newspaper (Mr. Wrightson, of Birmingham,) has given £131 for the original manuscript of Gray's "Elegy in a Country Churchyard." Ten years ago, Mr. Penn, of Stoke Pogis, gave £100 for it.

Old Mr. Vandenhoff, who is playing a good engagement at Manchester, with his daughter, and had announced his intention of quitting the stage, has consented to remain, on the strong solicitation of a public meeting held at Liverpool.

A HUMBUG EXPOSED.—Several days ago, a most absurd story came round in the papers, of a projected Hotel, to be built near Bowling Green, New York city, for the particular accommodation of colored gentlemen and ladies. We considered it so trifling, as well as absurd that we made no mention of it. Now the Boston Chronicle says,

That "Hotel for Colored People," in which Wm. B. Astor, Barnum, Coleman & Stetson, Parkas, Horace Greely and others had taken shares, turns out, as we supposed it would do, to be an imaginary or Utopian idea only.—The paragraph which originated with the Philadelphia City Item, is thus noticed in yesterday's Tribune:—

"The ingenious and imaginative author of the hotel project is mistaken in a few unimportant particulars. We believe the capital required for this enterprise is furnished by Richard Adams Locke, Esq., a gentleman of wide literary and philosophic speculation, and that the work of erecting the edifice is to be performed by the Fairy Light Guard. We have heard that, being conveniently located by the seaside, the rule of exclusive devotion to colored people as guests is to be released in favor of mermaids; but our information on this point is second-handed, and not to be implicitly relied on. Seriously, is there no limit to human gullibility? The paragraph above quoted first came out in a letter from this city about a fortnight since, and has already been copied into something like one thousand journals. Who supposes that any one has really believed it?"

ACCIDENT—On Monday afternoon, as Mr. John Brown, was at work on the new barque in Messrs Manson & Ferrald's ship yard, the staging on which he was standing gave way, precipitating him a distance of 15 feet on a pile of timber, bruising his head and back so severely that fears are entertained of his death. He came from Portsmouth the day before.—Newburyport Herald.

PORTLAND, AUGUST 29.—Three conventions were held here to-day, representing three phases of politics in the country, the Whig, Free Soil and Morrill Democrats. The result was a fusion, and the different conventions agreed upon one ticket for county officers and State Senators. The Senatorial ticket is as follows:—William Willis of Portland, Henry H. Boody of Brunswick, Aaron Quimby of Westbrook, Nathaniel Pease of Bridgeton.—It is reported a "Know Nothing" convention was also held, but its nominations have not transpired.

LOCAL.

☞ We are informed that Mr. Joy, who lost his life not far from South Berwick Junction, on Monday morning, was run over on the Boston & Maine Railroad track, not on the P. S. & P., as we reported.

☞ The walls of the new North Church rise gradually, having just reached the arches of the upper windows. The building will be enclosed and covered, we suppose, before the snow flies.

POLITICAL PREACHING.

The ——— has for some time been in travail, and has at last brought forth a long article on political preaching. The following, from the Independent, is a perfect answer to it:

"We have no doubt that a rigorous landlord, having sharked it all the week, screwing and griping among his tenants, would be better pleased on Sunday, to doze through an able Gospel sermon on Divine mysteries, than to be kept awake by a practical sermon, that, among other things, set forth the duties of a Christian landlord. A broker, who has gambled on a magnificent scale all the week, does not go to church to have his practical swindling analyzed and measured by the 'New Testament' spirit. Catechism is what he wants—doctrine is to his tastes. A merchant, whose last bale of smuggled goods was safely stored on Saturday night, and his brother merchant who, on that same day, swore a false invoice through the custom house—they go to church to hear a sermon on faith, on angels, on the resurrection. They have nothing invested in those subjects; they expect the minister to be bold and orthodox. But if he wants respectable merchants to pay ample pew rents, let him not vulgarize the pulpit by introducing commercial questions. A rich Christian brother owns largely in a distillery, and is clamorous against letting down the pulpit to the vulgarity of temperance sermons. Another man buys tax titles, and noses about all the week to see who can be slipped out of a neglected lot. A mechanic that plies his craft with the unscrupulous appliance of every means that will win, he, too, wants 'doctrine' on the Sabbath, not these secular questions. Men wish two departments in life; the secular and the religious. Between them a high wall and opaque, is to be built. They wish to do just what they please for six long days. Then stepping the other side of the wall, they wish the minister to assuage their fears, to comfort their conscience, and furnish them a clear ticket and insurance for heaven. By such a shrewd management, our modern financiers are determined to show that a Christian can serve two masters, both God and Mammon, at the same time."

To carry out this train of argument, it is only necessary to add that tender-footed politicians don't want to hear a word from the pulpit on the subject of 'national sins!'

A FAMILY MEETING.—The family of the late Pliny Day held a meeting at the maternal mansion in West Springfield on Thursday the 24th inst., at which the widowed mother in full mental vigor and good health, presided. She assembled around her social board all her children, five sons and three daughters, also two sons-in-law and five daughters-in-law, and 19 grand-children. Mrs. Day is now 75 years of age, and has 25 grand children now living. Two days were spent in social festivities, the mother presiding over an assembly of 34 of her children and grand children. The interview was a touching illustration of the sentiment of the psalmist: "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." Ought not such family meetings to become a New England custom?—Springfield Republican.

It is said that Mr. Ward, father of the girl of 12 years, with whom John Atkinson, aged 23, eloped, at Appleby, England, and married her at Gretna Green, was so much affected by the abduction that he took passage to the United States. He has a fine estate near Wildemere Lake. Miss Ward is very pretty, and looks to be full sixteen years. The following is one of her precocious letters:

"My dear John—I received your lines, and fully understand what they mean, and I give my consent to all your proposals. It is a great comfort to me to think that at last I have got your heart a little my way. You never will find me unfaithful; so, with kind love, believe me, your's ever affectionately,

ANNIE JANE WARD.

Your note gave me such pleasure this morning, that I could not take my breakfast. I am so glad that you have given up that formal name by which you used to call me, my dear John."

LOSS AND GAIN.—This book, by Rev. Dr. Newman, the great English convert to Romanism from Puseyism, is in press, to be published in this country on the first of September, at the Pilot office in Boston. It is said to be a satirical description of the English church and state.

MR. BROWNSON, the American convert to the Roman Church, has, as we learn from the Pilot, accepted a renewed call to be a professor in the Irish University where Dr. Newman presides. He is still to continue his Review, as he made this a condition of his acceptance. Vive la Brownson! one of the greatest humbugs of the 19th century.

IOWA.—The latest report of the election in Iowa is that the legislature is tied in joint ballot, as the Senate is said to contain a majority of one for the Democrats, and the House a majority for the Whigs. This is from Democratic authority.

If this be the case, they may have such a general good time in their Legislature, as we have in our city government.

THE FIRE AT WALDOBORO', ME.—The conflagration at Waldoboro' originated in the stables adjoining Willett's Hotel, and was driven by a strong northeast wind from building to building, with surprising rapidity, so that in two and a half hours every store save one, and nearly one-half the dwelling houses in the village were destroyed. The long-continued dry weather had rendered every roof in the best possible condition for burning, and combustibles in the ship yards needed but a spark to set them in flames. Three vessels on the stocks were destroyed.

The Medomak river formed the western boundary of the fire. More than one hundred and fifty buildings were destroyed, including stores and dwelling houses, and seventy-five families were left houseless. The Rockland Gazette had been unable to procure a correct list of the value of the property destroyed, or of the amount of insurance upon it; but the total loss was estimated by competent judges to be not less than $500,000.

GEORGIA COPPER MINES.—The editor of the Jacksonville, Ala., Republican was lately shown a letter received by a gentleman in that place from his brother in Georgia, giving an account of the recent discovery of copper in Union county, in the State. A Mr. Joel Johnson, a gentleman of limited means, it is stated in the letter, purchased some years ago from the father of the writer, 80 acres of land for three hundred dollars, for the purpose of erecting a blacksmith shop at a trading point. Some months ago, on account of favorable indications, he commenced digging for copper, and very recently found the ore in abundance and of fine quality; and two or three days afterwards he sold the land for one hundred thousand dollars! The same letter also stated that a recent inspection of the books of one mining company at Ducktown, showed a clear profit for the last twelve months of $45,000 per month. The letter containing this information was dated the 17th ult.

A SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—The Buffalo Democrat says that a singular occurrence, resulting in a melancholy manner, took place, a few days since, in the town of Hamburg, in this county. An Irishman was engaged in digging a well, and, after getting down to the depth of some 18 or 20 feet, found signs of water very perceptible. At last he struck his pick through a thin layer of slate, and with a noise like thunder, sufficiently loud to be distinctly heard all over the neighborhood, a stream of mingled gas and water burst through the orifice, instantly killing the unfortunate man, and filling the well to the depth of 10 or 12 feet of water. Gas still escapes profusely, and the water is in constant and violent motion, resembling a large cauldron of boiling fluid.

DID YOU EVER THINK OF IT?—Speaking of babies—did you ever think, when you saw a very little one, dressed up in its very long Sunday clothes, that it was like a sixpence tied in the corner of a pocket handkerchief?

A PROBLEM IN TRADE.—Suppose a large establishment with two or three partners, occupying a store in a business street at $10,000 a year rent, and paying at the rate of 1a2 per cent. a month for their floating capital. Then suppose that each of the partners has a magnificent mansion on a fashionable avenue, a duck of a wife who costs him not over $2000 a year in pin money and watering places, with a family of young ladies just 'out,' and fast young gentlemen very fond of billiards and pretty actresses. Now, these facts being given, with the general understanding that competition and an over supply in the market may reduce the profits on sales to an average of 8a10 per cent.—the problem is, to find out how long it would take such a suppositious house to become millionaires.—N. Y. Paper.

A common practice in Paris, which impresses a stranger favorably, is that of lifting or taking off the hat as a funeral passes. This is observed by all classes. A traveller says, I noticed a small funeral train moving in the direction of the Madeleine. Evidently the one borne to burial was of the humblest class, for the body was followed only by a few workmen in blouses and women without bonnets. As it passed on, hats were taken off by the well dressed crowd sitting or moving on the walk, by gentlemen in carriages with footmen in golden liveries, and by men driving their watering carts through the street. It was a touching and beautiful sight. But I followed farther, and saw the little train stop before the superb portal of the Madeleine.—The pine coffin was carried up the steps, through the bronze doors, along the marble pavement, and placed before the altar.—Prayers were read and holy water sprinkled. The funeral decencies seemed as sincere and earnest as if a prince were dead.

A good looking fellow stopped all last week at Major Bell's Hotel, Catawba, Ala. and ordered his baggage taken down to the boat, and went down himself without paying his bill.—Said the Major:—

"Sir, you must not leave without paying your bill. I can't afford to hire servants, and pay for provisions, and board people for nothing."

"You can't?"

"No!"

"Well, why then, don't you sell out to somebody who can?"

Our informant is anxious to chalk that man's hat both ways, as a slight tribute of respect for his magnificent impudence.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune writes that the administration have heard of the arrest of Capt. Hollins, and pronounce it ridiculous and wicked. They assert that the government will sustain him in any event.

SUNDAY LIQUOR LAW IN ENGLAND.—The new English Beer Act has just gone into operation, and forbids the sale of beer, wine, spirits, &c., whether to be consumed on or off the premises, between 2 and half past 6 in the afternoon, on Sundays.

A SAD CASE.—As a Railroad train was in the vicinity of New Haven, yesterday, a little boy, who was looking out of a car, was instantly killed by his head coming in contact with an obstruction upon the opposite track.

Marble Chimney Pieces.

THE PENRHYN MARBLE is a new and beautiful article, manufactured of Stone imported from England, which is enameled in imitation of of the richest and most expensive Spanish, Galway, Egyptian, Pyrenees, Lisbon, Sienna and other rare and desirable kinds of Marble—the imitation being so perfect as to challenge detection without the closest scrutiny. In style of finish these Chimney Pieces stand unequalled, being very highly polished—retaining their beauty much longer than common marble, and are not injured by oils, smoke, coal gas or acids. They have been extensively introduced into public and private buildings, giving perfect satisfaction to those who have used them. The best of references can be given, showing their adaptedness for general use, the subscriber having furnished some of the best dwelling houses in the city with them during the last two years.

While excelling all others in beauty of finish and appearance, they are sold much cheaper than any thing of the kind in the market. The subscriber has now in Store a complete assortment of the above named desirable Goods, to which he invites the attention of all interested.

HARPER'S

Gazetteer of the World.

THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.

Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

THEOLOGICAL SCHOOLS.—One of the most important movements of the Methodist Episcopal Church in the United States is the introduction of theological schools—a measure still questioned by many of its members. The Biblical Institute at Concord, N. H., promises soon to become numerically, one of the largest, if not the largest school of the kind in the country. It contained, the last year, nearly ninety students. The property of the institution, as now reported, amounts to $54,750.50; a large proportion of which is invested in good securities. The Rev. Dr. J. W. Merril, formerly President of M'Kendree College, has recently been appointed a professor in the place of Bishop Baker resigned.—National Magazine.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,
AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has accordingly, put it up as a Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELLEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,
LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.

The virtues of this Herb were first made known to Dr. Kelley by an Indian, while attending a patient, sick with that terrible disease, the California Erysipelas and Liver Complaint—the effect was miraculous—curing the man in a few days. The natives, when bitten by a rattles ake, or rabid animal, resort to this Herb for a cure.—Hundreds are taking this medicine, after trying in vain other remedies, and say that the half was never told them.

If you have Erysipelas, 3 to 5 bottles will cure it.
If you have Scrofula, 3 to 6 bottles will cure it.
Three to six bottles will cure Salt Rheum.
One or two bottles will cure Pimples on the Face.
Two or three bottles will cure Scaly Eruptions and Scald Head.
One to three bottles will cure Nursing Sore Mouth
One to three bottles will cleanse the system of Biles.
Two to five bottles will cure Rheumatism.
Three to four bottles will cure old running Sores and Ulcers.
One or two bottles will cure Barber's Itch.
One to three bottles will cure Canker in the mouth and bowels.

For Liver Complaints and Jaundice.

Its effects are new and wonderful, removing obstructions from the Liver, open the pores of the skin, carrying off the morbid matter, relieving the side, and all-gone feelings of the stomach; and removing low spirits and despondency, which is the result of this disagreeable and often fatal disease.

FOR DYSPEPSIA

A fair trial will convince you that there is nothing like it.

FOR CANCEROUS HUMORS.

It is the surest remedy ever offered. One widow lady in Lawrence, has been troubled with Cancer or years, by taking two bottles says she is now quite well.

FOR COSTIVENESS.

One gentleman says that it was the only medicine that cured him.

FOR KIDNEY DIFFICULTIES.

It is spoken of in the highest terms. A young man was sick so much with Asthma that he had to leave College; three bottles cured him, and he has now resumed his studies. One lady in Salem was perfectly cured of Periodical Sick Headache, by the use of two bottles. Mr Williams, of Lawrence, had humors in his eyes for years, and was cured by the use of the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier. For Chills and Fever, Mercurial Diseases, Taints in the System, it stands unrivalled; sometimes where the system is much deranged it will cause disagreeable feelings at first, but continue its use as indications favorable It is purely vegetable, and its compound and proportions are such that the effect is perfectly satisfactory and safe.

HE HAS ALSO A HUMOR SALVE,

Unsurpassed for external humors, which, if used in connection with the Humor Discovery and Blood Purifier will much facilitate a cure.
PRICE 25 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Cough Destroyer.

This invaluable Cough Remedy is for the complete cure of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Influenza, Whooping Cough, pain in the side and breast, hacking or tickling at the throat, spitting blood, tightness across the lungs and chest, and all Lung Complaints leading to Consumption.

No medicine yet discovered has that decided effect in curing Bronchia affections as the Cough Destroyer. It can be taken by all ages and classes, from a child six months old to the oldest man or woman, with the most happy results.
PRICE 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Dr. Ordway's Pain Destroyer.

This preparation is composed of a great variety of Extracts, Gums, Essential Oils, most of which have not heretofore been united and compounded into their present form. It will cure attacks of Cramps of the Stomach, Spasms, Convulsions, Faintings, Pain in the Stomach, Bowels, Side, Back, Limbs, and a great variety of other difficulties. It is also invaluable as an external remedy. It will be found to contain nearly double the strength of any similar article, and possesses properties heretofore unknown to the No family should be without it for a single day.
PRICE 25, 37½ AND 50 CENTS A BOTTLE.

Swaim's Celebrated Panacea,
FOR THE CURE OF
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Scrofula, General Debility, White Swelling, Rheumatism, Diseases of the Liver and Skin, and all Diseases arising from Impurities of the Blood, and the effects of Mercury.

SWAIM'S PANACEA has been for more than thirty years celebrated in this country and in Europe for its extraordinary cures, for the descriptions of which reference is made to the directions and books (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Panacea.

It has been used in hospitals and private practice, and has had the singular fortune to be recommended by the most celebrated physicians and other eminent persons. Among others, by W. Gibson, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, Pa. University. Valentine Mott, M.D., Prof. of Surgery, N. Y. " W. P. Dewees, M.D., Prof. of Mid., Pa. University. N. Chapman, M.D., Prof. of Physic, Pa. University. R. Parke, M.D., Prest. College of Physicians, Phila. Dr. Del Vallo, Prof. of Medicine, Havana. Jose Eourenco de Luz, Prof. of Surgery, Lisbon. G. W. Irving, late Minister to Spaine. J. Chipman, Member Royal Col. Surg., London. Sir Thomas Pearson, Maj. Gen. British Army. Gilbert Robertson, British Consul, &c., &c.

And, also, the wonderful cures effected by Swaim's Panacea, have have for many years made it an invaluable remedy. The Panacea does not contain Mercury in any form, and, being an innocent preparation, it may be given to the most tender infant

The retail price has been reduced to $1.50 per bottle (containing three half pints,) or three bottles for $4.

BEWARE OF IMPOSITION.

Swaim's Panacea is in round bottles, fluted longitudinally, with the following letters blown on the glass:

"SWAIM'S—PANACEA—PHILADA:"

and having the name JAS. SWAIM stamped on the sealing wax, and written on the label covering the cork: and a splendid engraving for the side of the bottle, composed of a geocentric lathe work, comprising nine different dies, which have been turned for the exclusive use of the proprietor, by Draper & Co., bank note engravers of Philadelphia. In the centre is a portrait of the late Wm. Swaim, copy right secured.

ALSO, SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE.

A valuable Family Medicine, being a highly approved remedy for all diseases arising from debility of the digestive organs, such as Worms, Cholera Morbus, Dysentery, Fever and ague, Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, &c., &c. See the Pamphlet (which may be had gratis) accompanying the Vermifuge. Prepared only at SWAIM'S LABORATORY, OLD S Text, Seventh St., below Chestnut, Philadelphia, and sold by all the respectable Druggists in the United States.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.—Persons wishing to obtain the genuine SWAIM'S PANACEA, and SWAIM'S VERMIFUGE, should be careful to observe that the name SWAIM is spelled correctly on the bottles and labels; or they may be imposed on by medicines made in imitation of them by a person bearing a somewhat similar name, well calculated to deceive.

AMALGAMATED IRIDIUM ZINC & PLATINA
PENS.
WARRANTED NOT TO CORRODE.

HERTS, BROTHERS, having been many years engaged in the manufacture of Metalic Pens, and during that time, having devoted their unceasing attention to improving and perfecting that useful and necessary article, the result of their unceasing efforts and numerous experiments has been the construction of a Pen on a principle entirely new, combining all the advantages of the elasticity and clearness of the Quill, with six times the durability of the Steel Pen; and thus entirely obviating the only objection that has hitherto existed against the use of Steel Pens.

This Pen will be found an invaluable article in Offices, as they never need wiping, also to Banks and Schools, as they will not spatter nor cut the thinest paper, and are warranted anti-corrosive.

CAUTION.—The universal celebrity of these Pens having induced some disreputable Makers to foist upon the public a spurious imitation, it will please to be observed that each genuine Pen is stamped, "HERTS, BROTHERS' PATENT, 1858," and each box of Genuine Pens will contain a label with a fac-simile of the Manufacturers' name.

PATENTS.
American and Foreign Office.
AGENCY FOR BUSINESS
With the U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
No. 76 state Street, oppo. Kilby street, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent office, combining all the Act of 1857) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS instead of twenty, as paid back by others, will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, diligence, and success. I regard him as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"R. H. EDDY, Esq., Boston, Mass.
"SIR:—Your facilities for the prosecution of any business connected with this Office, are equal to those of any other agent. I am very respectfully,
Yours, &c. THOMAS EWBANK,
Commissioner of Patents."

Garden Engines.

JUST received at "the sign of the Big Coffee Pot" a full supply of Garden or Fire Engines, which are respectfully commended by the subscriber to the notice of the public. Wherever these Engines have been introduced they have invariably given entire satisfaction. They are unsurpassed for power, capacity or usefulness. From the size of the air chamber sufficient power is obtained to enable one man to throw a steady stream of water to the height of fifty feet perpendicularly, thereby rendering it a desirable article as a
PROTECTION AGAINST FIRE,

And for washing windows of second and third stories of buildings, carriages, &c. With a newly invented water diffuser as a Garden Engine it defies competition. The diffuser is perfect and simple article, and its superiority over the common rose sprinkler is that it will throw three times the quantity of water a much greater distance and spread it perfectly even, with less power applied. An Engine with a diffuser of this description, used in orchards and gardens to throw soap suds on the young trees, will destroy many kinds of vermin liable to injure the fruit and be an invaluable addition to the implements of the Nurseryman and Horticulturist.

A MISTAKE IN THE WEIGHT.—Andrew Wyman was like Lord Byron in one respect. He had a great horror of growing fat. What added to his apprehensions on this score, was the fact that his father, before he died, attained a degree of rotundity which would have enabled him to fill respectably, the office of Alderman.

Andrew stood five feet eight in his stockings and weighed one hundred and forty-five pounds—a very respectable weight—within which he endevored to keep himself by the free use of vinegar and other acids, which are reported to diminish any tendency to pinguidity.

Andrew was in the habit of weighing himself once a fortnight, in order to make sure that he was not transgressing proper bounds.

He had been absent from home rather more than a week, and just stepped out of the cars in the depot, when his attention was arrested by an instrument for determining the weight. Mechanically he placed himself on the platform and adjusted the weight to one hundred and forty-five. To his surprise he found this not sufficient.

With an air of alarm he advanced it five pounds—still ineffectual. Imagine his consternation when the scales fell at one hundred and seventy-five!

"Good heavens!" said he to himself.—"There can't be any mistake about it—I've gained thirty pounds within a fortnight! I was afraid it would be so. It was so with my father before me. At this rate I shall go beyond him in a few weeks."

He entered the house with an air of settled melancholy upon his face which excited the fears of his wife, who had come to greet him after his absence.

"Why, Andrew—Mr. Wyman—what's the matter?" she asked.

"Matter enough!" he groaned. "I weigh one hundred and seventy-five pounds! Gained thirty pounds within a fortnight, or at the rate of fifteen per week. Suppose I should go on at this rate, or even ten pounds a week, in three months I shall be a perfect monster. I am the most unfortunate of men."

"I am sure you dont look any larger," said Mrs Wyman. You don't find that your clothes have grown small for you?"

"Why no."

"I'll tell you what, Mr. Wyman," said his wife struck with a sudden idea, "are you sure you didn't have your valise in your hand when you was weighed?"

Andrew's face brightened up.

"Wait a minute," said he.

He sped out of the house like an arrow—flew to the depot and renewed the experiment.

A moment after he entered the house again his face glowing with joy.

"You've hit it, wife," he exclaimed.—"I've weighed myself again, and only weigh one hundred and forty three."

Mr Wyman was so elated by the altered state of the case, that he at once gave his wife money enough to purchase a "love of a collar" that she had seen at Mrs. Leask's the day before.

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good."

SINGULAR CREDULITY.—The Ohio State Journal of Aug. 24, contains a long account of a curious swindling transaction which occurred in Madison county a few days since, by which a farmer was defrauded of $3000.—It seems that an unknown woman visited the farmer's house and stated that she was an astrologer, and knowing that he was born under a particular planet, and was destined for great things, had called to see him. Taking a book from her apron, she opened it to some pages of diagrams, figures, &c. and after reading from it in an unknown tongue a few hocus pocus sentences, she bought several pounds of butter and went on her way. She made several calls of this kind, and at length, when she had properly prepared the mind of her intended victim, told him that three potfulls of gold had been buried on his farm, which she could recover for him; but as it was necessary to allay the spirits who stood guard over it, he must furnish three thousand dollars for that purpose. Accordingly, the money, in bank-notes, was wrapped in a handkerchief, and after some strange incantations the woman went away, leaving the money in his care.

At the next visit she made him take an oath not to tell any person what object he was in pursuit of. She said she was going away for a day or two, but would return on the 15th, 16th or 17th of August, and then they would go in company and secure the treasure. He was not to untie the handkerchief during her absence. Finally, after making an earnest prayer, she swung him round so that they came together, back to back. She then gave him back the handkerchief, as he supposed, which she had been holding in her hand, and went away. The farmer waited patiently until the expiration of the appointed time, and at length, getting out of patience, opened his handkerchief for the purpose of putting his money away, when what was his dismay to find that the bank bills had been by some magical transformation, as he at first thought, converted into a package of worthless brown paper. The handkerchief, too, was not his own, but one precisely similar. The woman had changed them while they were standing back to back.

Greatest Discovery of the Age.

PLANTERS, Farmers, Families and others can purchase no Remedy equal to DR. TOBIAS' VENITIAN LINIMENT, for Dysentery, Colic, Croup, Chronic Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Toothache, Sea Sickness, Cuts, Burns, Swellings, Bruises, Old Sores, Headache, Musquito Bites, Pains in the Limbs, Chest, Back, etc.

If it does not give relief, the money will be refunded; all that is asked is a fair trial, and use it according to the directions.

It is an English Remedy, and was used by William IV. late King of England, and certified to by him, as a cure for Rheumatism, when everything else had failed.

Over 10,000,000 bottles have been sold in the United States, without a single failure, and many have stated that they would not be without it if it was $10 per bottle, in case of Croup, as it is as certain as it is applied.

It cures Cholera, when first taken, in a few hours; Dysentery in half an hour; Toothache in five minutes. It is perfectly innocent to take internally, and is recommended by the most eminent physicians in the United States. Price 25 and 50 cents.

Dr. Tobias could fill a dozen Newspapers with certificates and letters relating to the wonderful cures accomplished by his Liniment, but considers warranting it sufficient, as any person who does not obtain relief, need not pay for it.

Price 50 cents. Dr. Tobias's Office, 240 Green

Dr. Tobias has put up a HORSE LINIMENT in pint bottles, which is warranted cheaper and better than any other for Cholic, Scratches, Old Sores, Galls, Swellings, Cuts, Bruises, etc.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1854.

ANOTHER STORY.

The New York Tribune contains a letter from a correspondent at Washington, furnishing some curious information touching the Greytown affair. The facts are said to have been "disclosed confidentially" to the correspondent. Facts thus communicated are very apt to prove not to be facts.

"It seems that the Nicaragua Transcript Company are at the bottom of the whole movement. This Company and their associates, composed of Caleb Cushing, Sidney Webster, Secretary Dobbin, and Solon Borland, owned or professed to own, a large tract of land, running two hundred miles by eighty miles in breadth, across the country. That proposals were made to the citizens of Greytown to purchase, and thus acknowledge the title in this company; and the obstacles thrown in the way of this land speculation are the basis of the Government's action which resulted in the destruction of Greytown.

Soon after Solon Borland returned here, there was a select dinner party got up to discuss and settle the question of the Nicaragua Transit Company's interests and titles to these lands, at which Solon Borland, Caleb Cushing, Sidney Webster, Joseph L. White and Col. Forney were present, and perhaps Secretary Dobbin. At this dinner party the bombardment and destruction of Greytown was resolved upon. Here we have the whole affair in a nut shell. We see the action of the Government, in the subsequent bombardment and destruction of Greytown, originating from a dinner party of land speculators, composed of members of the Cabinet and persons surrounding the President and connected with the Nicaragua Transit Company.

This is all very important if true. We have seen insinuations to the same effect before; but no statement so direct as this. We have also heard the Transit Co. spoken of as being under the direction of men by no means remarkable for scruples of conscience on nice points.

We may get at the true state of the case by and by: but have no idea that we are yet in possession of all the material facts.

A correspondent of the Boston Chronicle—an officer of marines at the Charlestown Navy Yard—pronounces certain statements relative to Capt. Hollins, contained in a recent San Juan letter to the Tribune, slanderous and false. One charge was, that "many of the best gunners" of the Cyane were put in irons for refusing to fire on the town. He says,—

The correspondent of the New York Tribune, who writes the abusive and slanderous account of the bombardment by the Cyane, is believed to be, upon undoubted authority, the notorious Martin, now acting as Mayor of Greytown, and who was the ringleader in the outrage which led to the punishment which Capt. Hollins inflicted upon the place. This Martin is, or was, at one time, the reporter of the New York Herald. His statements, so far as they relate to Capt. Hollins, or any one connected with his ship, are false. That the Commander put men in irons because they refused to obey orders, is a most unqualified falsehood. So far from such being the case, during a cruise of two years, under two executive officers, whose discipline must naturally have been somewhat different, no man ever committed any crime, or committed himself even so far as to render a single report of dereliction from duty necessary by the executive officer to the Captain, nor was any such ever made.

This is a very plain and short statement, which is certainly most uncalled for by those who know Captain Hollins and his long and faithful services. It is intended merely to correct a wrong impression, which we deem due to all persons unjustly accused.

So far as that officer himself is concerned in the matter, he is abundantly able to take care of his own affairs. But it is a hard case, that a man, who wears the badge of Uncle Sam's service, if you so please to call it, is to be held responsible in his private capacity for performing duties and obeying orders, neither of which he could avoid or disobey.

The Mayor of Greytown, we suppose, may be considered so interested, as to throw great doubt on his story, especially if he is an old hand at lying. Mr. Borland also is a greatly interested party, and his testimony must therefore be received with a grain of salt, exactly as we listen to Major Longbow's stories.

It is quite certain there is some outrageous lying about the matter:—and as yet we don't know who tells the truth.

The officer of marines is good authority for the discipline on board the Cyane:—but he is no authority at all as to the origin of the dispute; and his guess about Martin's being the Tribune's correspondent is not worth a straw. Anybody else can guess as well as he.

Capt. Hollins, as we have said a dozen times, no doubt did his exact duty as an officer: and we hope, some time, to get at the truth of the whole matter, in spite of the great mass of lies heaped upon it, both at Greytown and at Washington.

☞ We learn from the Boston Journal that James Coffin, Esq., formerly of this city, proprietor of the Marblehead Advocate, has been appointed Measurer in the Boston Custom House, and that Plumer Chesley, Esq., proprietor of the Bay State, at Lynn, has received an appointment as Aid to the Revenue, in the same institution.

The Rev. Daniel C. Eddy, of Lowell, has received an unanimous invitation from the Niagara Square Baptist Church in Buffalo to become its pastor, and, it is said, will accept the same.

FUSION CONVENTION.

This Convention for which such extensive arrangements had been made, came off on Wednesday at Wolfborough. The day was exceedingly pleasant, and men and women from all contiguous territory, to the number of two thousand at least, attended.

Many friends of the meeting arrived at Wolfborough on Tuesday afternoon, and in the evening a spirited meeting was held in Yale's great Tent, which had been erected for the purpose, in the rear of the Pavilion Hotel. Speeches were made in the evening, by Moses A. Cartland, of Lee, Hon. John P. Hale, and Mr. L. D. Mason of Tamworth. The speeches were brief, but all pointed in one direction, viz—the re-enactment of the Missouri Compromise. The time of this meeting was mostly occupied in making preliminary arrangements for the next day, the appointment of a financial committee, and a committee to draft resolutions, of which Geo. G. Fogg was chairman. The promises held out at this meeting were favorable for an interesting meeting on the next day.

On Wednesday morning the steamboats were crowded with passengers, part of whom came to listen to the speeches, and lend their influence to the cause of liberty, and the others to take advantage of the low rates of fare for a cheap pleasure excursion.

The friends of the cause having arrived, a procession was formed in front of the Hotel, under the Marshalship of N. V. Whitehouse, Esq. of Rochester, and led by Concord Cornet Band, marched to the grove, about a quarter of a mile distant, where the meeting was to be held.

The Convention was organized by choosing Ichabod Goodwin, Esq. of Portsmouth, President, and a number of Vice Presidents and Secretaries. The President on taking the chair made a few remarks, an abstract of which we take from the Boston Journal.

He stated the objects of the meeting, declaring that they were of a conservative and not a destructive character, and that their ultimate intent was to correct the sentiment of the representatives of the State in Congress in respect to the rights of humanity, and especially with regard to the late violation of those rights through the passage of the Nebraska bill. This intention, he declared, was not one of a party nature, or one which compromised the political faith of either Whig, Democrat or Freesoiler, in any respect unassociated with the security of human freedom in the territorial districts. He argued in favor of the restoration of the Missouri Compromise as the only effectual means of restraining the bounds of the slave power within the limits provided by the constitution, as laid down by the fathers of our country. The breach of these constitutional principles, under the sanction of a New Hampshire President, was a disgrace to the State; and if the spread of such sentiments as the administration countenanced was allowed scope, the same might soon be imposed on the people of the North. To prevent this sequence all constitutional means were demanded, and also to show the President that his conduct was not for a moment to be tolerated by freemen. He was confident that the feeling of the people of the State was opposed to the indignity done by the administration to the North, and to human freedom, and that not one hundred of the supporters of the government in the whole of New Hampshire, if they spoke their minds freely, approved of it. In conclusion Mr. Goodwin made an appeal to the Convention to continue the agitation of the peculiar culpability of the goverament, until the men composing it, and their principles, should be sunk in that oblivion which would be sure to meet them ultimately. Next March he hoped they would send to Concord men who would show the President of the United States, through the Senators they should send to Congress, that the estimate they entertained of his character, now or hereafter, was very low indeed.

The President then introduced Hon. Amos Tuck, of Exeter, who was followed during the day by James Bell of Gilford, Hon. S. P. Chase of Ohio, Rev. Dr. Cleaveland, Hon. John P. Hale, Hon. J. Z. Goodrich of Mass. Hon. Wm. Plumer and others, who occupied the time of the Convention till 6 o'clock, P. M. with only a brief interval for dinner.

The resolutions were then presented by the committee, and unanimously adopted. The resolutions declared the uncompromising hostility of the people of New Hampshire to the principles of the Nebraska swindle, demanded a renewal of the Missouri Compromise, and expressed their firm intention to support no one for public office who was not sound on these questions.

After tea, the meeting was again called to order in the tent, and speeches made by Hon. N. S. Berry, G. Marston Esq. of Exeter, and others, until 10 o'clock, P. M. when the convention dissolved. The evening exercises were enlivened by several anti-slavery songs by one of the Hutchinson Family.

The feeling in the convention was gratifying to the opponents of the administration, and raised their expectation that at the next March election, the "Neb-rascals," as John P. Hale called them, will be entirely routed in this State.

The platform has now but one plank, which can be described as follows, in the language of Mr. Berry of Hebron:—"To vote only for those who stand up for freedom, and vote for freedom, at all times, and under all circumstances"—irrespective of party. ☞

☞ The Great Falls Journal mentions Dr. McDaniel, of Barrington, as the physician who lately left his family and ran off with a young woman.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

The steamship Europa brings Liverpool news to Saturday afternoon, August 19.

Grain—Wheat 3d lower. Indian Corn 1s a 1s 6d dearer, owing to apprehension of deficient potato crop. Brown, Shipley and Co. report the Corn market quiet to-day; prices rather easier, except for Indian Corn, which is quoted higher. Western Canal Flour 31s a 31s 9d. The Anglo-French force at Bomarsund is 12,000, supported by shipping.

PARIS, 18th, Evening.—The following despatch has just been received:—"Orders have just been issued for the Austrans to enter Wallachia, and they have commenced crossing the frontier."

Forts Tzee and Nottich, Aland, were taken one by French, the other by English. The loss of the allies was small.

The Sultan's daughter, Princess Fatima, was married to Redschid Pasha's son, at Constantinople, on the 10th.

The Basilisk arrived at Dantzig with the news that Bomarsund surrendered on the 16th with 2000 Russian prisoners. The French lost 160 killed,

From Vienna, 16th inst., it is telegraphed: There is reason to believe that Prince Alexander Gotschok this morning notified the Austrian Government that as long as the Turks are in Wallachia, the Russians will retain certain stratagetic points in the Principalities.

Austria has given up the intention of proposing to the Germanic Diet to put the Federal army on a war footing.

THE BALTIC.—The Moniteur announces that on the 7th and 8th of August, the French expeditionary force was landed on the Island of Aland, north of the fortress of Bomarsund; at the same time a force of French and English marines landed south of the fortress.—The disembarkation was covered by steamers and effected, as the Moniteur says, without a man getting his foot wet. From the 7th to the 8th, the French erected their batteries, while the Russians destroyed their (the Russians') outworks, and fell back on the main fortress. By the 12th the fortress was completely invested. On the 14th, the Russians made a sortie, but were driven in. On the 15th, the French carried a redoubt of eight guns without losing a man.

Another account says, it was a strong fort they took, after several hours' fighting.

The bombardment of the main fortress was to have commenced on the 16th.

Reports in the English papers say that the inhabitants of Aland have risen against the Russians, and that it was proclaimed, by order of the French Admiral, from the pulpits of all the churches, that the Russian sway over the Islands had ceased.

THE DANUBE.—The aspect of affairs on the Danube is quite unchanged.

The London Daily News contains a remarkable letter from a special correspondent, stating that British troops in camp at Monastir, near Derna, are decimated by malignant cholera, totally destitute of medicine, famishing for want of food, and discontented and and almost disorganized. The Times' correspondent partly confirms the fact.

The Emperor of Morocco has announced his intention to present to the Sultan thirty million piastres, and 12,000 horses annually while the war lasts.

ENGLAND.—The Washington, via Southhampton, brought the account of the prorogation of Parliment, and the Queen's speech.

No political news.

The Turkish loan of five millions sterling, guaranteed on Turkish revenue and Egyptian tribute, is opened at Paris and London; of six per cent bonds, £3,000,000 were taken at 89; balance in five months hence at 85. The loan is already all taken at 2 to 5 per cent. premium.

IRELAND.—The accounts of the potato disease in the north of Ireland are more discouraging; it seems to be spreading, though not rapidly.

Cholera is severe in Belfast. There has been a considerable increase in the scale of rates just struck for the requirements of the present year in the greater number of the Irish Unions.

FRANCE.—The fete of St. Napoleon on the 15th, passed off quietly. The decorations were of great splendor. Marshal Magnan reviewed 26,000 troops, and a grand military spectacle was enacted in the Champ de Mars representing the siege of Silistria.

The absence of the Emperor was regretted by the Parisians. There are, however, rumors that a conspiracy had been discovered, and that his absence was precautionary. Russian intrigue is reported busy in the secret clubs.

An imperial decree orders the payment of the Legacies of Napoleon the First; opens credit for 8,000,000 francs, and appoints a Commission to administer. Gen. d'Ornano is President of the Commission.

The Moniteur continues to give favorable accounts of the harvest, but the weather is now somewhat broken.

SPAIN.—The Cortes are convoked for November 8th, on the basis of the electoral law of 1837, a constituent assembly meeting in one chamber, with one Deputy for every 35,000 population.

A riot had occurred at Tortosa, the rioters assembled with cries of "Viva Espartero!—Viva la Constitution! Viva Cabrera!"—They then rushed to the City Hall to demand the abolition of taxes. Finding there only the Secretary, they beat him to death with sticks, tore out his heart, cut off his head, and flung his body into the river, together with all the public records.

The government of the city was panic struck, and did nothing.

The disturbances at Barcelona on the 6th originated thus:—A battalion was on parade near Barcelona, when the people called the band to perform "Riegos' Hymn." A soldier in the ranks called out in reply, "Viva Espartero!"—on which the Commandant drew his sword and run him through the body. The soldiers immediately turned on the officers and killed several, including the commandant. Other troops joined in the excitement, and disorder prevailed. The details are kept secret, but there was considerable fighting among the soldiers, and between the troops and people. Quietness was restored by the efforts of Gen. Concha. The battalion was threatened with decimation, but was afterwards disbanded, and two or three of the ringleaders were shot.

Numerous reports are current respecting the intentions of France. It is stated that Napoleon will not interfere in the present aspect of affairs, but objects equally to a republic, or the Caarlist dynasty in Spain.

The London Globe mentions a rumor in diplomatic circles, that the English and French ambassadors at Madrid are ordered to protest energetically against violence to any member of the royal family, or any attack on monarchial principles, but otherwise not to interfere.

PORTUGAL.—Lisbon letters say that the Portugese government energetically disavow all idea of a fusion between Portugal and Spain, and expresses great regret that the name of King Pedro should be used in the project.

ITALY.—Cholera is slightly subsiding at Genoa, but still the deaths are 70 daily. At Turin it is not severe. At Naples very violent.

A decree dated Palermo 26th July, threatens death by court martial to any one evading the sanitary cordon around the Neapolitan coasts. Prince Acya, Gen. Muralt, M. Longobardi, (Minister,) Chevalier Vanotti, Portuguese Consul, had died; total deaths during the week about 3000.

FIRE IN SUNCOOK.

A fire broke out on Wednesday evening, in Suncook village, which destroyed twelve buildings in all, including a large building erected a few years since by Mr. Tilden, and every store in the village; leaving but few buildings standing, except those of the Suncook Factory Corporation.

The fire began under the piazza of a building, and was supposed by the occupants to be the work of an incendiary; but it might be accidental. A large number of men came from Concord to aid in extinguishing the fire: it burnt, however, till about 4 o'clock on Thursday morning.

☞ No quorum being present, no business was transacted in either branch of the City Council, last evening.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.

This Agricultural Exhibition and Convention, will be held at Exeter, on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 14th and 15th. One of its efficient members and officers, in a note to the Exeter News Letter, says that the exhibition of the Rockingham Fair has not been "postponed on account of the weather," as has been currently reported.

Its officers are duly sensible of the terrible effects of the drought, and yet see much reason for gratitude, that we live in a land, where such a calamity does not bring with it actual famine and starvation. The corn crop of New England and the West is nearly cut off, but the crops of wheat, and rye, and oats, and grass, were abundant. The storm, which is coming very soon, will yet help us to a sufficient supply of potatoes and other vegetables. There was never a season, when there was more occasion for the farmers to meet and consult together, than now. At our Fair, we shall be able to truly estimate the resources of old Rockingham, and I venture the prediction, that we shall separate with better courage, and more thoughtful hearts, than we meet. Let every one do his best, and bring to the exhibition, if he has nothing else to offer, a kind and hopeful spirit.

"Tis not in mortals to command success;
But we'll do more, Sempronius, we'll deserve it."

TORNADO AT LOUISVILLE.—Rev. Dr. Morrison, who officiated at the ill-fated church, remarks that on the Sabbath so disastrous to life, he was requested to preach, but it was not generally known that there would be divine service, hence the small number that were assembled. There were not more than 85 persons in the house. During the sermon a storm came up, and the main door of the basement where services were held, was three times blown open and the room filled with sand. This caused considerable excitement, and several of the audience jumped out of the windows. In a moment after, the walls fell in, with the sad result previously narrated.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—Several Know Nothing clerks have recently been removed, and to-morrow Col. Berrett, City Postmaster, will decapitate several more of the Know Nothing school, in accordance with the wishes of the Democratic party.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 20.—The Harrisburg Free Democratic Convention met to-day, and passed resolutions withdrawing the State ticket, and recommending Pollock, the Whig candidate, for Governor.

FIRES.—At South Berwick, Me, on Friday, a shoe store under Union Hall, at the landing owned and occupied by Samuel D. Evans, with the hall, a small store unoccupied, owned by A. J. Nealey, and a small barn, were entirely destroyed by fire. A dwelling house on the opposite side of the street, owned by Joseph Hobbs, was considerably damaged.

Col. D. S. Miles, U. S. A., now on his way to New Mexico with a detachment of troops, writes from Fort Atkinson, Ark., that he had been four days among the Camanches and Ki-o-ways, and adds:—

"Some of the bucks offered me as high as ten horses for my daughter, and I had an offer of a squaw for Mrs M. I declined both advantageous offers."

TWO WOMEN KILLED.—On Tuesday evening, two women, names unknown, were instantly killed on the New York Central railroad, at Canastola. They stepped from a train upon the wrong side, and were run over by a passing train.

There should be, in such cases, some guard chain, or other fixture, to keep the ignorant on the proper side.

Additional Testimony for Gilbert's Polypodium.
MILFORD, N. J., Aug. 2, 1854.
MR. S. GILBERT,—It gives me pleasure to address you a few lines to state the good effects of your Extract of Polypodium. Having a severe attack on my Lungs during the last spring—spitting of blood considerably, with soreness of chest, &c., I was induced to try the Extract of Polypodium; and I can say it has done me great good. I am now enjoying a reasonable degree of health and strength; and would recommend it as the best medicine for such complaints now before the public. Yours resp'y, JAMES C. WRIGHT.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!!
DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S
Sherry Wine Bitters
HAS induced several persons, who do not possess the least medical knowledge, to assume the title of Doctor, and put before the public an article in imitation of my Medicine, which they call Sherry Wine Bitters, and attempt to palm them off under the pretence that I have retired from business, and also that they manufacture an improved article of the same name.
I would say to those in pursuit of health, to be sure that you obtain the REAL article, which may be known by the Fac Simile of my signature upon the outside wrapper, covering each bottle, and also by the copyright border of the same covering.
Sold wholesale and retail at my office, No. 51 Hanover street, Boston, and by all dealers in Medicine in every city, town and village throughout the New England States.

HARPER'S
Gazetteer of the World.
THIS work has been undertaken to supply a want which is daily becoming more pressing. The Censuses of the United States, of Canada and British America, of Mexico, of Great Britain, and of the Continental States of Europe, are all of recent date; and of these the most important have been laboriously consulted, and their information arranged and classified in the best manner. The editor has had it constantly in view to present the greatest amount of useful matter in the smallest possible space; and confidently hopes that the work will fully meet the wants of the times, and that the general reader, the student and the artisan will find in it all the information adapted to their several requirements, brought down as nearly as possible to the present day, in a form more convenient than in any other work of similar character.
Harper's Gazetteer of The World is to be completed in TEN NUMBERS at 50 cents each; and will comprise about 1800 royal octavo pages, with seven new and accurate Maps.

DR. ORDWAY'S HUMOR DISCOVERY,

AND BLOOD PURIFIER.

DR. ORDWAY has been using his Blood Purifier in his practice for the last seven years with great success. He has often been urged by his friends and those who have tried it, and know its efficacy, to put it within the reach of all. He has now added to it an Herb, discovered in California, by Dr. KELSEY, which makes it the most wonderful remedy for

HUMORS OF ALL KINDS,

LIVER COMPLAINTS AND CHRONIC DISEASES.
